WARREN S. WOODWARD
EDITOR

The 77th Annual Congress of our Society has now passed into history, and it was the pleasurable privilege of your Editor to attend with Mrs. Woodward.

The only disparaging note upon which I can write is relative to the inadequate attendance. Less than four hundred compatriots and their guests were in evidence. In view of our membership of almost twenty thousand, this is not overly impressive.

If our Annual Congress were a colorless, monotonous affair, with an unattractive program of activities, these attendance figures would be both understandable and justified. However, such was not the case. The four days were packed with lively meetings, side-trips of popular interest, gala luncheons and banquets, distinguished speakers and an outstanding ladies' program which even included a delightful and colorful fashion show, complete with music and beautiful models. Your Editor has attended many conventions of many organizations, and sincerely believes that none offer more consistent enjoyment and satisfaction than our own SAR Annual Congress.

In attending a Congress, one encounters an abundant spirit of warmth and fraternity that extends beyond chapter and state society bounds... one that can only prevail within a society of common kinship, such as ours. Attendance at a Congress is truly an SAR education that serves to increase the knowledgeableness and enthusiasm of compatriots. Workshops and National committees convene, at which time the participation of all compatriots is invited. The fruitful opportunity to discuss mutual problems, compare notes, exchange beneficial ideas and generally strengthen our Society is undeniable. In a sense, every delegate is an individual observer for his chapter and state society, in a reciprocal program of benefit for all stratas.

Our 1968 Annual Congress will take place, June 16-19, and I strongly urge you to plan for your attendance now. Colonial Williamsburg in Virginia is one of the most beautiful and historic locations in America, having been constantly enlarged and improved since its initial restoration. In view of the school vacation dates involved, it will be possible to bring our children or grandchildren, so they may share the historical and educational experience that will enrich us all. The accommodations at this gem of Americana are truly superb, economical and to be augmented with an unforgettably entertaining program for compatriots, ladies and children. The Committee is already at work, and initial plans have been formulated.

DON'T MISS THE 78th IN '68!

The PRESIDENT GENERAL'S MESSAGE

from Chicago, Illinois

LEN YOUNG SMITH
President General

For the privilege of serving as President General of the National Society SAR, I am deeply grateful. With the cooperation, which has been wonderful thusfar, we shall move forward in the year ahead, not only by increasing our membership, the first goal of the new administration, but more significantly, by promoting a greater participation in the projects of the National Society by all of our members.

The key to greater achievement lies in personal participation in the many patriotic activities and projects of the Society. There is a place for everyone; there is an activity to challenge each of us. Accordingly, the largest feasible number of members have been asked to serve on Committees.

This administration intends to implement the splendid program promulgated by Past President General Kenneth G. Smith, Sr. in connection with the Patriots' Hall of Fame. During the year, the first thirteen patriots to be recognized will be selected. The all-important matter of raising funds will be determined.

A Task Force Committee has been appointed to make a thorough study of our numerous Committees, to determine whether some should be eliminated, others consolidated and perhaps others added. This Committee will also consider activities which should be placed under their supervision.

Considerable progress has been made by the Historic Landmarks Committee preparatory to marking churches and schools founded during or prior to the Revolutionary War period by the mounting of plaques. This good work will be continued.

The Revolutionary War Graves Committee has done a truly outstanding job. After eleven years of signal service, Compatriot Reginald H. Metcalf asked to be relieved as Chairman. The assembling of data concerning, and the marking and dedication of, graves will continue with Compatriot Chester A. Walworth as Chairman. Publication of a Roster listing the graves of soldiers of the Revolutionary War should be compiled. It would be an invaluable genealogical aid to prospective members of the SAR.

We have approximately 19,300 members. Our principal goal this year is a substantial increase in membership. In reading the History of the SAR, I find that many Presidents General have stated this identical objective. We need more members; we must work to bring them in; we must have inspiring programs at all levels to attract new members. In this connection, I have in mind Chapter and State meetings at which well-known speakers are presented. It is helpful, not only to have good programs, but also, to have the meetings at attractive places.

No group can be of greater assistance to us in obtaining new members than the DAR. They can aid immeasurably with the preparation of lineage papers for husbands, sons, grandsons and nephews. This is a chore for many prospective members. The DAR ladies prepare papers for their daughters; let us encourage them to prepare applications for their sons. We should have joint DAR-SAR Committees to promote DAR assistance and cooperation. I have appointed a DAR Committee of the SAR largely for this purpose.

Above all, an increase in the number of young members is desirable. In this organization, I consider anyone forty years of age or under, a young member. On May 17, I had the pleasure of attending an organization meeting in Kenosha, Wisconsin, when the State Society granted two new charters. It was gratifying to observe that a high percentage of the charter members were young and that the President of one of the new chapters is a youthful SAR.

At Columbus, I consulted with the Chairman of the 1968 Congress, Donald Baldwin, and the next President of the Virginia Society, Charles R. Haugh, both young members. They have great plans for the Congress at Williamsburg. And, among our own officers, the Vice President General for the Central District, Marshall E. Miller, at thirty, is not only the youngest Vice President General but also an officer with a remarkable record of experience at both State and local levels in the SAR. Among other young members attending the Congress were Compatriots I. Harris Tucker, President of the Rhode Island Society; Timothy W. Jones, a senior national officer of the CAR, and Lt. Commander Frank I. Nulton of the Virginia Society. These and other young members have been given important Committee assignments.

