HAROLD L. PUTNAM EDITOR

THE EDITOR

Despite the commendable of fort of the S.A.R., the D.A.R., and other patriotic Americans, there was a woeful lack of evidence of observances of the 172nd anniversary of the signing of The Constitu tion during the week of September 17. 23, officially recognized by Presidential proclamation. Little, if any, recognition of the week was accorded by the press radio and television, which media were so preoccupied with tributes to the dictator of Soviet Russia, there was no time for such a mundane matter as the Constitution of the United States of America.

While Mr. Khrushchev was scoring successes in the propaganda field, our experts in public relations were sound asleep, unaware of the opportunity of doing some scoring on our behalf. If every newspaper, radio and television station had devoted one tenth the space and time given to Mr. Khrushchev to reminding the American people that we were observing a week dedicated to honoring the document which is the bulwark of our freedom, we might have made a profound impression on the man who heads a system of government which is diametrically opposed to our own.

If those weird characters who inhabit Hollywood and the jungles of moviedom, had a sincere desire to impress the communist dictator, they should have staged a patriotic pageant instead of presenting an example of so-called entertainment, which even the crude peasant from Russia found disgusting. Instead of fawning on him in a sickening display of boot-licking, they might have given him a show of real Americanism which would have commanded his respect instead of the contempt which he made no effort to conceal.

A golden opportunity to register a success in the propaganda field was lost, but we may profit by the experience in the future. Perhaps we should start now, to educate those who direct the media of communications, in the meaning of Constitutional government and awaken them to the necessity of protecting the document which makes this a nation of free men.

CHARLES A. JONES
President General

On September 1, there was inserted in the Congressional Record an address given by Senator John L. Mc-Clellan, in answer to the question, "Can American Freedom Survive." Speaking at the Freedom Forum of Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, California, the distinguished Senator who has given much able service to our country, especially in connection with investigation of corrupt practices in certain trade unions, found the answer 'fraught with many contingencies and subject to a multitude of qualifications'. He emphasized three dangers that threaten our survival and the impairment or destruction of our freedom. It seems to me his analysis is worthy the consideration of Sons of the American Revolution.

"First of all," he emphasized, "is instability in international affairs—the issue of war or peace remains paramount and supreme. Tragically in our pursuits of peace we are forced to cope with governments of low order and bankrupt integrity, which by doctrine and practice disdain and repudiate as mere scraps of paper their solemn international and treaty obligations.

"Thus the chief obstacle athwart the path to peace and understanding is the manifest disregard of the Communists for their own pledges and solemn commitments. Their demonstrated lack of good faith and their wilful refusal to settle international differences are wholly responsible for having divided the world into two armed camps, and for the ever-present explosive tensions that could and some day may erupt into a universal catastrophe. In this unhappy situation we have no alternative—no choice but to build and maintain a powerful arsenal of military strength of convincing deterrent proportions. Failure to do so would expose us to military defeat and Communist conquest, and that is unthinkable.

"The second of the three (obstacles to survival) is instability in our fiscal affairs. Habitual deficit spending, pyramiding our national debt, and the tolerating of a permanently unbalanced budget, are potent factors that are moving us swiftly toward disastrous inflation. I agree with the President of the United States that the budget should be balanced, something not easy to do. It will be a mountainous task but it is the duty of Congress to stop deficit spending just as quickly as it is possible to do so without jeopardizing our national defense and security. Those who ridicule the idea, who scoff at a balanced budget may well be inviting economic chaos and national insolvency, which could well do irreparable harm and injury to the quality and standard of economic and political freedom that is our cherished heritage.

The President General's Message

"The third and next danger to which I draw your attention is one that could easily undermine the very foundations of our Republic. It is the instability and lack of constitutional and judicial soundness of some of our Supreme Court decisions within the past few years. In these decisions the Court has, among other things, usurped legislative powers vested in the Congress; encroached upon state sovereignty; tended to favor the communist and criminal elements of this country; ignored and practically nullified the 10th amendment to the Constitution by giving no probative force to its provisions that reserve to the States respectively, or to the people thereof, all powers not delegated by the Constitution to the Federal Government; glibly overruled and set aside decisions made and precedents established at a time when the Court was composed of Justices learned in the law and schooled in the rudiments of American jurisprudence.

