

Invest in America's priceless heritage: a Limited Edition of The Paul Revere— Old North Church Lantern

Authorized by the Concord Museum

Two lanterns beamed from the Old North Church Steeple on the night of April 18, 1775, a signal arranged by Paul Revere that the British were moving troops north from Boston by boat ("one if by land — and two if by sea").

One of these famous lanterns has survived. It is now in the collection of the Concord Antiquarian Society and on view in a locked and guarded display case in their Museum at Concord, Massachusetts.

Under special authorization granted by the Museum exclusively to the Limited Editions Collectors Society, a limited number of certified, authentic replicas of the Paul Revere/Old North Church Lantern are being meticulously produced to commemorate America's Bicentennial. Through the Collectors Society, a very limited number of Americans will be able to experience an unusual sense of involvement in the Bicentennial by acquiring either one, or a pair, of the Society's identifiable replicas of this great American symbol. Simultaneously, they will be making a most promising investment — in a collector item that is sure to become an heirloom of the future.

The significance of the Paul Revere/Old North Church Lantern as an historical symbol has long been established. For instance, in 1963, a pair of replica lanterns, fashioned in sterling silver, were awarded to President John F. Kennedy by the National Press Club. And, just recently, a silver plated replica of the lantern was awarded to President Gerald Ford, by Boston's famous Middlesex Club. Because of their strong historical symbolism, each Lantern is an appropriate Bicentennial presentation piece to give to an historical society, a civic organization or public official.

Each authentic Lantern replica will be engraved with an individual serial number and recorded in the permanent Master Registry of Ownership maintained at the Concord Museum for the perpetual protection of the integrity of the Limited Edition. This procedure also protects the growth in the Collector value of each Lantern against any effect due to sale of unauthorized reproductions and counterfeits, some of which are already being offered.

Packed with each Lantern is a "Certificate of Authenticity" signed by the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Concord Antiquarian Society and by members of the Historical Advisory Board of the Collectors Society including: Daniel Fenn, Director, John F. Kennedy Presidential Library, Cambridge, Massachusetts; Dr. John Platt, Senior Historian, National Park Service, U.S. Department of Interior; Edward C. Bursk, Editor Emeritus, Harvard Business Review; Esmond Wright, Professor of American History, University of London.

Each Lantern is furnished with a recessed plinth crafted of fine Honduras mahogany on which the owner can display the Lantern formally. Or, if desired, the free-standing Lantern can be removed from the plinth and used in an almost endless variety of decorative uses in the home or office. Permanently mounted on the plinth is a plaque carrying the Museum's Certification of authenticity and its special serial number. An optional second plaque carrying the name and special inscription of the purchaser can be ordered at a nominal additional charge.

The Lantern is 5½" square at base, 12¼" high, and is being made of heavy gauge brass in four finishes — 22 karat gold plate, .999 silver plate, a pewter finish, and an antique brass finish. A very limited number will also be available in sterling. The Lanterns range in price from $148 to $495 in sterling and a savings can be enjoyed by ordering a pair. (See commissioning order coupon.)

If you wish to order a Lantern, or a pair, we urge you to fill out the coupon and send it at once, along with your deposit, to avoid disappointment. A number of orders have already been received, and there is currently a ten week delivery back-log. Since the readership of the S.A.R. magazine is estimated to exceed 20,000, we must insist on the following terms: Serial numbers will be assigned strictly on the basis of time of receipt, and we cannot guarantee early delivery of any order received after December 31, 1974. Make your check payable to Paul Revere Lantern, or, if you prefer, just send a $50 deposit for each Lantern you order and we will bill you for the balance just prior to shipping.

Each Lantern replica is fully and unconditionally guaranteed. They are not available in stores, nor will orders from stores be accepted.

The PRESIDENT GENERAL'S MESSAGE ~ ~ ~

from Point Lookout, Missouri

Dear Compatriots:

As I pursue my duties as your President General I am frequently reminded that in a patriotic organization such as The Sons of the American Revolution our ultimate strength lies in numbers. But I am also reminded that the success of our undertakings is made possible through the efforts of individuals. Let us never, in our democracy, discount the importance of the individual and his contribution to a cause.