The dynamic Chairman of the Membership Committee, Compatriot Jack Coleman, has a strong Committee to work with him in promoting an ambitious program for obtaining new members. This important Committee and its plans will receive the highest consideration.

One of the stated purposes of the SAR is the celebration of anniversaries of the prominent events of the War and of the Revolutionary period. Among the patriotic anniversaries we observe are Washington's Birthday, Lexington Day, Flag Day, Independence Day and Constitution Day. We have Committees to promote the observance of these and other historic days.

For nearly two centuries, the ringing of bells and chimes has been deemed an appropriate way of observing Independence Day. Surely, never in the history of the Republic, has it been more important than now to observe Independence Day. In addition to promoting the ringing of bells on July Fourth, we have urged the display of the Flag of the United States on that glorious day.

At the Congress in Columbus, a Resolution was adopted supporting appropriate Federal legislation making the desecration or mutilation of the Flag of the United States anywhere in this country a criminal offense. Although desecration of the Flag is a criminal offense in many States, there has been no Federal statute to the same effect, except for the District of Columbia.

What can you and I do to aid in the enactment of such Federal legislation? Under the Federal Constitution, every American citizen enjoys the established right "to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." Let us exercise this right and constitutional authority. The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives has approved proposed Flag legislation. Each of us can write to the two United States Senators from his state and to the Congressman from his district urging them to support and vote for the Flag legislation.

This next September 17 will mark the 180th anniversary of the signing of the Federal Constitution. A proclamation for the observance of Constitution Day has already been issued by the President of the United States. Our Constitution Day Committee will continue to promote the observance of this landmark day.

Many of our fellow citizens are really learning for the first time how wise the architects of the Constitution were in setting up the amending process. Article Five has provided from the beginning in 1787 for amendment of the Constitution in four different ways. The mode followed for all amendments to date has been the submission by the Congress of a proposed amendment for ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

Prior to and since the adoption of the Constitution, nearly all States have had bicameral legislatures and in, nearly, if not, all cases one house has been elected mainly on a population basis and the other principally on a territorial basis. Neither the phrase nor the concept "one-man, one-vote" appears in the Constitution. Even so, on June 15, 1964, the Supreme Court of the United States, by a 6-3 vote, construed the "equal protection of the laws" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to mean that both houses of every State legislature must be elected in a manner to give all voters equal representation.

Efforts to induce the Congress to submit an amendment to the Constitution to permit the people within each State, if they so desire, to provide for representation in one branch of the legislature on a basis other than population were unsuccessful. At our Seventy-Fifth Congress in Albuquerque, the National Society SAR adopted a Resolution urging the submission of such an amendment to the States.

When efforts to submit an amendment failed, State legislatures were encouraged to make application to the Congress to call a Convention for the express purpose of preparing for submission to the States, an amendment which would overrule the decision of the United States Supreme Court. If two-thirds of the State legislatures ask for such a Convention, it becomes the mandatory duty of the Congress to call a Constitutional Convention. As I write, thirty-two State legislatures have joined in the call for a Convention. When two more join the request, making a total of thirty-four, or two-thirds, of the legislatures, a Constitutional Convention must be called.

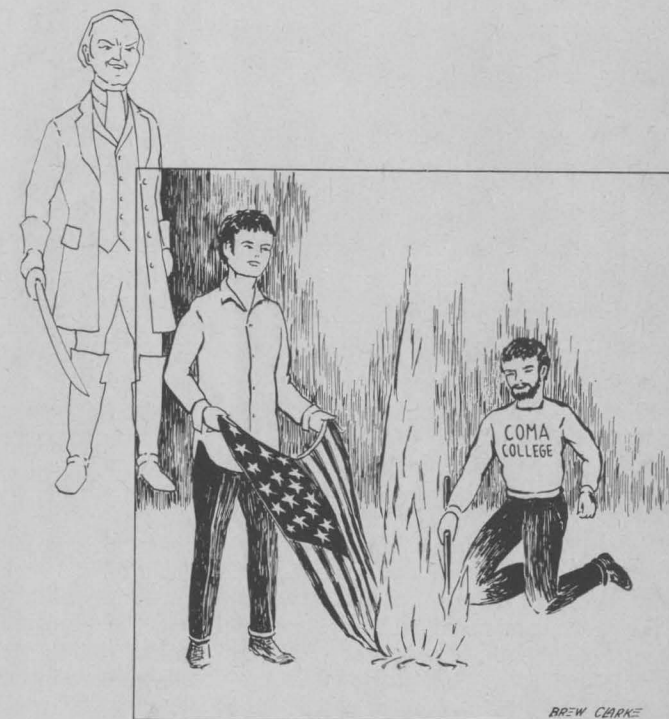

If the Constitutional Convention should then propose an amendment, for example, one permitting the election of the second house of the legislature on a non-population basis, it would become a part of the law of the land upon ratification by three-fourths of the States.

What can we do about it? The least we can do is to write to the members of the legislatures in those States which have not joined in the call for a Convention, urging that they vote in favor of calling a National Constitutional Convention. In my opinion, letters sent directly by individuals to their elected representatives are far more effective for this purpose than formal resolutions by groups and organizations.

