PRESIDENT GENERAL'S LETTER TO COMPATRIOTS.

OFFICE OF PRESIDENT GENERAL,

LOWELL, MASS., May 10, 1911.

To the Members of the State Societies of the Sons of the American Revolution.

COMPATRIOTS: At the beginning of another year I wish to congratulate the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution upon its prosperous condition, as shown by the reports of the State Societies.

The great interest displayed at the recent Louisville Congress has again demonstrated the steady advance made by our Society. Much patriotic work has been done in the past, yet never were the opportunities greater than at present, and the coming year will, I trust, be one of continued growth and broadening interest.

The Society has made a good net increase in membership during the past twelve months, and we hope the coming year will not only reach but go beyond this record and prove satisfactory to those who have its interest at heart and realize the necessity, at the present time of social unrest, of an organization whose members are descendants of those who founded the government under which we live.

We must get together and work together, like the men under Washington at Valley Forge, and ask "What can I do?" not "What can I get out of it?" The Chapters offer the best methods of bringing members together. They should meet often and use their social and local influence to further the growth of our Society. Through the Chapters much local, historical, and patriotic work may be accomplished and the social side of our Society developed. Members of Chapters should never lose sight of the fact that every man whose mother or sister is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, or the Daughters of the Revolution, is eligible to membership in our Society, and that all papers relating to the necessary ancestry are on file in Washington, D. C., where I am told copies may be had for a small fee by applying, with written permission from the Daughters, to their Registrar General at Memorial Continental Hall.

Fathers, too, should awake to the importance of interesting their sons in the Society and the principles for which it stands. Thus we can enlarge our membership and help to build up a bulwark of American manhood against the perils of the future.

I stand ready to assist the various State Societies in any way possible, and if it is felt that the presence of the President General will aid in arousing more interest and enthusiasm in any State, I shall, as far as time permits, be pleased to respond. I have promised to be with the Maryland Society on the 19th of October and with the Connecticut Society on the 22d of February, 1912.

Trusting that the present year may be one of prosperity for our Society, I am

Sincerely yours,

MOSES GREELEY PARKER,
President General.

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

BOSTON CONGRESS.—The Massachusetts Society, through its Board of Managers, at their meeting on May 12, unanimously invited the Twenty-third Annual Congress to meet at Boston the third Monday in May, 1912, as the guests of that Society. The National Executive Committee has accepted this courteous invitation.

CHANGE OF DATE OF CONGRESS.—By amendment to the Constitution, adopted May 3, 1911, the Annual Congress will hereafter be held on the third Monday of May in each year.

DELINQUENT MEMBERS.—By amendment to Art. III of the Constitution, adopted at the Louisville Congress:

No one shall be entitled to membership in any State Society who has previously been a member of any other State Society and dropped for the non-payment of dues, until the indebtedness of such individual to the first Society shall have been adjusted.

RETURN OF CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP.—The Board of Trustees, on May 3, 1911, as directed by vote of the Louisville Congress, ordered

That a clause be inserted in the application blank for membership and incorporated in the certificate granted thereon, by which, when the recipient of the certificate shall not pay his membership fee, he shall surrender his certificate, unless his membership shall cease by reason of death or actual disability, to be determined by the Society of which he is a member.

Notice is hereby given that application blanks and certificates will hereafter bear a clause to the above effect.

STANDARD APPLICATION BLANKS.—By vote of the Board of Trustees the Registrar General is instructed, after October 31, 1911, to return to State Societies all application blanks that do not conform to the standard blank adopted by the Trustees.

CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP.—The accompanying illustration shows the form of certificate granted to members under the provisions of Article XIV of the National Society By-Laws. They are issued by the Registrar General on order of the State Societies, and are forwarded, with bill, to the Societies for signature of the State officers and delivery to the members. The full size of the certificate is 19 x 24 inches.

PRIZE INSIGNIA.—The Executive Committee announces that through the generosity of a friend of the Society a full-sized gold insignia of the Sons of the American Revolution is offered, as in the past three years, to the State Society which during the coming year shall add to its membership the largest proportional number of sons of active members. The insignia will be presented at the Annual Congress of 1912.

The insignia was awarded to the Michigan Society in 1909; in 1910 to the New Jersey Society, and at the Louisville Congress it was awarded to the Kentucky Society. The object sought is to arouse interest in the younger generation of patriots.

THE "TRAVELING BANNER," presented to the National Society by the Colorado Society, will be awarded at the next Annual Congress to the State Society of one hundred members or more that shows the largest percentage of increase in members during the coming year.

The Banner was awarded to the Iowa Society in 1908; to the Maryland Society in 1909, and to the New Jersey Society in 1910. At the Louisville Congress it was awarded to the Kentucky Society.

L'ENFANT MEMORIAL.

On May 22, at Arlington National Cemetery, there was unveiled a monument to the memory of Maj. Pierre Charles L'Enfant, architect, engineer, soldier. Major L'Enfant came to America from France in 1777 and served in the Continental Army. About two years ago his remains were removed from a country cemetery in Maryland to Arlington. It was the L'Enfant plan that was adopted in laying out the City of Washington.

On the occasion of the unveiling of the monument addresses were made by the President, the Ambassador from France, and Compatriot U. S. Senator Elihu Root, of the Empire State Society.

ABSTRACT OF PROCEEDINGS OF LOUISVILLE CONGRESS, MAY 1 TO 3, 1911.

The Twenty-second Annual Congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution was called to order in regular session in the auditorium of the Louisville Free Library, Louisville, Ky., at 10 o'clock a. m., Monday, May 1, 1911, President General William Allen Marble presiding.

The Credentials Committee (Mr. Huntting, chairman; Dr. Boardman, of Massachusetts, and Mr. Hyde, of Maryland) reported 137 qualified members of the Congress present, including 7 general officers, 5 ex-Presidents General (Greeley, Pugsley, Hancock, McClary, and Beardsley), and 125 delegates from the following State Societies: Arizona, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin. The Congress was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Charles Ewell Craik, D. D., Chaplain of the Kentucky Society, in the absence of the Chaplain General, Rev. John Timothy Stone, D. D., who was unavoidably delayed by trains for a half hour after the opening of Congress.

President George Lewis Danforth, of the Kentucky Society, welcomed the Congress to Louisville in the name of Governor Willson, Mayor Head, and the Sons of the American Revolution.

President General Marble responded for the National Society and delivered his annual address on the work and present condition of the Society, congratulating compatriots on the success of their endeavor to secure an appropriation for the completion of the John Paul Jones crypt at Annapolis. He referred to the growth of the Society and the good work of the Organization Committees in forming five new Societies since the Toledo Congress, and told of his visits to several of the State Societies.