Edward Everett Hale expressed well how the individual should feel toward a cause:

"I am only one
But still I am one.
I cannot do everything,
But still I can do something.
I will not refuse to do something I can do."

And more eloquent than any words that could be mustered about the importance of you as an individual member of S.A.R. is the life of a little known but great American patriot, Dr. Joseph Warren of Boston. Here was a man only three generations removed from England who, because of his convictions, gave his most precious possession, life itself, to the principle in which he believed.

Almost unheard of today (though the Bicentennial Celebration may awaken new interest in him and other lesser known patriots), Dr. Warren served as President of the Provisional Congress, Chairman of the Committee on Safety, Major General and Chief Surgeon of the Army. He might have become Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army except that he campaigned for George Washington who was his personal choice for that high post.

Dr. Warren, a distinguished physician and military hero without uniform, was one of those rare men who rise to the occasion and the needs of his country. Son of a farmer, young Warren, with ambitions to become a physician like one of his grandparents, was admitted to Harvard when he was only 14. When his father died from a fall out of an apple tree, it was necessary for his mother to obtain public funds to pay the boy's school expenses. Harvard, possessing only a few books on medicine and just two skeletons, provided little training in practical medicine so it was necessary for him to be apprenticed to a practicing physician. His mother had to mortgage part of the family farm to pay the cost of the apprenticeship. Fortunately his mentor was Boston's best.

Following his apprenticeship, Warren worked in a hospital attending smallpox patients and giving inoculations. He also served as midwife, pulled teeth, did amputations, set bones and reduced dislocations. When young Doctor Warren needed two of his own teeth replaced, his friend silversmith Paul Revere made them for him so he would appear presentable to his elite Boston patients.

In spite of the fact that he built up the largest practice in Boston he did not hesitate to accept the responsibilities of civic duties. He objected to the Stamp Act and was active against the infringements on the rights of the colonists although the crown had appointed him Almshouse Physician. He joined the Masonic Order and was appointed Grand Master of the Masons in the Boston area.

After his young wife died at the age of 26 he increased his activities in political matters. As Chairman of the Committee on Safety, he doubtless had knowledge of the acts of the "Mohawks" who participated in the Boston Tea Party.

Although nearly every schoolboy in America knows at least the poet's version of Paul Revere's midnight ride, it was Dr. Warren who gave the order for the ride to warn the countryside of the approach of the British.

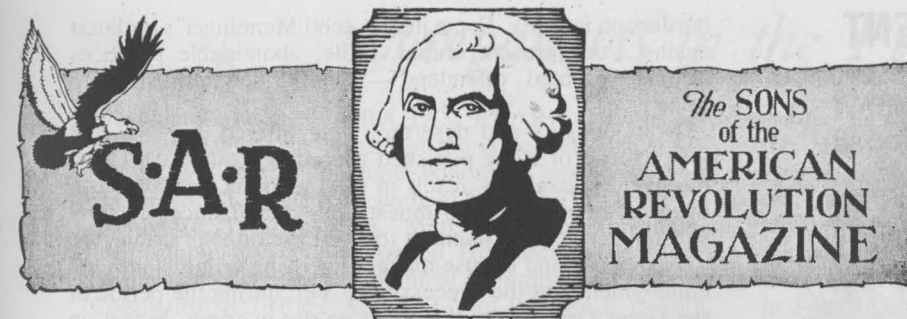

Having cast his lot with the colonists, Dr. Warren turned from his Boston practice of medicine to relieving the suffering of the soldiers. He was at Lexington almost immediately after the massacre and treated the wounded there. This event turned the physician into a soldier because he endorsed the belief in the importance of holding off the British until the country could ready itself for war. Dr. Warren joined the continental forces at Bunker Hill.

"When liberty is the price, who would shun the warfare, who would stoop to waste a coward thought on life," was a notable statement of his.

