Incorporated by Act of Congress June 9, 1906

Volume VIII

DECEMBER, 1913

Number 3

Published at the office of the Secretary General (A. Howard Clark, Smithsonian Institution), Washington, D. C., in June, October, December, and March.

Entered as second-class matter, May 7, 1908, at the post-office at Washington, D. C., under the Act of July 16, 1894.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN records action by the General Officers, the Board of Trustees, the Executive and other National Committees, lists of members deceased and of new members, and important doings of State Societies. In order that the OFFICIAL BULLETIN may be up to date, and to insure the preservation in the National Society archives of a complete history of the doings of the entire organization, Secretaries of State Societies and of Local Chapters are requested to communicate promptly to the Secretary General written or printed accounts of all meetings or celebrations, to forward copies of all notices, circulars, and other printed matter issued by them, and to notify him at once of dates of death of members.

CELEBRATION OF WASHINGTON'S JOURNEY FROM PHILADELPHIA TO CAMBRIDGE IN 1775.

The Committee of Fifteen on Marking the Route of Washington's Journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge in 1775 were the guests of President General Thruston at a dinner at the Hotel Wolcott, New York city, on Monday evening, November 24, 1913. All the members of the committee, except Mr. Crandon, of Boston, were present, as follows: Col. R. W. Guthrie, Mr. Clarence P. Wynne, and Mr. Herman W. Fernberger, of Pennsylvania; Mr. David L. Pierson, Dr. G. Herbert Richards, and Mr. N. Perry Howell, of New Jersey; Mr. Norman P. Heffley, Rev. Dr. Frank O. Hall, and Hon. C. A. Pugsley, of New York; Mr. Wilson H. Lee, Capt. Clarence H. Wickham, and Judge Morris B. Beardsley, of Connecticut; Mr. Henry F. Punderson and Gen. Philip Reade, of Massachusetts.

There were also present, as guests of the President General, Vice-President General La Verne Noyes, of Chicago; Mr. George T. Wood, of Louisville; Commander John H. Moore, U. S. N., and Secretary General A. Howard Clark, of Washington.

At the close of the dinner a business meeting was held, presided over by the President General. After a full discussion of the many advantages of carrying out the plans proposed at the Chicago Congress, it was unanimously voted that the pilgrimage be undertaken in June, 1914.

The committee was organized by the election of the President General and the Secretary General, ex officio, as Chairman and Secretary of the full committee and by the election of the following named members as chairmen for the five State Committees: Pennsylvania, Col. R. W. Guthrie; New Jersey, Mr. David L. Pierson; New York, Col. Norman P. Heffley; Connecticut, Mr. Wilson H. Lee; Massachusetts, Mr. Edwin S. Crandon.

Interesting details concerning the journey were presented by members of the committee, including an account, prepared by Mr. Edward Hagaman Hall, of incidents of Washington's stay in New York and vicinity.

It is proposed that the celebration shall begin by a banquet in Philadelphia on June 22, the anniversary of the farewell dinner given to Washington on the eve of his journey, and that the actual pilgrimage shall continue from June 23 to July 2, by automobiles, with side trips to Valley Forge, Princeton, Morristown, and other historic points along the route, with local celebrations and dedications of memorials in various cities and towns connected with the journey; to conclude with suitable ceremonies at Cambridge and Boston on July 4. Each State Society will have charge of functions incident to the pilgrimage in their respective States.

On Thursday, June 15, 1775, the Continental Congress

Resolved, That a General be appointed to command all the Continental forces raised, or to be raised, for the defence of American liberty.

The Congress then proceeded to the choice of a General, when Thomas Johnson, of Maryland, nominated George Washington, Esq., and he was unanimously elected. On June 16 Washington accepted the honor, and on June 19 the commission was signed by President John Hancock appointing him

General and Commander-in-chief of the army of the United Colonies, and of all the forces now raised, or to be raised, by them, and of all others who shall voluntarily offer their service, and join the said Army for the Defence of American liberty, and for repelling every hostile invasion thereof.

On Friday morning, June 23, General Washington left Philadelphia for Cambridge, where the army was encamped. The journey was made on horseback in company with Major General Lee, Major General Schuyler (to New Rochelle), Major Mifflin (aide-de-camp), Major Reed (military secretary), and others. A troop of gentlemen of the Philadelphia Light Horse attended the party as far as Kingsbridge. The route was by way of Trenton, New Brunswick, and Newark to New York, which was reached at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 25. On Monday afternoon the Provincial Congress presented Washington with a congratulatory address. He was accorded enthusiastic military and civic honors on his arrival and departure from town. He arrived at Kingsbridge Monday evening, and, leaving there Tuesday morning, rode on to New Rochelle and New Haven, where he reviewed a company of Yale students. He remained there over night, and, under military escort, left on Wednesday for Wethersfield, Hartford, and Springfield, Mass., where he arrived on Friday, June 30, and was met by a committee from the Massachusetts Provincial Congress. Under citizen escort, he rode to Brookfield, Worcester, and Marlborough, whence a troop of horse accompanied him to Watertown, which was reached on Sunday morning, July 2, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon he was at Cambridge. On Monday, July 3, he took command of the Continental Army assembled on Cambridge common.