The report of the Trustees and the Executive Committee reviewed the proceedings of the meetings during the year, as published in the OFFICIAL BULLETIN, and action taken at the Executive Committee meeting, April 30, and the Trustees' meeting, May 1, 1911, on questions recommended for action by the Congress.

THE TREASURER GENERAL'S REPORT showed the balance on hand, April 25, 1910, $7,764.60, and a cash balance, April 25, 1911, in current fund $8,842.34. Of the Permanent Fund there was invested $1,987.50, and there remains of this fund, drawing interest, $404.02. The receipts from dues during the year amounted to $5,719.00.

The Auditing Committee (De Cairy, Williams, Steele, and Vandercook) certified to the report as "examined and found correct."

PRESENTATION OF STAR-SPANGLED BANNER.—The regular order of business was here suspended, on motion of Mr. R. C. Ballard Thruston, and the Congress was surprised by the presentation to the National Society by the Kentucky Society of a "Star-Spangled Banner" of fifteen stripes and fifteen stars, the exact reproduction, in silk and of reduced size, of the original "Star-Spangled Banner" (now preserved in the Smithsonian Institution) that waved over Fort McHenry in 1814, and inspired Francis Scott Key to write the National Anthem. The presentation was the dramatic feature of the Congress, the address being made by Compatriot Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, ex-Vice-President General of the Society. General Buckner said:

Mr. President General, it is a pleasant duty that devolves upon me, sir, this morning. It is the custom of all nations to appoint some significant emblem which will serve to distinguish their nationality from that of all other peoples. The Muscovite has his bear, the Prussian his double eagle, the Frenchman his tri-color, the Turk his crescent moon. The conquering Legions of Rome followed the triumphant flights of their eagle, and overran and subdued to their sway most of the nations of antiquity. We, too, sir, have our American eagle. As described by a patriotic scion of Revolutionary ancestry, this noble bird stands with one talon resting on the summit of the Alleghanies, the other grasping the loftiest peaks of the Rocky Mountains. He waves one wing over the storm-swept Atlantic, the other over the placid waters of the broad Pacific Ocean. He dips his beak in the frozen lakes of the north, while his tail feathers flutter over the torrid waters of the Gulf of Mexico. (Applause.) It is the effigy of this remarkable bird that sits perched upon the standard that bears aloft our National colors, and was selected as an appropriate emblem of our Revolutionary sires.

At the close of the War of Independence, each of the thirteen Colonies was recognized by Great Britain as a free and independent sovereignty. But these several States, instead of pursuing each its separate way amongst the nations of the earth, thought it proper to merge their own individuality into one greater nationality, choosing for their emblem—and very appropriate—a flag with thirteen stripes, alternately red and white, with thirteen stars on an azure field; thus creating, as has been said, a new constellation in the firmament of nations. (Applause.)

attract to themselves new particles of matter, so in our own progress amongst the nations of the world we have gathered about us new materials out of which to form new Commonwealths to be added to this constellation. When, therefore, in the process of accretion, we added in 1792 Vermont and Kentucky to our Union, the flag was changed to accord with these modified conditions, by adding two stripes and two stars to the flag already designed. This continued to be our national flag until 1818, when the present law was enacted, by which the stripes were reduced to thirteen,—typical of the thirteen original States,—while for each new State admitted to the constellation a new star glittered on the flag. (Applause.) But it was the flag of fifteen stars and fifteen stripes that waved over our battles during our last conflict with Great Britain. It was under this flag that we captured at New Orleans the enspiriting air which still cheers our soldiers when they break up their camps—"The Girl I Left Behind Me!" (Laughter and applause.) It was this flag that floated over the ramparts of Fort McHenry during that "perilous fight"—the banner that "so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming." (Applause.) This was the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write the words of our national anthem. This identical flag is now preserved in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington City.

Now, an exact copy of that flag has been caused to be made by our patriotic comrade, Mr. Ballard Thruston (applause); and it is my privilege today to present, in the name of the Kentucky Society, this flag thus provided by our comrade to the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. (Great applause, which is long-continued as the flag is waved before the Congress by President Danforth, of the Kentucky Society.) And as it waves over the descendants of those who designed it, let it be greeted by the martial strains of the air which it inspired, "The Star-Spangled Banner"—

"And long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Great and prolonged applause greeted the conclusion of General Buckner's remarks in presenting the flag, and in the midst of it, with patriotic fervor running at full tide, Miss Florence M. Bertelle, of Louisville, came forward in front of the President General's stand, and began to sing, with the clear notes of her beautiful and cultivated soprano voice, the soul-stirring strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner," which were instantly taken up by the convention as one man and carried to conclusion with great enthusiasm and spirit. It was the climax to a highly dramatic scene, as the venerable hero of many wars, typical soldier as he was with his martial bearing, stood beside the flag of his country so rich in suggestion of her glorious history, while the lines of the inspired and matchless anthem were sung with patriotic fire.

President General Marble replied as follows:

General Buckner, the series of pleasant surprises which have come to us since we arrived in Louisville has been capped by the presentation of this flag from the Kentucky Society, and it is doubly endeared to us coming from your hands, as a man who has fought under that flag. (Applause.) And if, as some of us believe, the spirits of those who have gone before still hover 'round us, may not the spirit of Francis Scott Key still hover over us? And should his spirit ask us the question, "Does the Star-Spangled Banner still wave?" may we not well reply, "Yes, but not the flag you knew, the flag of fifteen stars and fifteen stripes, but a flag of forty-eight stars, floating over a nation extending from ocean to ocean and beyond the boundless sea?" (Applause.)

It has well been said, General Buckner, that the sun never sets on "Old Glory;" because, when the last rays of the setting sun are resting upon the Stars and Stripes in the Philippines, its morning rays are gilding its glorious folds in Porto Rico. In accepting this flag on behalf of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, well may we say that—

Where'er an American is today,
On land or on the sea,
Whether at home or far away
A priest or layman he—
Let patriotism have full sway
All other thoughts dis sever,
I pledge this toast—that come what may—
THE STARS AND STRIPES FOREVER!

General Buckner further said:

Mr. President General, permit me a slight digression, as you have alluded to this flag. It was my privilege sixty-three years ago, after we had occupied the City of Mexico, to lead a party of officers to the summit of Mount Popocatepetl, 18,000 feet above the sea. There it was my privilege to plant upon that summit, in a clime of eternal snow, over a region of perpetual fire in the crater, the flag of America, where it was greeted by the rays of the sun rising over the Atlantic, and received its last parting look as it sank behind the waves of the great Pacific Ocean. (Applause.) It was there planted; and, in imitation of the Spaniards of the olden time, I claimed for the United States Government all the lands the flag floated over!