"These decisions of the Court have provoked strong criticism from unimpeachable sources because these sources recognize, as we do, the consequences of such decisions are frightening to contemplate. Unless these trends can be checked and reversed, the usurpation of legislative powers stropped, State sovereignty will be destroyed and an all-powerful centralized Federal government will be enthroned in Washington.

"I am unwilling to stand silently by, acquiesce in, and see the sovereign states of our Republic reduced to a provincial status. Make no mistake about it, when State sovereignty is destroyed or rendered impotent, the range of our freedoms will be substantially narrowed and their vigor materially suppressed."

As a fourth great peril to our security and welfare the Senator characterized "the instability, or more accurately stated, the lack of integrity in many areas of labor-management relations. Speaking of the revelations made to the Senate select committee, of which he was he has been chairman, the Senator said: "The sordid disclosures made and improper practices revealed . . . are appaling and shocking in the extreme. It has been clearly established that the infiltration of gangsters, racketeers, and underworld characters into some labor unions and businesses is primarily responsible for the rotten, nauseating situations that now prevail.

"These unwholesome conditions cannot be condoned by decent society nor tolerated or permitted to exist by a government of law and order."

The Senator challenged, "Will the Congress enact effective laws to deal with corruption and racketeering in labor organizations and to prevent the exploitation of union members by dishonest, arrogant, dictatorial, and sometimes criminal, labor bosses; and restore to union members the right, authority and power to manage and control their union affairs by recognized and respected democratic processes?

Since the Senator's address, the Congress has by a large vote enacted legislation directed toward correcting the abuses in labor management of which the Senator spoke. The duty now rests upon all citizens to support the enforcement of the new statutes.

Much emphasis is being placed throughout the country on the other subjects so ably listed by the Senator. Their consideration should be uppermost in the life of every patriotic citizen.

Memphis Selected as the Site of the Seventieth Annual Congress Sunday May 15 thru Wednesday May 18, 1960

The invitation to hold the Seventieth Annual Congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution which was extended by the Tennessee Society's delegates at the Congress in Pittsburgh was accepted by the Board of National Trustees at the meeting of May 20, 1959. Pursuant to that action by the National Trustees President General Jones and Executive Secretary Putnam met with the members of the Arrangements Committee in Memphis on August 15 at which time plans were formulated for the Annual Congress to be held beginning Sunday May 15 and ending on Wednesday evening May 18.

The Peabody Hotel was selected as the Headquarters for the Seventieth Annual Congres and it is believed that the available facilities will meet all of the requirements Arrangements Committee and afford comfortable accomodations for the delegates and their families.

Thanks to the cooperation of Mr. A. Arthur Halle, president of the Cotton Carnival, those who find it possible to arrive in Memphis on Saturday will be able to obtain tickets to the Grand Carnival Parade, on Saturday evening, which is the final and climatic event of the Cotton Carnival. The management of the Peabody hotel is also cooperating in this special gesture of hospitality in making available 50 rooms for Friday and Saturday evenings at a time when hotel accomodations are at a premium. The number of tickets for the parade is limited to 100 and they will be distributed on a "first come first served" basis.

Reservations should be made at the earliest date possible, and those who have the desire to witness the Grand Carnival Parade on Saturday evening May 14, should send reservations to the Peabody Hotel at once. A registration form, quoting rates at the Peabody Hotel is printed in this issue for the conveniance and information of our Compatriots. Reservations must be sent to the hotel. Please do not send them to National Headquarters.

To the President General, General Officers, Members of the Executive Committee, Members of the Board of Trustees, and all Members of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution

Dear Compatriots:

One of the most pleasant aspects of my service as Presiden of the Tennessee Society of the Sons of the American Revolution is to extend to our Compatriots throughout the land the earnest and cordial invitation of the Tennessee membership to attend the National Congress in Memphis, May 15-18

Tennessee is rich in its historical legacy. Much of our land was settled by the Revolutionary patriots from whom we proudly claim descent. Ours is a state of scenie splendor and of proud traditions, one of which—as we hope to show you is an eager hospitality to our friends.

