PRIZE ESSAY MEDAL.

The National Society medals, illustrated in the December Bulletin, are awarded by State Societies as a means of promoting the study of the principles of the American Revolution. ### GEORGE WASHINGTON MEMORIAL BUILDING.

In the Public Buildings bill adopted by Congress at its recent session and approved by the President on March 4, permission was granted to the George Washington Memorial Association to erect a building on the square formerly occupied by the Pennsylvania Railway station in Washington. Many members of the Sons of the American Revolution have made contributions to the building fund. The building is to be a home and gathering place for national, patriotic, scientific, educational, literary, art, medical, and similar organizations that may need such accommodations. The law reads as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: * * *

The south front of said building is to be on a line with the south front of the new National Museum Building, in the north end of the Smithsonian Park; and the said land is hereby set apart for that purpose: Provided, That the actual construction of said building shall not be undertaken until the sum of $1,000,000 shall have been subscribed and paid into the treasury of the George Washington Memorial Association: And provided further, That the erection of said George Washington Memorial Building be begun within a period of two years from and after the passage of this Act, and this section shall be null and void should the George Washington Memorial Association fail to comply with the provisions thereof, which are conditions precedent to the authorization herein granted.

MINUTES OF MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, FEBRUARY 24, 1913.

A meeting of the Executive Committee duly called by order of the President General was held at the headquarters of the Empire State Society, New York City, at 2.45 p. m., February 24, 1913. Present: President General Richardson, presiding; Dr. Moses Greeley Parker, of Massachusetts; Mr. Lewis Beers Curtis, of Connecticut; Mr. T. W. Williams, of New Jersey, and Col. Charles Lyman, of the District of Columbia; also Treasurer General Burroughs, Secretary General Clark, and Historian General Pierson. Regrets for non-attendance were received from Mr. Walbridge and Mr. Thruston.

The minutes of the meeting of the committee on May 22, 1912, were approved as published in the Official Bulletin and the National Year Book.

The Treasurer General reported on the receipts and disbursements since the last annual Congress, showing a balance in the general fund of $5,176.36. There has been added to the permanent fund $395.26, making the present total of that fund $3,395.26.

It was voted that the report of the Treasurer General be accepted. The Secretary General reported on the current business of the Society, including the enrollment of 663 new members since May 1, 1912. The deaths were announced of Col. A. S. Hubbard, Registrar of the California Society; President Joseph Greusel, of the Michigan Society, and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, and it was voted that record thereof be made in the proceedings of the committee.

The National Executive Committee of the Sons of the American Revolution records with sorrow the death of the following compatriots:

Col. Adolphus Skinner Hubbard, died January 29, 1913, became a member of the Sons of Revolutionary Sires in 1876; was its Recording Secretary from 1877 to 1885, and President from 1886 to 1890, when it became the California Society of Sons of the American Revolution, of which he was elected President; in 1892 he was elected Registrar and continued in that office until his death. The first annual Congress of the National Society at Louisville, Ky., April 30, 1890, recognizing his success in maintaining the California Society "through trials which would have discouraged a less patriotic man," ordered that his name be included in the names of the Presidents General of the National Society.

Hon. Joseph Greusel, President of the Michigan Society, died February 13, 1913. He was elected a member on January 26, 1899, and frequently served on the Board of Managers. In April, 1911, he was elected Vice-President, and in June, 1912, became President. He was a journalist by profession, and during the last ten years was honored three times by election to the Legislature as Representative from Detroit.

Hon. Stewart Lyndon Woodford, LL. D., D. C. L., Brevet Brigadier General U. S. Volunteers, 1865; Lieutenant Governor of New York, Member of Congress, U. S. District Attorney, U. S. Minister to Spain; elected a member of the Empire State Society June 9, 1896; died February 14, 1913.

Colonel Lyman, as Chairman of the Educational Committee, reported active interest in the award of the Society medals in schools and colleges, particularly in Connecticut, Washington and Ohio.

Historian General Pierson reported on the advantages of exhibiting at the Annual Congress the publications of the State Societies, and on motion by Mr. Williams it was voted that an exhibition-room, with an attendant, be secured at the Chicago Congress, and that notice thereof be given in the next Official Bulletin.