THE SECRETARY GENERAL'S REPORT reviewed the work of his office and summarized the doings of the national committees and of the State Societies. Four numbers of the OFFICIAL BULLETIN, aggregating 149 pages, were printed and distributed to every member of the Society, at a cost of $1,481.20. The National Year Book for 1910 was published in an edition of 750 copies. Special attention was called to the advantage of increasing the size and number of local Chapters as a means of broadening the influence of the Society.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S REPORT showed that 924 new members had been enrolled in the year ended March 31, 1911, and a total of 22,536 since 1889. The present active list numbers 12,467. There were 225 deaths, including one compatriot 105 years and 5 months old, a son of a soldier of the Revolution. The greatest number of new members was enrolled by the Empire State Society—103. The largest Societies are Massachusetts, 1,635; Empire State, 1,368; Connecticut, 1,103; Illinois, 626; Pennsylvania, 603, and New Jersey, 581. The new Societies in North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota, South Dakota, and the Philippines add 78 new members to the roll.

TRAVELING BANNER.—The Kentucky Society having made the greatest percentage of increase in membership during the year, it was awarded the Traveling Banner. The presentation speech was by Mr. Wardner Williams, of Colorado, and the banner was accepted by President Danforth, of Kentucky.

PRIZE INSIGNIA.—The largest number of sons of present members having been enrolled by the Kentucky Society, it was awarded the prize insignia. The presentation was by Chaplain General Rev. Dr. John Timothy Stone, who said, "There is no greater opportunity or force in our Society than that of inspiring our sons with the purposes and aims that have inspired us." The badge was accepted by Chaplain Craik, of Kentucky, who spoke of the value of pedigree.

THE HISTORIAN GENERAL'S REPORT was a very complete account of the patriotic work of the State Societies in the erection of monuments and memorials and in celebrating anniversaries of historic events. In particular the report reviewed the military campaign in New Jersey in 1776-1777 and celebrations in connection therewith.

JEFFERSON AND HAMILTON MEMORIALS.—On motion by Rear Admiral Baird, the Congress adopted resolutions of thanks to Senator Bacon, of Georgia, and to Compatriot Henry Cabot Lodge for their patriotic service in securing the passage by the Senate of appropriations of $100,000 each for memorials to Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton in the city of Washington.

JOHN PAUL JONES CRYPT.—On motion by ex-President General Pugsley, the Congress adopted resolutions of thanks to Compatriot George A. Loud, Representative in Congress from Michigan, for his able and patriotic service in securing an appropriation by Congress to provide a suitable resting place for the remains of John Paul Jones.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE.—Chairman George R. Howe reported progress toward the marking of the graves of Signers of the Declaration of Independence in New Jersey, and toward the establishment of a National park on the banks of the Delaware to mark the site of the crossing of the Delaware by the army under General Washington.

ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE, NORTH AND WEST.—Dr. Clarkson N. Guyer, Chairman, presented the final report of the Committee, reviewing the work done since 1908 in the organization of the Wyoming Society, March 28, 1908; the New Mexico Society, December 26, 1908; the Idaho Society, April 8, 1909; the Nevada Society, February 19, 1910; the South Dakota Society, January 31, 1911, and the North Dakota Society, February 4, 1911, thus completing organization in all the States of the North and West. The thanks of the Congress were voted the Committee for its most efficient work.

COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION, SOUTH.—The report of Commander John H. Moore, U. S. N., Chairman, showed the organization of the North Carolina Society, at Washington, N. C., February 22, 1911, with 30 charter members, and on March 22 the South Carolina Society was formed at Greenville with twenty charter members. The Committee requests compatriots who have relatives or acquaintances eligible to membership residing in the above States to send the names to Mr. R. T. Bonner, Aurora, N. C., and Mr. P. T. Hayne, Greenville, S. C. The thanks of the Congress were voted to the Chairman of the Committee and his associates for the work accomplished.

The President General told of the publication by the Hebrew Educational Alliance of a history of the United States arranged in parallel columns of English and Yiddish for use among the Hebrew population on the East Side of New York.

COMMITTEE ON PREVENTION OF DESECRATION OF THE FLAG.—Mr. W. V. Cox, Chairman of the Committee, being absent (having been called from the Congress on important business), his report was read by Judge Beardsley, of Connecticut. The Committee was represented at a hearing of the House Judiciary Committee on the Goulden Bill to prevent the desecration or improper use of the flag of the United States. The enactment of a Federal law was strongly urged. It was pointed out that the flags and symbols of all other countries are protected by law. Most of the States have now enacted flag laws, and the Committee urges the legislatures of States where no laws now exist to speedily enact such patriotic measures.

The use of the flag or the coat-of-arms of the United States on trade-marks is already forbidden under law, enacted in 1907, and the Librarian of Congress refuses registration to copyright pictures embodying objectionable use of the flag. Further legislation in these matters is recommended.

COMMITTEE ON NATIONAL PARKS.—The report of Edward Hagaman Hall, Chairman, showed special activity in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Ohio in the establishment of public parks on sites connected with Revolutionary history. The project endorsed by the Sons of the American Revolution at the Toledo Congress for the creation of a National Park on the Delaware River, at Trenton, to commemorate the crossing of the Delaware by Washington on the night of Christmas, 1776, has aroused widespread interest and it is earnestly to be hoped that it will be carried to a successful issue.

PRESS COMMITTEE.—The Chairman, Mr. A. Howard Clark, reported on measures taken to make known the work of the Society through the newspapers of the country. President Edwin S. Crandon, of the Massachusetts Society, a member of the Committee, addressed the Congress on the general subject of patriotic news in the press, and told in some detail of the plan adopted by the Evening Transcript, and some other papers, of devoting special space to this subject to meet the public demand for this class of news.

COMMITTEE ON PENSION AND MUSTER ROLLS.—Col. Gilbert C. Kniffin, Chairman, reported on the progress made by the U. S. Bureau of Pensions in transferring to cards, to be arranged alphabetically, the family and service data contained in the 74,000 claims for pension filed by Revolutionary soldiers and their widows. The claim papers contain a vast amount of valuable history, which is being carefully preserved until the proper time shall come for its publication.

COMMITTEE ON INFORMATION FOR ALIENS.—The report of this Committee, read by one of its members, Mr. A. Howard Clark, told of the general interest taken in the Society's leaflets Nos. 1 and 2, particularly in the night schools of several of the larger cities attended by children of Aliens. "Because we have distributed thousands of leaflets this year is no reason why the work should cease during the coming year. The Alien comes and goes and we have them always with us, and it will be only through constant persistent work that we are able to assist them. The coming year should see our Society take a new hold of this grand work and exceed anything that has been done in the past." The Committee has furnished Compatriot Dillingham, Chairman of the Immigration Commission of Congress, at his request, a statement of the work done by the Sons of the American Revolution to educate the Aliens, and made certain suggestions that may be carried out by the Federal Government to further benefit the crowds of immigrants coming to our shores.