While in Tennessee you may enjoy an unusually interesting variety of recreational activities—from fishing in Reelfoot Lake to motoring through the rhododendron-laden mountains of East Tennessee. These activities are set out more fully in a color brochure which will be provided by the National Society upon request.

Not often does the South have the opportunity to act as host at our most important meeting. You may be sure that no effort will be spared to make this Congress a rewarding experience for you and your families.

hot weather in various sections of the country the news in this issue of the magazine concerning our State Societies is necessarily limited.

It seems appropriate at this time to remind all those compatriots having charge of news items for the Magazine to carefully check them to prevent the submission of data already published in a previous issue; also that such news is reasonably current such as to constitute "news" in the generally accepted sense of the term. By such cooperation the work of compiling the news for publication will be greatly facilitated.

The closing date for the January issue of the Magazine (because of the intervening holidays) will be December 5, 1959.

under the leadership of its new President, Harold C. Thompson. The Patriots' Day Luncheon was attended by an overflow crowd of compatriots and their ladies and featured an extremely timely and appropriate address by Dr. Lawrence Brown on the subject of "brain-washing" of American troops in Korea. As graduation time drew near, the Colorado Society awarded ROTC Medals to outstanding high school and college graduates in the Denver area. As in years past, these medals were very well received as evidenced by many letters of thanks and appreciation. At imposing ceremonies at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colorado, Lt. Col. Horace T. Auburn, past President, Colorado Society, awarded an ROTC Medal to Cadet Airman (2nd Class) Robert R. Matchett.

Highlight of the summer season was the annual family picnic at which the Society was the guest of Compatriot E. Roy Chesney, whose beautiful and spacious lawn and gardens made a perfect setting for a wonderful evening. The members, their wives and children were treated to delicious picnic supper followed by sound films of historical and patriotic interest. At least 100 persons were in attendance at this annual affair which does wonders in bringing the members of the Society into closer fellowship. Membership is good and it is confidently anticipated that the Colorado Society should show a net gain this year.

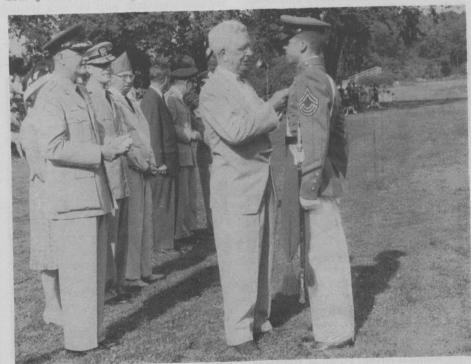

Connecticut Society

Lunch at the American House in Freehold, from 12 to 2 was followed by a service at Tennant Church, on the edge of the Battlefield and a tour of the field. There was a good attendance of Connecticut compatriots who were escorted on the tour by Arthur L. Townsend.

On July the Fourth the Connecticut Society with the Order of The Founders and Patriots of America held a most successful and impressive celebration and observance of the day in connection with the Norwich Tercentenary . This important occasion honoring two of Connecticut's four Signers of the Declaration of Independence opened with a meeting at the War Office at Lebanon at 10:45 a.m. Colonel James R. Gen. Gold Selleck Silliman Branch No. 3, Bridgeport, held a meeting September 14, with a very good attendance of compatriots to enjoy the featured speaker, Prof. Emerson G. Chamberlain, of the University of Bridgeport, in a splendid address entitled "What is Communism?" All those present were extremely interested in this penetrating analysis of the subject of the principle address.

Nathan Hale Branch, No. 6, New London, together with the Lucretia Shaw Chapter, DAR, and the New London County Historical Society, sponsored a dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, September 24, 1959, the largely-attended affair taking place on the Mohican Hotel Roof, in New London. Guest speaker for this celebration in honor of the one hundred and seventy-first anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States was Prof. Albert E. Van Dusen, Connecticut State Historian and Professor of History at the University of Connecticut. The subject of this celebration of the United States Constitution, based as it is on Connecticut's Fundamental Orders of 1638-39, and ratified by Connecticut State Convention January 9. 1788, made the address profoundly interesting to all the compatriots, their wives and guests who were present and the speaker was roundly applauded at the conclusion of his address.