It was voted to commend the action of the Empire State Society in the adoption of the following resolutions, recommending that in the public schools of the country on May 5 recognition be made of the Treaty of Alliance with France and of the services of Lafayette in the War of the Revolution.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed at the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Empire State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, held on June 7, 1912:

Whereas, This Society heartily welcomes any plan or proposition which will tend to perpetuate and keep alive the memory of the Treaty of Alliance between this country and France and of Washington's friend, the Marquis de La Fayette, and those other brave Frenchmen who so generously fought in aid of our forefathers in the War for American independence; and

Whereas, It is most important that the youth of this country should be taught to fully appreciate this country's indebtedness to France and her King for priceless aid rendered in the darkest days of the Revolution, as well as for her remarkable illustration to the world of that international comity and cooperation which we are today assiduously striving for through treaties of peace and arbitration.

Now, therefore, we, the Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, having duly considered the patriotic letters of our Compatriot Coxe, of the United States Consulate at Paris, and of important officers of our Boards of Education laid before us by our Historian, do

Resolve, That we earnestly recommend to, and request our State and city boards of education that have been advised by our Federal Commissioner of Education, "Our public schools do recognize the valuable services of La Fayette and of the Treaty of Alliance with France, by a brief program of the right kind, taking an hour or more of the school day, say on May 5, the date of the ratification by Congress of the treaty, it being as appropriate a time as any," and to this end we request the Secretary to communicate with the public school boards of our State and city, enclosing to each a copy of these resolutions, and requesting that they take such action as shall establish in all our public schools such an appropriate commemoration of the events and services herein referred to: also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Executive Committee of our National Society, S. A. R.; to the President of the New York State Society of the D. A. R., asking them to approve and take action in tone with this resolution; also to Compatriot Coxe in Paris, requesting him to read the same at the commemoration exercises on July 4th, at the grave of the Marquis de La Fayette; also to President Taft and to the French Ambassador, Jules J. Jusserand, and to the public press.

It was voted that the above resolutions be referred to the Committee on Education.

The Secretary General was directed to inform State Societies that sets of envelopes addressed to members resident in any State may be printed from the National Society set of mailing stencils, at cost of making same, for general mailing purposes.

The President General presented a letter from Mr. John B. Torbert, Chairman of the Recruiting Committee of the District of Columbia Society, recommending the adoption of a standard form of invitation for the use of State Societies, similar to one used by the Orange Chapter of New Jersey.

It was voted that the Secretary General be directed to publish a facsimile of the Orange Chapter invitation in the Official Bulletin.

Mr. Williams, Chairman of Committee appointed at the meeting on May 22 to procure distinctive insignia for the President General, reported that a gold badge of special design and wide sash ribbon had been secured. A vote of thanks was extended to the Committee.

A letter from the Secretary of the Illinois Society was read, stating that arrangements for the Chicago Congress are completed and a preliminary program has been issued.

Various matters pertaining to the general welfare of the Society were discussed without formal action thereon.

There being no further business, the Committee then, at 4.40 o'clock, adjourned.

A. Howard Clark, Secretary General.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers on Friday, January 3, it was voted to request the Board of Education of the city of New York to hold exercises in the public schools of the city in commemoration of the signing of the Treaty of Alliance between France and America; also in memory of Lafayette.

Under date of February I, 1913, William H. Maxwell, City Superintendent of Schools, issued General Circular No. 21, 1912-1913, addressed to the principals of schools, in which he said:

"Acting on the suggestion of the Empire State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, it has been decided to celebrate, at the opening exercises of the older children, on May 5, 1913, the anniversary of the ratification by Congress of the Treaty of Alliance between France and the United States in 1778, in order to perpetuate and keep alive the memory of the Treaty of Alliance between this country and France, and of Washington's friend, the Marquis de Lafayette.

"In preparation for these exercises, I suggest a few facts which may be helpful to you in making your program.

"Treaty of Alliance, negotiated by Benjamin Franklin, signed in Paris February 6, 1778, ratified by Congress May 5, 1778. France was the first power to acknowledge the independence of the United States. Aid was rendered by France in money, men, equipment, and fleet.

"Benefits of the French Alliance: its effect on England. French aid shortened struggle.

"Lafayette in America: Lafayette most distinguished of foreign officers who came to help."