Dr. Joseph Warren, American patriot, was killed during the early phases of the Battle of Bunker Hill. He and other defenders of that almost defenseless hill sacrificed their lives in the cause of freedom, equality, justice and humanity. Here was a patriot who put the dream of country first and his actions demonstrated that his were more than outbursts of bravado activated by emotion. He was dedicated to a well thought out principle in which he believed to the end of his life.

We are descendants of such patriots as Dr. Joseph Warren whose sacrifices gave cause for the purpose of The Sons of the American Revolution. Therefore, let us, with Katherine Lee Bates, raise our voices in grateful song: "O beautiful for patriot dream that sees beyond the years . . ."

The Official Pledge to the Sons of the American Revolution

We descendants of the heroes of the American Revolution who, by their sacrifices, established the United States of America, reaffirm our faith in the principles of liberty and our Constitutional Republic, and solemnly pledge ourselves to defend them against every foe.

The wording of the Pledge to the Sons of the American Revolution was officially changed at an SAR Annual Congress a few years ago. Basically, "Democracy" was replaced by "Republic". Some state societies have continued to distribute obsolete pledge cards bearing the old version, and it is requested that they discontinue such usage. All obsolete pledge cards turned into National Headquarters will be replaced without cost to the sender.

The Honorable Clarence Kelley, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, receives the SAR Law Enforcement Commendation Medal and Certificate from National Law Enforcement Chairman Ordway P. Burden. The bestowal took place at FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C. The late Director, J. Edgar Hoover, received the first medal and certificate of this award when it was instituted in 1968.

Dear Compatriots:

Our esteemed President General continues to receive pro and con letters relative to my editorials, although reportedly, it appears that most recommend continuance. When a final count is available, the President General will announce the results, and this will determine future policy.

In the meantime, I stand firm by all I have written, and apologize to no one. Your pronouncements will ordain whether I will continue to write as intrepidly as before, or not at all.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

by Colonel Glenn I. Epperson
U. S. Cavalry-Ret., SAR, OSB, SCV, MOWW
Chairman, Americanism Committee, NSSAR

"If we go on as we are, there is every possibility that crime will inundate us." These prophetic words were spoken by former U.S. Attorney General William Saxbe in August 1974.

Let's recognize the basic reason for this crime wave. Lack of punishment!

Of the millions of crimes committed in the United States, only 19% are reported. And only 5.7% of the perpetrators of known crimes were tried, sentenced, and sent to jail. Criminologists estimate that 98.5% of all crime in the U. S. goes unpunished. Why then should criminals worry? Their chances of being caught and sent to prison are 1.5 in 100. Pretty good odds, don't you think?

Statistics prove that crime pays—and very well. For example, Daniel Ellsberg who stole and sold the Pentagon Papers. Instead of punishment for his treasonous acts, he reaped royalties.

Paradoxically, the courts have ruled it to be illegal for law-abiding citizens to protect themselves and their property against subversive "peace" organizations. These were out-right "war" organizations, a Fifth Column, baying in full coordination and concert with Hanoi on the Capitol steps in 1971. For their unlawful assembly and destruction of property, the rioters were arrested by the Washington police. Thanks to the ACLU, in January 1975 the courts awarded the demonstrators $25 million or about $10,000 per each Hanoi helper.

FIGURES DON'T LIE

In 1960 the FBI reported there were 3,353,000 serious crimes committed in our country. At the time there were 213,000 convicts in state and federal prisons. In 1972, there were 8,173,000 serious crimes—more than twice the 1960 figure—and the prison population had declined to 197,000. In 1974 there were 968 murders in Chicago with other cities following as close seconds. The national crime rate surged upward 16% in the first nine months of that year.

When the above figures are coupled with the fact that most of the lawbreakers now being arrested are recidivists, the justification for current policies of easy probation and swift parole begins to evaporate. Of the total number of policemen killed in 1974, 59% were cut down by "victims of society" on probation.

