

OFFICIAL BULLETIN
OF THE
SONS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

President General
R. C. Ballard Thruston, Louisville, Ky.

Organized April 30, 1889
Incorporated by Act of Congress June 9, 1906

Volume VIII

OCTOBER, 1913

Number 2

Published at the office of the Secretary General (A. Howard Clark, Smithsonian Institution), Washington, D. C., in June, October, December, and March.

Entered as second-class matter, May 7, 1908, at the post-office at Washington, D. C., under the Act of July 16, 1894.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN records action by the General Officers, the Board of Trustees, the Executive and other National Committees, lists of members deceased and of new members, and important doings of State Societies. Secretaries of State Societies and of Local Chapters are requested to communicate to the Secretary General written or printed accounts of all meetings or celebrations, and to promptly forward copies of all notices, circulars, and other printed matter issued by them, and to notify him at once of dates of death of members.

"Our inspiration is from the past, our work today, and our purpose for the future."

PATRIOTIC EDUCATION.

One of the most important needs of the day is the arousing of a more general, wide-awake patriotism. The spirit of it, to be lasting, must be instilled in the children of the present, to bear fruit in the days to come. This aim our Committee on Education has had before it, but the success of its efforts has thus far fallen short of its hopes and anticipations.

These facts have given rise to a feeling among some of the members of the Society that either the most effective method of interesting the great body of school children in the study of American history has not yet been employed, or that there has been a failure to secure the proper co-operation of the teachers of the children.

A plan will probably be laid before the next meeting of the Executive Committee designed to ascertain the causes of the limited results accomplished thus far, in order that more efficient means may be employed in the future.

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL CONGRESS will be held at Syracuse, N. Y., on the third Monday in May, 1914, on the invitation of the Empire State Society through the Syracuse Chapter.

The National Committee on Arrangements for the Congress is as follows: William A. Marble, Chairman, 890 Broadway, New York, N. Y.; Newell B. Woodworth, Vice-Chairman, Syracuse, N. Y.; Meses Greeley Parker, M. D., Lowell, Mass.; Frank B. Steele, 887 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y.; Hon. Harvey F. Remington, Rochester, N. Y.

THE NATIONAL YEAR BOOK FOR 1913 has been completed and distributed as authorized by the Executive Committee. About 750 extra copies were subscribed for by State Societies at 25 cents each in response to circular notice. A few copies remain for sale to members at 40 cents each, which includes postage. The volume is of 320 pages, containing names of General Officers, Members of National Committees, State and Chapter Officers, Proceedings at Chicago Congress, and pedigrees of new members enrolled from May 1, 1912, to April 30, 1913.

THE NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE will meet in New York on November 25 for the transaction of general business. State Societies, Chapters, and individual members are requested to communicate with the President General or Secretary General as to any matters that should receive consideration at that meeting.

PRESIDENT GENERAL THRUSTON visited Washington from October 11th to 17th, and conferred with Judge Stockbridge, Commander John H. Moore, Vice-President General Baird, and the Secretary General, on the general activities of the Society; also with Adjutant General George Andrews, Chairman, and Mr. Charles W. Stewart, of the Military and Naval Records Committee; Mr. W. V. Cox and Mr. H. W. Samson, of the Flag Committee, and others on Society work under their direction. He also conferred with Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, of the Navy Department, and examined Revolutionary records in the Pension Office and the Library of Congress.

MILITARY AND NAVAL RECORDS.

The Committee on Military and Naval Records is aiding the War and Navy Departments in perfecting the rolls of soldiers and sailors of the Revolution, as authorized by Act of March 2, 1913, which appropriated $25,000 for the War Department and $7,000 for the Navy Department to be used in collecting, copying, and classifying, with a view to publication, the scattered military and naval records of the Revolutionary War.

State Societies, Chapters, and individual members are urged to advance this important work as rapidly as practicable by communicating information concerning records in private possession to the chairman of the Committee, Brig. Gen. George Andrews, U. S. A., War Department, Washington, D. C., or Mr. Charles W. Stewart, Navy Department Library, or to other members of the Committee named in the June OFFICIAL BULLETIN. Read the address of President General Thruston before the Illinois Society, on pages 12 and 13 of the present BULLETIN.

There has been published by the Library of Congress a list of about 1,650 entries, representing more than 1,400 armed vessels, licensed by authority of Congress for privateer service during the Revolution, with the names of their commanders, owners, and bondsmen, and recording the number of their crews, ranging up to 200 men and averaging about 30 men, thus representing more than 40,000 men in sea service. The names of these "minute men of the sea," now largely buried in oblivion, should be recovered as far as practicable, and their memory preserved. The Continental Navy, equipped through provision by the Continental Congress, was limited in size through lack of funds, and Letters of Marque were therefore granted to private armed vessels to supplement the regular naval fleet. The prizes captured were the reward of this naval militia, the sale of the prizes and distribution of the money to the seamen being properly supervised by Courts of Admiralty.

The Virginia State Library at Richmond has recently published a "Supplemental List" of Revolutionary Soldiers from that State. The first part, issued in 1912, contained about 35,000 entries, and the Supplement adds about 8,500 new names, besides additional information for 10,000 names printed in the first list. The work is a volume of 335 pages, and is sold by the State Librarian at $1.50. Many names of militiamen are still missing, it being estimated that Virginia furnished about 50,000 soldiers in all branches of the Revolutionary service, or between one-fourth and one-fifth of the entire estimated number of individuals serving from all the thirteen Colonies.

"Heitman's Historical Register of Officers of the Continental Army," published in 1893, is in press in a new edition (to be ready in December), giving the records of about 14,000 officers, or some 6,000 more than in the original work now out of print and scarce. The price of the new edition until December 1 will be $8.00, after which it will be fixed at $10.00, net. Address The Rare Book Shop Publishing Co., Inc., 813 Seventeenth St., Washington, D. C.

A list of South Carolina soldiers is being printed in the "Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine" (formerly "The American Monthly").

In the September issue of "The Ancient," a magazine published monthly at 105 Barrister's Hall, Boston, there is begun a roster of more than a thousand officers of Massachusetts regiments of the Continental line that were organized in January, 1777, for three years or for the war. In the issues from March to August appear the names of the 341 original members of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati.