The Buffalo Chapter, on December 10, met at the Buffalo Club, when an address was delivered by Gen. Francis V. Greene on "Washington as a Soldier." The Chapter has distributed among the alien population of Buffalo several thousand copies of the National Society leaflets on Citizenship and Naturalization and copies of the Constitution of the United States.

The annual banquet of the Chapter was held on the evening of February 20, when addresses were made by President Newell B. Woodworth, of the Syracuse Chapter; Rev. Dr. Jessup, and Dr. Carl D. Case. On the evening of February 21 the Chapter presented a copy of Stuart's portrait of Washington to the high school at Kenmore, a suburb of Buffalo. Mr. Frank B. Steele, Secretary of the Chapter, presided, and an address was delivered by Hon. Peter A. Porter, with a patriotic program by the students of the school.

The Rochester Chapter originated a plan for the observance of a Patriot Day in the public schools of that city. The Chapter requested the Board of Education to set apart a day for that purpose, believing it a good idea to have patriotism taught on a day when the children's minds are not filled full of other subjects, as usually is the case.

"Many foreigners are coming to our city, and since some day they and our own children will be the citizens of Rochester, we thought it a good idea to tell them of respect for the flag." Charles E. Ogden, Chairman of the Program Committee of the Sons, said: "We do not want to interfere in any way with school work; but in a brief period we might teach something that would make the pupils think a good deal."

The first observance of this day was on Friday, December 6, when brief patriotic exercises were held suitable to the several grades.

THE HAWAIIAN SOCIETY, on January 20, held a joint meeting at Honolulu with the Aloha Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Major Samuel Kephart, in command of the United States troops at Jackson Barracks, paid a feeling tribute to Mr. Taft and the difficulties he has faced in regard to the Mexican situation. Prof. Alcee Fortier delivered the principal address of the evening, responding to the toast "George Washington." He contrasted the characters of Washington and Napoleon and maintained that, while the Corsican was by far the greater genius, the American patriot was entitled to first rank, both as a military expert and as a hero of every-day affairs.

Major Schultz made a manly response to the toast "The President," while Major Kephart responding in kind to the toast "The Army," spoke of its preparedness at all times. Mr. C. S. Mathews responded to the toast "The Society of the Cincinnati," which he sketched from its organization in 1783, its aim being to perpetuate the glorious memories of the American Revolution.

Mr. E. T. Merrick, responding in a lighter vein, paid tribute to the occasion, and spoke for a higher ideal of personal honor and integrity. In the same vein H. W. Robinson dilated upon the lighter aspects of war and peace.

J., Historian General of the National Society, and then the dinner was served. The back page of the menu card bore a reproduction of a rare print of General Washington taking leave of his comrades-in-arms, and the table decorations were pinks and ionguils.

The after-dinner exercises took place in the main hall, and Captain Adams, after making his remarks relative to Arnold and Lee, in which he described at length the trip of Arnold through Maine, introduced Mr. Pierson, who delivered an address on George Washington.

THE MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY celebrated Washington's Birthday at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. The routine business of the meeting began at 10.30, and luncheon was served at the close of the meeting.

Cox, Past President of Boston Chapter, who spoke on "Schools in the Revolution and the Revolution in the Schools," and Brig. Gen. Philip Reade, U. S. A., retired, who, as Historian, gave incidents connected with the Revolutionary campaign.

President Crandon introduced Dr. Addison, who gave a sketch of the career of Washington. Dr. Addison said that democracy, as we understand it, means trust in the people. Washington established here a land where each individual has an opportunity of developing the brains which God has given him, and whether he comes from the slums or the abode of the aristocracy, the chance is the same for him.

"America is the best land for the manufacture of that which is best of all, the manufacture of character," Dr. Addison declared. "If we desire to honor Washington, we should see that the principles which he established in our Government are maintained; that his doctrines are extended; that we should endeavor to assimilate those who are coming to our shores and who are far removed from being Anglo-Saxons."

Walter K. Watkins spoke of some of the nationalities represented in the United States during the period of the Revolution.

Under the initiative of Old Suffolk Chapter, S. A. R., of Chelsea, there has been secured for perpetuation as an historical landmark and a place of meeting the so-called Bellingham-Cary house in Chelsea. This house was built in 1659 by Governor Bellingham and has descended through 250 years to the present representatives of the Cary family, by whom it has been transferred to the present trustees. The house is a fine colonial mansion, and during the past summer has been restored to its original appearance, with six open fireplaces, beautiful parlors, appropriate papering, fine wood paneling, and repainted inside and out. Old Suffolk Chapter, held its November meeting there, and a general reception was held January I. The State Society has contributed $50 toward the expense of restoration.