✓ THE JEFFERSON MEMORIAL COMMITTEE, by Admiral Baird, reported the passage by the U. S. Senate, on April 13, 1911, of a bill appropriating $100,000 for a memorial to Thomas Jefferson. The bill is now pending in the House.

✓ CHANGE OF DATE OF CONGRESS.—The Congress adopted an amendment to Art. VII, Sec. 1, of the Constitution by striking out the words "on the thirtieth day of April or on the first day of May" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "on the third Monday of May." The Annual Congress will therefore hereafter assemble on the third Monday of May.

(The Congress here adjourned to meet at 10 a. m., May 2.)

TUESDAY'S SESSION.

✓ DELINQUENT MEMBERS.—The Congress adopted the following amendment to Art. III of the Constitution, proposed by Mr. Marble and recommended by the Toledo Congress:

Amend Article III of the Constitution, entitled "Membership," by the insertion of a new Section 2 as follows: "No one shall be entitled to membership in any State Society who has previously been a member of any other State Society and dropped for the non-payment of dues, until the indebtedness of such individual to the first Society shall have been adjusted." Renumber Sections 2 and 3 so as to make them Sections 3 and 4.

✓ ARIZONA SOCIETY.—Rev. Lewis Halsey addressed the Congress on behalf of the Arizona Society. He said they had a flourishing young Society in Arizona, of something over fifty members, and that they also had a flag law in Arizona, which was enforced.

✓ PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY.—Mr. Hubley, of Pennsylvania, told of some successful social features inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Society to bring its members into closer personal contact and make them better acquainted.

✓ RETURN OF CERTIFICATES.—Ex-President General Hancock, of Pennsylvania, as chairman of a committee appointed to consider a resolution offered by him providing for the surrender of the certificate where a member is dropped for non-payment of dues, reported as follows:

To the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution:

Your committee appointed to consider and report upon the legality and propriety of the following resolution, to-wit: "That a clause be inserted in the application for membership and incorporated in the certificate granted thereon, by which, when the recipient of the certificate shall not pay his membership fee, he shall surrender his certificate, unless his membership shall cease by reason of death or actual disability," to be determined by the Society of which he is a member, unanimously report in favor of its adoption by the Congress, and that the Board of Trustees be directed to carry it into effect.

After discussion, participated in by a number of delegates, the report of the committee was unanimously adopted.

The Secretary General read a telegram of greetings from the Florida Society, and, on motion of Mr. Dewey, of Vermont, a suitable acknowledgment was directed to be sent to President Cross.

✓ MEMORIAL TO GEN. HENRY LEE.—A resolution, offered by Rear Admiral Baird, suggesting that Congress be called upon to remove the remains of Gen. Henry Lee, "Light Horse Harry," from Georgia to Virginia, and to erect a suitable memorial to that distinguished officer, was referred to the Executive Committee with power to act.

Whereas the Government of the United States of America has a beautiful flag, emblematic of the Union of the States;

And whereas this flag inspires patriotism wherever unfurled;

And whereas it is desirable that the youth of our country should have the love of country developed to the greatest extent;

Be it resolved, That the Sons of the American Revolution in Congress assembled do hereby memorialize the President of the United States to endeavor to have flags of this country sold at all of the post-offices.

These resolutions were seconded by Mr. Curtis, of Connecticut, and adopted.

ADDITION TO PERMANENT FUND.—Mr. Wentworth, of Iowa, reported that the Iowa Society had voted an additional $50 to the Permanent Fund of the National Society.

ENGRAVINGS OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.—Mr. Wentworth, of Iowa, moved that the Secretary General be instructed to inquire into the cost of obtaining fac-simile reproductions of Trumbull's painting of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, as well as of the instrument itself, for use in the schools of the country for the cultivation of a patriotic spirit with the youth of the land, the result of such inquiry to be reported to the Executive Committee, which should have power to act. This motion was adopted.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS.—The following resolution, offered by Mr. Barbour, of Michigan, was adopted by a unanimous rising vote:

Resolved, That we extend the thanks of the delegates of this National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution to our Louisville members, who have so generously entertained us and made this feature of our meeting so pleasurable.

On motion of Mr. Hubley, of Pennsylvania, a similar vote of thanks was voted the ladies of Louisville for the elegant and delightful manner in which they had entertained the visiting ladies.

SONS OF MEMBERS.—A discussion of some length was precipitated by some remarks made by Mr. Fyfe, of Michigan, upon the duty of members to bring their sons into affiliation with State Societies—a discussion which broadened into the proposition of young men in general, the duty and opportunity of the National Society in their behalf, and its attitude as evidenced by its history.

SESSION OF MAY 3.

Van Deman, of the Ohio Society, nominated Col. Isaac F. Mack, of Sandusky, and this nomination was ably seconded by Judge Hancock, of Pennsylvania; but Colonel Mack peremptorily declined the honor, and his name was withdrawn from nomination by Mr. Van Deman. Upon Colonel Mack's motion, the Secretary General was directed to cast the affirmative ballot of the Congress electing Dr. Parker President General for the ensuing year, and this was done. General Greeley and Mr. Pugsley were appointed a committee to escort the President General-elect to the rostrum, where he made a speech of thanks and acceptance.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS AT LOUISVILLE CONGRESS.

At 4.30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, April 30, delegates were invited to divine service in Christ Church Cathedral, conducted by Very Rev. Charles Ewell Craik, Dean of the Cathedral and Chaplain of the Kentucky Society, assisted by the Rev. Richard L. McCready. The Rev. Dr. Craik addressed the gathering as follows:

While the Rev. Mr. McCready will deliver the formal address on this occasion, it may be permitted me, as Chaplain of the local Society, to say something in the nature of a foreword.

We, as members of a great patriotic society, ought to consider from time to time the history of our forefathers and see what kind of liberty it was for which they gave their lives and fortunes. While there is no word in the Constitution or the Declaration of Independence that characterizes this as a distinctive Christian nation, yet no one will deny that the principles of the Christian religion underlies all that is best in the history of our people in their moral, social, and political lives.

Your presence here is testimony that you believe and accept those principles. Therefore, believing that God lives in the nation as well as in the lives of individuals, try to preserve those principles. There is a Christian patriotism as well as a national patriotism. Let us stand for both and strive for both, for only as they go hand in hand and side by side can we hope for the eternal preservation of our people and this nation.

The Rev. Mr. McCready spoke on the subject of "International Arbitration and Consequent Universal Peace." He said that it is no longer a Utopian dream—that public sentiment the world over is in favor of the idea—and he expressed the hope that the Sons of the American Revolution at their present Congress would declare themselves in favor of it.