HISTORICAL PAPERS FOR USE OF SOCIETIES.

At the meeting of the National Executive Committee during the Congress held at Boston in May, 1912, it was suggested that the Historian General prepare a list of papers which are sent to him by the various State Societies and Chapters, for use by those organizations which may care for them, the only expense to be for copying.

In the preparation of the list it is found that only a few of the Societies and Chapters have responded to the request, and it is most urgently hoped that during the renewal of activities the officers will kindly bear this fact in mind, so that there will always be a varied and instructive list from which to choose. The address of the Historian General is 21 Washington street, East Orange, N. J. The following papers are ready for use:

"What Do You Think of Immigration?" read before Denver Chapter, Colorado Society, May 12, 1912.

"The Story of the Invasion of Connecticut in 1777," read by William H. Burr, at unveiling of monument at Compo Beach, Westport, Conn., under auspices of Connecticut Society.

The Oration delivered before Sons of Revolutionary Sires, San Francisco, Cal., July 4, 1877, by J. P. Dameron.

"Washington's Nobility of Adversity," read at Portland, Maine, before Maine Society, Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1913, by D. L. Pierson.

"Patriotism in Peace," read at the meeting of the Commandery of Vermont, Loyal Legion, by Compatriot J. W. Howard, of New Jersey Society.

"The Battle of Monmouth," read at the organization of Monmouth Chapter, New Jersey Society, June 27, 1913, by D. L. Pierson.

"The Battle of Lake Erie," read before Kentucky Society, by Frank Graham Maus, April 19, 1913.

"The Worth to a Nation of a Sense of its Past," read before the Vermont Society, December 11, 1912, by the Rev. Dr. John Martin Thomas, President of Middlebury College.

"Brandywine, Germantown, and Valley Forge," read before the Oregon Society, October 5, 1910, by James F. Ewing.

"Scotch-Irish in the American Revolution," read before Oregon Society, February 22, 1908, by Wallace McCamant.

"The Expedition of George Rogers Clark," read before the Oregon Society, May 6, 1901, by Stephen A. Lowell.

"Jews in the American Revolution," read before the Oregon Society, February 22, 1900, by Compatriot Benjamin I. Cohen.

✓ ORGANIZATION OF CHAPTERS.

At the Boston Congress in May, 1912, there was a general discussion of the advantages of the more general formation of local Chapters, and it was voted "That it is the sense of this Congress that an excellent way to increase our membership is through the organization of Chapters." As a result of this discussion some of the State Societies have amended their Constitutions or By-Laws to provide therefor, and new Chapters are being formed in several States, the financial or other regulations being made to conform to local needs or conditions. The Maryland Society has, during the past year, adopted the following By-Law providing for Chapters:

ARTICLE IV.—Chapters.

SECTION 1. Whenever five or more members in good standing residing in any county of the State of Maryland shall make application for a Charter, the Board of Officers and Managers may grant such application creating a Chapter of this Society to be known as the "— Chapter of the Maryland Society of the Sons of the American Revolution," and all members of the Sons of the American Revolution resident within territory contiguous to such Chapter shall be eligible to membership therein.

SEC. 2. Each Chapter shall have the right, subject to the approval of the Board of Officers and Managers of the State Society and of the Registrar General, to elect to membership, and those so elected shall upon approval as aforesaid, thereby become members of the State Society.

Each Chapter shall elect annually a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, who shall act as the Managers of and conduct the affairs of the Chapter.

SEC. 3. Said Managers may adopt such regulations as they may deem best, not in conflict with the Constitution and By-Laws of the National Society and of this Society.

SEC. 4. The President, Historian, and Registrar of the State Society shall be ex officio members of the Chapters without the right to vote, and shall be exempt from the payment of all local dues to said Chapters.

SEC. 5. Each Chapter shall pay to the Treasurer of the State Society annually, on or before the fifteenth day of March, the sum of one dollar for each member of such Chapter.

SEC. 6. Each Chapter shall, between the fifteenth day of March and the first day of April in each year, submit a report of its financial condition and activities for the preceding twelve months, and such reports shall be incorporated in the annual reports of the officers of the State Society.

SEC. 7. The Board of Officers and Managers of the State Society may, for non-observance of the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of the National Society, or of this State Society, or for sufficient cause shown, revoke any Charter granted for a Chapter, provided such Chapter shall have the right, after due notice, to require that before any action is taken the matter shall be heard and passed upon by the State Society.

The Chapters in several instances are large and very flourishing, as the Old Essex Chapter at Lynn, Mass.; the Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Branch at Hartford, Conn., and others whose activities are from time to time reported in the OFFICIAL BULLETIN. The Chapter at Hartford now numbers 285 members and the Old Essex more than 200.

WASHINGTON'S JOURNEY FROM PHILADELPHIA TO CAMBRIDGE IN 1775.

The Chicago Congress adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution adopt the plan proposed by the George Washington Chapter of Springfield, Mass., to mark the route taken by General Washington on his journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge to take command of the American forces.

Resolved, That the State Societies and Chapters of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, and Massachusetts be requested to co-operate.

Resolved, That the President General appoint a committee of 15, consisting of three members from each of the States of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, and Massachusetts, and that the committee be given power to arrange and carry out the idea proposed without expense to the National Society.

As authorized by the above resolutions, the President General has appointed the following committee:

Massachusetts: Henry F. Punderson, Springfield; Edwin S. Crandon, Cambridge; Brig. Gen. Philip Reade, U. S. A. (retired), Lowell.

Connecticut: Wilson H. Lee, President Connecticut Society, 206 Meadow St., New Haven; Capt. Clarence H. Wickham, Hartford; Judge Morris B. Beardsley, Bridgeport.

New York: Norman P. Heffley, 678 St. Marks Ave., Brooklyn; Rev. Frank O. Hall, D. D., 4 W. 76th St., New York City; Hon. Cornelius A. Pugsley, Peekskill.

New Jersey: David L. Pierson, East Orange; Dr. G. Herbert Richards, 424 Main St., Orange; N. Perry Howell, Newark.