The five State Societies along the route are now arranging for the part they are to take in the most ambitious movement undertaken since the National Society was founded, and it is proposed also to interest every compatriot in the country in this enterprise, to the end that every part of the organization may feel the patriotic impetus sure to be created. The George Washington Chapter has arranged for the erection of a tablet to mark the site of Parson's Tavern in Springfield, where Washington stopped on his journey, and it will be dedicated on June 30 next. At Hartford the Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth Chapter has recently placed a tablet on the Wadsworth Atheneum, the site of the home of Colonel Wadsworth, where Washington was entertained.

The enthusiasm already demonstrated augurs well for a celebration that will be dignified with a display of the spirit of the men of the Revolution.

Each compatriot, even though he may live many miles from the scene of the pilgrimage, is requested to do all in his power to help along the event in every possible way.

PROCEEDINGS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, NOV. 25, 1913.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, duly called by order of the President General, was held at the Hotel Wolcott, New York city, on Tuesday afternoon, November 25, 1913. Present: President General Thruston, presiding; Commander John H. Moore, U. S. N.; Hon. Henry Stockbridge, Mr. Elmer M. Wentworth, Dr. George C. F. Williams, and Mr. George T. Wood; also Treasurer General John H. Burroughs, Vice-President General La Verne Noyes, Past President General William A. Marble, and Secretary General A. Howard Clark.

The minutes of the meeting of the committee at Chicago on May 20, 1913, were approved as published in the OFFICIAL BULLETIN and the National Year Book.

The President General announced that the Committee of Fifteen on Marking the Route of Washington's Journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge in 1775 had organized by the election of the President General and Secretary General, ex officio, as Chairman and Secretary of the full committee and the election of a Chairman for each of the five States along the route. It was also stated that the committee had enthusiastically determined to celebrate the 139th anniversary of the journey in June, 1914, by an automobile pilgrimage of Sons of the American Revolution over the route, with patriotic meetings and dedication of memorials at historic stopping places.

The Executive Committee thereupon voted to indorse the plans of the Washington Journey Committee and to recommend the co-operation of the several State Societies in the movement. The Secretary General was authorized to conduct the business of the committee in connection with the regular duties of his office.

Commander Moore made a statement in regard to the work of organization throughout the country, particularly the formation of many new local Chapters and their advantages in promoting the growth and general interest in the National Society. He presented a letter from a member of the South Carolina Society showing its status, and it was voted to refer the communication to the Committee on Organization in the South with recommendation for early action thereon.

It was voted to appropriate $30, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for office expenses of the Flag Committee.

The action of the President General was commended in protesting against a proposed change in the arrangement of the stars in the American flag, as described in a bill pending in Congress, without a hearing before the proper committee of the House of Representatives.

A communication was received from Admiral Baird calling attention to certain alleged incidents in Boston and Washington showing disrespect to the American flag, and the subject was referred to the Massachusetts Society and the Flag Committee for suitable action thereon.

A letter to the President of the United States from a clergyman in Scotland, referred through the Secretary of the Navy to the Sons of the American Revolution, concerning the birthplace of Admiral John Paul Jones was read and discussed and, on motion by Mr. Wentworth, seconded by Commander Moore, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That one hundred and fifty dollars, or such part thereof as may be necessary, be hereby appropriated to provide a suitable bronze tablet to mark the birthplace of John Paul Jones, and that the President General, the Secretary General, and Compatriot Charles W. Stewart be appointed a committee to perform this service.

The President General presented a resolution adopted by the Empire State Society on June 6, 1913, recommending the participation by the Sons of the American Revolution in the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent, and it was voted that State Societies be recommended to participate in local celebrations in their respective States. The action of the President General in connection with correspondence with the Chairman of the Committee on Patriotic Societies of the American Committee looking to the active participation of the National Society in National functions incident to the peace celebration was approved.

The President General was authorized to accept in behalf of the National Society participation in the dedication on the 100th anniversary, in 1914, of the Battle of Lake Erie, of a patriotic hall in Toledo for the use of various organizations, and it was voted to recommend the establishment of similar halls in other large cities.

A communication was presented concerning the promotion of agricultural industries among the mountaineers of the South; also a letter in regard to the Society colors, and consideration thereof was deferred.

Treasurer General Burroughs submitted a report on the finances of the Society, showing a balance of $6,827.78 in the General Fund; and an investment of $4,000, together with $111 cash, to the credit of the Permanent Fund. The report was received and accepted with the thanks of the committee; and on motion of Judge Stockbridge, seconded by Commander Moore, it was

Resolved, That the Treasurer General be, and he is hereby, authorized to transfer from the General Fund to the Permanent Fund such amount as may be necessary, with available cash on hand in the latter fund, to purchase an additional investment of two thousand dollars ($2,000), so as to increase the Permanent Fund to six thousand dollars ($6,000).

The Treasurer General was also authorized to charge to organization expenses the cost of certain certificates furnished to one of the State

Societies and to credit on his books certain overcharges for annual dues.

The Secretary General reported the sale to State Societies of about 700 National Year Books, as authorized by the committee at the Chicago Congress, and stated that books are available for sale to members at 40 cents per copy. He also reported that the Registrar General had enrolled to date over a hundred more members than for the same period during the year preceding.

The President General submitted correspondence with the Societies in Oregon, California, and Maine concerning the place of meeting of the Congress of the Society in 1915, and the Secretary General was directed to hold the letters for the information of the Board of Trustees to be elected at the Syracuse Congress. There was presented for the information of the committee a letter from a member of the Sons of the Revolution relating to a union of that Society with the Sons of the American Revolution and the President General was requested to make a suitable reply thereto.