For centuries men and women of the highest order of mind have seen the vision of peace. It is still a vision, but it has always been prophetic, and today it draws nearer and lifts up the hearts of those who care for humanity as they have not been lifted up for generations. There are many obstacles in the way. It will perhaps be long before the horrors of war will be relegated to collections of old armor and weapons, when Victor Hugo's prophecy will be realized: "A day will come when a cannon ball will be exhibited in public museums just as an instrument of torture is now, and people will be amazed that such a thing should ever have been.

"When the war-drum throbs no longer
And the battle-flag is furled,
In the parliament of man,
The federation of the world."

It is a vision, but it is no longer a dream.

Delegates were presented with personal cards extending to them the courtesies of the Pendennis Club, the Tavern Club, and the Louisville Country Club during their stay in Louisville.

On Monday afternoon, at 12.15 o'clock, ladies of the party were invited to the Louisville Country Club for luncheon, after which they were taken on a motor trip, stopping at "Landsdowne," the residence of Mrs. S. Thruston Ballard, for tea.

On Monday evening, from 8 to 10 o'clock, the officers, delegates, and accompanying ladies were entertained by a reception at the Pendennis Club, Mrs. George Lewis Danforth, wife of the President of the Kentucky Society, as chairman of a committee of ladies, serving as hostess on this occasion.

On Tuesday, at 12.30 p. m., the delegates were taken in motors to the Louisville Country Club, where there was a buffet luncheon, after which they were shown some of the country east of Louisville, stopping at "Landsdowne" for refreshments.

At 4 p. m. the visiting ladies were entertained at tea by Mrs. Gilmer Speed Adams at her residence.

At 7.30 p. m. the Kentucky Society entertained the general officers and delegates with a banquet, and at the same time there was a banquet for the accompanying ladies, both at the Seelbach Hotel.

Mrs. Samuel Thruston Ballard, wife of the Vice-President of the Kentucky Society, as chairman of a committee of ladies, acted as hostess on this occasion.

At the banquet President General Marble presided as toastmaster. Before the speaking began the ladies had concluded their banquet in another room, and were received with enthusiasm as they entered the large hall.

It was of the ladies that President General Marble first spoke in his short introductory remarks. President Marble introduced Gen. Basil Wilson Duke, who delivered an oration on George Rogers Clark and the Illinois Campaign. The speaker not only outlined the campaign, but gave a striking picture of the leader around whose sturdy character legend and record have so much to say. He told much, too, of the other pioneers, whose hardihood and sagacity were overshadowed but little by the record of Daniel Boone himself.

As he mentioned the several frontiersmen from other States who united efforts with the Kentuckians in the development of the South and West, the respective delegations from those States, from their places at the tables, vigorously applauded. In concluding, he told how the fighter, the strategist, and the settler, who performed so greatly to the credit of Virginia, was awarded a complimentary sword by the Legislature of that State, when his need was meat and bread, and of Clark's reply, "I gave my sword when she needed it; I want no sword from Virginia now."

Before introducing the next speaker the toastmaster announced that the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, then meeting in Louisville, was represented in the hall by a delegation of four members, and desired to tender a message to the assembled banqueters. As the four committee-women walked to the platform they were given a rousing ovation. Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, of Lexington, the chairman, who was introduced as the "granddaughter of Henry Clay," extended her convention's greetings to the Sons, gathered for important business and more important festivities, and ended by saying: "We, too, are engaged in a revolution against taxation without representation, and because you are who you are, we shall count on you, every mother's son of you, to help us win our war."

The banqueters then named a committee to extend the thanks of the S. A. R. Congress to the Women's Club members, and also to the Daughters of the American Revolution, which had representation in the hall.

William Worth Stephenson followed with an address on Isaac Shelby and his associates at King's Mountain.

Rev. William Warren Landrum told of the part played by the clergy of the colonies in the revolution. He said their attitude was one of peace; that peace was necessary, even if they had to help fight for it. He reviewed the campaigns in which those fiery chaplains participated, with the rank of colonels of infantry, and told of the sermons they loved to give, and of their ministrations to the worn, struggling continental farmer-soldiers.

He ended his address with a unique benediction: "The Lord love you, every one, the Lord keep you, every one,—but not yet!"

Samuel Thruston Ballard gave several of the legends handed down in his family, intimate, never-chronicled incidents in the life of George Rogers Clark, and the early Kentuckians to whom he traces his ancestry.

Bishop Woodcock talked on citizenship. First, he told the Sons of the American Revolution that if they sit idly and contemplate the greatness of their ancestors, they have no good reason for congregating, for it is action, not archives and ancestry that mark the path of progress.

"There is no value in the S. A. R. as an organization," said the bishop, "unless it stands for better and purer citizenship and strive with every effort to emulate the examples of the forefathers whose characters and deeds it reveres."

He closed with a stirring appeal for better citizenship, declaring that not money, but manhood was the standard of Americanism, and he urged the Sons to continue the battles begun by their sires for honest American independence.

Capwell, 12th and Washington Sts., Oakland; Secretary, Edwin Bonnell, 376 Sutter St., San Francisco; Treasurer, C. S. Scott, 2117 Hyde St.; Registrar, Col. A. S. Hubbard, 2135 Sutter St.; Historian, Ex-Pres. T. A. Perkins, Mills Building. An infraction of the law prohibiting the desecration of the U. S. Flag by a Fruit Packing Company was discovered through the vigilance of two members of the Society, whose prompt action compelled the discontinuance of the use of the flag on fruit package labels.

The Society invites the 1915 Congress to meet in San Francisco.

✓ THE COLORADO SOCIETY, coöperating with other patriotic societies, tendered a dinner, at Denver, on April 17, to Baron D'Estournelles de Constant, who has been a Minister Plenipotentiary and is now a Senator of France. He is a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration of the Hague, and one of the greatest living authorities on international law.

The Denver Chapter at its regular monthly meeting on March 16 listened to an address by Mr. A. E. Reynolds on Pioneer Days in the Far West. The annual meeting of the Chapter was held on April 19, when the following officers were elected: President, Frank McLaughlin; Vice-President, John T. Holbrook; Secretary, James S. Hadley; Treasurer, W. D. Wynkoop; Historian, Sidney E. Bennett; Chaplain, Rev. Elmer E. Higley.

The Fort Collins Chapter of Colorado was organized on April 15 with 18 members and elected the following officers: President, G. C. McCormick; Vice-President, Orlando Flower; Secretary and Registrar, W. H. Russel; Treasurer, W. R. Fuller; Historian, L. M. Taylor. Dr. Clarkson N. Guyer, Col. J. F. Tuttle, and W. D. Wynkoop, of the State Society, delivered addresses.