Pennsylvania: Clarence P. Wynne, Empire Building, Philadelphia; Col. R. W. Guthrie, Pittsburgh; Herman W. Fernberger, Empire Building, Philadelphia.

The Committee of Fifteen will be called together by the President General on November 24, in New York, for organization and discussion of plans. General Washington left Philadelphia June 23, 1775, and arrived at Cambridge on July 2; the principal stopping-places en route were Trenton, New Brunswick, Newark, New York, New Rochelle, New Haven, Wethersfield, Hartford, Springfield, Palmer, Worcester, and Watertown. An account of the journey and its proposed celebration is given in "The Candlestick Magazine" of July, 1913, published at Springfield, Mass.

✓ FLAG COMMITTEE.

Hon. Morris Sheppard, U. S. Senator from Texas, has been appointed a member of the Flag Committee. This Committee is endeavoring to secure a Federal law prohibiting the desecration of the flag and the enacting of uniform flag laws in the several States. Several thoughtless instances of desecration have been remedied, as in case of the simulation of the flag in the flooring of a building, the design being changed when attention was called to its impropriety. It is often wiser to employ reason rather than the arm of the law in the prevention of desecration. The Committee seeks to encourage a study of the history of the United States Flag and to promote its more general display and a greater reverence for it. President General Thruston has on several occasions delivered a lecture on the history of the Flag which has aroused much enthusiasm, and he has in preparation a pamphlet on the subject to be issued by the U. S. Government.

✓ ADDITIONS TO MEMBERSHIP.

There was enrolled by the Registrar General from May 1 to September 30, 1913, a total of 283 new members of the following State Societies: Arkansas, 1; California, 5; Colorado, 12; Connecticut, 10; Idaho, 3; Illinois, 36; Indiana, 4; Iowa, 11; Kansas, 5; Kentucky, 16; Louisiana, 1; Maine, 5; Maryland, 4; Massachusetts, 22; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 3; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 2; Montana, 1; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 41; New Mexico, 3; New York (Empire State), 13; North Carolina, 1; North Dakota, 1; Ohio, 22; Oklahoma, 1; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 20; Philippines, 3; South Dakota, 2; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 7; Utah, 2; Vermont, 3; Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 4; Washington, 4.

On October 3 there were received eleven additional papers from the New Jersey Society, including four brothers, and fifteen were later received from Illinois, making the total enrollment of new members during the past twelve months in New Jersey 103 and in Illinois 120. In Colorado a son of a soldier of the Revolution has been enrolled; in Washington three brothers, and in Illinois a young man of twenty-one, whose father and grandfather are members. Among eminent men recently enrolled may be mentioned Judge Elbert Henry Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, a life member of the Society.

✓ DOINGS OF STATE SOCIETIES.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY is publishing a book containing addresses delivered before the Society and biographical sketches of members who have died since 1909.

On September 8 the Society gave a banquet in San Francisco in honor of Messieurs Albert Tirman, G. Roger Sandoz, Gaston de Pellerin de Latouche, A. H. Savy, and Raphael Mounet, the French Executive Committee of the Panama Pacific International Exposition. About seventy-one members and guests were present. Addresses were made by H. C. Capwell, President of the Society; Associate Justice Henry A. Melvin, of the Supreme Court of California; Hon. Samuel M. Shortridge. Monsieur Tirman responded in behalf of the guests. Mr. Shortridge eloquently reviewed the patriotic deeds of Lafayette and of the government of France in bringing the struggle for American Independence to a successful termination.

✓ THE COLORADO SOCIETY advances the interests of the organization chiefly through the activities of its Chapters.

The Denver Chapter held its first monthly session on September 18. The principal address was by Rev. Jesse Penney Martin, on "Connecticut in the Revolution and After." Brief addresses on "Revolutionary Episodes in Connecticut" were made by Compatriots Patrick, Storrs, Keezer, and others. The general theme of addresses and papers for the Society Year will be "Episodes of the Revolutionary Period not of General Historical Record." Massachusetts and New Hampshire will be the topic in October, and so forth, until each of the thirteen original colonies shall have been given in sketch or story gathered from ancient publications, private portfolios, letters or documents that may be available to the compatriots taking part in these programs. Following the regular addresses at each monthly session there will be given an opportunity for brief contributions by the membership touching upon memoirs, narratives or traditions of the State or colony then being contemplated.

THE CONNECTICUT SOCIETY.—On July 1 a bronze tablet marking the site of the home of Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth was put in position in the south niche at the entrance to the Wadsworth Athenaeum at Hartford, a gift of the Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Chapter. This tablet, weighing approximately seventy-five pounds, is the work of Frank H. Boardman, sculpture instructor at Yale University, and comes from Columbia, Tenn.

The committee in charge of the placing of this tablet consists of Herbert Randall, Robert A. Wadsworth, Herbert H. White, W. A. Sanborn, and Frank B. Gay, director of the Wadsworth Athenaeum. At the top appears a likeness of Colonel Wadsworth. The inscription appearing under the bas-relief reads as follows:

Here stood the house of Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth, Commissary General of the American Forces in the War for Independence, and a trusted friend of George Washington and "Brother Jonathan" Trumbull. Here in 1775 he entertained Washington on his way to assume command of the Continental Army. In the Southwest Chamber Washington met the French Commander, Count Rochambeau, and others in May, 1781, and considered the plans which in October resulted in the fall of the British power in America.

At the residence of Dr. George C. F. Williams, in Hartford, Conn., on July 11, a reception was given to Mr. Wilson H. Lee, successor to Dr. Williams as President of the Connecticut Society, to which were invited all the members of the Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Chapter and the State Board of Managers. A special meeting of the Board was held at 3 o'clock for the election of members and the transaction of general business, followed by the reception from 4 to 7 o'clock, when about two hundred were in attendance. A committee was authorized by the Board to investigate and report on a proposition submitted by Mr. George Dudley Seymour for the purchase of the birthplace or home of Nathan Hale at South Coventry.

The Hartford Daily Courant of July 9 gives an illustrated description and history of the Nathan Hale house, and sets forth the advisability of its purchase by the Society.