When we consider the purposes of the SAR, one overriding fact stands out. Our members are willing to be counted as men devoted to the perpetuation, preservation and protection of the freedoms bequeathed to us by our Revolutionary forefathers. When we adopt Resolutions urging the enactment of Federal legislation making the desecration or mutilation of the Flag of the United States a criminal offense and for support of a constitutional amendment recognizing the right of the individual States to apportion one house of bicameral State legislatures on the basis of a factor, or factors, other than population, we do stand up and are counted.

Following the Congress, I spent two days at the National Headquarters, conferring with Executive Secretary Warren S. Woodward with respect to appointments to Committees, becoming better acquainted with the members of the staff and, in general, familiarizing myself with my duties. On June 6, I presented the SAR award to a Midshipman at the Awards Ceremony at the U.S. Naval Academy. It was a memorable experience to make the SAR award and to observe the Brigade of nearly 4,000 Midshipmen on Dress Parade. On July 22, I shall attend the Fourth Atlantic Middle States Conference at Saddlebrook, Bergen County, New Jersey. On July 30, Mrs. Smith and I go to Hawaii where I shall attend the National Conference of Bar Examiners and the American Bar Convention. We shall be back in Illinois on August 22.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL CONGRESS

ROBERT S. W. WALKER
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

The commodious and imposing Sheraton-Columbus Motor Hotel in Columbus, Ohio, was the site of the 77th Annual Congress May 27 through May 31. Compatriots from all sections of the country converged on this important hub of the mid-West for a total attendance of 336 registered individuals (204 delegates with 132 wives and guests). The smooth operation of this Congress with its resultant aura of harmony was largely due to the hard and efficient work of Compatriot Eugene C. McGuire of the Ohio (host) Society who was chairman of the Arrangements Committee. Special mention and appreciation is also due Compatriot Samuel K. Houston of the Ohio Society for his fine work in assisting the outstanding accomplishment of the Registration Committee with Compatriot Raymond F. Hughes (Ohio Society) Chairman, and the Credentials Committee with Compatriot William F. Turrentine, Jr. (Kansas) as its Chairman.

The initial phase of the Congress got under way on May 27 (the opening day) with registration of delegates, wives and guests. The only other event this day for those registered was the Ohio Society Reception for delegates, members and their guests.

On the next day (Sunday, May 28), the ever-impressive Memorial Service was held in memory of compatriots departed the preceding year. The scene of this moving event was the beautiful Trinity Episcopal Church. A large congregation of members and guests was present in the beautiful flag-bedecked church to do fitting homage to their departed compatriots. Through the generosity of Compatriot Hubbard Scott and the efficient, conscientious efforts of Compatriot Charles A. Anderson, M.D., past President General, the Committee on Color Guard and Flags had provided an eye-catching, colorful display of all the state flags lining both sides of the church near the chancel. Presiding Officer for this Service was Compatriot Kenneth G. Smith, Sr., President General. Present in the chancel with him were Compatriots W. Giles Parker (Chancellor General); John W. Bricker (former Governor of Ohio and former United States Senator; Rev. William A. Fluck, D.D., substituting for the late Chaplain General Herman R. Carson, D.D.), and J. Boyd Davis, Chaplain, Ohio Society.

The Service began with the playing of a Prelude by the organist. This was followed by the advancement and presentation of the Colors by the Memorial Honor Guard (a detachment of Company A1 of the Pershing Rifles of the Ohio State University R.O.T.C.). The Processional Hymn "God of our Fathers" came next, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Past President General Charles A. Anderson, M.D., the National Anthem and the Invocation by the Rev. William A. Fluck. Next came the Service of Remembrance by Compatriot W. Giles Parker; the Prayer of Remembrance by the Rev. William A. Fluck and a reading of the Scriptures by Compatriot J. Boyd Davis.

The Memorial Message, which was next on the program, was delivered by the Hon. John W. Bricker. It was most outstanding. The theme of his address was "A Glorious Past Promises a Good Future." He reminded his listeners that Memorial Day, established 99 years ago, is a symbol of a Nation with unparalleled opportunities which has provided most of the good works of our present-day existence; that the one element distinguishing it is the individual and collective freedom of its citizens; that threats to our Nation exist on all sides, marked by rebellious youth in an apathetic society; that the contribution of the Nation in the past has been a spiritual rather than a material one; that whatever government gives, it can also take away. The distinguished speaker also predicted the advent in the near future of a new—and a patriotic—leader. He warned against the unauthorized usurpation of power by the government itself and stated that today, the leaders of the Nation have themselves usurped certain powers relegated to the States by the Constitution. He further deplored the fact that whereas 75% of all foundation money is channelled into scientific research only 15% is apportioned to the social sciences and posed the question whether we have not emphasized the former to the detriment of the latter.

Following the inspiring "Memorial Message," the S.A.R. official Hymn "We Are the Sons" was sung, words composed by Compatriot Mott R. Sawyers D.D., past Chaplain General, now past 90 years of age, and oldest member in attendance at this Congress.

The dignified, imposing Service was then concluded with the retiring of the Colors, the singing of the Recessional Hymn "How Firm A Foundation" by the congregation, the pronouncement of the Benediction by Compatriot Rev. William A. Fluck, D.D., and the playing of the Postlude on the organ.

