ANNOUNCEMENTS

The itinerary of the President General will be: Chicago, February 11 and 12; Washington, February 15; Montclair, February 19; Boston, February 22, with possible stops at Toledo, Baltimore, Hartford, and Providence.

Members are herewith advised that, by approved action of the Executive Committee, the request of J. E. Caldwell & Company, of Philadelphia, that a reasonable increase in the price of the insignia of the Society be allowed is granted, and the following schedule of prices will go into effect after January 1: 14-carat Large Insignia, $25.00; silver-gilt Large Insignia, $12.00; 14-carat gold Miniature Insignia, $14.00; the silver-gilt Miniature Insignia, $5.50; the present war tax of 5 per cent, or any other tax hereafter imposed, to be paid in addition to the prices above quoted.

The Secretary General desires to call the attention of State Officers to the ruling of the Executive Committee with regard to presentation of the War Service Medal, namely, that this medal should be presented for active military or naval service rendered by compatriots in the late war. The State Secretaries should satisfy themselves of the eligibility of the recipient, and not include civil service in this, before giving orders and arranging for the presentation of the medals.

Supplementary to the report of Past President General Thruston in the October BULLETIN, the latter desires to add the following interesting information:

"Soon after the Congress, through those who heard the reading of this report, we have succeeded in obtaining the administration upon the estate of Elbridge Gerry, of Massachusetts, and a copy of the will of Thomas Nelson, Jr., of Virginia."

Director General Adams, of New Jersey, made an official visit to Washington, D. C., in October to arrange with Senator Frelinghuysen, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, to amend our National Charter so as to permit of one hundred instead of sixty (as at present) National Trustees.

Director General Adams was appointed by the Executive Committee chairman of a committee to attend to this business. While in Washington he called also upon Senator Edge, of New Jersey, who, like Senator Frelinghuysen, is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Director General Adams paid his respects, likewise, to Compatriot Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, and was later received in private conference by the President, who is also a distinguished member of our patriotic Organization.

On account of an unavoidable delay in receiving from the foundry the historical markers which the Oregon Society had caused to be made for the battlefield at Princeton, the committee in charge, of which Maj. W. I. Lincoln Adams, Director General, from New Jersey, is chairman, decided to postpone the dedicatory exercises on the battlefield until the warmer weather of next spring. Comprehensive plans for very interesting exercises at that time are being completed. President Hibben has promised to participate, as well as Professor Wertenbaker, who is the highest authority living on the battle itself. The Princeton

Battery will escort the columns to the battlefield and fire a salute of honor there at the conclusion of the exercises. It is hoped that the President General can himself attend, as well as several other of our National Officers and Past Officers.

The President General has recently appointed two special committees, namely, a Committee on Amendment of National Charter, of which Major W. I. Lincoln Adams, of New Jersey, is chairman, with the Hon. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Hon. James W. Wadsworth, Hon. Harry S. New, Hon. William P. Dillingham, Hon. C. N. McArthur, and Mr. John H. Cowles. This committee is to take up the matter of amendment of the National Charter with reference to increasing the number of National Trustees.

Another special committee is that authorized by the last National Congress, to provide a special Service Bar, to be worn on ceremonial occasions with the National Insignia, to indicate service in the various wars. Capt. Henry H. Brown, of New York, is chairman of this committee, with Col. George V. Lauman, of Illinois, and Gen. Oliver B. Bridgeman, of New York. This committee announces that the Service Bar will be ready for distribution on and after January 15. Information may be obtained from the Secretary General.

Mr. George A. Brennan, Historian of the Illinois Society, Sons of the American Revolution, has ready for publication a most interesting book describing the beauties of the "Dunes," its rare plants, birds, and animals and its wonderful history, from the Mound Builders to the present time, including the discovery, near Waverly Beach, of the site of the old French Fort Petite, 1750-1800; and also the correct location of the Revolutionary battle of December 5, 1780, which was fought at Michigan City instead of South Chicago. The book is called "The Wonders of the Dunes," and is especially appealing to lovers of nature and history. It will be published by Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis, and those interested may get further information by corresponding with that firm.

THE YEAR BOOK OF THE LOUISIANA SOCIETY

Nothing could show the spirit of our organization more than the remarkably complete and interesting 1921 Year Book of the Louisiana Society, Sons of the American Revolution. It is, without doubt, the best thing that has been issued by this Society, and no other Society in the National Organization has even approached the scope and completeness that is shown in this book. Beginning with a complete roster of the officers, committees, and members, with authentic addresses, it then gives an interesting history of the Louisiana Society, and, further, something that should be in every year book or pamphlet issued by other societies, a few paragraphs telling the purposes and objects of our Organization and reasons for membership, and what the Society has accomplished, with much other valuable information along these lines. Then there is a short report of the National Congress held at Buffalo and a most interesting address by Colonel Churchill, as given before the State meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in which he gives the history of Louisiana in the Revolutionary War. Then there are the Galvez records and letters, which "are really remarkable finds that were made in the records of the Galvez Expedition, uncovered in Seville, Spain, through the efforts of the Louisiana Society, and many new lights have been thrown on the history of Louisiana of that period." All this, together with a roster of the militia and fixed Louisiana Spanish regiments and companies, make this book a most valuable addition not only to the Society's archives, but a real contribution to history. The credit for this work is due to the untiring energy and capacity of Col. C. Robert Churchill, President of the Louisiana Society, who has done so much to promote the interests of the Sons of the American Revolution in his city and State.

"HERE LIES POOR BUT HONEST DUST"

BY CORNELIUS F. POSSON

The rude sandstone slab had been broken off near its base and lay flat upon the ground. Similar was the fate of the headstone upon the grave next to this one. Of the graves themselves, no trace remained, nor could their location ever have been determined by any man, but for the fact that the stubs of the two headstones still showed just above the ground, not being entirely eroded by the elements as yet; but I doubt not that by another autumn all traces of the last resting places of this patriot and his wife would be entirely lost. But we shall not permit it so to be.

There was evidence of there having been another grave or two near by, and the spot was evidently a family burial plot during the years around 1840. Over there on the knoll, about forty rods distant the old homestead used to stand, and over here, under the shade of these four or five friendly trees, they used to come and bury their family dead. Scarcely any trace of the old home remains, and the little burial plot is now a part of a hillside pasture, and cattle graze wantonly over the place.

I came upon this spot one recent morning, being directed thither by a great-grandson of the man whose "poor but honest dust" lies buried there. It is in an out-of-the-way place in Vigo County, Indiana.

The inscription, cut in the inartistic fashion of eighty years ago, with uneven spacing and some misspelled words, was much worn away and seemed to baffle complete interpretation; but earnestly and with great patience we traced, with moistened finger-tip, each faint letter, and so, word by word, gradually we were able to reconstruct the ancient epitaph. Here it is:

HERE LIES
POOR BUT HONEST DUST.
WILLIAM RAY
Was Born in Ireland
Nov. 26th, 1740,
and Died July 28th, 1840,
a Vetron
who fought in the War of the Revolution.

Raising the broken slab to a vertical position and propping it up against some stones, a snapshot of it was taken; also a picture of wider range was taken, embracing that part of the field where the grave is located.

There are many graves like this in Indiana, graves within whose sacred confines repose the dust of soldiers of the Revolutionary war (1775-1783). Some are in family burial plots of the earlier days, like the one described; some are in old, abandoned, bramble-grown graveyards, off from the main highways of travel, and a few are located in cemeteries which are still used as burial places.

All of these graves the Indiana Society of the Sons of the American Revolution is seeking to definitely locate, with a view to reclaiming them before it is too late, and marking them for permanent preservation. The work throughout the State is in charge of a committee of which I am chairman. I earnestly invite correspondence from any one who can afford any authentic information concerning the Indiana grave of a Revolutionary soldier.

The grave of William Ray, in Vigo County, has been located just in time to save it, and the Sons of the American Revolution, with appropriate ceremony, will place a permanent marker on the spot this fall. The military service of this patriot is shown by the United States Pension Rolls. He lived to the age of 99 years and 8 months. And as regards his dust, it was not poor. Count no dust poor that had a mortal part in the struggle of the American Colonies for their independence. Not poor, but rich is the dust of those who suffered and endured that independence might be established, and that this glorious country might have birth.

And so it is that William Ray is not forgotten, and eighty years and more after his mortal body was laid away to rest his lonely grave is sought out and visited by those who seek to honor him. Thus it is that the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution aims to perpetuate the memory of the men who by their services and sacrifices during the War of the American Revolution achieved the independence of the American people.

NOTE.—Since the foregoing was written it has been learned that William Ray was not merely a soldier of the Revolution, but was a Revolutionary officer. The U. S. Bureau of Pensions, under date of October 17, 1921, affords me the following information:

Enlisted 1775; length of service, 3 years 2 months; rank, lieutenant in Captain Anthony Wayne's Company and also lieutenant in Captain Mordecai Chaffin's Company, Colonel Anthony Wayne's Regiment, Pennsylvania Militia.

Also served short terms as private against British and Indians during the Revolution and afterwards; no officers stated; dates not given.

Revolutionary battles engaged in: White Plains, Brandywine, Germantown, Monmouth, Stony Point.

Residence at date of enlistment, Chester County, Pa., with the above Anthony Wayne.

Date of application for pension, May 8, 1834. His claim was allowed. Residence at date of application, Vigo County, Indiana.