Some ideas widely accepted a decade ago now must be called into serious question. One is that criminal behavior is a "disease" that will respond to a prescribed therapy. Another is that a criminal has more chance of reforming outside of prison than inside. Also there is a loud communist-inspired minority who object to law enforcement agencies and prisons in the first place and who demand that they should be put out of existence. Parenthetically, these are the same bleeding hearts who would eliminate our Armed Forces and disarm law-abiding citizens.

Eminent psychiatrists like Karl Menninger tell us that the law-abiding citizen is the real criminal because he wants to put muggers, rapists, murderers, and terrorists behind bars. These misguided sociologists bray that criminals are victims of society and they insist that punishment is no deterrent to crime.

Capricious judges have tied the hands of police. The leftist ideology behind the protection and coddling of known criminals by the ACLU has made a mockery of justice. The apathy of the American citizen while being "ripped off" borders on insanity. Some judges echo Menninger's outburst against "our present stupid, futile, abominable practices against detected offenders"—namely, sending them to prison.

Draft dodgers and deserters were offered amnesty and jobs instead of being punished according to law. This permissiveness can only result in total anarchy and agony in event of another war. Amnesty has added another slimy substance of permissiveness to swell the ooze of crime.

Apologists and excuse-makers for rising crime blame unemployment and the "recession." Yet, during the period of the Great Depression, there was no rise in crime. In fact, in the 1930's there was very little crime compared to the 1970's. But, then the death penalty was exercised where warranted and crime was not permitted to pay.

THE TAXPAYERS PAY

There are more laws to protect the youthful offender than to safeguard the victim from the juvenile criminal. Yet, most crimes are committed by those under 18. School vandalism alone costs taxpayers billions of dollars. The young hooligans and arsonists realize that they will not be punished, so that makes them bolder and makes them want to get away with even more to impress their peers and gang members. If an individual is old enough to commit a man's crime, he is old enough to receive a man's punishment.

Our country's crime situation can be compared to that of a large family where there are too many children and where discipline and respect for law and order and for the rights of others have broken down entirely. When mother and dad refuse to discipline their children and neglect their responsibilities to impart the fact that each individual can enjoy freedoms only to the extent that in exercising those freedoms he does not impair or encroach upon the rights and freedoms of others, pandemonium results.

To face the facts about crime and punishment does not mean society must abandon faith in the possibilities of redemption. Some criminals eventually do reform—but through personality changes that seldom can be linked to any parole or probation program. There is no appreciable difference to the later behavior of convicted offenders who are made the object of rehabilitation experiments and those who are not.

What we are left with is a situation where far too many offenders are enjoying freedom on the mistaken assumption that their chances for rehabilitation have been increased by excusing them from punishment for breaking the law. This is corrupting the meaning of our laws and perverting a principle of justice. Now it is the law-abiding citizen who is behind locked doors—protecting himself from the criminal in the streets.

Until the nation restores sanity to its thinking about crime and punishment, the violence of lawlessness will be visited upon us indefinitely, with the statistics continuing to spiral upward—and we'll deserve to be inundated with crime. It is time to gore some sacred oxen!

Have you asked your Congressman and state legislator for a return to sanity? It means your survival.

CELEBRATE BICENTENNIAL With Historic 27 U.S. Flags!

The twenty-seven different flags in this set cover the development of our flag from the First Stars and Stripes (sometimes referred to as the Betsy Ross Flag) right up to the present 50-Star U.S. Flag. Each flag is 4" x 6", printed on rayon and mounted on an ebonized staff with gilded spearhead. An attractive Display Stand completes the set.

Since the latest change in the number of stars there has been an increasing public interest in the earlier flags of our nation. The dates that each flag was in use are clearly printed on the heading of each flag and provides a permanent reference for the history of our flag. Packaged in an attractive Red, White and Blue illustrated box, this set makes a fine gift.

Some Feather Duster!

Back in Colonial times, when American farmers cleaned out a sooty chimney, the feathers really flew!