Rear Admiral Arthur A. de la Houssaye, was awarded the Gold Good Citizen-Parker, president made the presentation.

Illinois Society

Illinois Society continues to grow building solidly for its future. Some fortytwo new compatriots have been added to its rolls and the policy heretofore established of obtaining names of prospective members through the CAR and the DAR is eminently successful. Recently the Society made a contribution of $50.00 to the CAR and is currently conducting a campaign among its members to further assist the CAR in its activities.

On Friday evening of May 26, 1959, the Louisiana Society conferred on Rear Ad miral Arthur A. de la Houssaye, (USNR) past President General of the National Society, SAR, and currently a member of the Board of the Louisiana Society, the SAR Gold Good Citizenship Medal. The presentation to the distinguished compatriot was made at the New Orleans Country Club by Compatriot Herbert C Parker, President, Louisiana Society, SAR. In the words of Compatriot Parker the award was made for Compatriots de la Houssaye's "unremitting interest in the SAR culminating in election as National President General . . ." . . . as well as "for his war service. He was a member of the Naval Reserve; for thirty years he has been a member of the Naval Reserve. During the war for a five year period he was a Captain in the active service of the Navy in the Legal Department. I feel that our generous donors f awards contribute materially in the job of preparing our young men for their service as commissioned officers in the United States Navy and the United States Marine Corps."

Louisiana Society, SAR, together with local chapters of the DAR, held a most successful Constitution Day Luncheon on September 17, 1959, in observance of that historic occasion. Approximately two hundred compatriots, wives and guests gathered at 12:15 p.m on that day in the Monteleone Hotel in New Orleans to hear an outstanding talk by Mr. George W. Healy, Jr., Editor, The Times-Picayune. The past President of the Louisiana Society, SAR, related some of his experimember of Vice-President Richard Nixon's party. The very interesting speech with Patriotism?" was enthusiastically acclaimed by the large throng present.

Both Gov. Earl K. Long and Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison had issued proclamations designating the week beginning September 17 as Constitution Week, thus implementing the action of the United States Congress which had established same under a joint resolution of August 2, 1956.

Michigan Society

Michigan Society now has a membership of close to 400 and their well-established policy of inviting all members to attend the meetings of their Board of Managers in various places throughout the State has proven productive of most beneficial results. Already meetings for the 1959-1960 season have been scheduled for East Lansing, Sturgis, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor and Mio. Very important and effective work is planned this year by way of CAR-DAR-SAR Liaison which this year is headed by Compatriot Marion H. Crawmer.

Michigan Society officers are now at work helping to establish a new chapter to serve the area of Southwestern Michigan with chapter headquarters either to be in Sturgis or Coldwater. Acting President Dr. Martin E. Buell of Union City and Acting Secretary Merrill B. Rice of Sturgis are asking assistance from compatriots interested in helping in this very worthwhile undertaking.

Minnesota Society

Minnesota Society held a dinner meeting July 29 at the Sibley Tea House at Mendota across the Minnesota River from Fort Snelling. It was an excellent meeting with a good attendance including members from all the chapters. This Tea House, operated as a restaurant by the DAR, is a very appropriate place for such affairs. The DAR owns the property as well as the former home of Governor Sibley near by-the latter now being a museum.

New Hampshire Society

New Hampshire Society held its annual Constitution Day Dinner Thursday, September 17, at 6:30 p.m. at the Eagle Hotel in Concord. This outstanding patriotic event was high-lighted by an inspiring and stirring address delivered by the principal speaker for the occasion, the Honorable Amos Blandin of the Suences during a recent trip to Russia as a preme Court of New Hampshire, who had chosen as his subject "What is Wrong

Joining in with the SAR to make this affair such a conspicuous success was the DAR and the Society of Colonial Wars, a large throng being in attendance to partake of the delicious turkey dinner and to render the speaker a rousing ovation at the conclusion of his penetrating analysis of a most interesting subject.