He was born in 1740, in Ireland. He emigrated to America in 1772, and lived with Isaac Wayne, father of Anthony, until he "volunteered." His pension was paid until July 28, 1840. No family data on file.

Very commendable indeed is the endeavor of this patriotic Society to locate and to reclaim the graves of these patriots, and no one who is in possession of any information on the subject should fail to communicate with Cornelius F. Posson, Brazil, Indiana.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE OBSERVANCE OF CONSTITUTION DAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1921

DECEMBER 1, 1921.

Mr. President General and Members of the National Executive Committee:

The campaign made this year by the Sons of the American Revolution for the celebration of Constitution Day resulted in a nation-wide observance. Space will not permit of a detailed description of the thousands of meetings, yet the story would be far from complete unless mention were made of the part played by the leading men of the nation and the assistance rendered by many other organizations and the deep interest manifested by the patriotic citizens everywhere.

Upon the request of the Sons of the American Revolution, our distinguished compatriot, President Warren G. Harding, wrote letters to the chairman of the National Committee and chairman of the Ohio State Committee heartily endorsing the movement.

Proclamations calling for the observance of the day were issued by the governors of the following States:

Arkansas, Colorado, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Oregon, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Wyoming.

Hearty co-operation was rendered by the National Security League, Constitutional League, State and local bar associations, State, county, and city boards of education, Masonic bodies, Order of Elks, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, theatrical profession, community centers, boards of trade, and chambers of commerce. The newspapers were generous in according space, not only recording the celebrations, but in editorial articles, using over 200,000 newspaper columns.

The New York Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution achieved great success in its effort to have the day fittingly observed in New York City. The procession, under command of Major Charles A. Du Bois, marshal, composed of an escort of mounted police, the band and a company of the 22d Regiment of Infantry, U. S. A., from Governor's Island, under command of Capt. Paul R. Knight, the color guard and compatriots of the Sons of the American Revolution, and delegations from the Society of the Cincinnati, the Founders and Patriots of America, the Veteran Corps of Artillery, and other patriotic organizations, formed at S. A. R. headquarters, on Broadway opposite St. Paul's Church, at 11:45, and marched through a heavy rain to the Subtreasury, at the corner of Wall and Nassau streets, the site of the old Federal Hall, where Washington was inaugurated first President of the United States. Addresses were made by Brig.-Gen. Louis W. Stotesbury and Col. Francis R. Stoddard, Jr. Music was furnished by the New York City Police Glee Club, accompanied by the 22d Infantry, U. S. A., Band.

Upon the request of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Fifth Avenue Association circularized its members, requesting the display of the United States flag on September 17 and using of patriotic decorations in their windows. This request was complied with by all the merchants on Fifth Avenue.

Agreeable to the Sons of the American Revolution, the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., which is composed of all the elevated railroads and subways in Greater New York, carrying over two million passengers daily, displayed in each car, for the week from September 10 to September 17, a placard designating September 17 as Constitution Day and calling upon the people to hold in loving remembrance the Constitution of the United States, as under its protection we enjoy all the advantages of free government.

The Department of Education, in the grammar schools, high schools, and city colleges in the city of New York, on Friday afternoon, held closing exercises in honor of Constitution Day.

Masonic bodies of the State, bar associations, moving-picture houses, State and county boards of education all contributed their part toward an intellectual understanding of the day.

Arizona.—Reports from this State all tell that Constitution Day was generally observed. The proclamation of the Governor, Thomas E. Campbell, tells not only the story of the Constitutional Conference, at which George Washington, of Virginia, was present, but refers to the Constitution as embodying the basic spirit of Americanism, the foundation of free and supreme law of our land. Arizona made a great record for itself in its first year of the observance of Constitution Day, and credit is due to the State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, under whose auspices the ceremonies were inaugurated.

Colorado.—Under the leadership of President Victor C. Keyes, the Colorado Society took the initiative in organizing celebrations throughout the State. Much credit is due to the Superintendent of Schools for the part played by the Department of Education in the observance of the day. The Colorado Society observed its 25th anniversary on Constitution Day by holding, at Denver, a patriotic meeting including all patriotic societies of Colorado, with the Opportunity School and boards of education of the State. It was a great educational as well as patriotic occasion. President Keyes is the State's Attorney-General, and he had four district judges throughout the State as coworkers in the movement for the observance of Constitution Day.

Connecticut.—A large patriotic meeting was held at New Haven, under the auspices of the General David Humphrey Chapter, S. A. R. There were present representatives from the D. A. R. and other patriotic organizations.

District of Columbia Society.—The Sons of the American Revolution observed the day by holding a Field Day meeting at Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown, and placed two Revolutionary gravestone markers—one on the grave of Lieut.-Col. Uriah Forrest and the other on the grave of Capt. Stephen Bloomer Balch, Revolutionary Army Chaplain. Addresses were made by William A. Gordon, prominent historian, and Rev. James T. Marshall, present pastor of the church founded by Dr. Balch.

Georgia.—The Sons of the American Revolution interested all patriotic and civic societies of the State, and through the press of the State outlined an observance of the day, requesting all churches on September 18 to have a fitting program in grateful memory of the adoption of the Constitution and the request met with a generous response. The Georgia Society itself held a special service in the Central Congregational Church, at Atlanta, and a wonderful patriotic and historic address was delivered by Dr. William Stuehell, at which were in attendance patriotic and civic bodies, led by the S. A. R.

Indiana.—The Indiana Society, Sons of the American Revolution, issued a Constitution Day Bulletin to the superintendents of schools throughout the State, calling for the observance in the schools on the Friday preceding Constitution Day, and offered to furnish as speakers members of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Bar Association of the State. The response was most encouraging. Some of the school programs were formulated by the Sons of the American Revolution, and in Terre Haute and in West Terre Haute special mention was made of the Society in the school program. The John Morton Chapter held its annual meeting on September 4 and then arranged to have its members serve as speakers in co-operation with the Bar Association and members of the Department of Education. The mayors of the principal cities of Indiana issued formal proclamations on Constitution Day. The observance of the day in Indiana this year was more general than ever before. Press reports record a much larger number of celebrations this year than last.

Illinois.—The Illinois Society, Sons of the American Revolution, held its annual celebration on Constitution Day, in commemoration of the anniversary of the adoption of the United States Constitution, at Morrison Hotel, Chicago. An address was delivered by Judge C. S. Cutting, member of the Illinois Constitutional Convention. His theme was "The Constitution." Throughout the State the departments of education held exercises in observance of the day.

Iowa.—The Sons of the American Revolution of Iowa were very active not alone in stimulating celebrations throughout the State, in the public schools, by bar associations, but reported the following meetings held entirely under the auspices of the Sons of the American Revolution:

Lexington Chapter, Keokuk, Iowa, held a patriotic meeting on September 17. A very able address was delivered by Judge W. S. Hamilton.

Alexander Hamilton Chapter, Sheldon, held their annual meeting on Constitution Day, with a very attractive program.

Valley Forge Chapter, Nevada, Iowa, held a patriotic meeting, discussing the events that led to the signing of the Constitution.

Ben Franklin Chapter, Des Moines, held a banquet, and addresses were delivered by Past President-General Elmer M. Wentworth and Henry H. Griffiths.

Kentucky.—Last year the Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution, outdistanced the other patriotic societies in the number of people in attendance at its celebration, namely, 65,000. Constitution Day, September 17, in the State of Kentucky, this year conflicted with the State Fair, and the Sons of the American Revolution were asked to postpone their Constitution Day celebration for a week later, as the State Fair had a large investment and would have difficulty in paying expenses and meeting interest on its investment if the Sons of the American Revolution held its Constitution Day observance at Louisville on that date. However, the public schools of the State, on Friday afternoon, September 16, celebrated Constitution Day, and on Sunday, September 18, the Sons of the American Revolution held a mass meeting in the evening, at the First Christian Church, in Louisville. The address was made by the Chaplain of the S. A. R., Dr. E. L. Powell, and 800 people were present.

It is through the Vice-President General, Marvin H. Lewis, that we obtained an account of this meeting and a report that the State Superintendent of Schools of Chicago, Illinois, issued instructions to all school superintendents to have brief exercises regarding Constitution Day in the various public schools in the State and city; he also furnished an account of the celebration held by the Illinois Society.

Minnesota.—The Minnesota Society, Sons of the American Revolution, observed Constitution Day by a patriotic service Sunday evening, September 18, in Minneapolis and St. Paul, at both of which there was a large attendance. The addresses at Minneapolis were delivered by Rev. Dr. Marion D. Shutter and Hon. Walter H. Newton. The speaker at the St. Paul meeting was Rev. J. W. Holland, and his subject was "We, the People." A meeting was also held at Duluth on the same evening, under the auspices of the Bar Association.

The Governor of the State issued a proclamation for the observance of the day. A celebration was held in Minneapolis, at Gateway Park, at which addresses were made by the Governor, Mayor of the City, Congressman Walter H. Newton, and Judge Torrence. The Commissioner of Education listed Constitution Day for observance each year in the schools throughout the State. The event was an occasion of appropriate exercises in the Minneapolis schools on the Friday preceding the anniversary.

Proclamations were issued by the Governor of the State and the mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul. The newspapers of the State gave wide publicity to the observance of the day.

Constitution Day was observed in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Mayor George E. Leach, of St. Paul, appointed a committee, with James F. Ellis as chairman. Mr. Ellis and his committee co-operated with the Sons of the American Revolution, American Legion, and other patriotic organizations in arranging a program for the day.