THE MICHIGAN SOCIETY has adopted a tribute to the memory of Hon. Joseph Greusel, who was elected President of the Society in June, 1912, and died on February 13, 1913.

The sudden death of Hon. Joseph Greusel deprives Michigan Society, Sons of the American Revolution, of its President, and the Board of Managers assembled today in special session desire to honor his memory and pay tribute to his services as a member and official of this organization.

Mr. Greusel was born in Glasgow, Ulster County, New York, August 3, 1837, and came with his parents at an early age to Detroit, where he thereafter made his home, although he traveled extensively, both in this country and abroad. He came of New England stock, and upon the strength of his descent from Isaac Lockwood, a Revolutionary soldier in the New York Militia, he was elected to membership in Michigan Society January 26, 1899. From that time he was a prominent and faithful member and served frequently on the Board of Managers. In April, 1911, he was elected Vice-President, and in June, 1912, he was elected President to succeed Rev. Lee S. McCollester, D. D., who had resigned in the midst of his term of office. His entire connection with this organization was marked by a sincere interest in its welfare, by faithful attendance at its meetings, and by a punctual and efficient performance of all his official duties. His death during his official term takes from us one who has been a faithful exponent of the principles of our Society.

The annual banquet of the Society, usually held on Washington's Birthday, will be combined with the annual business meeting on April 15.

The retiring Historian, Rev. Charles E. Snyder, urged the members to continue in the work of locating the graves of Revolutionary soldiers, for the Government furnishes headstones properly inscribed. It was explained that the law against flag desecration with advertising matter, passed in 1897, was under the watch of a committee, and no defiance was encountered when attention of violators was called to its existence. An electrical flag on Liberty Avenue had been abandoned for a simple streamer.

Pierce, President of the Ohio Society and of Kenyon College, his subject being "Washington, the Ideal American," and by Rev. Charles E. The souvenir of the banquet was a handsome 16mo volume of 207 pages, "The Ideals of the Republic, or Great Words from Great Americans," including the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, Washington's Inaugural Addresses and his Farewell Address, and Lincoln's Inaugural Addresses and his Gettysburg Address.

He paid glowing tribute to Hopkins, Perry, and Slater, each a leader in his respected sphere, and reflected honor upon their State.

Mayor Gainer responded to the toast "The City of Providence." He spoke of the progress Providence was making along various lines; but what seemed to him to be the greatest sign of progress was the work which was being done to advance manufacturing interests by providing the producers means of getting their wares out of the State without recourse to the facilities offered by the one corporation that had gained control of every freight-carrying means, either by land or by sea.

"The Latest Events in the Balkans" was responded to by Mr. Svetozor Tonjoroff, of the New York Press. Mr. Tonjoroff mentioned the various Americans who had labored effectively for the development and the liberation of Bulgaria. The rapid advance of Bulgaria in every line was graphically described. Her wonderful belligerency directed against Turkey in the face of opposition on the part of the Powers, of diplomats, and moneyed interests was brilliantly portrayed and closely followed by the applauding auditors.

General Miles said that he had listened to one of the most interesting addresses it had ever been his privilege to hear. He had, he said, traveled over all the countries spoken of and could attest to the verity of the statements made. Referring to Japan and Russia, General Miles said that the latter great empire had not been crushed by the victories of Japan. It was true the child had struck the giant, but it had merely aroused it to greater effort for the preservation of its integrity.

Col. Robert P. Brown, the Society's Historian, read a brief sketch of Washington's visits to Rhode Island, and William Chace Greene, the Society's Poet, read a poem entitled "One of the Army."

"A special effort was made by the Sons to encourage every family and every business house in the State to possess a neat flag and give it to the breeze on every National holiday. This action on the part of our Order was announced through the newspapers, just prior to Flag Day, during the early part of June. As a result there were many flags in evidence on that day in various parts of the State. In this way and in other ways our citizens have been encouraged to display the National colors. . . . We believe that every flag in evidence teaches the lesson of patriotism to the rising generation and to the foreigner within our borders."