THE CONNECTICUT SOCIETY at its annual election on May 10, at Hartford, chose the following officers: President, Dr. Geo. C. F. Williams, Hartford; Vice-President, Isaac W. Brooks, Torrington; Secretary, Charles G. Stone, Hartford; Treasurer, Henry C. Sherwood, Bridgeport; Registrar, Frederick X. Bostwick, New Haven; Historian, George F. Burgess, New Haven; Chaplain, Rev. John De Peu, Bridgeport; Necrologist, Capt. Henry R. Jones, New Hartford.

The Gen. David Humphreys Branch, No. 1, of New Haven, Conn., has issued an important volume, 124 pages besides the illustrations. It is entitled "Revolutionary Characters of New Haven," and contains a large amount of biographical and historical matter not heretofore published. It also includes a list, alphabetically arranged, of 998 New Haven men who served the Revolutionary cause, and the location of graves of the patriots in and about New Haven, Derby, Ansonia, and Milford, so far as they are known. The volume is profusely illustrated with portraits of the men who were important factors in the Revolutionary period, and with pictures of their homes and other interesting subjects, including Trumbull's masterpiece, "The Declaration of Independence," and his "Battle of Bunker Hill." The book is of great value in tracing ancestry as well as for its general historical character. A limited edition has been published, and copies may be had at two dollars per volume, postage paid, by remitting that amount to Seymour C. Loomis, Chairman Publication Committee, 69 Church Street, New Haven, Conn.

The Nathan Hale Branch of New London is being invigorated by the infusion of new blood, about ten applications for the State Society having been secured within a short time. This particular activity was stimulated by the banquet which was held on the 27th of March in the grill-room of the Thames Club. President P. Le Roy Harwood presided and Past President Dr. John G. Stanton acted as toastmaster. A committee was appointed to arrange for the erection of suitable tablets at Fort Griswold and Fort Trumbull. Fort Griswold is being restored by the State. At Fort Trumbull the present ammunition house is the only building of the Revolutionary period left, and this is to be suitably marked.

An address was made by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth on the objects of the Society. "The chief of the Roman republic," he said, "had as his title, 'Pontifex Maximus,' which means the greatest bridge-builder. It is for us to build a bridge from the lives of the noble men of the past through the generations of the present on to all the wide future which we hope and pray may be vouchsafed to our Republic."

THE DELAWARE SOCIETY, on April 19, 1911, held its annual meeting and re-elected the officers of the preceding year. The business was followed by a dinner at which there were twenty members present. Earnest patriotic speeches were made, the speakers dwelling principally on the part taken by the Delaware Line in the battles of the Revolution. It was decided to offer two prizes of $10 and $5 gold pieces for the best essays presented by pupils of the Wilmington High School on the subject of "The Principles Fought for in the Revolutionary War." The President urged that the Society place suitable stone monuments to mark the position of our Delaware troops at the Battle of the Brandywine, and a committee was appointed to investigate and report as to what could be done, at the next meeting. The question of a monument in memory of the 265 brave Delaware soldiers who fell in the Battle of Camden, S. C., August 16, 1780, in the short fight of one hour, was also discussed with the idea of securing State aid in its erection. If the brave De Kalb thought it was glorious to die while leading such troops as the Delaware and Maryland soldiers, how proud and ready we should be to commemorate their bravery! Attention was called to the part that members of our Society had taken in securing a silver service for the battleship Delaware and in entertaining the officers and men; also that the Society had, in addition, given $100 from its treasury toward the purchase of the silver service. The membership of the Society has been greatly reduced by dropping all who failed to take an active interest and pay their dues, but we hope to bring many new members in during the coming year.

For many years the Society has labored to secure the publication of the Revolutionary muster-rolls which were found in the loft of the old court-house at Dover. This work has at last been accomplished, and the rolls are now in the printer's hands. The distribution of these heretofore inaccessible records will aid greatly in the increase of our membership.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA SOCIETY, at its meeting on April 19, was addressed by William E. Safford on the beginning of American government at Guam, and on the improvement in the condition of the islanders under American institutions.

THE EMPIRE STATE SOCIETY, on April 18, elected the following officers: President, John H. Burroughs, 15 William street, N. Y.; First Vice-President, Louis Annin Ames, 99 Fulton street, N. Y.; Second Vice-President, Wm. S. Kitchell, 145 Reade street, N. Y.; Third Vice-President, Douglass Conklin, Huntington, N. Y.; Secretary, Capt. Charles A. Du Bois, 220 Broadway, N. Y.; Treasurer, James De La Montanye, 220 Broadway, N. Y.; Registrar, Teunis D. Huntting, 220 Broadway, N. Y.; Historian, Josiah C. Pumpelly, A. M., LL. B., 542 West 112th street, N. The Syracuse Chapter of New York has published a handsome illustrated book of 79 pages to mark its fifteenth anniversary year. The contents of the volume include the roll of members of the Chapter and a list of Revolutionary soldiers of Onondaga County, besides several patriotic addresses. On February 6 the Chapter gave a reception to President General Marble and President Burroughs, of the State Society, at the home of Newell B. Woodworth, President of the Syracuse Chapter. Mr. Woodworth told of the treaty of alliance with France just 133 years ago, and reviewed the part taken by our French allies in the Revolution. The annual banquet of the Chapter was held on February 22. President Woodworth responded to the toast, "The Constitution," and Gen. S. S. Sumner spoke of the necessity of a standing army in the United States. Dean G. H. Shepard, a retired naval officer, spoke for a larger navy and more efficient coast defense.

THE FLORIDA SOCIETY held its annual meeting on April 21 and re-elected the officers of the past year, with the exception that Rt. Rev. E. G. Weed was chosen Chaplain.

THE ILLINOIS SOCIETY held its quarterly meeting and dinner at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, on the evening of February 24. Addresses were made by Mr. S. E. Kiser, of the Chicago Record-Herald, on "The Humor of It," and by Dr. Charles B. Johnson on "The Evolution of the American Flag."

Ezra Butler Newcomb, D. D., Keokuk; Second Vice-President, Joseph G. Gardner, Esq., Des Moines; Treasurer, William Henry Field, Esq., Valley Junction; Secretary, Capt. Elbridge Drew Hadley, Des Moines; Registrar-Historian, Dr. Edward Hamlin Hazen, Des Moines; Chaplain, Rev. James Perkins Burling, Des Moines.

The Society decided to continue the offering of history medals to colleges and high schools. It also voted to make a further contribution of $50 to the Permanent Fund of the National Society. The business meeting was followed by a banquet at the Chamberlain Hotel, at which Gov. Warren Garst and Hon. John Denison delivered addresses.