Missouri.—Celebrations were held in all the high schools of the State during the school hours on September 16. The Sons of the American Revolution furnished a visiting committee of speakers to call at these meetings. Three public meetings were held in Columbia—one at the city high school, one at the State university and one at the Methodist Church, on the evening of Sunday, September 18. The Sons of the American Revolution had the co-operation of the Bar Association, Department of Education, and other literary organizations.

New Hampshire.—The celebration of the 134th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution was held by a meeting at the Hall of Representatives, State House, Concord, September 17, 1921, at 11 o'clock a. m., the Rumford Chapter, D. A. R., co-operating. His Excellency Albert O. Brown, Governor of New Hampshire, presided. The program consisted of prayer by the Chaplain; music, furnished by the Rumford Chapter, D. A. R.; introductory remarks by the President of the S. A. R.; address by Hon. Sherman E. Burroughs, of Manchester, Representative in Congress from the First New Hampshire District; singing of "America" by the audience. Other observances of the day were held under the auspices of the Department of Education.

New Jersey.—As usual, New Jersey observed the day most fittingly. Through the overtures made by the New Jersey Society, many of the mayors of New Jersey issued proclamations, calling upon the people to display the flag and to observe the anniversary of the adoption of the Federal Constitution. Orange Chapter observed the anniversary by presenting a large flag of Stars and Strips to the Dante House, Orange, opened by enterprising citizens of Italian lineage for the purpose of Americanizing the Sons of Italy coming to the city. In the absence of Compatriot John Lenord Merrill, President of the Chapter, the presentation was made by David L. Pierson, Secretary of the New Jersey Society and former President of the Chapter. The flag was drawn to the top of the staff by Capt. John R. Williams, a member of the Chapter and a Civil War veteran. Compatriot Pierson also made an address on the Constitution. Compatriot William A. Lord, mayor of Orange, delivered the principal address of the afternoon. All of the schools of the Oranges held exercises on September 16, the day preceding the anniversary, which fell upon Saturday. Church bells were rung at noon, on the anniversary, for three minutes, and this was a forceful reminder to the people that the day was worthy of celebration.

Mayor Howard F. McConnell, of Montclair, a member of Montclair Chapter, issued a proclamation, which was printed on posters and distributed through the city, calling the people's attention to the anniversary. Church bells were rung at 12 o'clock noon and again at 6 o'clock in the evening, each time for five minutes. By request of Montclair Chapter, the Board of Education arranged for a program, to be followed in remembrance of the day on Friday, September 16. On the evening of September 17 a band concert was given on the lawn of the high school, and Elvord G. Chamberlin, President, read extracts from the Constitution to an audience of about 2,000 persons.

Paramus Chapter, located at Ridgewood, dedicated a tablet in the Ridgewood High School on Constitution Day, upon which are engraved the names of students winning the annual prize offered by the Chapter on a subject pertaining to the Revolutionary War.

All the Chapters, with one or two exceptions, called upon the people to observe the day and a large number of the members were engaged in delivering addresses at the schools and other places where exercises were held.

Ohio.—The Ohio Society has observed Constitution Day generally ever since the day was inaugurated by the Sons of the American Revolution, and they have co-operated especially with the departments of education, furnishing the superintendents of public schools with copies of the United States Constitution and our little booklet, "Information for Immigrants." The schools have cordially responded to the request and suggestions of the S. A. R. and each succeeding year have enlarged the number of celebrations. The Sons of the American Revolution have interested other patriotic societies in observing the day, and the State Society sent out to all of its members a copy of a letter written to the Secretary of the Ohio Society by President Harding, an Ohio compatriot. The letter reads as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE,
WASHINGTON, August 18, 1921.

MY DEAR MR. CURRY:

It is a pleasure to address a word of greeting and encouragement to those who will unite this year in celebrating Constitution Day, September seventeenth. I have always thought of Constitution Day as marking the real birth of our Nation. In speaking on September seventeenth last year, I said:

"I know that we date our independence to the memorable July day in 1776 when the bell of Independence Hall 'rang out liberty' to all the peoples of the world. I know that the confederation of colonies was the great, the essential step toward the consolidation of victories of the Revolution, but it was the ratification of the inspired Constitution of 1787 that first established us as a nation. I want it to abide; I want it to impel us onward; I want the Republic for which it was conceived; and I want the Republic governed in America, under the Constitution."

With all sincerity and with a conviction that has been strengthened by the events of the past year, I can now repeat this expression. The trying times of the last seven years have supremely tested the governmental systems of all the world; and I feel that we of America may well felicitate ourselves and give thanks to Divine Providence, that in this test no governmental system has demonstrated a greater capacity to meet and bear the utmost stresses of human crisis than our own. This knowledge cannot but enhearten us, as we look to the future, with its many and difficult problems still to be met.

Once more we may remind ourselves that the Constitution is strong enough for every requirement, elastic enough to adapt itself to changing conditions and developing evolutions. So, on this anniversary we may well dedicate ourselves to the supreme purpose of maintaining our institutions under it, and of making them in the future, as they have been in the past, a beacon light to illumine the way of progress for men seeking freedom everywhere.

Most sincerely yours,

WARREN G. HARDING.

Secretary, Sons of the American Revolution, Columbus, Ohio.

The Governor of the State issued a proclamation and the mayors of the principal cities issued proclamations. Exercises were held throughout the State, in the public and parochial schools and most of the churches, with the result that the day was more generally observed than in any preceding year. The newspapers co-operated by publishing this letter and editorials, calling attention to the observance which this anniversary commemorated.

Oregon.—The Oregon Society began early their plans for the observance of Constitution Day. A committee was formed on August 3, 1912, and a type-written historical sketch of the inauguration of the observance of Constitution Day in 1917 by the Sons of the American Revolution was published by the newspapers of the State on Sunday, August 21. A statement was prepared by the City Superintendent of Schools, D. A. Groat, and was published in an early issue of the Portland School Bulletin, a publication of official character, which is mailed to all grammar school and high school principals and teachers in the city of Portland.

Compatriot Harrison G. Platt, President of the Bar Association, planned for the observance of the day in the courts of the State and took the matter up with the various local bar associations in the several counties. The result of this work was that a proclamation, calling for the general observance by the people of Oregon, was issued by Governor Benjamin W. Olcott. Numerous observances were held in the high schools of the State and in the eight high schools in the city of Portland, and instructive addresses were delivered on Friday morning, September 16. With one exception, all the speakers were provided from the County Bar Association. In three of the high schools, owing to the large attendance and inadequate seating capacity, second assemblies were held and addresses were repeated. In the high school at Roseburg the address was made by Compatriot O. P. Coshov. At the high school at Burns, Oregon, the address was made by A. W. Gowan. At the high school at La Grande the speaker was Compatriot Walter M. Pierce. At the Corvallis High School the speaker was Compatriot C. R. Ingalls. Patriotic meetings were held at Marshfield, Union, Hillsboro, and several other towns.

The seven departments of the Circuit Court of Oregon for this county held a joint meeting in Portland on the morning of September 17. Two admirable addresses were delivered, one by Martin L. Pipes, on "The Meaning and Application of the Constitution," and the other by Judge John McCourt, on "The Retention or Extension of War-time Provisions of the Constitution."

At Salem, the capital of the State, a very successful celebration was held, on September 17, under the auspices of the Circuit Court and the Marion County Bar Association. Mr. George M. Brown, justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon, delivered the address of the day, on "The Constitution," which the press reported as being unusually able and instructive. A joint meeting was also held in Salem in the afternoon of that day by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Women's Relief Corps.

At Roseburg a public celebration was held on the evening of September 15, the arrangements therefor having been made by the Circuit Court of Douglas County. Judge J. W. Hamilton delivered an appropriate address.

The Circuit Court for Washington County also reports that it held exercises on the morning of September 17, on which occasion a number of addresses were made by members of the local bar.

An exceedingly gratifying and successful feature of the celebration of the anniversary in Portland was a series of programs at the luncheons of the leading civic organizations of the city during the week of September 12-17. Beginning with the luncheon of the Forum of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, these programs continued daily during the week. The speakers at the Forum luncheon were Judge John Kavanaugh, who delivered an eloquent address on "Some Basic Principles of the Constitution," and Hugh Montgomery, who closed with a stirring address on "American Ideals." The Chamber of Commerce dining-room was crowded and the business men present evinced a great interest in the occasion. On Tuesday, September 13, occurred the luncheon of the Rotary Club. Judge Robert C. Tucker delivered the address on that occasion, his subject being "The Constitution and Service." On Wednesday, September 14, the Portland Ad Club observed the day at its luncheon, with Mr. Hugh Montgomery delivering an address on "The Constitution." The Kiwanis Club observed the day with appropriate exercises on September 15. On Saturday, September 17, the Oregon Civic League and Daughters of the American Revolution gave a joint luncheon, to which members of the Oregon Society, S. A. R., were invited as guests. At this luncheon Judge John Kavanaugh repeated the address on "Some Basic Principles of the Constitution," which he had delivered at the Chamber of Commerce Forum luncheon on Monday.

On the evening of September 22 Mr. Hugh Montgomery addressed the East Side Business Men's Club on the subject of "American Ideals." The Progressive Business Men's Club and the City Club also assured me that they would observe the day at their luncheons during that week, but I have not received any report thereon up to this time.