Ex-President General Marble, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the Syracuse Congress, reported progress.

It was voted that the First Vice-President General be made a member of the National Executive Committee, ex officio.

The committee expressed its thanks to the President General for his hospitality in entertaining the committee at lunch and to the Empire State Society for invitations to its members to attend the annual banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria on the evening of November 25.

There being no further business, the committee then adjourned.

A. HOWARD CLARK,
Secretary General.

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

SYRACUSE CONGRESS.—The Twenty-fifth Annual Congress of the National Society will be held at Syracuse, N. Y., beginning on the third Monday of May, 1914. The National Committee on Arrangements, Past President General William A. Marble, of New York, Past Vice-President General Newell B. Woodworth, of Syracuse, Past President General Moses Greeley Parker, M. D., of Massachusetts, Mr. Frank B. Steele, of Buffalo, and Hon. Harvey F. Remington, of Rochester, together with the Syracuse local committees, are preparing a program which promises a very successful meeting.

THE PERMANENT FUND has been increased to a total investment of $6,000 by action of the Executive Committee at its November meeting, authorizing the transfer of about $1,900 to that fund from the General Fund of the Society.

HISTORICAL PAPERS FOR USE OF SOCIETIES.—At the meeting of the National Executive Committee at Boston in May, 1912, the Historian General was instructed to prepare a list of papers, which are sent to him by the various State Societies and Chapters, for use by those organizations which may care for them, the only expense to be for copying.

In the preparation of the list it is found that only a few of the Societies and Chapters have responded to the request, and it is most urgently hoped that the officers will kindly bear this fact in mind, so that there will always be a varied and instructive list from which to choose. The address of the Historian General is 21 Washington Street, East Orange, N. J. The following papers are now ready for use, in addition to those enumerated in the October BULLETIN:

"The Battle of the Thames," read by George Davidson Todd before the Kentucky Society June 17, 1913.

"Timothy Dwight," read by General Edward E. Bradley, President, before the David Humphreys Chapter, New Haven, Conn.

"Last Battle of the American Revolution," by George C. Pardee, of the California Society.

"Mary, the Mother of Washington," by Hulda H. B. Brown, of the California Society.

"Mission of the United States," by Harris Weinstock, of the California Society.

"Perpetuity of the American Nation," by Edward R. Taylor, of the California Society.

"The Flag and What It Stands For," by E. H. Hart, of the California Society.

"Treaty of Paris," by W. F. Nichols, of the California Society.

MILITARY AND NAVAL RECORDS.

Secretary of War Garrison has issued orders for the systematic collection, with a view to publication, of the widely scattered records of the Revolutionary War, for which purpose Congress has appropriated the sum of $25,000. Capt. H. C. Clark, U. S. A., retired, has been placed in charge of the work and with a small force of clerks assigned to help him will occupy offices in the Adjutant General's bureau of the War Department. Years will be required for the completion of the work. Among other things, it involves the examination and copying of records distributed among the State archives, historical societies, patriotic organizations, and individual owners, not only in the thirteen original States, but in all parts of this country and even in Europe.

Captain Clark undoubtedly will be aided in his search by local historians, archivists, librarians, and antiquarians.

Secretary of Navy Daniels is also active in gathering the naval records, as provided for by an appropriation of $7,000 by Congress for that purpose. President General Thruston, during his stay in Washington, from November 27 to December 14, had numerous conferences with Government authorities urging the prompt advancement of this important work, and has asked co-operation therein by the Daughters of the American Revolution and other patriotic organizations.

BIRTHPLACE OF JOHN PAUL JONES.

At a meeting of the National Executive Committee on November 25 the President General, the Secretary General, and Compatriot Charles W. Stewart, of the Navy Department, were appointed a committee to procure a bronze tablet, to be placed on the house where John Paul Jones was born and spent his boyhood days. The old cottage still stands by the shore of the Solway at Arbigland, Kirkbean Parish, Scotland. It was repaired and restored by Lieut. A. B. Pinkham, U. S. Navy, in 1831, but there is no mark thereon to indicate its historic importance, nor is there in his native parish any memorial to tell to future generations the part played by Admiral Jones in the naval history of the American Revolution.

CENTENNIAL OF TREATY OF GHENT.

Vice-President General George W. Baird, Rear Admiral U. S. Navy, was designated by President General Thruston to represent the National Society at a meeting of the American Committee, held at Richmond December 3 and 4, to prepare plans for the celebration in 1914 and 1915 of the Centennial of the Treaty of Ghent, commemorating 100 years of peace and friendship between English-speaking peoples. Among other members of the Society at the meeting were Past President General C. A. Pugsley, of New York, and Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, the latter being one of the few living descendants of a signer of the Treaty of Ghent.

It was proposed that the celebration shall be local, national, and international, and that the observance of the date of the treaty be held on Christmas eve, 1914, in every church in the country. A resolution to build a peace monument on the Great Divide in Colorado was adopted. It was proposed that there be an exchange of memorial statues between the two countries, England to have monuments of Washington and Lincoln and the United States a statue of Queen Victoria; that international monuments be erected in London, Ottawa, Australia, and Washington, and that memorial peace arches be built over international roads on the boundary between the United States and Canada. Resolutions pertaining to this celebration adopted by the Empire State Society appear below in this BULLETIN.