A live goose was often used as a chimney sweep. The householder would climb to his roof and drop the goose, attached to a rope, down the flue. Then, as he pulled the struggling bird up to the top of the chimney and let it down to the hearth several times, the powerful wings would loosen the soot on all sides and clean out the chimney.

The blacker the goose, the cleaner the chimney . . . and that poor goose was probably madder than a wet hen!

Rules for the President
General's Cup Plaque Contest

Now is the time for chapter officers to make plans to win the President General's Cup Plaque.

For the benefit of chapter officers, a review of the rules governing the award is published herein.

- (1) The winner of the Plaque will be selected on the basis of evidence offered that the competing chapter has successfully engaged in a program of activities related to our patriotic, historical and educational purposes.
- (2) Credit will be given for additional activities, consistent with the purposes and objectives of the National Society, which may have been adopted and developed by the local chapter.
- (3) The winner will receive the Plaque on Recognition Night at the 85th Annual Congress.
- (4) The name of the winning chapter will be engraved on one of the gold shields on the Plaque.
- (5) The winning chapter will retain custody of the President General's Cup Plaque until the next Annual Congress of the National Society, and will be responsible for its safe-keeping and delivery to the Executive Secretary before the next Annual Congress.
- (6) Chapters are requested to submit their evidence in some form of binder for the convenience of the committee.
- (7) All entries in the contest must be in the office of the Executive Secretary not later than June 15, 1975 in order to qualify.

There are some suggestions which may be helpful in preparing a record which will furnish the judges with adequate information on which they may evaluate the chapter's program. The information should be assembled in a binder. Photographs of meetings, awards presented and special activities, together with newspaper clippings and concise accounts of the event, should be included. The material should be arranged in chronological order. The records must be confined to SAR activities, and the period beginning April 1, 1974 and ending March 31, 1975.

Not A Bad Idea

The George Mason Chapter of the Virginia Society, beset by not uncommon problems in funding its good citizenship awards, historical oration contest, commemorative wreath layings, graves registration markers, Bicentennial activities, and the like, has determined not to raise its dues despite rising costs, because such increases might work a hardship on some of its members and potentially stunt its rapidly-growing membership.

Instead, the Chapter is establishing a non-profit, tax-deductible, "Patriotic, Historical, and Educational Fund" to which members may contribute privately to the degree desired, to support these essential programs. Members are given the opportunity to provide for such contributions at the time they receive their notice for annual dues.

Other chapters may find this an acceptable alternative to increasing dues, while maintaining the activities which keep the S.A.R. in the public eye.

WINTER 1975

Few diplomatic efforts are as frustrating as the one involving some indication of the fate of the 1,300 missing American servicemen in Vietnam. Not only do the communists refuse to honor the cease-fire agreement they signed, which specified assistance in the search, but they constantly erect new conditions before they will cooperate.

The latest exchange between American and Viet Cong representatives was no better. In an effort to gain information on at least some of the men, the U.S. Embassy in Saigon handed the Viet Cong a list of 87 Americans it has reason to believe are known to them.