A number of the Oregon chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution observed the day by appropriate gatherings, and several other organizations held meetings in honor of the anniversary.

Through Superintendent of Schools D. A. Grout, of Portland, teachers in the seventh and eighth grades of the grammar schools were requested to observe the day on the morning of September 16, devoting five minutes thereto, with a short talk on the Constitution and a recital of the American's Creed. This request was made through the official school publication and was generally complied with.

Pennsylvania.—Under the able leadership of our Chancellor General, Eugene C. Bonniwell, a meeting was held at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, carrying out work of high distinction and merit. Other observances were held throughout the State.

Maryland.—While no report has come from the Maryland Society direct, it was most active in arranging celebrations in the leading cities of the State and furnished free, to the moving-picture theaters, sets of 12 slides, as follows:

Text: We, the people, and our Constitution.

The Constitution of the United States was adopted on September 17, 1787. It has been the "supreme law of the land" for 134 years.

- A 2. "Star Spangled Banner" (one stanza).

- A 3. The Preamble of the Constitution.

- A 4. The Constitution.

Drafted by a convention which was called by a conference of five States, recommended by Congress, and attended by delegates from 12 of the 13 States. Approved by 52 of the 55 delegates to this convention. Ratified by 11 States in special conventions and later accepted by the other two.

The Constitution is indeed a document of the people.

Quotation: The sovereign of this nation, the God-crowned and Heaven-anointed sovereign, in whom resides "the State's collective will," and to whom we all owe allegiance, is the people themselves.

- A 6. Picture—Theodore Roosevelt.

Quotation: A good Constitution and good laws under the Constitution and fearless and upright officials to administer the laws—all these are necessary; but the prime requisite in our national life is, and must always be, the possession by the average citizen of the right kind of character.

- A 7. Picture—Voter Casting Ballot.

Text: In no sense is citizenship a reward that has been given to you because you have lived in the United States a certain number of years. It is a job that has been given to you. Keep this truth in mind. Never lose sight of the fact that you have been admitted to full partnership in the greatest enterprise that the world has ever seen.—CHARLES SEYMOUR WHITMAN.

- A 8. Picture—Abraham Lincoln.

Quotation: As the patriots of seventy-six died to support the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property, and his sacred honor; let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father and tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty.

- A 9. Quotation: The basis of our political systems is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government. But the Constitution which at any time exists, till changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all.—GEORGE WASHINGTON.
- A 10. Picture—George Washington.
Caption: Commander-in-Chief of the American Army throughout the Revolution; presiding officer of the Convention which drafted the Constitution; first President of the United States.
- A 11. The American's Creed.
- A 12. Picture—United States Flag.
Quotation: Accept it, then, in all its fullness of meaning. It is not a painted rag; it is a whole national history. It is the Constitution; it is the Government; it is the free people that stand in the Government. Forget not what it means, and for the sake of its ideas, rather than its mere emblazonry, be true to your country's flag.—HERRY WARD BEECHER.

Tennessee.—Like the Maryland Society, the Tennessee Society used series of colored slides telling the story of the Constitution in pictorial fashion.

South Dakota.—South Dakota appointed on September 16 a State Committee to organize patriotic celebrations throughout the State in honor of the anniversary of the signing of the Constitution. The committee is as follows: Hon. Doane Robinson, Pierre; R. E. Cone, Huron; Dr. E. L. Perkins, Sioux Falls; Dr. E. S. Adams, Yankton; R. L. Slagle, Vermilion; R. F. Kerr, Brookings; Dr. J. G. Parsons, Sioux Falls; Mark Slaymaker, Pipestone, Minn.; Hon. Howard Gates, Pierre; J. E. Mather, Watertown; Fred A. Reynolds, Chamberlain; Tad A. Bailey, Pipestone, Minn.; Clyde & McGinatie, Hecla; Col. A. B. Sessions, Sioux Falls; Rev. Guy P. Squires, Brookings; J. W. Goff, Madison; F. M. Mills, chairman, Sioux Falls.

The committee interested other patriotic associations and civic societies, clubs, chambers of commerce, boards of education, schools, colleges, fraternal and bar associations, State and county authorities, and all good citizens generally and solicited the support of the press of the State. Circulars were mailed throughout the State. Personal letters were written to the members of the committee, patriotic organizations, regents of the Daughters of the American Revolution, heads of colleges and principals of high schools. Circulars were sent to all the newspapers, and prominent men throughout the State were asked to co-operate so as to promote the observance of the day. The Governor issued a proclamation. A public meeting at Sioux Falls was very largely attended. The President of the State Society presided. The music was furnished by the Sioux Falls Band. The singing was led by the Community Society, and there was an address, "The Constitution Then and Now," by Rev. L. Wendell Fifield. The meeting closed by the audience singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Utah.—Throughout the State of Utah the Sons of the American Revolution held patriotic services commemorating Constitution Day, in which participated members of the Sons of the American Revolution. On Monday evening, September 19, at Hotel Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah, the Sons of the American Revolution observed the day by tending a banquet in honor of our President General, Wallace McCamant. At this banquet the presiding officer used a gavel that was presented to the National Society in May, 1920, the head made of wood from Faneuil Hall and the handle from the old State House of Boston. In addition to this, the gavel has twenty-one inserts. One is a piece of Plymouth Rock, one is wood from the home of Paul Revere, one from the home of Asa Pollard, who was the first man killed in the Battle of Bunker Hill; one from the Old North bridge at Concord, where the shot was fired which was "heard around the world"; one from the man-o'-war Somerset, which took part in the Battle of Bunker Hill, and one from the elm tree at Cambridge, Mass., under which Washington took command of the army of the Revolution. President General McCamant was the principal speaker.

Your committee regrets exceedingly that this is only a partial report, as many State Directors have failed to send in their reports of meetings in their respective States. The committee, however, thank those State directors who have aided the committee in making up this report. Unfortunately, the committee has had to rely upon outside information, such as newspaper clippings and accounts sent in by departments of education, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, and other patriotic and civic organizations. As far as possible, the committee reports the number of celebrations as follows:

Alaska	102
Arkansas	17
Arizona	321
California	211
Connecticut	1
Colorado	107
Delaware	27
District of Columbia	1

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS ANNIN AMES,

Chairman, Committee on the Observance of Constitution Day.

PRESENTATION BY CHANCELLOR GENERAL BONNIWELL OF THE ORDER OF LAFAYETTE TO MARSHAL FOCH

During the great reception given to Marshal Foch in Philadelphia on November 16, Judge Bonniwell, Chancellor General of the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, presented to the great French leader the order of Lafayette. This ceremony was carried out at the Washington statue, Judge Bonniwell speaking as follows:

"We, who are descendants of the American patriots who fought for liberty under the direct command of Lafayette, eternally grateful to heroic France for her fearless aid at the hour of our Nation's birth, ask for the supreme honor of enrolling you a member of the Order of Lafayette.

"The succor which the youthful, the gallant, the intrepid Marquis brought the thirteen Colonies, you brought the world.

"You have confounded the enemies of France, not merely by your incomparable military tactics, but by your humility, and your allegiance to Almighty God. You have inspired the lovers of France. You have reanimated the cause of real Christianity.

"Therefore, in pledge of an undying amity, we make you a Comrade of the Order of Lafayette, saying to you, and to your land, that the affection between the immortal Washington and Lafayette shall always endure between America and France.

"Your enemies will be our enemies, your grief our sorrow, your triumph our pride."

WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT IT?

An appeal comes from one of our most active compatriots in the South, suggesting a possible reorganization of our Society on a basis similar to that of our sister Society, the Daughters of the American Revolution, which, it is pointed out, has a membership of over one hundred thousand, while our Society, the predecessor and progenitor of the other, has less than twenty thousand. The compatriot goes on to say that if the Society of Sons of the American Revolution was run on the same business plan as the Daughters, the membership could be quadrupled in a short time.

There is, no doubt, some truth in what our enthusiastic compatriot says, and it might be well for our members to stop and consider for a moment what are the possibilities of a society such as ours. When the Congress met in Buffalo last May, the proprietor of the headquarters hotel said to several of the members that in all his convention experience, and that had been large, he had never seen a finer body of men attending a convention. This was not a mere perfunctory remark, but made with sincere feeling and honesty. When we realize that men of this stamp from all parts of the country are giving of their time and abilities to carry on the work of patriotism and the achievement of American ideals, we must believe that some lasting results have been obtained, and the history of our Society and its work bears this out. Now, if these results could be multiplied by three or four, by increasing our membership to that extent, the potentialities of what could be attained for good in this nation are untold. That this sort of work is needed in the present crisis of our country's history goes without saying; that the unrest that is being fomented not only in Europe, but in this country, by sinister influences needs a counterbalance of the kind that an organization like ours can give goes without saying, and it is easy to appreciate that one hundred thousand men with ideals and traditions that are bred in the bone, like ours, scattered from Maine to California, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and working in harmony with one hundred thousand or more women with similar ideals and traditions, could wield an influence that would be a bulwark against the menace of Bolshevism and radicalism and all the other evil influences that are confronting us at this time.

The trouble with our organization seems to be that too few of our members are doing the real work of the organization. In every Society or Chapter there are one or two, or just a small group, who are active and enthusiastic, and the rest seem satisfied to trail along and concur in everything that suits them and object to the things that do not, but take no active part in the work.