ADDITIONS TO MEMBERSHIP.

There was enrolled by the Registrar General, from October 1 to November 30, 1913, a total of 188 new members, making an aggregate of 471 since May 1, the largest increase during the same period since 1908 and nearly 20 per cent above the average for that period in five previous years. The new members since November 1 are in the following State Societies: California, 9; Connecticut, 4; District of Columbia, 2; Idaho, 6; Illinois, 38; Iowa, 3; Kentucky, 9; Maine, 5; Maryland, 10; Massachusetts, 14; Michigan, 1; New Jersey, 39; New York, 26; Ohio, 6; Oregon, 1; Pennsylvania, 7; Tennessee, 1; Texas, 1; Utah, 1; Virginia, 1; Washington, 4.

DOINGS OF STATE SOCIETIES.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY has published a pamphlet of 126 pages containing addresses delivered before the Society from 1909 to 1913; biographical sketches, by Secretary Thomas Allen Perkins, of 39 deceased members; early history of the Sons of Revolutionary sires, and other interesting material, including a portrait of each President of the Society since 1890. Secretary Perkins is forming a library of all important reference books bearing on the personnel of the army and navy in the Revolution and on events of that period.

THE COLORADO SOCIETY is organized on the Chapter basis. Delegates from the several Chapters at Denver, Colorado Springs, Greeley, and Fort Collins meet annually for the election of the State officers and the transaction of general business of the Colorado Society. All members not affiliated with other Chapters belong to the Denver Chapter.

The Denver Chapter held its monthly meeting on the evening of October 23, as the guests of Compatriot Toppan, when an address was delivered on "Massachusetts and New Hampshire in the Revolution" by Compatriot Rev. David Utter; also an address by Compatriot C. B. Toppan, illustrated by historical prints and photos from a private collection.

On Thursday evening the Compatriots of the Denver Chapter and ladies entertained the members of Denver Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and their escorts at St. Mark's Parish House. The program included readings, music, and an address by Rev. J. H. Houghton on "Some Personal Episodes in New York During the Revolution." Old-fashioned dances concluded the entertainment.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA SOCIETY is planning an active campaign for the erection of a Hall of Records in Washington, where may be preserved and made available for reference by historians and others interested therein the great masses of manuscript records now practically buried in the cellars and garrets of the executive departments, unclassified and uncared for, in constant danger of destruction by the elements.

On the evening of December 8, at a dinner given by a number of officers of the Society in honor of President General Thruston, the need of a Hall of Records and the general question of the preservation of early records of the Government were discussed and suggestions made for early action by the Sons of the American Revolution in co-operation with other patriotic and historical societies toward carrying out that most important undertaking.

THE EMPIRE STATE SOCIETY held its twenty-fourth annual banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on the evening of November 25. Among the guests of the Society were President General Thruston, Vice-Presidents General La Verne Noyes, Rear Admiral George W. Baird, U. S. N., and other general officers; also members of the National Executive Committee, several of the Past Presidents General, and representatives of various societies, including the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Holland Society, St. David's Society, St. George's Society. About 250 members and lady guests were present.

The program following the dinner was as follows:

Invocation by Rev. Frank Oliver Hall, D. D., Chaplain of the Empire State Society; Address of Welcome by Louis Annin Ames, President of the Empire State Society; "Star-Spangled Banner," by Miss Potter; Greetings from the National Society by President General Rogers Clark Ballard Thruston; "My Old Kentucky Home," by a quartette; "Some Modern Tendencies," by Hon. Martin W. Littleton; "Annie Laurie," Contralto Solo; Recitations by Miss Pechin, of Washington; "Auld Lang Syne," by Mr. Daniel; "The Heroism of Our Forebears an Inspiration for Great Achievements," by Hon. Lemuel B. Padgett, Chairman Committee on Naval Affairs, House of Representatives; "Last Night," Tenor Solo, by Mr. Wells; "Liberty and Law," by Rev. T. Calvin McClelland, D. D.; "America," by a quartette.

In the course of his address President General Thruston said:

At our Chicago Congress it was decided to mark the prominent historical points along the route that General Washington traversed between June 23 and July 2, 1775, on his journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge to take command of the American Army then before Boston and to arrange for a great and glorious trip along that route between the same dates in the year 1914. To further that idea a committee of fifteen, three from each of the five States traversed on the journey, was named, and last night they organized. The members are all enthusiastic, earnest work has already started, and everything will be in readiness for a pilgrimage journey next spring, which will show that the public is still interested in the deeds of our Revolutionary ancestors.

During the past decade our immigration amounted to about 10,000,000 and our emigration to about 6,000,000, so that some 4,000,000 of these foreigners remained here, and as a very large percentage of them are landed right here in New York, you know what a problem they are. Our Society has not the means sufficient to employ people to work among them for their elevation and our future good, but we have prepared and are furnishing to those workers the literature which they value and pronounce the most beneficial. We have it printed in thirteen languages and it is used in night schools wherever required.