Congress Arrangements Chairman Eugene McGuire visibly enjoys the company of Sharon Phillian (Miss Ohio, 1967) and Mrs. McGuire.

The concluding event on Sunday's program was the Douglass G. High Historical Oration Contest conducted by Compatriot Austin R. Drew, Chairman, and his Contest Committee. As usual, this Contest was conducted with all the efficiency for which Compatriot Drew has been noted at past Congresses. The hall was jammed to capacity with a most enthusiastic audience to witness this contest participated in by eleven young men for the coveted prizes awarded by the National Society. The panel of judges to evaluate the winning participants was as follows: Arthur J. G. Oplinger (Chairman); William E. Springer, Albert S. Barney, Ryall Morgan and Robert S. W. Walker.

Pres. Gen. Smith shakes hands with Oration Contest First Prize winner Walter Gordon as runners-up Winfred Phillips and Charles Erwin look on.

Youthful exuberance and enthusiasm is portrayed in the faces of these Douglass G. High Historical Oration Contest finalists at the Annual Congress.

The competition was keen, and the final result of the Contest was as follows: Walter Gordon, Hartwell, Georgia, (1st prize of $350); Winfred A. Phillips of Chattanooga, Tennessee (2nd prize of $250), and Charles D. Erwin of St. Petersburg, Florida (3rd prize of $100). All other contestants received $10 each with suitably-engraved sterling silver money clips. These contestants were: James Berg, Kentucky; Carey Buttsavage, Ohio; Arthur Daun, Indiana; Thomas Heick, New York; Duncan Bruce MacDonald, Oklahoma; Thomas E. Martin, South Carolina; Charles W. Pittner, Virginia, and Steven A. Smith, Connecticut.

On Monday, a luncheon was held with Compatriot Kenneth G. Smith, Sr., President General, presiding. For this occasion, the speaker was Mr. Kenneth McFarland, founder of the McFarland Trade School of Coffeyville, Kansas. A most distinguished, accomplished speaker—graduate of Pittsburg College, Kansas, industrial advisor, civic and church leader, Mr. McFarland, whose services on this occasion were granted by General Motors Corporation, brought a real message which engaged the rapt attention of all present. Generously interspersed with humorous anecdotes, the speech was doubly appreciated. In his address, the speaker emphasized the true significance of what it really means to be a citizen of the United States; that America to-day is actually the only superpower in the world; that today, in all of Russia, there are only as many automobiles as the United States had in 1915; that the 99-year period 1815-1914 inclusive when the British Navy policed the world, there was no major war except the War Between the States; that we must demand respect as a nation from others to get it; that the American System of Free Enterprise is the greatest ever devised by Man, and that our most destructive and pernicious enemies come from within rather than from outside. Emphasized particularly was the almost complete breakdown in law and order which the speaker described as probably the greatest single threat to the Nation. In conclusion, it was pointed out that patriotism (old style) should again be taught and that the silence of good citizens in time of turmoil can be destructive. Upon the conclusion of his address, the speaker received a standing ovation from the large audience present.

A conspicuous feature of the luncheon was the bestowal on the speaker of the S.A.R. Gold Good Citizenship Award by President General Kenneth G. Smith, Sr.

Later, a most enjoyable Style Show and Tea was held for the ladies, presented by Mrs. Joan Wenz with Mrs. Glenn Harriman, harpist, entertaining.

Recognition Night ceremonies took place on that evening with Executive Secretary Warren S. Woodward as Master of Ceremonies. Appropriately opening this event was the playing of a tape recording of stirring patriotic and historical melodies. Compatriot Harold L. Putnam received a specially-struck gold Patriot Medal, in recognition of the fact that it was he who conceived the idea for such an award and outlined the type of design.

The presentation of the Minute Man Award, (highest award the National Society can present for personal achievement on the National level) was most impressive. Seated on the stage were not only those to be so honored, but also those similarly honored in the past. Those receiving the Minute Man Awards were: James Bronson Gardiner, Empire State Society; Walter Reville Martin, Rhode Island Society; Herman Robinson Carson, D.D., Indiana Society (posthumously); Floyd G. Hoenstine, Pennsylvania Society; Kenneth G. Smith, Sr., Pennsylvania Society, and Hugh Miller Wilkinson, of the Louisiana Society.

Honorary Pres. Gen. Harold Putnam receives a recognition scroll from Pres. Gen. Smith.

Awards to state and chapter organizations were: The President General's Cup to the George Mason Chapter of Virginia, for the most complete presentation of patriotic activities in its community during the preceding year; the Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award also to the George Mason Chapter of Virginia, for Clarendon Jordan, as Chairman of the Membership Committee of that state society (in this instance, the Florida Society) recording the largest net gain in membership during the preceding year, and the Florence G. Kendall Award to Compatriot George Todt of the California Society for sponsoring the largest number of new applications (18) during the fiscal year April 1, 1966—March 31, 1967, inclusive. It was declared that the winner of the William Y. Pryor Award (a plaque) for that state society having the highest percentage of paid registrants in proportion to its total membership, would be announced at a later date following the conclusion of the Congress. (NOTE: It was announced later at this Congress by its founder that a new Award is being established to be known as the Len Young Smith Award to go to that compatriot sponsoring the greatest number of new members below 40 years of age).