The annual Field Day of the Connecticut Society was held at the "Momauguin," East Haven, on Saturday, August 2, attended by about one hundred members. The principal event was the dinner, followed by after-dinner speeches by Rev. Dr. William De Loss Love and Dr. Matthew H. Griswold.

Wilson H. Lee, of Orange, President of the Society, presided at the dinner and introduced the speakers. Dr. Love urged the members to perpetuate the spirit of '76 through their children and grandchildren. He also advocated the marking of historic sites in the State, "so that the future generation will know the history of that spot and that the S. A. R. placed the tablet there." The great problem of today is to cultivate in the thousands of foreigners coming to our shore every day the spirit of America.

Dr. Griswold has recently returned from the celebration of the three wars at Steubenville, O., and he told of his experiences while there, and of a move in Milan, where an Americanized Italian is teaching pupils the rudiments of American history and our customs. He also advocated the teaching of the foreigner.

On September 24, members of the Board of Managers of the Connecticut Society were the guests of the President, Wilson H. Lee, at his home, Fairlea Farm, Orange. About thirty-five were present.

The feature of the day was the sheep-bake, the dinner being served in a grove near the house and the sheep baked in a trench in front of the guests. The decorations were novel, consisting principally of cornstalks, 14 feet in height, raised on the farm. Following the dinner, President Lee gave his guests a short history of the farm, which is one of the most notable in New England, after which they were taken on a personally conducted tour of the grounds, buildings, etc. The next meeting of the Society will probably be held early in November.

The Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Branch of Hartford, Conn., held its annual meeting at the Hartford Club on the evening of October 16, with more than one hundred members in attendance. Dinner was served at 6.30 o'clock, after which the business meeting was held, President Clarence H. Wickham presiding. Captain Wickham declining a re-election, the following Officers and Managers were unanimously elected: President, Hon. Andrew J. Sloper, New Britain;

Vice-President, Herbert H. White, Hartford; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles G. Stone; Historian, Frank B. Gay; Chaplain, Dr. Edward M. Gallaudet; Necrologist, Leverett Belknap; Auditor, Edward W. Beardsley.

THE HAWAIIAN SOCIETY on July 22 entertained Compatriot George W. Guthrie, of the Pennsylvania Society, Ambassador from the United States to Japan. Mr. Guthrie was accompanied by his wife and Miss Guthrie, and the reception was given in co-operation with the Daughters of the American Revolution. About seventy persons attended the luncheon at the Young Hotel. Besides the guests of honor, at the head of the table were Perley L. Horne, President of the Society, and Mrs. Horne; General and Mrs. Frederick Funston, Admiral C. B. T. Moore, Governor Frear, the Japanese Consul and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Doremus Scudder, while the Japanese Society of Hawaii was represented by its President, Prof. M. M. Scott, accompanied by Mrs. Scott and A. K. Ozawa.

In well-turned phrases Ambassador Guthrie expressed his appreciation of the hearty welcome which Hawaii had given him and the members of his family, showing a keen interest in the land itself, and touched just enough on international politics to show his firm belief in the continuance of friendly relations between the two great nations which lie on opposite sides of the broad Pacific.

THE ILLINOIS SOCIETY has progressed favorably in its work since the Chicago Congress of the National Society. Two meetings of the Board of Managers have been held, June 16 and August 29, with new members to elect at each meeting. So successfully were all the financial affairs of entertaining the National Society managed that each donor received a rebate check of 32 per cent of the amount subscribed.

A large list of eligibles for membership has been compiled, and these are now receiving the attention of the Recruiting Committee.

Seven members of the Society attended the flag dedication ceremonies at Starved Rock, Ill., September 5, under the auspices of the D. A. R., addresses being delivered by President La Verne Noyes and Dr. John Timothy Stone.

The annual banquet was held on Yorktown Day, October 18, at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, the speakers being R. C. Ballard, Thruston, President General; Judge Selden P. Spencer, of St. Louis; United States Senator L. Y. Sherman, and Rev. Ernest Wray O'Neal, of Chicago.

In the course of his address reviewing the activities of the State

Societies and of the National Society, President General Thruston said:

When I was preparing for college, one of the axioms I learned in mathematics was that the whole is equal to the sum of all its parts; but when I reached higher mathematics I had to unlearn some things which I had previously looked upon as axioms.

One would suppose that our National Society, composed, as it is, of all our State Societies, should be equal to the sum of all its parts; but it is supposed to go far beyond that. Therefore we must study first our State Society, then our National Society in its relations to its integral parts, and finally as an organization with ideals and objects beyond the scope of our State Societies. * * * Annually we hear the great cry for an increase of membership. It is true that we sadly need such increase. * * * But we need more than mere members. We need to interest both our members and others in the great work to accomplish which our organization was established. Each year our accretions are greater than the year before, due to our truth, our sincerity, and our purpose. * * *

The first Congress of our Society was held at Louisville, Ky., in 1890. Representations were made to that body that the Revolutionary records of our Government were placed in boxes and barrels and stored in waste spaces in the several department buildings in Washington. Resolutions were passed that they should be properly housed, assorted, filed, and indexed so that they could be made available, and that we would lend our efforts toward accomplishing that object. We did so, and through the influence of such of our members as were in Congress succeeded, after three years, in getting the proper bill passed. Today the Revolutionary records in the War Department are indexed, over 1,000,000 cards being required for that purpose. We now know that there were whole regiments in that war of whose officers and men only a few names have been preserved. There were many companies where no names at all are known. It is believed that many rolls of enlistment are in the archives of States, historical societies, and in possession of collectors and other individuals, and an appropriation has been made for the purpose of copying and indexing them so as to complete those records as far as possible. General Andrews tells me that the records of New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, and Delaware have been loaned to the Government, but no others, and that our members are not aiding him in locating such papers, and he feels very much aggrieved. Objection is made to publishing the data already found because of its incomplete state. If any one who knows of the location of such papers will kindly communicate that fact to me, to our Secretary General, or to Gen. George Andrews, of the War Department, he will confer a lasting favor to us and a benefit to posterity, for those unknown patriots of our Revolution are entitled to have their names on the roll of honor, and that should be done before the trained force of the Department is disbanded.