It was at our first annual Congress held at Louisville in 1890 that attention was called to the sad condition of our National records relating to the Revolutionary War and appropriate resolutions were passed. It took three years to get the necessary legislation through Congress. Now the Revolutionary pension claims, some 70,000 of them, have been filed alphabetically, so that the information they contain is at once available. The military service records in the War Department have also been fully indexed, requiring over a million cards and 20 years to do the work, but those of the Navy Department and other departments and periods prior to the Civil War have hardly been touched. As a result of the work which we investigated, we now know that there are whole regiments that served in our Revolution of whose contingent the name of neither officer nor man has been preserved, and there are hundreds of companies of whose numbers but few names are known, and Heitman is publishing a new addition of his valuable work with an addition of some 6,000 names of officers of the Revolution. I hear a man in Washington has unearthed the names of many thousand revolutionary soldiers heretofore unknown. Every one of those patriots is entitled to have his name placed on the roll of honor.

We know but little of our naval records in that war. This department was organized in 1788 out of the War Department and at that time received quite a number of enlistment rolls and documents. The accommodation for the department and its archives was inadequate, and traditions say that about the middle of the last century the old records were piled along one side of a narrow hallway that was in constant use, and one of the Assistant Secretaries wrote to the Secretary of the Navy setting forth the fact and asked what disposition to make of them. The answer came back, "Destroy them." So we know but little of our Navy in the Revolution, though in a recent work published by the Library of Congress there are recorded over 1,600 entries of names of armed vessels to which letters of marque were issued during the Revolutionary War by authority of the Continental Congress. This record gives the names of the commanders and bonders of those vessels, their armament, and the number of the crew in each case, but few of the officers and men are known. The names of some vessels are entered more than once, but the list shows there were 1,250 individual vessels in that service, manned by probably not less than 40,000 men, whose names are lost to us.

Brigadier General George Andrews, U. S. A., the Adjutant General of the Army and Chairman of one of our committees, is anxious to complete the records of his department, as far as that can be done, before that data is published. Do not be surprised, therefore, when I tell you that your National Society will devote a large part of its efforts during this year to aiding General Andrews in that work, to locating and determining the conditions of other records bearing on our National history, wherever they may be or whatever period they refer to, and in that work we hope to have the assistance of other patriotic and historical societies; for in each and every instance our inspiration is derived from the past, and our purpose is for the future welfare of our country and its people.

The Newburgh Chapter and other patriotic organizations have taken steps to prevent the destruction of the Old Falls House, used in Revolutionary days as the headquarters of General George Clinton, Baron Steuben, and others. As Wood's Tavern, the Falls House was frequented by many of the American officers, and here Major Armstrong wrote the well-known "Newburgh letters," one of which contained the proposition to Washington that he accept a crown, said to have been earned by his patriotism and devotion to his country. This offer Washington indignantly spurned in his famous address to his officers in The Temple in New Windsor. The army was in sad straits at the time, it will be recalled, and many of the officers had lost faith in Congress and proposed the establishment of a strong central government with Washington at its head.

On June 6, 1913, the Empire State Society adopted the following resolution:

Whereas there has been regularly organized a National Committee for the celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Treaty of Ghent, which committee is representative of every section and locality of our country; and

Whereas it was not until the Treaty of Ghent was signed, December 24, 1814, and ratified February 17, 1815, that we had in reality gained that independence for which we had fought through the seven terrible years of the War of the Revolution, and we had not till then wholly overcome certain impositions which Great Britain had laid upon us; therefore

Resolved, That this, the Empire State Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, do recommend to our National Board that the National Society shall participate in the celebration of the century of peace between the United States and Great Britain and Canada in such form as hereafter may be decided upon, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Mr. R. C. Ballard Thruston, our President General, and to Dr. George F. Kunz, Chairman of Committee on Celebration in New York city.

THE ILLINOIS SOCIETY held its annual meeting on December 3, when an address upon the "Causes and Effect of the Revolution" was delivered by Hon. William J. Calhoun, ex-Minister to China. The year closed with 135 new members enrolled during the year, exceeding the previous year's good record of 120. The officers elected were: President, Chancellor L. Jenks; First Vice-President, Henry W. Austin;

Second Vice-President, Francis J. Cushing; Secretary, Louis A. Bowman; Treasurer, Henry R. Kent; Historian, George A. Brennan; Registrar, James Edgar Brown; Chaplain, Rev. William F. Shaw; Sergeant-at-Arms, Ernest F. Manrose.

THE IOWA SOCIETY has sent out to colleges and high schools the annual offer to award medals to the students who excel in their respective institutions in the study of United States history.

The Society began giving the medals in 1908. It pays for those which are awarded in colleges, while the high-school medals are awarded through members of the Society living in the towns where the high schools are located.

Seven of the chief colleges have awarded the medals each year since the plan was begun, and others have awarded them for nearly the same number of years. The manner of choosing the winner is left to teachers in the institution. It is the aim of the Society to encourage patriotism by encouraging study of United States history in this fashion.

Since the plan was begun 92 medals have been awarded in colleges and 73 in high schools. Of this number the largest awards for one year were made in 1913, when 16 college medals were given and 19 high-school medals.

The Ben Franklin Chapter has issued the following calendar of meetings for the remainder of the Society year: December 11, address, "Washington's Message to the Twentieth Century," Rev. Elmer E. Higley; January 15, address, "Patriotic Societies a Stimulus to Better Citizenship," Hon. Elmer M. Wentworth; February 12, address, "White Indentures in the Colonies," Rev. J. Edward Kirby; March 12, address, "An Early Rebellion," Judge F. W. Craig; May 14, address, "Surgery of the Revolution," Dr. Gershom H. Hill.