Following the bestowal of these awards, suitable honors in the form of gold enameled pins, S.A.R. souvenir china, and Certificates of Distinguished Service were given those compatriots sponsoring 10 or more new members and from 5 to 10 new members, who received rosettes and lapel ribbons.

On Tuesday, May 30, a luncheon was held with the featured speaker, Mr. Walter Knott of California, founder of the famous Knott's Berry Farm. Prior to Mr. Knott's speech, Compatriot James A. Logan of Walton, Kentucky, presented to Compatriot Len Young Smith of Winnetka, Illinois, a commission as Kentucky Colonel on the staff of the Governor of that State. Following this ceremony and the organ playing of the stirring march, "Battle Hymn of the Republic", the Rev. William A. Fluck, D.D. conducted a short Memorial Service for the Nation's war dead. In the course of this service, he stated that there are some 10,000 Revolutionary War heroes interred in Ohio to whom reverence is due.

Col. Robert Savage receives the Senator Robert Taft Award for the Pennsylvania Society from Pres. Gen. Smith.

Secretary-Treas. Niles W. D. Allen of the Wisconsin Society receives the Colorado Society award from Pres. Gen. Smith.

Pres. Gen. Smith presents the Ohio Society Award to Pres. Frank Sullivan of the Illinois Society.

Congress Arrangements Chairman Eugene McGuire proudly accepts the William Y. Pryor Award from Pres. Gen. Smith.

The address of Mr. Knott was outstanding, humorous and penetrating. Significant points emphasized were that the United States with 17% of the world's population produced 50% of the world's goods; that it was an historical miracle that the 18th century produced the type of men who could form a government whose basic belief was in God; was limited as to its governing powers and where freedom to the individual was recognized and assured, and where competition and incentive through private enterprise became the integral part of our society. He deplored, however, the present-day encroachments on private business men and cited most graphically in instance after instance where government had shackled his private business affairs. He emphasized that private enterprise has produced, not merely promised, astounding results; that freedom has been and is the foundation of all our tremendous progress as a Nation; that as government advances, freedom retreats. He stated further that the creators of this Nation had offered irrefutable proof that man could govern himself; that to-day, to the detriment of all, we have price control by intimidation from Washington, D. C.

Pres. Gen. Smith presents the SAR Gold Good Citizenship Medal to Guest Speaker Walter Knott.

As a result of his fine speech enumerating, among other things, his own personal experience with government encroachments in his own business, Mr. Knott received most enthusiastic applause by all those present. For his outstanding, personal achievement as a champion of private enterprise, Mr. Knott was presented the S.A.R. Gold Good Citizenship Medal by Compatriot Kenneth G. Smith, Sr., President General.

An interesting, most instructive and pleasant interlude in the day's events took place when busses took interested compatriots, wives and guests for a visit to the Center of Science and Industry. Seen during this tour were such fascinating things as the Dispatch Foucault Pendulum, demonstrating by its movement that the earth, upon which we stand, is slowly revolving on its axis; the Durell Street of Yesteryear; the Science and Industry Exhibit Area; the Wasserstrom Colonial Room, and the Geophysical Moon Relief Model.

That evening, a dinner was held in the Jupiter-Saturn Room. After the opening organ music and presentation of the Colors by the Memorial Honor Guard of Ohio State University Army R.O.T.C., came a most delightful entertainment by a barbershop male quartet, "The City Slickers." In addition to this entertainment, delightful music was furnished by a modern "combo" of stringed instruments accompanying the lively songs of a mixed chorus.

Gen. Bonner Fellers delivering his well-received address at the May 30th banquet.

Gen. Bonner Fellers, distinguished West Point career officer with an eminent record of military service, was the principal speaker. Conspicuous points brought out by him in his address were the following: that today, states' rights are almost totally ignored; that the octopus of federal control now extends almost completely over business, education, and prayer in the public schools; that corruption to-day is not only accepted, but expected; that world government was behind our Korean "no-win" war and is behind the "limited objective" war in Vietnam, and that our foreign aid is today financing world government. The Speaker posed the questions, "Why have we gone to war to-day and in days past, and why are the churches supporting foreign aid which breeds wars? He elaborated briefly on our economic and military assistance programs and how they always resulted in the final outbreak of hostilities. He listed these recommendations to settle to-day's issues of war or peace: Win the war and win it quickly, immediately cut out all foreign aid except for food to India, and drastically cut public welfare programs. At the conclusion of his address, the Speaker was enthusiastically applauded.

A further outstanding feature of the evening's program was the presentation to General Fellers of the S.A.R. Gold Good Citizenship Medal, Pres. Gen. Kenneth G. Smith, making the award.

Among the distinguished guests at the head table were Miss Amanda Thomas, Organizing Secretary General, NSDAR; Mrs. Edwin H. Tiemeyer, Senior National President, C.A.R.; Mrs. Carl W. Kietzman, State Regent, Ohio Society, NSDAR and Mrs. Roy D. Allan, State Senior President, C.A.R.

In the afternoon, chartered busses took compatriots and guests on a most delightful, comprehensive tour of Lockbourne Air Force Base, where visits to the flight line and minute inspection of the interiors of the "flying box cars" and refueling planes proved most interesting. A detachment of U.S. Marine Corps camouflage-painted helicopters also claimed the riveted attention of the visiting delegation.