It is not quite fair to compare our organization to that of the Daughters, for the social side appeals to these women more than it does to the men, and their organization being on a chapter basis, with an active centralized governing body in their Board of Management, has been the real reason for their remarkable growth in the first place; and, now that they have become such a national power, the advantage of membership has become so apparent that new members come to them without having to be urged, as is the case with many of our applicants.

Concretely, what can be done to overcome this attitude, not only of our own members, but of those whom we are seeking as desirable compatriots? To ascertain this, let us stop to consider what has been done and what is being done at the present time by some of our State Societies, Chapters, and individuals.

The Louisiana Society, under the leadership of Colonel Churchill, not only won the traveling banner a year or so ago, but has lately made wonderful strides in membership and activities; the Tennessee Society, through the influence of past President General Thruston and the leadership of Mr. Boardman and its present remarkably able and enthusiastic Secretary, Frederick Millsbaugh, is going ahead by leaps and bounds, and many of our larger societies will have to look to their laurels if they wish to keep up with Tennessee; the results in New Jersey and Maryland, which won the banners last year, speak for themselves; in the West we have a splendid and growing Society in Utah. These are the glowing instances, though there are many others that could be named. What has done this? Hard, earnest, and sincere personal work by enthusiastic members who have the interest of the Society at heart. If such results can be accomplished in some States, why not in the whole Society? The plan that was devised a few years ago, of dividing the country into sections, under the direction of the Vice-Presidents General, is a most practical and complete one; but, lacking a central head or directing power, has it accomplished as great results as might have been expected?

Our President General is elected for one year, under the custom that has grown up. His Executive Committee is scattered from one end of the country to the other. They are men, generally, of unusual abilities and attainments, who give much of their time and attention to the workings of the Society, but from the very fact of their living so far apart, they cannot give that attention and direction to details that is needed to carry out what is necessary to bring the best results.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have a central head and managing board, meeting monthly, and, because of their great membership, a much larger income with which they can carry out their splendid plans for patriotic work. Is it not possible for the Sons of the American Revolution to work out some plan that will put us on a similar basis, so that we shall go forward with these noble women in a mutual effort to make America keep the ideals that were our ancestors' and should be kept alive for the centuries to come?

EVENTS OF STATE SOCIETIES

The District of Columbia Society, upon invitation of the War Department, took part in the parade accompanying the body of the "Unknown Soldier" to Arlington, and a delegation of good size was present. Several members of other State Societies came to Washington and joined in the parade with the local organization. These included Vice-President General, George Hale Nutting, and Burton H. Wiggin, Vice-President of the Massachusetts Society, of Massachusetts, and the following representatives from the Pennsylvania Society: Col. R. W. Guthrie, National Trustee; Hon. Samuel B. McCormick, Hon. W. C. Lyne, and O. S. Decker. The visitors marched the entire distance to Arlington, and were provided with seats in the Amphitheater during the ceremonies. The National Society presented a wreath, which was carried by the District of Columbia delegation and which was given a place of honor before the altar in the Amphitheater preceding the ceremonies, in spite of the hundreds of other floral offerings which came from all parts of the country.

The District of Columbia Society, S. A. R., in co-operation with the Sons of the Revolution of the District of Columbia, are offering a gold medal for the best essay upon the subject "The Expedition of George Rogers Clark, 1778," to pupils of public and private schools in the District of Columbia. The committee of judges, of which our Registrar General, Mr. William S. Parks, is chairman, has issued a circular announcing the contest and rules to be observed. The presentation of this medal will be made on February 22, and will be a notable event, as President Harding will personally present the reward.

The Hawaiian Society held its annual business meeting at Cook's Hall, Y. M. C. A. Building, at noon on Tuesday, October 4, the President, Rev. Henry P. Judd, presiding. New officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Donald S. Bowman; Vice-President, Dr. C. B. Cooper; Treasurer, L. M. Judd; Registrar, Gerrit P. Wilder; Secretary, James T. Taylor; C. S. Carlsmith, Eben P. Low, and H. B. Penhallow, managers. By request, a delegation to represent the Sons of the American Revolution at the meeting of the American Legion on Thursday, October 6, was appointed to arrange plans for a celebration of Armistice Day. An invitation from the local Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to co-operate with them in a proper celebration of Lexington Day, April 17, 1922, was unanimously accepted.

The newly elected President, Mr. Bowman, expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred and his expectation that renewed interest and activity for the coming year would be greatly in evidence.

The officers and Board of Managers of the Society held a meeting at Cooke's Hall on Tuesday, November 22. President Donald S. Bowman presided. The Secretary, James T. Taylor, reported verbally on the activities of the Society in the Armistice Parade. The new banner was displayed to the public view for the first time and was carried by the Secretary. The President appeared in Colonial costume and led this section of the parade.

The Society made a very creditable showing and was subject of much favorable comment. President Bowman appointed the following committee of arrangements to act with the Daughters of the American Revolution in the celebration of Lexington Day: Charles Atherton, chairman; Gerrit P. Wilder and Eben P. Low. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas the shortage of labor is seriously affecting the agricultural and all other industries in Hawaii; and

Whereas each and every other person in Hawaii will be seriously affected if not relieved,

We therefore, in meeting assembled, pray the United States Congress to give us relief by passing House Joint Resolution No. 171.

The Illinois Society held its annual meeting and election of officers on Friday evening, December 2, at the Central Y. M. C. A. café. An informal dinner was held at 6:30, and after the election of officers and reports of the Society for the year were read, an address on "Our Soldiers at the Front" was given by Brigadier-General Abel Davis, who inspired us by his wonderful tribute to the heroism of our boys at the front.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James M. Eddy; First Vice-President, Jesse A. Baldwin; Second Vice-President, James Edgar Brown; Secretary, Louis A. Bowman; Treasurer, Henry R. Kent; Historian, George A. Brennan; Registrar, John D. Vandercook; Chaplain, William W. Johnstone, D. D.; Sergeant-at-Arms, Cil R. Boman; Additional Board of Managers, Burton J. Ashley, I. S. Blackwelder, Chancellor L. Jenks, William P. Reed, Carroll H. Sudler, David V. Webster; Delegate at Large, Dorr E. Felt. Colonel Eddy, who was elected President, represented Illinois, by appointment of the War Department, at the Armistice Day services in Washington, November 11, 1921. He was retired after forty years' service of continuous military duty in Illinois National Guard. He served on the border and throughout the World War as Lieutenant-Colonel of the 131st Regiment, United States Army, formerly the 1st Illinois Regiment, National Guard. Since the election of officers the Society has had the great misfortune to lose by death two of its officers elected at the annual meeting. First Vice-President Jesse A. Baldwin passed away December 8 and Burton J. Ashley, member of the Board of Managers, December 4.

Indiana Society.—The John Morton Chapter of the Indiana Society of Terre Haute, Ind., observed Indiana Day December 12 with a dinner and informal program at Memorial Hall. The new Chapter officers elected at the annual meeting, September 4, assumed their duties. Judge George Addison Scott, President of the Chapter, gave a short review of the steps taken by the Congress, the territorial government, and the constitutional convention in erecting the State of Indiana out of the Northwest Territory and the admission of the State into the Union, December 11, 1816.

Prof. Herbert Briggs reported encouraging progress in the undertaking of the Chapter to provide for the regular study of Indiana history in the public schools. This movement was launched by the Chapter following the observance of the centennial of the Battle of Fort Harrison in 1912. The program has now enlisted the support of the State Board of Education and other patriotic and historical societies. In addition to an accepted text-book on Indiana history, there will be provided a questionnaire to develop the study of history in the various counties.

Report was made on the progress of the Indiana Society committee on the marking of graves of soldiers of the War of Independence. Compatriot Dalton B. Shourds was appointed chairman of a committee to locate appropriate places along the old Indian boundary provided in the treaty between General William Henry Harrison and the Indians. This boundary, known as "The 10 o'clock Line," crosses the Wabash River near Montezuma and intersects the National Highway, the Dixie Bee Line Highway, and other old trail roads. The Chapter will co-operate with the Indiana State Highway Commission in erecting the markers.

The new officers of John Morton Chapter are Judge George Addison Scott, President; Will W. Adamson and Leslie Seymour Creal, Vice-Presidents; Oscar Rankin, Chaplain; Prof. Herbert Briggs, Historian; Horace E. Tune, Treasurer, and National Trustee Charles Timothy Jewett, Secretary. It is the purpose of the Chapter to erect in Memorial Hall a bronze tablet bearing the names of the soldiers of the War of Independence buried in Vigo County.

The annual meeting of the Indiana Society will be held in Indianapolis, on February 25, 1922, in celebration of the anniversary of the capture of Fort Sackville, Vincennes, by George Rogers Clark.

The Kentucky Society celebrated the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown with a dinner at the Pendennis Club on October 19. Preceding the dinner the annual election of officers was held and the following were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. T. Hutchings; Vice-Presidents, J. Swigert Taylor, Curran Pope, Raymond Grant, and E. S. Woosley; Secretary, George D. Caldwell; Registrar, Ben La Bree; Historian, James H. Richmond; Chaplain, E. L. Powell; Surgeon, Richard H. Coke.