THE KENTUCKY SOCIETY, through President General Thruston, has called public attention to the deplorable condition of historical records at the State capitol. During the political troublous times of 1900 at Frankfort valuable documents were most carelessly mutilated by soldiers or lost perhaps beyond recovery. The old capitol building was not fireproof, though the former administration building is. Both are literally stuffed with old papers of historical value, but with no orderly arrangement, and they are inaccessible for more reasons than one. When the new capitol was built, cart-loads of papers were dumped therein and later transferred to the administration building in the same haphazard manner. It is urged that a thoroughly efficient and competent person be employed to organize a department of records, to overhaul all old papers and books, to separate the wheat from the chaff, and to dispose of the latter, properly filing and indexing the former, so that information therein may be accessible for future students. Papers of current value for reference should be retained in the administrative offices, and it is recommended that all other papers of value be placed in the custody of the Kentucky Historical Society for preservation, that Society being partly maintained through annual appropriations by the State. It is further recommended that the more important early archives of the Commonwealth, so full of historic interest, be published for permanent preservation and for the benefit of historians throughout the country.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Society was held at Louisville in the afternoon of October 21. The following officers were elected: President, John Barret Hundley; First Vice-President, Judge Arthur Peter; Second Vice-President, W. W. Stephenson; Third Vice-President, Robert R. Burnam; Fourth Vice-President, Dr. E. E. Hume; Historian, George D. Todd; Secretary, James G. Caldwell; Registrar, Benjamin LaBree; Treasurer, George T. Wood; Chaplain, Rev. William W. Landrum; Surgeon, Dr. David C. Morton.

The Secretary reported 29 new members during the year and a loss of three by death and demission, the present active roll being 175.

The annual banquet was held at the Pendennis Club, Louisville, at 7.30 o'clock on the evening of October 21, to which ladies had also been invited. President General Thruston spoke of the work of the National Society, and addresses were made by Mr. Robert Burnam, of Richmond, Ky., "Surrender at Yorktown;" Gen. John B. Castleman, Louisville, Ky., "The Kentucky Muster Roll for the War of 1812," showing several of these original muster rolls; Judge John C. Strother, Louisville, Ky., "Education in the Colonies at the Time of the American Revolution."

THE MAINE SOCIETY has organized three local Chapters at Rockland, Waterville, and Auburn. The Rockland Chapter was organized on October 21, 1913, at the law office of Hon. A. S. Littlefield, Rockland. The officers elected were: President, Edward K. Gould; Vice-President, Edward C. Payson; Secretary, Edward B. MacAllister; Treasurer, Charles M. Kalloch; Historian, Edward A. Butler; Directors, Edward K. Gould, Edward B. MacAllister, Fred R. Spear, H. I. Hix, and W. O. Fuller. The regular meetings of the Chapter will occur on the anniversaries of the surrender at Yorktown and the battle of Lexington, the election of officers taking place in October. Much interest is being manifested in the local Chapter, and applicants for membership are voluntarily appearing.

Lewiston and Auburn members, at a meeting in Lewiston on November 5, organized the Androscoggin Chapter of Sons of the American Revolution. Any member of the Maine Society may become a member.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Judge George C. Wing, of Auburn; Vice-President, Hon. Wallace H. White, Lewiston; Secretary, John L. Reade, Lewiston; Treasurer, A. M. Penley, Auburn; Chaplain, Rev. R. F. Johannot, Auburn; Historian, Jesse M. Libby, Mechanic Falls. These officers also constitute the Executive Committee. A brief code of by-laws has been adopted. It is the intention to hold meetings occasionally during the summer months for social enjoyment and the cultivation of patriotism, and to promote the general interests of the Maine Society in winter meetings.

The Waterville Chapter has elected the following officers: President, Silas Adams; Vice-President, Horace Purinton; Secretary and Treasurer, Rev. E. C. Whittemore.

THE MICHIGAN SOCIETY has granted the application of members resident in Detroit and vicinity for a charter for a local organization. The Detroit Chapter was organized and a constitution adopted on the 1st of November at a meeting held at the home of the State President, Albert M. Henry, Grosse Pointe Farms. The officers elected were: Williams C. Harris, President; Frederick B. Smith, Vice-President; Raymond E. Van Syckle, Secretary; Enoch Smith, Treasurer, and George H. Barbour, Fred G. Dewey, Dr. Stephen H. Knight, Dr. Frank Ward Holt, and Thomas H. Simpson, Executive Committee. The name of the organization is "The Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Society, Sons of the American Revolution." One hundred and twelve members were present. Any member of the Michigan State Society is eligible to membership.

The annual dues of the State Society are $3.00, in addition to which the Detroit Chapter has annual dues of $3.00. The State Society will still continue to exercise primary jurisdiction over the admission of new members, and relinquishes none of the functions heretofore performed by it. The monthly social and historical meetings customarily held by it in the city of Detroit during the winter season will, however, be conducted by the Detroit Chapter.

A reception was given on November 1 by State President Albert M. Henry to the members of the Michigan Society in honor of the President General, Rogers Clark Ballard Thruston, who was present by invitation at the inauguration of the new Detroit Chapter. His address to the members discussed the growth of the Society, its activities and functions. He told of the work being done by the committees on patriotic education and on the distribution of information among the aliens. He spoke of the need for preservation of the records of the revolutionary period and explained what the Society is doing in that regard.