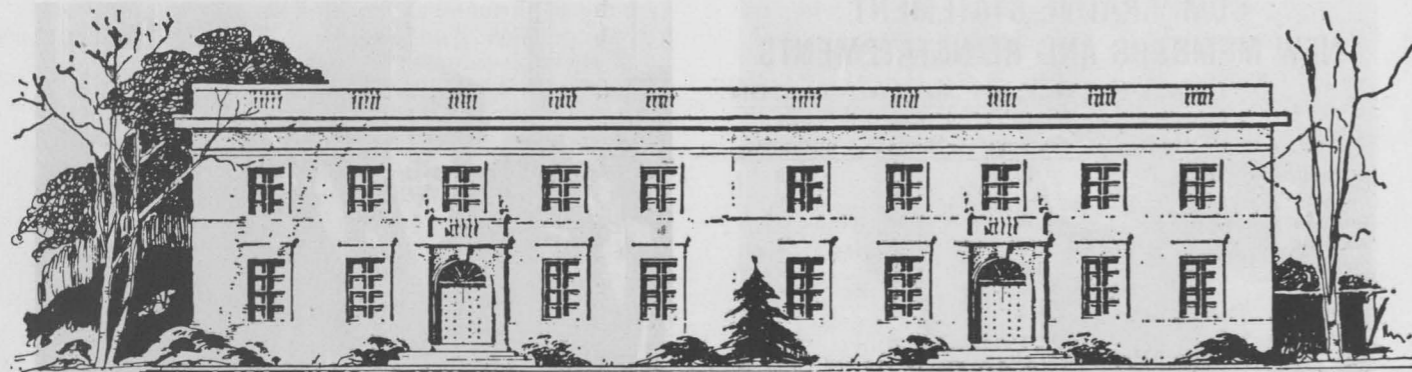

Within days the Viet Cong answer was relayed. Nothing doing, until their conditions were met, said the communist representatives. Those conditions included cessation of all military assistance to Saigon, help in the overthrow of President Nguyen Van Thieu and fulfillment of all terms of the ceasefire agreement, including the ceasefire itself.

Since the United States no longer is a combatant it has little direct influence over ceasefire violations—and none at all over those chargeable to the Viet Cong. The first two "conditions" are not only totally unrealistic, but they have nothing to do with the earlier agreement signed by the Viet Cong.

Present SAR National Headquarters

Projected Addition

It is becoming increasingly difficult for the National Headquarters staff to operate efficiently because the present facilities, originally designed as a private home, are no longer adequate. With the mounting work load, together with a growing inventory of genealogical volumes and museum items, we must have more space for offices, records, library and museum. The practical and most economical solution is the construction of an adjoining building, to be built upon our adjoining side lot. The building has been authorized by the National Trustees and the 77th Annual Congress . . . subject to our ability to raise the necessary funds.

Exhibit the spirit of sacrifice displayed by your Revolutionary forebears, and join the distinguished ranks below. Your tax-deductible donation may be dedicated to the memory of a loved one. Please act today.

The following list acknowledges those who have donated $100 or more to the SAR Building Fund. Due to the space factor, listing of donors of lesser amounts will be printed but once, in the magazine issue following the donation.

U.S. Support For North Vietnam

by
IRA C. EAKER

The recent charge that the Defense Department has attempted to hide military aid in its budget and deliberately mislead the Congress on the amount of aid to South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, is not only ridiculous but it is a gross insult to able Chairman George Mahon and his diligent Appropriations Committee of the House. No other appropriation by the Congress gets the thorough going over that is habitually accorded the military budget. It is examined and defended item by item down to the last man, gun, ship and plane.

The most important result of this ill conceived, indefensible action of deserting our allies in their defense against cruel, armed aggression, may be in the future diplomatic area. What faith can the Third World presently uncommitted nations place in our promises of aid in their resistance to communist infiltration and domination? It must now be clear that the Kremlin and Peking are more constant and reliable supporters of their dependent states than Washington is of its Allies.

Heretofore, the subject of aid to those nations endangered by communist aggression, has not been a politically partisan issue. President Truman was its originator and early champion and every President since, including President Nixon, has stoutly supported it. Secretary of State Kissinger recently stated, "We recognize that we have derived a certain obligation from our long and deep involvement.... We have thus committed ourselves very substantially, both politically and morally...." Only a revival of the same wise, non-partisan support can save it now.

There can be little doubt that liberal, left wing anti-war groups now want to see North Vietnam conquer South Vietnam by naked, armed aggression. The recent action of the U.S. Senate in cutting $266 million in funds to aid South Vietnam, leaves no other reasonable conclusion.

Leaders in Hanoi have been bolstering the morale of their forces in South Vietnam by telling them that time is on their side; that the U.S. will eventually cut off aid to South Vietnam, resulting in its inevitable fall to communism. Recent Congressional action tends to verify this claim.

The denial of military and economic aid to the gallant South Vietnamese people, or reducing it to ineffective proportions, is scarcely comprehensible, especially in view of the fact that Russia and Red China have continued their aid to North Vietnam.