In the Treasury Department the Revolutionary vouchers have never been at all carefully searched for information in a way to make it accessible. There is a rumor that persons searching for information for private gain have found over 90,000 names of Revolutionary soldiers, many of them not shown on the records of the War Department. I hear that many of these records are in a house without either heat or light, and if they remain there long there is a prospect of their being culled over, with a disappearance of the more valuable ones.

Recent investigations have unearthed the names of over 1,650 vessels, with their captains, that fought on our side in the Revolution. Some names occur more than once in the list. It is estimated that it took 40,000 or 50,000 men to man those vessels, and yet but few of their names are known to us. In fact, very little is known of our Navy in the Revolution. There is a tradition in Washington that about the middle of the last century an assistant wrote to the Secretary of the Navy stating that a lot of old Revolutionary rolls were stacked up in the hall, that they were in the way, and asked what to do with them, and the reply came back, "Destroy them."

There are the State Department and the Bureau of Manuscripts in the Congressional Library, both full of meat, but not so indexed that the Historian can get at the information without a vast amount of digging.

The present law requires the several departments to turn over to the War and Navy Departments all their Revolutionary documents relating to the Army and Navy. A mere pittance has been turned over—certainly but a small fraction of what exists.

It is not necessary for me to say any more about what work is ahead for your National Society to do. In its results our Revolutionary War is probably the greatest that was ever fought, since it practically revolutionized civilization itself, and we and those who come after us are entitled to know all about it and those patriots who brought it about that our records show. We are a comparatively small organization, with less than 13,000 members, but we have initiated work in the past, and we will do so again.

We must first obtain additional information as to what work there is to do, and then determine how best to do it. I am satisfied that every patriotic society and every historical society in the land will gladly lend us a helping hand, for in every case "Our inspiration is from the past, our work today, and our purpose for the future." (Quotation from retiring address of Ex-President E. S. Crandon, of Massachusetts Society.)

INDIANA SOCIETY.—The annual meeting and banquet of the John Morton Chapter were held at Terre Haute on September 4, the anniversary of the battle of Fort Harrison. The following Chapter officers were elected: Herbert Briggs, President; C. T. Jewett, Vice-President; Edward Gilbert, Secretary; Horace Tune, Treasurer; James B. Harris, Registrar; Dr. E. T. Spotswood, Chaplain.

President Briggs presided at the banquet. At the table were two Past Presidents of the Indiana Society, and the President, first Vice-President, and Secretary. Telegrams and letters were read from other State officers. Greetings were exchanged by telegraph with R. C. Ballard Thruston, President General of the Society.

Twenty-five members of the Chapter and guests motored to Middletown and Fairview for the morning part of the program. At Middletown the Sons were joined by citizens of the town, and services were held at the grave of William Thomas, of the Fifth Virginia Regiment, Revolutionary War. Horace E. Tune presided. Addresses were made by Edward Gilbert, representing the Society, and the Rev. Joseph Adams, for the citizens of Middletown. Dr. E. T. Spotswood, Chaplain of the Chapter, officiated.

Mr. Gilbert in his address called attention to the service rendered by Mr. Thomas in the War of Independence. Mr. Thomas died January 28, 1828. Many of the descendants of the patriot were in the audience.

Owing to delay in arrival of the Government headstones, the grave was marked with American flags by C. T. Jewett, Secretary of the Chapter. An impressive part of the service was the mounting of the colors at the grave. For the first time in the history of the Indiana Society the official silk flag of the organization appeared at the side of the American colors in ceremonial.

From Middletown the party motored to Fairview Cemetery to mark the grave of Joseph Dickson, of the Pennsylvania Continental Troops. The service was the same as at Middletown. William W. Adamson presided, and the address was by James E. Somes, President of the Indiana Society. Mr. Adamson and Mr. Somes spoke briefly of the work, and gave the records of the soldier.

The site of Fort Harrison was decked with flags for the afternoon program. Seats were arranged under the trees in front of the house close to the Fort Harrison Monument, erected last year. James E. Somes presided, and music was provided by a quartet.

The part Fort Harrison has played in the activities of John Morton Chapter was reviewed by C. T. Jewett. The address gave a brief sketch of the movement to procure the historic site for a permanent park and the observance of the centennial.

Dr. J. R. Morgan, of Kokomo, Ind., First Vice-President of the Indiana Society, gave personal greetings to the local members and congratulated the Society on the achievement in erecting the monument on the site of the fort.

Dr. Spotswood, who is nearly 87 years old, spoke as the link between the Revolutionary soldiers and the present generation by recalling incidents of his youth when he met and talked with men who participated in the war of independence.

The Chapter has presented to the Terre Haute Public Library a large collection of Terre Haute newspapers and periodicals, dating from 1860, and a collection of "Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly" and "Harper's Weekly." These papers are from the collection of the late Hon. Joseph Gilbert, who for fifty years had never willingly allowed a single copy of one of these Terre Haute papers, or other periodicals for which he subscribed, to be destroyed.

It is an imperative constitutional requirement of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution that each member shall use every effort in his power to preserve authentic records, not only of the period of the formation of our Government, but of every period of time as it passes. It was this patriotic spirit of the Society that impelled the members of John Morton Chapter to rescue this collection from destruction and accomplish its preservation.

THE IOWA SOCIETY, with a view to stimulate the study of history in high schools and colleges, has awarded during the present year 34 bronze medals "for excellency in the study of the history of the United States." The "Old Continental" for July, 1913, published quarterly by the Society, contains the names of the medalists.

THE KENTUCKY SOCIETY, on August 23, dedicated and presented to the city of Louisville a fountain, erected at the corner of 3d and Main streets, through the generosity of one of our members, Mr. Allen R. Carter. This fountain is to commemorate the services of Col. John Floyd, who erected near this spot a fort in 1779.

Dr. Walker B. Gossett, a member of the Committee on Markers, made the address presenting the fountain to the Kentucky Society, and Mr. John B. Hundley, President, received the fountain in behalf of the Society and presented it to the city of Louisville, and it was accepted by Mr. John D. Wakefield, a member of the Board of Public Works, on behalf of the city. Dr. Charles Ewell Craik read a telegram from President General Thruston congratulating the Society, and after the benediction by Dr. Craik, Chaplain, the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner," and the assembly joined in the singing of our National anthem.