Secretary Van Syckle has placed 1,500 copies of the pamphlets published by this Society in the night schools of Detroit for use among the foreigners attending.

The first meeting of the newly organized Detroit Chapter was held at the home of Hon. Harry A. Lockwood Friday evening, December 5. That the organization of a local Chapter increases the interest in this Society was manifested by the large attendance at the meeting, over 75 members being present. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Walter E. Parker, who discussed the topic, "The Present Mexican Situation." Mr. Parker has had wide experience and acquaintance with Mexican affairs, his business connections in Mexico bringing him into contact with the troublesome situation there. His account was listened to with close attention by those present, and the sentiment was expressed that the discussion of current matters by the Sons was a desirable feature.

✓ THE MARYLAND SOCIETY is arranging to participate in the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the national anthem, the "Star-Spangled Banner," to be celebrated at Baltimore in September, 1914, the ceremonies lasting about a week.

The following bill (H. R. 7305) providing for national participation in the celebration was introduced in the House of Representatives by Mr. Linthicum, of Maryland, on August 5, 1913, and referred to the Library Committee:

A BILL providing for the appropriation of a sum of money for the erection at Fort McHenry of a monument and flagstaff to Francis Scott Key, and a memorial hall to the defenders of the Nation in the War of Eighteen hundred and twelve, and the erection of a monument upon the North Point battle field, and for the necessary alterations in the buildings and grounds in connection therewith.

Whereas a national patriotic celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Star-Spangled Banner, the defense of Fort McHenry, and the Battle of North Point will be held in the city of Baltimore in September, nineteen hundred and fourteen; and

Whereas these events are of great significance to the Nation in marking the climax of the defense of the country against invasion in the War of Eighteen hundred and twelve, the repulse of the force which had captured and despoiled the National Capital, and the origin of Key's matchless song; and

Whereas this blow to the invaders was soon followed by the treaty of Ghent, which established the commercial freedom of the United States as the final step in the achievement of national independence; and

Whereas in a celebration of this kind the National Government, in whose defense the battles were fought, ought to lend its aid so that the lessons of patriotism which it will convey may be impressed upon the people: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be erected at Fort McHenry, under the direction of the Secretary of War, a monument and flagstaff in honor of Francis Scott Key, the author of the Star-Spangled Banner.

SEC. 2. That there shall be erected at Fort McHenry, under the direction of the Secretary of War, a building to be known as Defenders' Memorial Hall, in memory of the men who successfully defended Fort McHenry at the time of the British attack on that fortification and the other soldiers, sailors, and civilians who served their country in the War of Eighteen hundred and twelve.

SEC. 3. That there shall be erected on the North Point battle field, upon the lot known as "Doctor Houck's Acre," a monument to the citizen soldiers of Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, who participated in the successful defense of Baltimore against the attack of the British invading army in eighteen hundred and fourteen: Provided, however, That the State of Maryland shall first cede to Congress its right and title to said acre of land.

SEC. 4. That in the preparation of the plans and selection of sites for the said monuments, flagstaff, and memorial hall, and the execution of all work in connection therewith, the Secretary of War shall form a committee composed of the mayor of Baltimore, the chairman of the National Star-Spangled Banner Centennial, the president of the board of park commissioners of Baltimore, and two other persons to be designated by the Secretary of War, whose suggestions he shall invite, and with whom he may confer and consult: Provided, however, That the decision of the Secretary of War shall be final in all matters.

SEC. 5. That for the purpose of the erection of said monuments, flagstaff, and memorial hall, and for such changes in the grounds and buildings of Fort McHenry and North Point battle field as the Secretary of War may approve the sum of $500,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended by the direction of the Secretary of War or such officer as he shall designate: Provided, That the money hereby appropriated may be drawn from time to time as may be required in the progress of the work, upon requisition of the Secretary of War.

✓ THE NEW JERSEY SOCIETY has aroused patriotic interest throughout the State especially by local celebrations and the erection of memorials of men and events of the Revolutionary period, resulting in a large increase in membership and the organization of several flourishing Chapters.

The Orange Chapter, on November 24, dedicated a tablet in the First Presbyterian Church, Orange, in memory of Rev. Jedidiah Chapman.

Rev. Jedidiah Chapman was born at East Haddam, Conn., September 27, 1741; graduated from Yale College in 1762; was called to the ministry of "The Mountain Society," now the First Presbyterian Church, of Orange, on July 22, 1766, and resigned on August 13, 1800, to take up pastoral and missionary work at Geneva, N. Y., where he died on May 22, 1813.

During his entire residence in this community he was an uncompromising foe of all that savored of sham and hypocrisy. He was an ardent patriot, serving as a volunteer chaplain in Washington's army and espousing most devotedly the cause of American independence.

After the signing of the Treaty of Peace at Paris, on September 3, 1783, Rev. Mr. Chapman became a Whig and a great admirer of Washington, and also of the policy of Alexander Hamilton in financing the new Nation.

The ceremonies at the dedication included addresses by Rev. Dr. Charles Townsend, pastor of the church; R. C. Ballard Thruston, President General, S. A. R.; John Lenord Merrill, President of the State Society, and David L. Pierson, Historian General of the National organization and President of Orange Chapter. Rev. Charles B. Bulard, Chaplain of Orange Chapter, offered the prayer and benediction.