Mrs. Len Young Smith admires the Washington Ring upon her husband's finger, following his installation as President General.

The President General's Reception was held in the Venus-Mars Room, and brought out a large attendance as did the President General's banquet which followed.

The banquet began with a high calibre entertainment program by Thurman D. and Ann Davis with "The Northland Mixed Ensemble." Selections from popular musical shows of the day brought a most enjoyable interlude to the evening's program. The 20-member mixed ensemble of junior and senior students harmonized beautifully, and it was an evening of entertainment long to be remembered.

Upon the conclusion of the musical program, Compatriot Arthur de la Housaye, past President General, advanced to the podium to confer on Compatriot Harold L. Putnam, Executive Secretary Emeritus, the new and distinguished title of "Honorary President General." In his short speech introducing Compatriot Putnam, Compatriot de la Houssaye gave a brief, biographical sketch of Compatriot Putnam's past accomplishments both to the Society he had served for so many years as well as for his Country as citizen and patriot.

The Honorary President General badge is bestowed upon Comp. Harold Putnam by past Pres. Gen. de la Houssaye.

Following this part of the program, presentation made by Pres. Gen. Kenneth G. Smith, to Maj. Gen. & new compatriot Thomas R. White, Jr., Adjutant General of the Ohio National Guard, of the Membership Medal of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Gen. Thomas White emphasizes a point during his address at the May 31st banquet.

The induction and installation of the new General Officers was, as always, a dignified and impressive event. It began with the highly-impressive Ring Ritual, installing into office, the President General-elect, Compatriot Len Young Smith of Illinois. The outgoing President General, Kenneth G. Smith, Sr. placed the George Washington Ring, given to the National Society by the late past President General Messmore Kendall, on the finger of the new President General and gave him his gavel. In return, the outgoing President General received as his personal possession to retain, a special presentation gavel. Following this, came the administration of the oath of office by the Chancellor General, W. Giles Parker, followed by the induction into office of the newly-elected General Officers, as follows:

Samuel K. Houston, Secretary General; Harry F. Morse, Treasurer General;

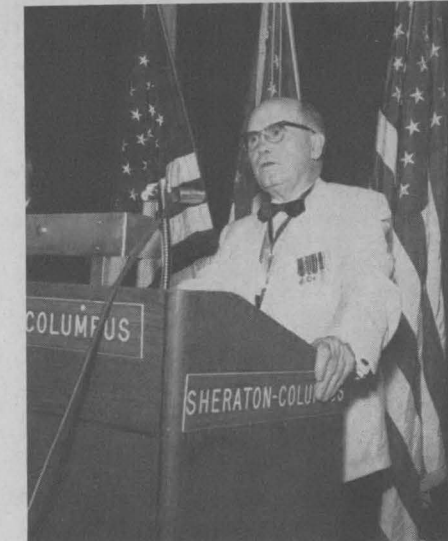

Outgoing Pres. Gen. Kenneth G. Smith surrenders the gavel to newly-installed Pres. Gen. Len Young Smith.

Chancellor Gen. W. Giles Parker administers the oath of office to Pres. Gen. Len Young Smith.

J. Merle Brallier, Registrar General; O. M. Wilson, Jr., Historian General; Lynn D. Sprankle, Genealogist General; Rev. William A. Fluck, D.D., Chaplain General; Grahame T. Smallwood, Jr., Librarian General, and Roy W. Benton, M.D., Surgeon General.

The new President General delivers his inaugural speech at the May 31st banquet.

The address of the principal speaker of the evening, Major General White, Jr., was extremely interesting, and the audience gave it undivided attention. Essentially, it was a discourse elaborating on the power-structure tendencies of the world's governments. The emphasis was that, in time of trouble, a peoples' government tends to place its faith in one man, a form of "benevolent dictatorship" of transitory character. It was stated that security of their society and the advancement of their happiness was the concomitant result of our citizens' most basic desires.

The conclusion of this penetrating analysis of our present-day society evoked unstinted applause on the part of all those present. So ended, for all compatriots, a rare occasion—a time of pleasant memories of one of the most satisfying and enjoyable Congresses ever held by the Sons of the American Revolution.

As an "imperialist", Uncle Sam is a decided bust . . . two victorious global wars and not enough new territory to fill a flowerpot.

Contrary to popular belief, enlisted men who have won the Congressional Medal of Honor do not receive a salute from other enlisted personnel or commissioned officers.

RESOLUTIONS

Presented by the Resolutions Committee to the 77th Annual Congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at Columbus, Ohio. Adopted May, 31, 1967.

Resolution No. 1

A Resolution to declare the political and economic rights which protect the dignity and freedom of the individual, and what is deemed necessary to implement such rights.