The retiring President, Mr. Marvin H. Lewis, epitomized the reports of the various committees which had been at work during the past year and spoke, among other things, of the committee which is preparing to place a bronze tablet in or on the Louisville Public Library to record the fact that the 57 trees planted in the library grounds in memory of Louisville soldiers who lost their lives in the World War were placed there under the auspices of this Society, in co-operation with 56 other civic and patriotic organizations, each having contributed a sum sufficient to pay for one tree, at the request of the Kentucky Society, S. A. R. The Committee on Immigration is working hard to promote a law restricting immigration. He stated that 80 per cent of all memorials received by Congress came from organizations with which our organization had corresponded; that the service records of 52 members who saw armed service in the World War had been collected by the Committee on Patriotic Service, this number being about 25 per cent of the membership; spoke of the successful prize-essay contest conducted by the Committee on Patriotic Education among the schools of Louisville; the appropriate celebration of Constitution Day in the Louisville and State schools and churches at the instigation of the Kentucky Society, and the giving of a scholarship of $125 in either the Louisville University or Kentucky University, to be awarded to one of five students of the senior classes of the high schools of the State having best average on competitive examination.

Another feature of the evening was the address by Compatriot James H. Richmond on the engrossing subject of disarmament. At the request of the Society, the address was printed in full in the Louisville papers.

The Maine Society held an interesting meeting of its Board of Managers on November 28, at which a report from the committee appointed by the State Society in February, 1920, to request an appropriation for a new bronze tablet to be placed on the marker at Valley Forge was received. The committee of three, comprising Hon. A. M. Spear, Hon. Oliver B. Clason, and Mr. M. Converse Leach, appeared before the Maine Legislature to request the appropriation desired, and were successful in securing an appropriation of $600. At the recent meeting in November, Compatriots William B. Berry, President of the Maine Society; William K. Sanderson, Hon. A. M. Spear, and Charles L. Hutchinson were appointed a committee to obtain sketches and prices for the tablet and submit the same to Governor Percival P. Baxter and Council for their formal approval. Compatriot E. Leander Higgins, architect, of Portland, is preparing sketches.

The State Society reports encouraging progress in the matter of securing increased membership, and plans for more extended publicity of its activities, which will be of direct aid to this increase. At the November meeting the election of a National Trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Hon. James O. Bradbury resulted in the selection of William B. Berry, of Gardiner, the new President of the State Society.

The Maryland Society held an interesting meeting on October 19, which was addressed by the Hon. William Miles Maloy, chairman of the Public Service Commission of the State of Maryland, on the Irish question. Mr. Maloy spent the summer traveling through Ireland, getting first-hand information on the Sinn Fein and Ulster questions. The Society is forging ahead with the work on the American's Creed and hopes that after the good start made this year they will be able to have the School Board of Maryland furnish copies of the American's Creed Book to the graduates each year. The Society held a meeting on November 23 in Frederick, Maryland, as the guests of the Laurence Everhart Chapter, celebrating the anniversary of the "Repeal of the Frederick County Stamp Act."

The Massachusetts Society.—In August last Francis Lewis Chapter, Walpole, celebrated the fifth anniversary of its organization with appropriate and highly interesting ceremonies, it having been organized by its present President on August 13, 1916. Its present officers are: President, Isaac Newton Lewis; First Vice-President, Louis E. Vose; Second Vice-President, Percyval Lewis; Third Vice-President, William A. Millard; Secretary, Walter B. Allen; Treasurer, George A. Plimpton; Registrar, John H. Allen; Historian and Librarian, Isaac Newton Lewis.

Although the ancestor for whom the Chapter was named was from New York, the members often gather at his grave in the old Trinity Churchyard, near the Schuyler, Livingston, and Hamilton families. The headstone is quite humble, but clearly legible, much more so than the 140 graves annually honored with a Betsy Ross flag here on Memorial Day by the members. A service with full publicity of all events is deemed a duty by the Chapter. The Chapter is organized for the good it can do; not for a good time. But one member has been lost by death and two from resignation. Being the only Chapter in the country which gave two Presidents to the Nation, it has tried to arouse a commensurate loyalty and interest in patriotic things.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON CHAPTER, of Springfield, is making plans for the entertainment of the National Society when it holds its Congress in that city, in May, 1922. There is no city in the country so well fitted to care for conventions as is Springfield. It has an auditorium unsurpassed by any in the country, with a seating capacity for over four thousand and an organ costing $20,000. There is a Mahogany Room in the building which reminds one of stories from the Arabian Nights. The hotel accommodations of the city are equal to a city three times its size. It has one park of about 700 acres and sixty or seventy smaller ones. A United States armory and arsenal is located there, and railroads run north, east, south, and west, there being over 200 trains each day entering and leaving the Union Station. There are two colleges in the city, the International Y. M. C. A. College and the American International College, and three others, Amherst, Smith, and Mount Holyoke, but a few miles away. For newspapers it has the Springfield Republican, Springfield Union, and Springfield Daily News and the different farm papers published by the Phelps Publishing Company, among which being the Farm and Home and the New England Homestead. The Nayasset Club, one of the best-known clubs in New England, is located in the city in its own building and the Colony Club owns and occupies the mansion built by the late D. B. Wesson. Webster's Dictionary is published in the city.

Michigan Society.—Constitution Day was observed generally in Michigan. William P. Holliday, President of Michigan Society, S. A. R., acting as General Chairman of the committee for Michigan, invited the participation of the several Chapters and other patriotic and public organizations and the schools. In Detroit appropriate exercises were arranged in the public schools by Superintendent Frank Cody, following the suggestions of the S. A. R. Washtenaw Chapter, at Ann Arbor, and Oakland Chapter, at Pontiac, also observed the day.

DETROIT CHAPTER, at a reception tendered newly admitted citizens by the Board of Commerce, presented each new citizen with a silk United States flag. Dr. Minot C. Morgan, Chaplain, Michigan Society, S. A. R., made the presentations.

The members of Detroit Chapter were invited to the reception tendered by the Detroit and Highland Park Chapters of the D. A. R. to the delegates attending their annual State conference held at Detroit.

Detroit Chapter, S. A. R., was honored by the American Legion, in that President Carl F. Clarke was invited to assist in the reception of Marshal Foch during his recent visit to Detroit.

Detroit Chapter held its first meeting of the season November 22, at the University Club. Judge Fred H. Aldrich was the guest and spoke on "Efforts to Maintain the Peace of the World by Limitation of Armaments." Judge Aldrich is professor of international law at the Detroit College of Law and author of a book upon the subject indicated. Buffet lunch and cigars were served. Service medals were presented.

Detroit Chapter gave a dinner at the Hotel Statler, December 6, in honor of its guest, Rear-Admiral William Snowden Sims, U. S. N. President Carl F. Clarke presided. Dr. James W. Inches, Commissioner, welcomed the Admiral in the absence of the mayor. Rev. Minot C. Morgan, Chaplain, Sons of the American Revolution, gave the invocation. Compatriot Dr. Earl C. Barkley, Chairman of the Committee on National Defense, under the auspices of which the meeting was held, sang. Rear-Admiral Fullam, U. S. N., also participated. Four hundred guests were present, including ladies. Compatriot Harold F. Emmons was chairman of the Committee of Arrangements and was assisted by Rufus H. Knight, George E. Bushnell, John W. Starrett, C. E. Frazer Clark, Allen Ludington, E. M. Bosley, and the Secretary, Raymond E. Van Syckle.

OAKLAND CHAPTER held its annual banquet at Pontiac in November. George E. Bushnell, Vice-President of Detroit Chapter, was invited to give the address. William P. Holliday, President of the State Society, S. A. R., and Carl F. Clarke, President of Detroit Chapter, also attended and spoke. Lieutenant Patterson, of Pontiac, participated. Clarence K. Redfield, President of Oakland Chapter, presided. Service medals were presented.

LENAWEE CHAPTER enjoyed a dinner at the Adrian Club during November, at which Service medals were presented to those entitled. President Wilbert H. Barrett presided.

KENT CHAPTER held a meeting December 6 at Grand Rapids.

The Missouri Society.—The annual banquet of the Missouri Society was held October 19, commemorating the 140th Anniversary of the Surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. W. D. Vandiver, President of the Missouri Society, Sons of the American Revolution, presided and made a brief address, reviewing the activities of the State organization. Linn Paine, Registrar of the Society and chairman of the National Committee on Patriotic Education, told of the work that was being done by the National Society to insure accuracy in histories supplied for text-books in our public schools. Col. John H. Parker, Commandant at Jefferson Barracks, delivered the chief address of the evening, reviewing the events of the land and naval forces leading to Cornwallis' surrender. Music was furnished by Dr. Allan A. Gilbert, accompanied by Miss Carmichael.

In the afternoon, preceding the banquet, the Board of Managers held a special meeting at the Planters' Hotel for the purpose of accepting the resignation of W. Scott Hancock, Secretary of the Society, caused by ill health. J. Alonzo Matthews was elected his successor for the unexpired term.

Nebraska Society.—Armistice Day is becoming the chief patriotic holiday and was observed by a patriotic parade in which all societies joined. Lincoln Chapter and the D. A. R. chapters took part in our parade November 11.