Among the guests were Cornelius A. Pugsley, of Peekskill, Past President General; General Edwin S. Greeley, of New Haven, Past President General; Wilson H. Lee, President of the Connecticut Society; Henry F. Punderson, of Springfield, Mass., Treasurer of George Washington Chapter; General Philip Reade, U. S. A., retired, Historian of the Massachusetts Society; Louis Annin Ames, President of the Empire State Society; Mrs. Charles B. Yardley, Regent of the State Society, D. A. R.; Col. R. W. Guthrie, of Pittsburgh, representing the Pennsylvania Society, and Mayor Frank J. Murray, of Orange.

Preceding the exercises visiting guests were entertained at luncheon at the home of Dr. George H. Richards, Registrar of the State Society.

The Chapter is arranging for a Colonial Ball to be held on January 7, 1914, in commemoration of the anniversary of the wedding of George and Martha Washington, on January 6, 1759.

The Newark Chapter at a recent meeting listened to a paper on "The Beginning of the Revolution in New Jersey," by Compatriot Edward Q. Keasbey, and an address by Justice Francis L. Swayzee. The President of the Chapter, William T. Hunt, presided.

THE PHILIPPINE SOCIETY held its third annual banquet at the Manila Hotel on October 18, when addresses were delivered by Vice-President Nelson Macy Barrett, Compatriot Edwin B. Copeland, and Prof. Ernest B. Conant. The Society has 31 members and a list of 28 applicants for membership.

THE RHODE ISLAND SOCIETY has published a pamphlet on "The Rhode Island Signers of the Declaration of Independence," with biographies of "Stephen Hopkins," by Robert Perkins Brown, and "William Ellery," by Henry Robinson Palmer. The work is illustrated with portraits of the signers and views of their homes and graves.

THE VERMONT SOCIETY held its annual meeting at Burlington the afternoon of November 12, when the following officers were elected: President, Frederick S. Pease, of Burlington; Vice-President, Redfield Proctor, of Proctor; Secretary and Historian, Walter H. Crockett, of Montpelier; Treasurer, Clarence L. Smith, of Burlington; Registrar, Dorman B. E. Kent, of Montpelier; Chaplain, Rev. Homer A. Flint, of Montpelier.

A goodly number of new members was reported, although the losses were considerable, resulting from deaths, withdrawals, and the dropping of several for non-payment of dues. During the year two tablets were dedicated by the Society—one at North Hero, on the site of a British blockhouse, and one at Shelburne, where a blockhouse was successfully defended against an attack of Tories and Indians. An amendment to the By-Laws was proposed, changing the date of the annual meeting from November to February.

It is proposed to erect tablets at Randolph, Winooski, and at Hospital Creek, in Addison. The marker at Winooski will be placed a short distance east of the falls on the north side of the river. Here a blockhouse was once situated. At Hospital Creek a number of soldiers died on their way to Fort Ticonderoga and were buried near the spot where the marker will be placed. At Randolph an Indian massacre took place.

Another matter taken up is the preservation for historical purposes of the old Constitution house at Windsor. The Society long has been interested in this, but the Windsor people have repeatedly announced their intention of putting the historical old building into shape. A committee has been appointed to inquire into just what has been done along the line of restoring it. At present the inn is in a dilapidated condition.

The tablet dedicated on October 28 at Shelburne, in the presence of about 250 members of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution and others, bears the following inscription:

Northwest of this site in 1770 Moses Pierson, who owned the surrounding thousand acres, built his home. On March 12, 1778, it was attacked by sixty British and Indians, but was defended by the Piersons, Col. Thomas Sawyer, Lieut. Barnabas Barnum, Corp. Joseph Williams, and fourteen privates. Lieut. Barnum, the British officer, an Indian chief, and several privates were killed and a number of prisoners were taken. The house was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished with Mrs. Pierson's home-made beer. Later the British offered a reward for Pierson dead or alive, and a company was sent to capture him, but he escaped. His buildings were burned, his sons, Ziba and Uzal, captured and carried to St. Johns, but they escaped afterward. Erected by the Vermont Society Sons of the American Revolution, October, 1913.

The exercises were presided over by Frederick S. Pease, President of the Society, and invocation was offered by Rev. Dr. C. V. Grismer, of Burlington. The marker was unveiled by Alice Duncan Hagar and George Ingersoll Hagar, great-great-grandchildren of Moses Pierson.

Mr. Pease presented the marker to the town and it was accepted by Thomas Mitchell, first selectman. Charles E. Allen, of Burlington, read an historical paper and Congressman Frank L. Greene paid a tribute to the memory of the early settlers in an address, "Where the Honor Lies."

THE WASHINGTON STATE SOCIETY'S President, Thomas W. Prosch, on September 27 addressed the members of Mary Ball Chapter, D. A. R., at Tacoma upon the subject, "Our Country and Our People." Lady Stirling Chapter, D. A. R. of Seattle, has received one of the bronze tablets from the battleship "Maine," sunk at Havana, and at a recent function invited the Sons of the American Revolution to join with them in its inspection and later in its placing. At the October meeting of Seattle Chapter, S. A. R., a paper of much interest on the "Medical and Surgical Practise in the Colonies" was read by Dr. Clarence A. Smith, President of the Chapter. At the November meeting of the Chapter a thoughtful talk was given by Compatriot Will H. Thompson on "Captain Hale and Major Andre, the Spies of the American Revolution." This Chapter holds its meetings at noon, ladies being present, and all having lunch together.