WHEREAS, the great message of the American Revolutionists of 1776 to the world was that the State exists for the people, not the people for the State; that the human dignity of the individual means something and must always be fiercely protected by Courts and juries from governmental oppression, and from every form of tyranny over the mind of man; and

WHEREAS, to understand and maintain this American way of life, by exemplary conduct, and to pass it intact to succeeding generations, is the responsibility of every true American; and

WHEREAS, the political and economic rights which protect the dignity and freedom of the individual include:

- The right to worship God in one's own way.
- The right to free speech and press.
- The right to petition for redress of grievances.
- The right to privacy in our homes.
- The right of habeas corpus, and no excessive bail.
- The right to trial by jury under the doctrine that everyone is innocent until proven guilty.
- The right to move about freely and safely at home and abroad.
- The right of all citizens to keep and bear arms.
- The right to own private property.
- The right to free elections and personal secret ballot.
- The right to work in callings and localities of our choice.
- The right to bargain with our employers and employees.
- The right to go into business to compete and make a profit.
- The right to contract our affairs.
- The right to the service of government as a protector and referee.
- The right to freedom from arbitrary government regulation and control; and

WHEREAS, there is in this declaration of rights, for which our ancestors struggled, the greatness of truth; and

WHEREAS, in recent times there has crept in amongst us reactionary medieval ideologies from communistic and other totalitarian states, utterly inconsistent with the political philosophy of our founding fathers; be it therefore

RESOLVED: That we, the members of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in Congress assembled, do hereby reaffirm the declarations of the first American revolutionists, and swear eternal hostility against all forms of government oppression, and against every form of tyranny over the mind of man; and

To further implement these rights and declarations, we unequivocally support:

1. The voluntary reading of the Holy Bible and the voluntary offering of prayers in our schools; and
2. The rights of the States, in the exercise of their sovereign powers not specifically granted to the federal government; and
3. A strict separation of powers amongst the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the federal government, as set out in Constitution; and
4. Adherence to the Monroe Doctrine, in the right and duty of the United States to protect itself; its people, and this hemisphere from invasion, infiltration, and subversion by foreign forces; and

5. Endorsement of the admonitions of George Washington, contained in his farewell address to the American people.

Resolution No. 2

A Resolution supporting legislation to prevent desecration of the flag.

WHEREAS, there are an increasing number of reports of desecration and mutilation of the Flag of the United States; and

WHEREAS, there is no law making such act except in the District of Columbia a crime against the United States; and

WHEREAS, several bills have been introduced in Congress to make such acts committed anywhere in the United States criminal offenses against the United States; be it therefore RESOLVED by the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution that it strongly supports and recommends the passage of appropriate legislation making the desecration or mutilation of the Flag of the United States anywhere in the United States a crime and fixing proper penalties therefor.

Resolution No. 3

WHEREAS, in his farewell address, George Washington warned us against meddling in the internal affairs of other nations; and

WHEREAS, in the early years of our Republic, our commerce was interfered with, our shipping seized and our citizens imprisoned merely because we had the temerity to declare our independence;

FURTHERMORE, as a natural result of our own experience our government has always stood for self-determination of the people themselves; be it therefore

RESOLVED that the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, opposes the interference of the United Nations and/or any other international body with the people of any nation bent on seeking or maintaining their own independence; and opposes all attempts by the governments of older and stronger nations to invade and acquire the territory of younger and weaker nations.

Resolution No. 4

WHEREAS, the increasing expenditures of government for unnecessary and purposeless programs result in unwarranted and excessive taxation which tends to limit the economic freedom of the individual; and

WHEREAS, many members of Congress have in recognition of this fact courageously voted against any increase in the national debt; be it therefore RESOLVED by the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution that it commends the action of the several members of Congress in voting against the recent increase in the limitation on the national debt and urges their continued opposition against unnecessary expenditures by the Federal Government.

Resolution No. 5

WHEREAS, this Society is composed of descendants of those who fought for and gained our independence and freedom; and

WHEREAS, we are dedicated to peace—but peace with honor; and

WHEREAS, the President has stated publicly that if Hanoi would come to the conference table and make peace, the United States was prepared to give billions of dollars as foreign aid to South East Asia "including North Vietnam;" and

WHEREAS, obtaining peace in return for American dollars would be dishonorable and a forfeiture of our integrity, and invite further blackmail; be it therefore

RESOLVED that the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, support the United States in maintaining unrelenting military naval and air pressure to hasten victory and peace in Vietnam and to justify the sacrifice of the American fighting men who have given their lives in a war which the United States must win. We have always had "Millions for defense—but not one cent for tribute," and we believe "There is no substitute for Victory."

Resolution No. 6

Resolution for representation on the Bicentennial Commissions.

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has constituted the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, and

WHEREAS, the Sons of the American Revolution and other patriotic societies consist of members descended from patriots who participated in the American Revolution and such societies have a vital interest in the celebration of the Bicentennial of the Revolution; be it therefore RESOLVED by the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution that as and when a vacancy occurs on said Bicentennial Commission the President of the United States be urged and requested to appoint a member and representative of the Sons of the American Revolution or other of such patriotic societies to serve on said Commission.

Resolution No. 7

WHEREAS, the present world situation is fraught with great tension and danger; and

WHEREAS, the security of our Nation is threatened by such world events; and

WHEREAS, the efficiency and readiness of our military force is most necessary for our protection; and

WHEREAS, recent actions of the Department of Defense are seriously reducing the effectiveness of our military forces, particularly the reserve components,

RESOLVED by the National Society, SAR, that the Department of Defense be requested to discontinue present efforts to reduce or eliminate the reserve components of our military forces and that such reserve forces be organized, and trained to at all times effectively reinforce the regular components to the end that the security of the United States be adequately protected, RESOLVED FURTHER that a copy of the resolution be sent to the Chairman of the Armed Services Committees of the Congress of the United States.