Dr. Benjamin F. Bailey, President of the State Society, was elected president of the Lincoln Commercial Club for the ensuing year. George Alvin Dana, Vice-President of the Nebraska Society, died at his home, in Lincoln, October 27, 1921. He was born in Camden, New York, in 1864 and has been a resident of Lincoln since 1866. Mr. Dana was quiet, efficient, active in the Methodist Church and in all patriotic causes, and universally beloved. He was a charter member of Lincoln Chapter. Joseph Leeper Codington, of Omaha, has the best record for new membership secured for the Nebraska Society during the past year. He is an enthusiastic worker for both the principles and membership of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Rev. W. F. Eyster, D. D., a member of Crete Chapter, Nebraska, died June 18, 1921, making him 99 years and five months old. He was the oldest college graduate in the United States at the time of his death. He was born in Gettysburg, January 20, 1822. Entered Penn College at the age of 11 and graduated at the age of 17, in 1839. Spent two years in the Lutheran Theological School. In 1841 he became principal of the school at Jefferson, Md. He was ordained the following year, at Frederick, Md., and served Lutheran congregations until 1858, when he became principal of the Hagerstown Female Seminary. He was married in 1850, to Lucretia Gibson, in Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. Eyster had many thrilling and interesting experiences in giving aid and comfort to the Union soldiers as they crossed and recrossed the Mason and Dixon Line. He heard Lincoln deliver his famous address at Gettysburg. Dr. Eyster became professor of English language and literature in the college at Rock Island in 1873, but resigned in 1883 on account of his impaired hearing. He built a home in Crete, Nebr., where he spent the remaining years of his life, in almost perfect health, with the companionship of his unmarried son and daughter. He retained his brilliant mind and interest in people and events to the very last.

Invitation has been received from Genoa, Nebraska, to organize a local chapter, S. A. R. Genoa is one of the important historical places in Nebraska, former site of the Pawnee Nation and of many Indian battles. The D. A. R. Chapter at Genoa is active in promoting a S. A. R. Chapter.

The New Jersey State Society, with characteristic enterprise, has purchased a three-story and basement brick house in a desirable part of Newark for its permanent headquarters. It has formed a Real Estate Holding Company to take title to the property and issue first-mortgage, 6 per cent sinking fund bonds to pay for the same. The bonds have been promptly subscribed for and the Society has taken possession of the property. The house is attractively located at No. 33 Lombardy Street, facing a small city park. Lombardy Street runs east from Broad Street, opposite the famous Washington Monument. The building, which is to be occupied as the headquarters of the New Jersey Society, Sons of the American Revolution, as well as by one or two other patriotic societies, is in excellent repair; has running water on all floors, good heating plant, and light; also kitchen in basement. The lot, being 150 feet deep, will allow space for the erection later of an auditorium seating 400. Besides being ideally located for headquarters of the Society, it is situated in that part of Newark which is fast enhancing in value. New Jersey is the first State Society in the country to own its own headquarters.

CAPTAIN ABRAHAM GODWIN CHAPTER, No. 12, was organized in Paterson on Saturday, October 22, by Rev. Dr. Lyman Whitney Allen, President of the State Society. An automobile trip was first taken to the headquarters of Lafayette, at Preakness, and also the headquarters of General Washington, in the famous Dey House, both in the vicinity of Paterson. The officers of the new Chapter are: President, Albert Lincoln Wyman; Vice-President, Ide Gill Sergeant; Recording Secretary, Major Augustus Van Gieson; Corresponding Secretary, Dr. William H. Rauchfuss; Treasurer, Nicholas M. Townley, Jr.; Registrar, Dr. Frank R. Sandt; Chaplain, Rev. George L. Labaw; Historian, Louis C. Schermerhorn. Eighty members were placed on the roster at roll-call, and the Chapter bids fair to become most active in the patriotic work in the city founded by Alexander Hamilton in 1792. It was Hamilton's expectation to there found a great industrial city, and his expectations, though frustrated during his life, have been brought to a complete realization in 1920.

MONTCLAIR CHAPTER held a very interesting meeting in the Art Museum, in that city, November 10. The principal address was delivered by Bishop Wilson R. Stearly, Chaplain of the State Society, in consonance with the spirit of Armistice Day (it being the eve). He claimed that the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments should appeal to every earnest, patriotic citizen. Mayor McConnell, one of the new twenty-five members, also delivered an address. The Eagle Rock Chapter, D. A. R., and Rev. Dr. Lyman Whitney Allen, State President, were the guests of honor.

ORANGE CHAPTER has been presented with a handsome silk flag of buff, white, and blue by its President, John Lenord Merrill. The presentation took place on the night of October 20, and the Chapter was very pleasantly surprised. Mr. Merrill is serving his second term as President, having occupied the office in 1906 and 1907. Thomas W. Williams, past Vice-President General, who was in the chair during the ceremonies, has written a letter to Compatriot Merrill, by direction of the Chapter, expressing its appreciation for his generous act.

PASSAIC VALLEY CHAPTER held a patriotic meeting on Armistice Day, in connection with the G. A. R., American Legion, and Veterans of Foreign Wars, in the town of Summit, where the Chapter is located. Compatriot Oliver B. Merrill, Mayor, presided, and addresses were made by Hon. Ruford Franklin and Irving Bacheller, the noted novelist.

WEST FIELDS CHAPTER, No. 11, New Jersey Society, Sons of the American Revolution, held forth on the evening of December 15 at the Congregational Church in Westfield in an old-fashioned patriotic rally. The occasion marked the presentation of the charter by the State Society to the Chapter. H. Donald Holmes, chairman of the Committee on Chapters, was master of ceremonies. Rev. Dr. Lyman Whitney Allen, Chaplain General and President of the New Jersey Society, presented the charter and made an address upon the work of the National, State, and Chapter organizations. The beautiful flag of stars and stripes and the one of buff, white, and blue were also presented during the evening by Compatriot Pearsall, of the West Fields Chapter. The occasion was graced by the West Fields Chapter of the D. A. R. and the evening was very happily spent in a program of addresses and music. The State Board of Managers was largely represented. The charter for the Captain Abraham Godwin Chapter of Paterson will be presented on a date to be fixed in February.

ELIZABETHTOWN CHAPTER met at the new headquarters of the State Society, 33 Lombardy Street, Newark, on December 12, and listened to an address by Captain W. B. Estes, of New York, formerly a United States Army intelligence officer, on what communism really is and how it affects the liberties of the American people. Richard S. Earl, President of the Chapter, presided.

The Board of Managers, at its meeting on December 9, elected Col. Charles A. Andrews Assistant Registrar, the office being created on account of the increasing number of members being appreciated and of the many inquiries being made of a genealogical character.

The New Jersey Society is preparing to receive President General Wallace McCamant in February. He will be met in New York and escorted to New Jersey, where a reception will be given him at headquarters on February 18, and on the following day he will speak at a patriotic service in Montclair.

Empire State Society.—The regular meeting of the New York Chapter was held on Monday, October 31, 1921, at 8 p. m., the anniversary of the organization of the Sons of Liberty, at the new home of the Army and Navy Club of America, 112 West 59th Street, New York City. The New York Chapter has furnished the "directors' room" there. This date being also the 40th anniversary of the death of President Garfield, Henry C. Quimby, Esq., Vice-President of the Union League Club, talked on "The Marvelous Career of Our Martyr President." It was a rare treat to hear Mr. Quimby and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity. Hon. Harvey F. Remington, President of the Empire State Society, was present. The usual collation was served at the close of the meeting. Oliver B. Bridgman, President, presided.

The annual banquet was planned for November, contingent upon the ability of Marshal Foch, of France, to be the guest of honor. His itinerary prevented him from fixing on a suitable date and the banquet has therefore been deferred until 1922.

The American Legion, in connection with New York Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, and other patriotic societies, had a service at Madison Square Garden on Armistice Day at 11 a. m. The ceremonies at Arlington were reproduced by amplifier, so that all the Garden was able to hear the President's oration and the other services. The great hall was more than filled, and overflowed into Madison Square, where amplifiers also reproduced the Washington ceremonies so all could hear them.

ROCHESTER CHAPTER elected the following officers October 17th at a regular meeting: President, Raymond G. Dann; Vice-President, William B. Boothby; Secretary, Charles A. Brady; Treasurer, John B. Howe; Registrar, Edward R. Foreman; Historian, Fred L. Yates; Chaplain, Rev. James T. Dickinson. The following were elected to the Board of Managers: The officers and Charles E. Ogden, ex officio; George B. Sage, ex officio; Charles H. Wiltsie, Harvey F. Remington, Colonel Samuel C. Pierce, and Judge Arther E. Sutherland. George W. Aldridge was elected to the Board of Managers of the State Society. The principal speaker was Edward R. Foreman, who outlined the plans for compiling a history of Rochester during the World War.

The work to be undertaken by this Chapter for the coming year is as follows: Americanization work in connection with the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Past President Sage. The commemoration and marking of historical spots in and about Rochester, in co-operation with the Rochester Historical Society and the Daughters of the American Revolution. The carrying forward of marking the graves of American Revolutionary soldiers buried in Monroe County. Drive to increase membership.

THE COL. CORNELIUS VAN DYCK CHAPTER, in co-operation with the Schenectady Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Beukendaal Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, on November 15 heard Mr. James O. Fagan, curator of the famous Old South Meeting House, Boston, speak on "The Romance of Early New England History." He spread the wonderful story, from its beginnings into its wider significance, with fascinating interest. The regular December meeting was held December 5th.

GENESSEE CHAPTER, BATAVIA, had a large attendance at its regular meeting, on October 29. It was decided to co-operate with Deo-on-go-wa Chapter, D. A. R., in the search for the graves of all Revolutionary soldiers in Genesee County. A committee, consisting of F. M. Richards, D. L. Wilkinson, and Fred J. Pomeroy, was appointed. At the monthly meeting, November 26, favorable reports were made. Charles R. Loomis will speak at the December meeting on "The Causes of the American Revolution." The officers of the Chapter are: W. H. A. Spink, President; G. G. Dexter, Vice-President; C. Randall Howe, Secretary; G. H. Paddock, Treasurer.