THE KENTUCKY SOCIETY entertained the Annual Congress at Louisville from April 30 to May 3. The social functions included a reception at the Pendennis Club, banquets at the Seelbach Hotel, luncheon at the Country Club, automobile rides, receptions at the beautiful home of Compatriot Samuel Thruston Ballard. The committees in charge were tendered the unanimous thanks of all who attended the Congress. The most touching feature of the occasion was the presentation to the National Society of the "Star-Spangled Banner" of fifteen stripes and fifteen stars—an exact reproduction, in reduced size, of the flag that waved over Fort McHenry in 1814 and inspired Key to write the National anthem. Compatriot Simon Bolivar Buckner made the presentation address in most eloquent patriotic words, quoted elsewhere in the present BULLETIN.

The Society was awarded the Traveling Banner for the greatest percentage of growth during the year, and the prize insignia for enrolling the largest number of sons of present members.

THE MARYLAND SOCIETY, on May 13, at "Wye," Queen Anne County, on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, dedicated a monument erected by that Society to the memory of William Paca, one of the four Maryland Signers of the Declaration of Independence. A large party of Sons of the American Revolution and members of kindred patriotic societies went from Baltimore by the steamer Clio.

The dedicatory exercises, which were attended by hundreds of residents of the Eastern Shore, took place in the old burial ground on the Wye estate, within sight of the historic mansion once occupied by William Paca. Gen. Clinton L. Riggs, President of the Maryland Society, presided. Following the rendition of "Maryland, My Maryland," Rev. Dr. Henry Branch, Chaplain of the Society, delivered the invocation. General Riggs, in the course of his remarks, referred to the fact that while the graves of three of the Maryland Signers of the Declaration of Independence—namely, Carroll, Stone, and Chase—were well cared for, that of the fourth, William Paca, had been neglected. He stated that this consideration had inspired the members of the Maryland Society of the Sons of the American Revolution to erect this monument.

The dedicatory address was delivered by W. Burns Trundle, of the Baltimore bar, who spoke on William Paca, Patriot, Signer, Governor. He reviewed the life and patriotic work of William Paca through the period of the Revolution and his subsequent career after his election as Governor of Maryland, in 1782, and as judge of United States District Court, by appointment of President Washington, in 1789.

General Riggs, on behalf of the Maryland Society, next made a formal presentation of the monument to the people of Maryland, and Col. Oswald Tilghman, of Easton, President of the Maryland Society of Cincinnati, accepted the monument on behalf of the people of Maryland.

Colonel Tilghman said, in part:

Memories of her most worthy citizens are the best wealth of the State. That people is poor, indeed, that has never possessed such treasures; but poorer still that, having had, has lost them. Mortifying as may be the confession, the citizen of Maryland is unable to deny that his State is insensible of gratitude for valuable service or incapable of appreciating exemplary virtue. Yet men who have worked for the good of Maryland have been almost as completely forgotten as though they lived in the heroic age.

At a signal from General Riggs the National flag which was draped about the monument was drawn aside by Rev. Dr. G. W. Dame, former Chaplain of the Maryland Society, and Dr. Henry Morris, President of the Descendants of the Signers, of Philadelphia. Simultaneously Miss Julia Tilghman Paca, great-great-granddaughter of Wm. Paca, stepped forward and placed a bouquet of 13 Maryland roses at the base of the monument. William B. Paca, a great-great-grandson, was also present at the exercises, as was Mrs. Nancy De Courcy, the granddaughter of William Paca, who is in her eightieth year.

The monument is a rough-hewn block of selected Maryland granite, suggesting the outline of the desk on which Jefferson wrote the Declaration. An open scroll bears the inscriptions: "William Paca, 1740-1799; Signer of the Declaration of Independence, 1776; Governor of Maryland, 1782-1783. Erected by the Maryland Society of the Sons of the American Revolution."

The committee in charge of the pilgrimage consisted of Judge Henry Stockbridge, Mr. Alfred D. Bernard, and Dr. A. Barneveld Bibbins.

THE MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY observed "Patriots' Day," on April 19, by holding its annual business meeting at the "Old South Meeting House," Boston, followed by a dinner at the American House. About 250 members were in attendance.

At the business meeting, at which the retiring President, Nathan Warren, presided, the ceremony of trooping of colors was done by a squad of non-commissioned officers and a bugler from Troop A, National Lancers, under command of Capt. John Stuart Barrows.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Edwin Sanford Crandon, of Cambridge; Vice-Presidents, Luke Stearns Stowe of Springfield, Luther Atwood of Lynn, and Frank Ernest Woodward of Wellesley Hills; Secretary and Registrar, Herbert Wood Kimball, 17 Milk St., Boston; Treasurer, Charles Montraville Green, M. D., of Boston; Historian, Brig. Gen. Philip Reade, U. S. A. (retired), of Lowell; Chaplain, Rev. Lewis Wilder Hicks, of Wellesley.

At the American House the new President, Edwin S. Crandon, was formally inaugurated and made a brief address.

Former Governor Charles Dean Kimball, of Rhode Island, President of the Rhode Island Society, S. A. R., began the after-dinner speech-making, and was followed by Charles Dana Burrage, President of the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the Revolution, who spoke of the need of fostering patriotism. David L. Pierson, of New Jersey, Historian General of the National Society, S. A. R., recalled some of the interesting Revolutionary incidents of New Jersey. President Frederick W. Hamilton, of Tufts, and W. E. L. Dillaway also were speakers.

At the May meeting of the Board of Managers of the Massachusetts Society, an invitation was received and accepted from the Worcester Chapter for the State Society to hold its annual Field Day, on October 19, in that city, with other patriotic societies of Worcester sharing in the celebration. It was voted to contribute $50 toward the expense of the coming celebration of patriotic-historic interest in Pittsfield in July to mark the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of that place. It was unanimously voted to invite the Twenty-third Annual Congress of the National Society to meet in Boston as the guests of the Massachusetts Society, the Congress to begin on the third Monday of May, 1912. Brig. Gen. Philip Reade, U. S. A. (retired), addressed the meeting regarding his researches for records of Massachusetts soldiers who served in the memorable winter at Valley Forge. His account showed that he had done much work in a most thorough and careful manner and there was consideration of the publication of his reports, which matter was left in the hands of the Society's Publication Committee.

The Boston Chapter held its 121st regular meeting and the sixteenth annual dinner at Young's Hotel, on March 17, celebrating the evacuation of Boston. It was a military night, also, which lent brilliancy to the affair. President Frederic G. Bauer presided, and at the close of the dinner welcomed the guests and members, and introduced the speakers, who responded to toasts as follows: "The Commonwealth of Massachusetts," Hon. Louis A. Frothingham, Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth; "The Minute Men of 1775," Hon. Nathan Warren, President of the Massachusetts Society, S. A. R.; "The Minute Men of 1861," Captain John L. Parker, past Department Commander, G. A. R. of Massachusetts; "The Minute Men of Today," E. Le Roy Sweetser, Colonel Eighth Infantry, M. V. M.; "The Minute Men of the Future," Frank V. Thompson, assistant superintendent Boston public schools. Remarks were made by Col. Robert Harmon Patterson, Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A., commandant of the artillery district of Boston.