THE NEW AMERICANISM AWARD WILL BE PRESENTED AT THE SEVENTIETH ANNUAL CONGRESS

Due to the gracious cooperation and enerosity of Mrs. Frederic A. Groves, Jonorary President General of the Naonal Society of the Daughters of the merican Revolution, a new award will made for the first time at the forthming Seventieth Annual Congress at Jemphis, Tennessee, next May.

In honor of the donor, the award has en designated as The Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award and will be warded each year to the State Society local Chapter which establishes the est record of implementing the resoluons adopted by the Annual Congress. The criteria to be used in determinthe winner each year were formuated by a special committee appointed by he President General, the chairman of which was Past President George E. Tarbox, Jr., with George S. Campbell f Florida and Thomas S. Wood of Minnesota as members.

The National Trustees, meeting in St. Louis, Missouri, on February 14, 1959, approved and adopted the criteria and rules governing the presentation of the award as proposed by the special committee, and voted to make the first presentation at the Seventieth Annual Congress. In the opinion of the National Trustees there was not sufficient time between the adoption of the criteria and the date of the Sixty-Ninth Annual Congress to permit State Societies and local Chapters to plan and execute a program which would comply with the equirements of the award.

The criteria adopted read as follows: "Because the resolutions adopted by the Annual Congresses of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution have as their objective the preservation of our American heritage and because this objective can be achieved only through an enlightened Americanism on the part of all citizens of this Republic; the Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award will be made annually to that State Society or Chapter whose outstanding programs or activities during the course of the year have created, supported, or promoted a better understanding in its own community of such S.A.R. resolutions and of the fundamental American traditions which governed their formulation and adoption.

(Note: Such wording eliminates the usual difficulties in any contest between big and small Chapters because the decision of the Committee will not be based on total activity but on outstanding achievement without regard to the size of the Chapter.)

The Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award will be made each year at an Annual Congress of the National Society to that State Society or Chapter selected by a committee composed of the President General, the Secretary General and the Executive Secretary (or other special committee approved by the Trustees)".

country's foremost manufactureres of trophies and medals. It consists of a selected grain mahogany base, on which are superimposed in polished bronze the official insigne of the Society surrounded by a laurel wreath and the embossed plate bearing the title of the award. Beneath the title plate, there are sixteen bronze plates on which the names of the winners will be engraved each year. The over-all dimensions of the trophy are 18" x 15" and a protective carrying case is provided for handling. The plaque is designed for hanging on the wall and is equipped with a strong chain support on the back of the wooden base. The trophy is a handsome example

State and Chapter officers are invited and urged to prepare resumes of the activities of their respective organizations which should be submitted for consideration by the Committee. As of this date, no effort has been made by the Committee to adopt specifications on the form in which the resumes are to be submitted. However, it is essential that the material submitted be in such form that the Committee may easily and quickly evaluate the relative merits of each entry.

Officers of the State and Chapter organizations are reminded that the Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award is not to be confused with the President General's Cup, which will also be awarded at the Seventieth Annual Congress, which is for Chapters only.

The National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution is sincerely appreciative of not only the handsome trophy which Mrs. Groves has presented to further true Americanism, but equally so for the interest she has taken in the progress of our Society. Her friendly cooperation has done much to add further strength to the cordial relationship between the S.A.R. and the D.A.R.

for the occasion, Colonel Guy Emery, of George Mason Chapter, was introduced by Mrs. Henry D. M. Sherrerd, Chairman, "George Mason Day," who had previously invited the George Mason and Washington-Lee Society chapters to present the program. Following Colonel Emery's fine talk covering the life and effective efforts of George Mason, Colonial statesman, author of the Virginia Declaration of Rights, organizer of the Alexandria Volunteers, and gentleman plantation owner, Mrs. Sherrerd was hostess at the Hertle Building, in the Directors' Room of the Colonial Dames headquarters for tea which was graciously served to those who had enjoyed this inspiring celebration.

Lynchburg Chapter, Lynchburg, recently held its fall meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. The meeting was held in the main house living room in the presence of some thirty people, Compatriot Robert A. Abernathy, President, Lynchburg Chapter, presiding. Wisconsin Society together with the DAR, the CAR and the Daughters of 1812, on July 18, 1959, conducted a pil grimage to veterans' graves in Racine County, Wisconsin. Brief services were held at the graves of distinguished veter ans particular attention being given the Lytle Family lot near Union Grove where flags flew for the men of the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, and the Mexican and Civil Wars.