Since the Paris cease-fire agreement, Hanoi, in flagrant disregard of its terms, has moved into South Vietnam 120,000 troops, more than 300 tanks, about 500 heavy artillery guns and 100,000 tons of supplies and ammunition. More than 2,000 trucks have been photographed by our reconnaissance drones, engaged in the effort. In addition, the North Vietnamese have increased their anti-aircraft defenses in South Vietnam by 1,400 guns and they have built, south of the DMZ, at least 12 new MIG air bases.

This tremendous Red buildup in South Vietnam leaves no doubt that North Vietnam intends to launch a full scale military offensive. The only question is when it will be launched. The attitude of the U.S. Congress, in denying adequate aid to South Vietnam, must inevitably hasten this tragic event. It will also mean that all our vast effort—50,000 U.S. dead and $150 billion expenditure—to prevent the fall of Southeast Asia will have been in vain.

Comp. James W. Halbert, who at 21 is probably the youngest recipient of the Patriot Medal, receives the coveted award from V.P. Gen. Frank W. Kinnamon. (l. to r): Maryland Society Pres. Warren A. Burdette, Comp. Halbert, Comp. Kinnamon and Maryland National Trustee Virgil A. Halbert (the proud father). Comp. James Halbert is credited with having designed, produced, publicized and assisted in the sale of the Maryland Society Bicentennial Medal.

Sir Winston Churchill's Personal Crown

Privately inscribed by Lady Spencer-Churchill

Strictly limited centenary edition set in solid sterling silver diameter approx 4 ins. weight approx 3-1/2 oz.

To mark the centenary of Sir Winston Churchill, the British Library of Imperial History has been authorised, as official publisher of his Collected Works, to issue a numbered limited edition of solid sterling silver Crown Dishes, privately inscribed by Lady Spencer-Churchill.

The edition is unusually restricted. Each dish has as its centrepiece one of the Churchill Crowns produced by the Royal Mint in 1965 as a limited issue; only a small reserve of these remain available for the centenary edition, and in consequence only 1,500 examples will be available in the United States.

The Churchill Crown is a unique coin of the realm. It is the first time in British history that a person other than the sovereign has appeared on legal tender, although the Churchill Crown bears the Queen's head on its obverse. The design is by the celebrated sculptor Oscar Nemon. The coin is no longer minted and may be obtained now only privately. The Crown in accordance with ancient practice bears no face value.

The special inscribed collectors' edition is authorised by the Churchill Centenary Trust. Each Crown Dish, to be made individually to order by Roberts & Dore, the distinguished London silversmiths, will bear the hallmark of the London Assay Office, together with the initials of Sir Winston, the dates 1874-1974, and the signature of Lady Spencer-Churchill. A numbered certificate of authenticity, and a handmade velvet and satin display case, will be provided with each one.

Demand for the centenary Crown Dish—a collector's item within a collector's item—is bound to be considerable. You are urged therefore to make prompt application. In no circumstances can the Library exceed the limit of 1,500 examples within the United States.

Please accept immediately my subscription to the Churchill Crown Dish centenary limited edition, inscribed by Lady Spencer-Churchill. Issue limited to a maximum of 1,500 pieces in the United States.

I enclose my check for _____ Sir Winston Churchill Crown dish(es) at $85 each, inclusive of handling and delivery charges.

The FLORIDA SOCIETY

proudly presents its candidate for the office of CHAPLAIN GENERAL

at the 85th Annual Congress in 1975 at Boston.

LUTHER F. GERHART

a descendant of Ensign John Gerhart of the Pennsylvania Militia, has served as Chaplain, Clearwater Chapter, the Florida Society, and an outstanding term as Chaplain General.

A graduate of Muhlenberg College, Philadelphia Lutheran Theological Seminary and New York University, he holds the degrees of A.B., M.A. and Doctor of Divinity. The U.S. Navy called him to active duty in 1941, and he served at sea, in the Philippines, in Hawaii and in the continental United States until his retirement in 1960 with the rank of Captain. His posts as a Naval Chaplain were varied, and included the high office of Chaplain of the Atlantic Fleet. Even during his demanding naval career, Compatriot Gerhart managed to be active in SAR, whenever possible.