Mr. Hundley declared that Col. Floyd was one of the great men among the pioneers of this section of the country.

He said in part:

John Floyd was born about 1750. In May and July, 1774, he made surveys under Col. William Preston in Fincastle county, Virginia, which at that time included Kentucky.

In the year 1779 he founded a station or fort at or near this spot. In 1780 the Legislature of Virginia passed an act to establish the town of Louisville at the Falls of the Ohio. By this act John Todd, Stephen Trigg, George Slaughter, William Pope, and John Floyd, all familiar names in the history of Kentucky, and others, were appointed trustees to lay off the town. The citizens became owners of lots in a town formed under the common law of Virginia.

At that time, comparatively speaking, this was a wild country. The white man was seldom seen, and but for the roving Indians and the rushing water over the falls there was nothing to disturb the forest quiet. Later large family boats arrived and landed at the mouth of Bear-grass Creek, then at the foot of Third street. Things began to assume an air of civilization. So you can readily see that on or near this spot was the beginning of our great and beautiful city.

The brain and muscle of man built bridges to span the streams, steamboats to ply the rivers and railroads to develop the country, and now in this grand age of invention, and the application of steam and electricity, we have the hum of industry and progress all around us.

We wish to acquire and preserve the records of the individual services of the patriots of the war, as well as documents, relics, and landmarks. We wish to maintain and extend these institutions of American freedom and carry out the purposes expressed in the preamble of the Constitution of our country.

The fountain is an unornamented iron structure with a trough for horses, a faucet and a spout from which water may be drawn. An iron slab bears an inscription befitting its purpose as a memorial.

On July 4 free open-air concerts were given in Lincoln Park and Cherokee Park, Louisville, under the auspices of the Outdoor Art League and the Highland Civic Club. At Lincoln Park addresses were made by John B. Hundley, President of the Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution, and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mr. Hundley said: "I am here this evening to represent the Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution. We wish to inspire the community at large with a more profound reverence for the principles of the Government founded by our forefathers. There has been distributed among you a very neat and artistic card, containing a copy of our National anthem, 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' for which we are indebted to R. C. Ballard Thruston, recently elected President General of our National Society. The sentiment of the song should appeal to the noblest impulses of every true American heart. It is our purpose to foster public sentiment in honoring the flag of our country and to preserve it from desecration; to teach the young people of our land the story of the flag, what it represents, and have them pledge their loyalty to it."

During the afternoon of July 4 an historical pageant representing "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence" was acted by the Knights of Columbus at Central Park, Louisville. The stage was a replica of the assembly room in Independence Hall, and each member of the Continental Congress was represented in Colonial costume. Dr. Walker B. Gossett, Chairman, and George T. Wood, J. B. Hundley, Allen R. Carter, George L. Danforth, and George H. Wilson, of the Sons of the American Revolution, served as the committee to judge the essays on the Declaration of Independence written for the occasion in competition for a prize of $10, which was awarded to Miss Grace Elizabeth Watson.

President General Thruston, on July 4, delivered at Harrodsburg, Ky., an address on the history of the American flag, and a like address was given by him at Louisville on September 29 at the inaugural exercises of the Perry Centennial Celebration.

THE MARYLAND SOCIETY observed Peggy Stewart Day at the Hotel Belvedere, Baltimore, on the evening of October 18, with over a hundred members and guests in attendance. A number of short speeches were made appropriate to the day and a paper on "John Adams" was read by Historian James E. Hancock. The Society is increasing its membership and endeavoring again to win the "traveling banner." Preparations are being made for the "Star-Spangled Banner" Centennial Celebration in September, 1914. The annual meeting and election, heretofore held on October 19, has been changed to April 19 to conform with the National Society year.

THE MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY, in conjunction with the New Hampshire Society, held its Annual Field Day at Exeter, N. H., on Saturday, October 18. Exeter was selected on account of the beauty of this ancient town and of the historic associations with which it is invested. Founded in 1638 by Wheelwright, it is not only one of the oldest towns in New England, but it is also from the very prominent part which it has played during the Colonial and Revolutionary periods a place eminently attractive for a pilgrimage by members of a patriotic society.

Among the objects of interest visited were the Memorial Hall of the New Hampshire Society of the Cincinnati, built about 1721 and used as the provincial treasury during the Revolution; the Clifford House, the oldest edifice in the town, built perhaps as early as 1658 by Councillor John Gilman and which harbored Daniel Webster while he was a student in the Academy. It is now the home of the Exeter Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The brick powder house, built by the town in 1771, where were stored powder and ammunition during the Revolution, and the very interesting group of buildings and the extensive "playing fields" of Phillips Exeter Academy, are other points of interest.

Dr. Moses Greeley Parker, former President General of the National Society and President of the Massachusetts Society, was one of the delegates of the United States, appointed by the Department of State, at the 17th International Medical Congress in London, August 6 to 12, 1913.

Boston Chapter has planned a series of historical meetings for the evening of the second Saturday of each month, beginning October 11. A special subject is chosen for consideration and is considered in its various phases at each meeting, at which papers are read, followed by informal discussion of the subject. Representatives of foreign countries are invited to be present and to speak on history of their homeland, contemporaneous with the period from 1775 to 1783. The general subject for the season is "Burgoyne's Campaign," 1777-1778—To Cut Off New England and Win Over Vermont.

From month to month the subject will be considered as follows:

October 11, "Polish Night"—Burgoyne captures Fort Ticonderoga and defeats Colonel Warner of Hubbardston.

November, "Russian Night"—Burgoyne's march through the forest—Expedition for supplies at Bennington defeated by General Stark.

December, "Japanese Night"—St. Leger's invasion of the Mohawk Valley—Battle of Oriskany—Arnold relieves Fort Stanwix.

January, "Chinese Night"—Massacre of Jane McCrea draws Americans to the Northern Army—Schuyler replaced by Gates—Burgoyne's privations—Clinton advances up the Hudson to his relief too late.