THE MICHIGAN SOCIETY held its annual meeting on the evening of April 21, at the Hotel Pontchartrain, Detroit, when the following officers were elected: President, Rev. Lee S. McCollester, D. D., 655 John R. St., Detroit; Vice-President, Joseph Greusel, Detroit; Secretary, Williams C. Harris, 610 Wayne County Savings Bank Bldg.; Treasurer, Enoch Smith, Peoples' State Bank; Registrar, Raymond E. Van Syckle, 1022 Ford Bldg.; Chaplain, Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, Detroit; Historian, Clarence M. Burton, 20 Home Bank Bldg.

An address was given by the newly elected President, Rev. Lee S. McCollester, in which he outlined methods of making the Society of greater value to the State. He said that members could hardly overestimate the work of their fathers, and it was the purpose of the Society to keep alive feelings of reverence for them which never could be too great, but at the same time it must be remembered that the minute men at Concord and Trenton dealt with problems of their time, and that we must respond in the same way to the requirements of our own, casting our influence in such a way as to make better the civic life of the nation. Compatriots should not think so much of their ancestors as to preclude them from loving their brothers as themselves. He closed with a reading of "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," whereupon it was discovered that one of the members present, Charles A. Coolidge, was a great-great-grandson of William Dawes, who rode with Revere in spreading the news at Lexington. Further remarks were made by John D. Vandercook, President of the Illinois Society, Chicago; Riley L. Jones, of Saginaw; Edward C. Smith, Pontiac; George H. Barbour, Dudley Smith, and George W. Bates.

It was unanimously voted to endorse the movement now on foot toward the erection of a statue to the memory of Gen. A. S. Williams to be located in Detroit. After adjournment an enjoyable buffet luncheon was served and was followed by a social session.

The customary historical and social monthly meeting of the Michigan Society was held Friday evening, March 31, in the parlors of the Hotel Pontchartrain.

The historical paper for the evening was presented by Dr. Harlow B. Drake, and was entitled, "Marion, Morgan, and Greene, lesser Generals of the American Revolution." The services of Francis Marion were set forth. It was related how he mustered considerable bodies of South Carolina militia, who knowing the country perfectly, lurked in forests and swamp, coming out from time to time, to strike the British where they were weakest. The writer then gave a sketch of Daniel Morgan, who defeated a British force under Tarlton at the battle of Cowpens, S. C. Nathanael Greene was next described, who in 1781 took command of what was left of the American army at the south, which he recruited and improved by strict discipline. He avoided battle, retreating and drawing the British after him. At Guilford Court House, though driven from the field, Greene so badly shattered Cornwallis's army that he was forced to retreat to the sea coast, leaving his wounded in the hands of the Americans, who regained control of the Southern States.

A general discussion followed, participated in by the members. A revolutionary helmet bought in South Carolina, such as was worn by the troopers, was exhibited by Roys J. Cram.

THE MISSOURI SOCIETY held its annual business meeting on March 4, and elected officers as follows: President, Amedee B. Cole, 3705 Lindell Ave., St. Louis; Vice-Presidents, James E. Withrow, Rev. S. Pierce, President of Kenyon College; Secretary, Hugh Huntington, Columbus; Registrar, Col. W. L. Curry, Columbus; Historian, Col. W. A. Taylor, Columbus; Chaplain, Rev. Abner L. Frazier.

A committee was appointed to publish the names of all known soldiers of the Revolutionary War who are buried in Ohio. More than 1,200 are said to be buried in the State, and of this number the graves of 250 have been located by Henry R. Baldwin, of Youngstown, who worked under the direction of former President Butler. Mr. Butler is planning to purchase the ancestral home of the Washington family in England.

The Society has also decided to furnish a room in the birthplace of Rufus Putnam at Rutland, Mass., now commemorated by a National Park, with Ohio relics, taken from Putnam's later Ohio home. E. O.

Randall, on behalf of the Ohio Archaeological Society, promised that organization's support.

Judge John N. Van Deman, Dayton, President, acted as toastmaster at the twenty-second annual banquet at the Hartman Hotel, and President Butler delivered the address of welcome. Former Lieutenant Governor Francis W. Treadway was the speaker of the evening, his subject being "What the Revolution Means to Us."

The Anthony Wayne Chapter, of Toledo, has issued a pamphlet giving the names of officers; the Constitution; reasons for membership; directions for looking up ancestry, and for making out application papers, and a list of members of the Chapter. President Frederick J. Flagg, 936 the Ohio Bldg.; Secretary, Herbert J. Ellis, 936 the Ohio Bldg.

THE PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY, as a souvenir of its banquet on Washington's Birthday, issued a pamphlet containing biographies and portraits of "Our Presidents" from Washington to Taft, prepared by Mr. Edward Donovan, of Pittsburgh.

The Committee on Prohibition of Desecration of the Flag has been active in watching for infractions of the law and, as a rule, those who have violated the law have promptly taken steps to prevent further desecration of the emblem of the United States.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA SOCIETY was organized on March 22, at Greenville, with nineteen qualified members, and several applicants were preparing their final papers for admission. Commander John H. Moore, U. S. N., Chairman of the Committee on Organization in the South, was present and urged them to put forward every effort to build up a strong Society in South Carolina from the descendants of patriots who fought at Kings Mountain and on other historic battlefields of the southern campaign during the Revolution. The following officers were elected: President, Paul Trapier Hayne, of Greenville; Vice-President, Oscar K. Mauldin, of Greenville; Secretary, David Arnold Henning, of Greenville, and Registrar, John E. Black, of Columbia.

THE SOUTH DAKOTA SOCIETY was permanently organized March 27, with the following officers: R. J. Wells, President; F. M. Mills, Vice-President; T. W. Dwight, Secretary and Registrar; B. H. Requa, Treasurer; Lucius Kingsbury, Chaplain, and C. O. Bailey, Historian. A preliminary meeting for organization had been held on January 31, under the direction of the Committee on Organization in the North and West.

THE VERMONT SOCIETY'S Year Book and Roster for 1910-1911 contains the proceedings of the annual meeting at Montpelier on November 10, 1910, including reports of officers, sketches of deceased members, membership roll, and various matters of interest. The Society is endeavoring to secure possession of the Old Constitution House at Windsor, the building where the delegates were discussing the Vermont Constitution in the summer of 1777, when news was received of Burgoyne's invasion.