New interest is being shown in identifying such graves as the result of the publication of a list of twenty-four known Wisconsin graves of Revolutionary War soldiers together with as many more whose proof of existence is still being sought by the Revolutionary Graves Committee of the National Society, SAR.

TIES THAT BIND

By WILLIS BERGEN Chaplain-General SAR

There are people who collect friends the some others collect postage stamps. When the political pot is boiling and andshaking and wirepulling are the ogue, there are many mushroom riends who spring up over night and ast as long as it is to their advantage.

We have in the Bible a story of two men who formed a fellowship which was based not upon expediency, but non their love for their God and their Country. David and Jonathan declared heir friendship by opening the veins of each others arms and intermingling their blood. Quote, "And the soul of David was knit to the soul of Jonathan."

Now the fellowship we enjoy together as members of the SAR should mean that sort of binding, which knits our hearts in such a way, that it means more than being friendly, just when it is to our advantage to be so. The trouble with many of us is that we are either too proud to bend, or too lazy your eye, your hand and your tongue." He left out the most important organ getting out of it for my soul?" to bear welcome in, i.e. your heart.

Remember the story of the Lion and the Mouse. The lion befriended the gifts of Grace. mouse out of the goodness of his heart, and when the lion became caught in in a time when certain cultural and friendships in constant repair." Keeping to have them replaced with civilian to give than to receive."

of our free enterprise.

At the Pittsburgh Congress, Resolution #18 was passed in words like these, Quote "Maintenance of our traditional free market economy is essential to the continued freedom of our people." Our American way of life is dependent upon the free choices we make and the preparing for our future. We take care of our health, our teeth, our eyes, and our property. A man who owns a house will keep it in good repair. A man puts his money in the bank and expects to be able to get it back when he needs it. He buys insurance on his home to protect himself against loss and poverty. All of this is implied in our American free enterprise.

I'm not forgetting about the need for working to provide food and shelter and clothing, nor am I overlooking the need for money to pay for recreation and entertainment and for all the good God-given things we enjoy in our beloved way of life that we hold so dear. At the same time there is a great necessity for each of us in the SAR, in all to work at it, or too busy to bother. the rush of living, to find time again and Shakespeare put these words into the again, to stop and think and ask himmouth of Macbeth, "Bear welcome in self, "Why am I doing all this?" "What is it doing to me?" What am I

Here is where we come face to face A lady came to Charles Lamb one with God as well as America. When we are dealing with our fellowship and personal things. He interrupted her the things we stand for in the SAR we with, "Madame, are you sure I'm are dealing with our faith in God as worthy to listen to what you're telling well. Our friends help to make us what me?" The question is not whether my we are and when we work for, or fellow members of the SAR are worthy neglect our friends, we are working of them?" If I think for one moment applies to our Maker. We are bound that I'm conferring an honor on the by the stronger ties of our obligations Society or its members, by belonging, as well as our privileges. "No man I'm going to be a very lonely sort in- liveth unto himself," comes echoing deed. For friendships can not be made down through the ages. It takes when we need them. They must be "others" to pray for us, to encourage us and to give us good advice. Surely God also helps us by His wonderful

I speak of this because we are living the net, the little mouse came along political groups in America are trying our fellowship in the Society is a part clergymen. Do I need to mention the challenge of gods of wood, of silver and of steel, of flesh and blood, through which Communistic vantriloquism asks us to accept in exchange for the spiritual treasures which are our heritage?

We Americans hold tremendous treasures in our hands these days. But we must not forget the greater treasures which are within our reach. Sometimes when we see how others are living we may ask, "Am I on the right road?" "Am I in God's fellowship?" The answer is "As you will." Certainly God doesn't force the good life or eternal happiness upon us. We take it or leave it.

In short, the point I am trying to make is this that we cannot disassociate God and Country. Freedom of religious worship and freedom of enterprise go hand in hand. The ties that bind our hearts together are linked with our love for our America and our God.