February, "Swedish Night"—Battle of Saratoga won by Arnold and Morgan—Burgoyne's surrender—France decides to aid us.

March 19 the annual banquet will take place. It will be "Hawaiian Night."

April, "Danish Night"—Howe starts for Philadelphia across New Jersey—Forts and obstructions prevent his ascent of the Delaware River—Finally uses the Chesapeake Bay route—Battles of Brandywine and Germantown—Howe occupies Philadelphia.

In May, observed as "Cuban Night," or "Portuguese Night," the annual meeting will be held—British winter in Philadelphia—Americans at Valley Forge—Battle of Monmouth.

The Old Essex Chapter, of Lynn, Mass., has more than 200 members and is industrious in patriotic work. Its Secretary is Mr. Luther Atwood, President of the Massachusetts Society, in whose honor the Chapter gave a reception at "Ancient Sirloin Camp," Sluice Pond, Lynn Woods, on October 16.

THE NEW JERSEY SOCIETY commemorated the 133d anniversary of the Battle of Springfield (June 23, 1780) by holding a patriotic service in the old Presbyterian Church, Springfield, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, June 22. An address appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. S. Ward Righter, Secretary of Orange Chapter, patriotic songs were sung, and the members marched in a body to the Revolutionary Burial Ground and there placed a wreath on the monument erected by the Sons of the American Revolution.

The celebration of the 135th anniversary of the Battle of Monmouth (June 28, 1778) was observed at Asbury Park by the New Jersey Society with an elaborate program extending from June 27 to 29, under the general direction of a committee, with Dr. Geo. L. D. Tompkins as Chairman. The exercises began on Friday evening, June 27, when Monmouth Chapter was instituted at Asbury Park by the officers of the State Society. On Saturday afternoon, June 28, there was a reception at the Coleman House to the National and State Society officers and officers of visiting organizations, followed by a luncheon in commemoration of the Battle of Monmouth, when addresses were made by Mrs. William Cumming Story, President General of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mayor Bennett, of Asbury Park; Mrs. Baruch, Mrs. Yardley, Mrs. Weeks, and Mrs. Steelman, of visiting Societies; President John Lenord Merrill, of the New Jersey Society; Chaplain General Whitaker, Historian General Pierson, Col. William Libby, and Samuel C. Cowart, Vice-President of the Monmouth Chapter.

President Merrill presided as toastmaster.

In the course of his oration, Mr. Pierson said:

Patriotism of the quality engendered by the ancestors in the testing hours and years of the nation's building is again being manifested throughout the land, largely through the activities of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and kindred societies. As we approach the season of remembrance of that host which gave up the charter of liberties, the sense of appreciation should seize every citizen of these United States; but is it not a fact that there is a growing list of indifferent men and women who seem to care for little else than accumulating fortunes and of fashion's creation, chasing the latest fad, and who do not give the adherence that is due to this country of the freeman's hope and ambition.

Our Society stands for the best type of citizenship, for the purity of the ballot, for the encouragement of reading of history in the home as well as in the school, to educate the alien into a proper way of living so that when he receives his naturalization papers he will be in a position to make proper use of the ballot, for remembrance of the lives of all men and women who assisted in establishing American independence, for the encouragement of veneration of the flag and to keep it sacred from the hand of the commercialist; to arouse among the children a clearer knowledge of the cause of the struggle for American independence, to use every effort to have enrolled every descendant of Revolutionary soldiers in the membership, all things being equal, and to establish in this country an aristocracy—an aristocracy of all the people, strong, noble, persistent, a company 100,000,000 strong—engaged in the task of making the United States a repository of the best and highest civilization in the world of the day.

On Sunday morning there were special patriotic sermons, with music and decorations, in eight of the churches of Asbury Park. In the afternoon open-air services in commemoration of the Battle of Monmouth were held at the Old Presbyterian Church at Tennent, attended by about one thousand members of the Society and guests. Attorney General Edmund Wilson made an address, as did President Merrill and Rev. Frank R. Symmes, pastor of the church. The members of the Society gathered in front of the edifice on a road that the Minutemen of '76 traversed in pursuing fleeing British. Not far away in the church's graveyard lay the bones of Revolutionary heroes.

Chapter No. 6 of the New Jersey Society is being organized in the vicinity of Ridgewood, Bergen county. The name for this Chapter has not yet been determined.

On October 4, in the Quaker Cemetery at Stony Brook, near Princeton, the New Jersey Society dedicated a memorial to Richard Stockton, Signer of the Declaration of Independence. His remains are buried in the enclosure, but the identical spot is unknown. Headquarters for the day were at Princeton Inn, which adjoins the home of the Stockton family built by the Signer. During the luncheon at the Inn, about one hundred in attendance, addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Sylvester Beach, Col. William Libbey, Bayard Stockton, great-great-grandson of the Signer, and others. President Merrill presided. At the cemetery the speaker of the afternoon was Dr. John Grier Hibben, President of Princeton University. The exercises were opened by Historian General Pierson, chairman of the New Jersey Committee on Monuments and Memorials, President Merrill accepting the memorial.

The color-bearers then came forward, Moses M. Crane, of Elizabeth, with National colors, and Russell B. Palmer with the State flag. Then the pledge to the flag was given by all present.

Dr. Hibben, in his address, said that the spirit of Richard Stockton was calling upon all to heed the lessons of the hour—that it was most suitable for the Sons of the American Revolution to gather on such a beautiful October day and dedicate a memorial to such a worthy man.

Richard Stockton lived in a mansion near-by in the colonial days, surrounded by cottages of the people.

When he went as a delegate to the Continental Congress it was with an open mind. During the period of anxiety when it was a question if enough votes could be obtained to sign the Declaration of Independence, the face of Richard Stockton was eagerly watched by the others. Soon it was seen that he had made up his mind, and he quickly voted for the measure, one of the greatest documents ever given humankind.

From that moment Richard Stockton was a marked man by the British forces and their hirelings, the Hessians. Marauding parties came through Princeton repeatedly, and everything portable about his estate of 4,500 acres was carried away. One day his library was taken into the yard and burned, and he was compelled to witness the destruction. His books were his most precious possessions; but even when he saw them go up in flames he did not waver in his allegiance to the cause of independence.