NEWTOWN BATTLE CHAPTER, ELMIRA.—At a special meeting of the Chapter at the Neighborhood House, a social settlement center for the youth of all creeds and nationalities, with over 500 enrolled in their various clubs and classes, a portrait of George Washington, given by the State Society, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies. The annual meeting was held in the Chapter rooms November 5. It was voted to discontinue rental of separate rooms and unite with the local D. A. R. Society in the upkeep and use of Chapter rooms.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Jesse L. Churchill; Vice-President, H. H. Bickford; Second Vice-President, H. S. Chapman; Secretary, G. M. Diven, 615 Hoffman Street; Treasurer, Chas. L. Hart; Registrar, H. C. Millspaugh; Historian, J. A. Olmstead; Chaplain, J. H. Pierce.

SYRACUSE CHAPTER held its annual dinner at the University Club, Syracuse, on the 14th of November. About forty members attended the dinner. After the dinner the annual meeting of the Chapter was held and the officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Newell B. Woodworth; Vice-President, William W. Wiard; Secretary, Charles C. Cook; Treasurer, Willis E. Gaylord; Registrar, J. Frank Durston; Historian, Prof. Frederick F. Moon; Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Walter R. Ferris.

BUFFALO CHAPTER is planning a series of meetings, beginning in December and continuing for the following three or four months. The Chapter will be entertained by Dr. Van Bergen, the President, in January.

The Ohio Society.—The members of the Ohio Society have been very active in Americanization work during the summer and fall months by encouraging naturalization of foreigners and observance of Constitution Day in the public schools of the State.

A letter was prepared by the President and Secretary of the State Society and forwarded to the superintendents of schools in every county of the State, 88 in number, appealing to them to observe Constitution Day. A copy of a very interesting patriotic letter received by the Secretary of the Society from President Warren G. Harding, who is a member of the Society, was also enclosed to the school superintendents above noted. Copies of these letters were sent to all the Chapter officers, to several patriotic organizations, and notices were also published in many of the daily newspapers in the State, calling attention to observance of the day. Patriotic services were held in many of the schools, and in fact the observance was general, and there have been received a number of interesting letters from superintendents, giving the programs and expressing appreciation for copies of the Constitution and the booklet, "Information for Immigrants," many copies of which were distributed to the schools by the Society.

In the cities, members of the Chapter took an active interest in naturalization of foreigners. Two public meetings were held by our members in Columbus, at which a reception was held for newly naturalized citizens, during the summer, and their final papers were delivered. The D. A. R. joined in these meetings, and the families of the new citizens were all invited. There was a patriotic program of music, addresses by members, and the visitors were presented with small American flags. These were very happy occasions and there was much rejoicing by the new citizens and their families.

The members of all the Chapters have been busy in Americanization work, and, summing up results in the public schools and in service assisting in naturalization of foreigners, feel well repaid for the time thus devoted to this patriotic work, and propose to continue in this good service with renewed energy. Upward of thirty members have been added to the rolls of the Ohio Society since the annual meeting in April last.

The Oregon Society held a smoker Wednesday evening, October 19, which was very enjoyable and quite largely attended. Mr. Hugh Montgomery, of Portland, read an exceptionally instructive paper upon "The Participation of the French in the American Revolution," which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the members present. After tracing the incidents and events leading up to and accompanying French participation in the Revolution, and referring to the too common belief that the aid given by France was due entirely to selfish national motives and policies and actuated by a revengeful spirit toward England, Mr. Montgomery developed at considerable length the idea that from the time of Louis XIV down to the outbreak of the French Revolution there existed in France an undercurrent of social and political progress, reflected in the writings of their philosophers and men of letters, typifying that force which in ages past had been the vanguard of all social and political progress. The concrete effort of the American Colonies to put this force into practical effect, Mr. Montgomery insisted, invited from the French a sympathy which was reflected in their own corresponding desires. This, he maintained, was the real underlying cause for the French assistance to the American Colonies. It was the common cause of human progress.

The Society was honored with the presence of President General McCamant, who followed Mr. Montgomery in an extremely entertaining and instructive address, in which he commented upon and supplemented the matters contained in Mr. Montgomery's paper and referred to several things of special local interest.

The President General had with him the gavel of the National Society, which, with its souvenir insets from numerous historic places, proved to be an object of decided interest to the members present.

In August the Oregon Society raised a special fund by voluntary subscription among its members for the purpose of providing and erecting three bronze tablets upon the Princeton battlefield. President General McCamant has been greatly interested in this activity and has given material aid and co-operation in making it a success. He enlisted the interest and co-operation of Prof. T. J. Wertenbaker, of Princeton University, who has made a careful study of the Princeton battle and is thoroughly familiar with the topography of the battlefield. Professor Wertenbaker has very kindly prepared the inscriptions for the tablets. The tablets are now being cast, and it is expected that they will be erected either late in October or early in November. Professor Wertenbaker has advised President General McCamant that it is likely that dedicatory ceremonies will be held on the battlefield. The Oregon Society has designated Thomas McCamant, son of President General McCamant and a student of Princeton University, to be the official representative of the Oregon Society at such dedicatory ceremonies as may be held.

The Pennsylvania Society was represented at the services on Armistice Day at Washington for the Unknown Soldier by a special committee of the Pennsylvania Society appointed by President James A. Wakefield, who attended the burial service and took part in the exercises with the special committee of the National Society, composed of representatives from every State. The committee of the Pennsylvania Society was composed of Col. R. W. Guthrie, National Trustee; Dr. Samuel B. McCormick, Chancellor Emeritus of the University of Pittsburgh; A. C. Shaw, 1st Vice-President; W. C. Lyne, Chairman of the Memorial Committee; Omar S. Decker and S. E. Gill, of Pittsburgh, and Clarence P. Wynne, of Scranton, Vice-President. A large floral piece of immortelles in buff, white, and blue, a replica of the Society's Recognition Button, was placed by the Pennsylvania Committee upon the grave at the close of the services. The Pennsylvania Society celebrated Armistice Day with a dinner and smoker at the Hotel Chatham, Pittsburgh, Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of Pittsburgh public schools, being the principal speaker, his topic "Lafayette." About 150 attended.

South Dakota Society held an appropriate observance of Constitution Day at the Colliseum in Sioux Falls, a meeting which was well attended and most enthusiastic. The President of the State Society, Mr. Amos E. Ayres, presided and, in addition to inspiring music augmented by community singing, the feature of the evening was an address on "The Constitution Then and Now," by Rev. L. Wendell Fifield. President Ayres, who is also President of the Board of Education of Sioux Falls, arranged with the superintendents of schools to have fitting observances in the schools of the city on Friday, September 16. A State-wide committee was also appointed by President Ayres, which succeeded in having suitable ceremonies held in several of the larger cities and towns throughout the State. South Dakota was one of the many States of the Union whose governors issued proclamations calling for appropriate recognition of this day.

Tennessee Society.—A relic recently presented to the Ladies' Hermitage, President Andrew Jackson's old home, is a candle that was burning in Cornwallis' tent at the surrender of Yorktown. It was taken as a souvenir by an American officer and later given to Jackson while President. The candle is about four inches long and age has stained it a deep brown. Since Jackson's death it has been lighted twice, on anniversaries of the Battle of New Orleans.

The Virginia Society, in September, 1921, issued invitations to several civic societies to send delegations to the launching of the scout cruiser Richmond at Cramps' ship yards at Philadelphia, which event took place September 29. The Virginia Society, Sons of the American Revolution, was represented by Compatriots Frederick W. Scott, E. D. Hotchkiss, Admiral William Strother Smith, U. S. N., and Arthur B. Clarke, President of the Virginia Society. The customary bottle of wine was hurled and broken by Miss Elizabeth Strother Scott, the beautiful daughter of Compatriot Frederick W. Scott, and Admiral Strother Smith represented also the Secretary of the Navy. After the most successful event, a most inviting lunch was served to the invited guests. There were great crowds present to witness the first ceremonial launching in Cramps' ship yards in six years.

On October 19, the 140th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, took place the formal installation of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler as President of William and Mary College, at Williamsburg, Va., which is near both Yorktown and Jamestown. The President of the United States and four of his Cabinet were present. He spoke at Yorktown, later at William and Mary College, and after lunch drove to Jamestown, the first permanent English settlement on this continent. At the ceremonies at the college were about four thousand visitors, among whom were representatives of all colleges in the United States more than 100 years old.

William and Mary College was founded in 1693 and is the logical successor of the first college, which was established in 1619 and destroyed by the Indians in 1622. Many patriotic societies were represented and participated in the college parade and occupied seats on the large platform erected adjacent to the old college, which was designed by Sir Christopher Wren. By invitation, the President of the Virginia Society represented the Society and presented S. A. R. rosettes to Governor Westmoreland Davis and President Warren G. Harding, both of whom have recently become compatriots. Possibly there were more people present than were ever before in this quaint old colonial town.

The Washington State Society has been actively interested through the latter months in locating graves of Revolutionary Ancestors of the members of that Society, where this has proved possible, and satisfactory progress has been made in this work. The Spokane Chapter has been especially active. The Society has recently presented twenty War Service Medals to members of the Society eligible to receive these because of their active military or naval service in the late war.