Resolution No. 8

A Resolution to express appreciation for assistance rendered to the 77th Congress.

WHEREAS, the 77th Annual Congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution has resulted most successfully in every respect; and

WHEREAS, much of the credit for these fine results is due to many individuals and our appreciation should be extended to them; be it therefore

RESOLVED: That the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution hereby expresses its grateful appreciation to President General Kenneth G. Smith, Sr., and to his charming and devoted wife, Margaret, for the faithful performance by him of the arduous duties of his high office and the gracious giving of their talents to his outstanding administration; and

Be it further resolved: That we also express our grateful appreciation to our Executive Secretary, Warren S. Woodward, his conscientious wife, Gisela, his staff, and all officers, committee chairmen, and members, and others who prepared and took part in the splendid program of this Congress; and

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

NEWS and EVENTS

IN CHAPTERS AND STATE SOCIETIES

Your SAR Magazine staff recommends that state societies appoint a qualified compatriot to assemble and transmit ready-to-print material to the office of the Editor. Cooperation by such state societies will obviously enable us to accord them a maximum of representation within these pages.

Do not send newspaper clippings or chapter notices, instead of ready-to-print resumes of activities.

Many situations necessitate the editing of submitted copy, and we reserve the customary editorial prerogative of condensing or omitting that which circumstances justify.

Due to limited space, the text of speeches and essays cannot be published.

Submitted photographs should be black and white glossy prints, for satisfactory reproduction, and should be "SAR subject-related."

Do not send photographs or material which are of such value that their return is necessitated. A service charge of $1 will be made for each photo or item that must be returned.

THE "DEADLINE" FOR ALL MATERIAL FOR THE NEXT ISSUE IS SEPT. 1, 1967.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Surveys have shown that less than 1% of the American people have ever read or even owned a copy of the United States Constitution.

Our pocket-sized edition of the Constitution, in paper cover, contains the Preamble, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence.

In addition, there are sections: The Presidents, New Citizens Oaths, Armed Services Oaths, Anti-Subversive Oaths and Electoral totals since 1860.

Distribution is recommended for employees of industry, schools, associations, lodges, clubs, new citizens, etc. This is highly recommended as an SAR Chapter project.

100 for $25. 500 for $100. 1000 for $150.

In quantities of more than 200, personalized imprints will be supplied on the cover without charge.

FIRST SALUTE TO THE FLAG

John Paul Jones took command of the RANGER in June of 1777. On Saturday, February 14, 1178 at 4 PM, Jones on the RANGER saluted the French Admiral LeMotte Picquet. He received nine guns in return. This was the first salute ever paid to the American Flag. (taken from the Memoirs of Ezra Green, Surgeon aboard the RANGER.)

Donations to the SAR Library of family genealogies and locale histories containing biographical or genealogical data are solicited. Such additions to our Library assist in facilitating the processing of applications and supplemental applications. Donated volumes should be sent to National Headquarters, SAR, 2412 Mass. Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20008. Such gifts will be listed in the Magazine, and the donor will receive an acknowledgment certificate.

HATS OFF TO A WASHINGTON COLUMNIST!

Want to put a little adventure into your life? All right, then display an American Flag outside your house on national holidays or Flag Day. In fact, you can have a lot of fun just trying to find one, as I learned from personal experience. It all started the day before Memorial Day, when in a patriotic outburst, I commanded my wife to locate a store that sold American flags, the idea being that I would then go down and buy one. While I read the paper, I overheard my wife's conversations with various stores. "Do you people sell American Flags, Not 'bags.' American Flags. You remember, red, white and blue? Yes, I'll wait. (Pause) You don't have flags? No, we're not interested in a PICTURE of the flag, we want the real thing. Thanks anyway."

SHE called several stores here, with much the same result, and one Georgetown gift shoppe. "Do you stock flags? No, I did NOT call you a name. I said FLAGS, the American flag! No, thanks, a picture of Mt. Vernon or the White House won't do. Forget it." Eventually she found a store that sold American flags and I went by and picked one up. It came complete with pole. It wasn't as inexpensive as the flags sold by the Senate Stationery Room, but the store was more convenient.

While we were looking for a place to hang out the Flag, we discovered that our porch had a flag pole holder already there. Since our house was built around 1904, it occurred to me that hanging out the Flag wasn't at all unusual in those days. We decided to sit on the porch for an hour or so Memorial Day evening to see if there were any neighborhood reaction. A gang of kids came down the street, making a lot of noise. As they got in front of the house they noticed the Flag. Two of them whispered to each other and pointed at us. One giggled. A middle-aged couple came along and the man, a stranger, called to me, "Your Flag, there, it looks real nice." Cars went by and some passengers stared back at our Flag thru' the rear windows, as tho' they'd never seen one before. Maybe they thought our house was some sort of Government building.

The next day, a friend telephoned. He said he'd driven past our house the day before and saw our Flag. "I guess you know," he said, "it makes your house look like a Post Office, ha-ha." I asked him how he'd like to come over and have me postmark him, right in the mouth. What's wrong with putting out a Flag? I wanted to know. He said, "Well, nothing at all, I guess, but let me tell you something, Mac, in these times, it sort of makes you look like an extremist, know what I mean?"