He was afterward captured while visiting in Monmouth county and taken a prisoner to New York. Placed in a cell, he was denied food for twenty-four hours. He was then submitted to such indignities that an expostulation from Washington and Congress brought his release; but disease had fastened its hold upon the man, and he returned to Moroven, his estate at Princeton, where he died at the age of fifty-one years.

Then the party went to the Princeton Cemetery, where John Wither- spoon is buried, in the row of deceased presidents of Princeton University. Brief exercises were held, and then General Woodhull, a grandson of the Signer, placed upon the tomb a wreath provided by the New Jersey Society.

Monmouth Chapter was instituted at the Coleman House, Asbury Park, N. J., on Friday evening, June 27, when the following officers were installed: President, Major James S. Tomkins; Vice-Presidents, Dr. Edwin Field, Samuel C. Cowart; Secretary, W. J. Osborne; Treasurer, Dr. Reginald S. Bennett; Board of Managers, Judge Walter Taylor, O. R. Tompkins, Dr. W. I. Thompson, F. L. Wilcox, W. A. Squire, Dr. A. M. Applegate.

During the evening addresses were made by President Merrill and Dr. Fields; Mr. Cowart, who gave a very interesting account of the battle of Monmouth; R. T. Parrot, representing the Elizabethtown Chapter; N. Perry Howell, representative of the Newark Chapter; representative Dr. G. H. Richards, from the Orange Chapter, and Dr. W. H. Sutton, Jr., representing the Montclair Chapter.

Orange Chapter is planning to place a bronze tablet on the outside wall of the First Presbyterian Church of Orange, in memory of the Rev. Jedediah Chapman, the "fighting parson" of the church during the Revolutionary War. The Committee on the Diffusion of Patriotic Instruction reported that the Chapter was represented by Chaplain Bullard and President Pierson at the unveiling of the bronze tablet containing Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, presented to the Orange High School by the local G. A. R. Post. President Pierson addressed the assembly on the theme, "Lincoln's True Greatness." The committee further reported the activities of President Pierson in an address before the New England Society on "Early Days in Orange," and before an assembly at the Y. M. C. A. on "Patriotism and Religion."

The fifty-sixth meeting of the Trustees of Orange Chapter was held at the home of Compatriot George H. Richards, M. D., South Main street, Orange, on Thursday evening, September 18, at which plans were discussed for placing the Chapman tablet. The President, David L. Pierson, reviewed the work done to date, and said that it was hoped to have the tablet dedicated on Evacuation Day, November 25 next.

THE OHIO SOCIETY has published the Register of the Society for 1912-1913, containing a roster of 1,785 Revolutionary War pensioners residing in Ohio in 1840, and the names and location of burial of 807 Revolutionary soldiers in that State. The work was compiled by Col. W. L. Curry, Registrar of the Society, Box 645, Columbus, Ohio, who will furnish cloth-bound copies at $1.25 each, postage paid.

President General Thruston represented the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at the Perry Centennial exercises at Put-in-Bay, in September.

Former President Joseph G. Butler, of the Ohio Society, attended the unveiling of the memorial to the Pilgrim Fathers at Southampton, England, on August 15, and delivered an address on that occasion.

THE OREGON SOCIETY gave a Smoker on Saturday evening, October 18, when a paper on "Rochambeau and French Assistance in the Revolution" was read by Compatriot B. A. Baxter, Secretary of the Society. The meeting was the largest in the Society's history. "By a unanimous vote, with much enthusiasm, an invitation was extended to the National Society to hold the 1915 Congress at Portland. A considerable fund was subscribed, and the Oregon Society would greatly appreciate the acceptance of its invitation to be renewed at Syracuse next May."

THE PENNSYLVANIA SOCIETY has enrolled a number of new members at Bedford, where they are about to organize a Chapter.

THE PHILIPPINE SOCIETY is in good condition, having added ten new members during the past year. President Charles S. Lobingier, who is now on a visit to the United States, reports that for Americans in the Philippines who are eligible to membership the Society supplies a particularly good opportunity to become one of an organization whose aims are at once patriotic, historical, and social, and which is absolutely non-political, non-sectarian, and non-sectional. The present membership is strikingly representative of the American community in the Islands, and the Society has already come to fill a place for which it has no competitor.

THE TEXAS SOCIETY, at its annual meeting on February 22, elected the following officers to serve until April 19, 1914, when the next election will be held: President, Hon. Edward F. Harris, Galveston; Vice-Presidents, Hon. R. V. Davidson, of Dallas, and E. D. Dorchester, of Houston; Secretary, Walter S. Mayer, Galveston; Treasurer, Wilber H. Young, Austin; Registrar and Historian, E. E. Rice, Galveston; Chaplain, Rev. E. B. Wright, Austin.

THE VERMONT SOCIETY on October 28 will dedicate a memorial monument to the heroes of Shelburne battle. The spot selected is on the Pierson farm, near the forks of the main lake highway and the cross-road leading to Shelburne village, near where the original blockhouse stood. The program includes an invocation by Right Rev. W. F. Weeks, addresses by Governor Allen M. Fletcher, Congressman Frank L. Greene, and Charles E. Allen, and a poem by John C. Farrar. President F. S. Pease will preside.

THE WASHINGTON SOCIETY has enrolled twelve new members in the last four months, and has had two members demitted to it from Missouri and Hawaii.

Vice-President Smith gave a reception to his fellow-members and their wives on Lexington night, and Compatriot Houghton did likewise on Bunker Hill night. The homes of both gentlemen were especially attractive on both these occasions, made so by the hosts and their families. Revolutionary relics were displayed, and were explained by their several owners. There were also talks of anniversary character, and the spirit of purest patriotism was manifested by all. Seattle Chapter has ten regular meetings a year, omitting July and August. The Chapter is in better condition than ever before, thanks to an efficient staff of officers. It has recently revised its constitution and by-laws, with the idea of increasing its duties and usefulness. Good reports also come to the State headquarters from the Spokane and Tacoma Chapters.