Elizabeth Browning, writing a poem about a friend of her described her thus, Quote, "T'was her thought of others that made you think of her. Each one of us knows at least one member of our Society, whose thought of others makes us think of him. How many new members have you brought into the SAR? Here is a test for your thought of others."

In a Cambridge graveyard there is a tombstone, which has not the name of the deceased upon it. Rather, there is this inscription, "A Friend of Miltons." That man was willing that his own name should be forgotten, for the greater honor of being remembered as Milton's friend. Our greatest honor is for or neglecting ourselves. The same to be known as a friend of God. If we were all friends of God in the SAR, there would be no jealousy amongst us. A jealous person is one who receives but never gives. A jealous person is a suspicious person. George Elliot wrote, "a jealous person seeks to be loved, but not to love-seeks to be sought after but not to seek." With the ties that bind our hearts of God and Country we will not seek to be admired, but to admire-not to be understood, but to understand. We will indeed and saved the lion by gnawing the to disassociate God and Country. There know, not because we have read it someropes which held the lion fast. Samuel has even been pressure to remove where, but because we have experienced Johnson said, "A man must keep his chaplains from the armed forces and it in our hearts, that "it is more blessed

Robert S. W. Walker, Librarian General—Alan B. Hobbes, Special Advisor to the Librarian General
William M. Cain, Aide to the Librarian General

A most satisfying progress can now be reported concerning both the inventorying of our present stock of appropriate National Society, SAR, material as well as the accessioning of new books constantly coming in through the efforts of the very many generous Compatriots throughout the country. It is notably interesting to observe that for the period October, 1958, to the present, Ohio leads all other states with $18\frac{1}{2}\%$ of all gifts contributed; that Illinois, Pennsylvania and Texas are second, accounting for 11% each; that the District of Columbia comes third with some $7\frac{1}{5}\%$ of the total and that Connecticut, Indiana, Missouri, New Jersey, and Virginia are fourth with approximately $3\frac{1}{2}\%$ (0.037 to be exact) each of the total number of books given. Approximately $26\frac{1}{2}\%$ of all contributions made was through the generosity of Compatriots in the Mid-West Societies from Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. It is sincerely hoped that other geographical regions will even exceed these figures that their contributions may be similarly recognized in the future within these columns.

Compatriots are urgently requested to avail themselves of the information contained in the section entitled "Our Naaional SAR Library" in the Sons of the American Revolution magazines of last April and July. These suitability requirements for our Library are important and, for the general information of all, will hereby be repeated. Briefly stated, the type of material appropriate and acceptable is that which is exclusively genealogical; historical (Revolutionary period or thereabouts); biographical (preferably of genealogical concern and importance to the Revolutionary War period), and, finally, town (or city), county and (or) state histories (particularly those having their origin in or near the general Revolutionary period).
Certain selected subjects such as those of a patriotic nature may also be accepted. In all coses involving a reasonable doubt inquiry should be had of the Librarian General. It is well to remember that unacceptable material is neither returnable onr is it acknowledgeable through the columns of the magazine. Only by such selectivity can the maximum use of our shelves be realized, shelves containing highly specialized and in many, many instances irreplaceable material. Please AUTOGRAPH all material sent in as there have occurred instances where it has been almost impossible to identify whether whether an individual has made the donation or whether the Society of which he is a member has presented the gift. Calling cards, letters, notes, etc., merely inserted within the pages of a book become lost thereby depriving the donor of credit for his gift and the Society of valuable information regarding it.

Please assist your National Society, SAR, Library by observing the following procedure: (1) Address any and all inquiries concerning Library matters to the Librarian General; (2) AUTOGRAPH all material submitted including donor's name, address, Chapter and/or State Society with a written statement that the gift is for the National Society. SAR, Library, and finally, (3) Submit only acceptable and obviously appropriate material in accordance with the requirements here-tofore enumerated.

We feel confident we can rely on the continued cooperation of not only those Compatriots who have so kindly and generously observed these requirements in the past but also on the same cooperation of those making future contributions. By such cooperation Compatriots will perform an act of patriotic devotion not alone to their own everlasting credit but fondly engrave their names within the hearts of their yet unborn SAR successors as well.