His distinguished career has included service to ecumenical, school, boy scout and civic organizations.

Compatriot Gerhart is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau National Fraternity, the American Legion, the Pennsylvania German Society and the Navy League. He is married to the former Dorothy Alberta Pursell of Philadelphia, and the devoted couple are proud of their daughter, son and seven grandchildren.

(This space has been purchased by the Florida Society.)

The title, "Father of his Country," originated in the Keystone State. The term was first used in the Pennsylvania German Almanac, "Nord Americanische Kalender." The Almanac was printed in Lancaster, and designated George Washington as "Des Landes Vater" which, translated literally, means "Father of the Land." In due time, this became "Father of his Country."

ATTENTION! CHAPTERS & STATE SOCIETIES

This paperback book isn't just another story of the life of the Father of our Country. It's a new refreshing approach, dwelling upon the youth and formative years of George Washington . . . the training and experiences that made him what he was. This thrilling easy-to-read book will inspire American youth at a time when such inspiration is critically needed.

Here is a suggested plan of action: Compatriots should contact businessmen, within or without SAR ranks, suggesting that they allocate fifty or a hundred dollars of their advertising funds to the purchase of these books. Businessmen will appreciate the fact that they will be given the benefit of a reduced price (perhaps $75 per 100 books). They would then be invited to stamp their advertising message or, at least, their identity in the inside of the front cover. For example: "Compliments of John Doe, Insurance—or First National Bank." If these books are presented to all members of the local high school graduating class, the program can reoccur each year. Employers could also present them to all their employees, especially those with children.

The distribution of this book could well be responsible for helping to reduce theft and wanton destruction, if children try to emulate George Washington's honesty, obedience, industry, modesty and religious respect. It should not be too difficult to find concerned patriotic businessmen to participate in this worthy program. In their realization that America is in dire peril, they will appreciate an opportunity to help in improving these dangerous conditions. Furthermore, contributors should remember that their participation is tax-deductible, as a legitimate advertising expenditure.

Mum's the Word

After Washington's Revolutionary armies broke camp at Valley Forge early in the summer of 1778 to begin chasing the British back across New Jersey, the commander-in-chief made a stop at Richard Holcombe's house at Coryell's Ferry, now Lambertville. Mrs. Holcombe was abrim with curiosity and finally asked the General where he was headed. "Madame," he asked with grave courtesy, "can you keep a secret?" "Indeed yes," she replied. "Well, so can I," Washington said, and next day was off again to the wars.

A state which dwarfs its men, in order that they may be more docile instruments in its hands, even for beneficial purposes, will find that with small men, no great thing can really be accomplished.

THE AMERICAN ROYAL FAMILY

The British Library of Imperial History Presents a Solid Sterling Silver Limited Edition, Hallmarked in London

For almost half its history America gave and acknowledged its allegiance not to the symbols of independent sovereignty but to the British Crown. It is sometimes forgotten that during that long period of colonial rule the benefits of monarchy often outweighed the burdens, and that despite the final stresses, for 150 years the colonies looked upon the Crown with tolerance and even some affection.

Now, on the eve of the bicentennial of the American Revolution, it may be thought fitting to honour that great stretch of history which began with the founding of the first permanent settlement at Jamestown in 1607 and which ended, in effect, with rebellion at Lexington. An age so extensive that it included the reigns of ten of the last seventeen British monarchs.

Thus, the American Royal Family, a pre-bicentennial limited edition which brings together for the first time each and every sovereign whose continuing claim to hold America within the dominion of the Crown ensured at least that in their manhood each colony remained brother to the next.

The edition has been devised by the British Library of Imperial History in the form of a set of ten magnificent and historic solid sterling silver spoons, with the head of each American king and queen individually sculpted under the supervision of the National Portrait Gallery, London, and heavily plated in gold.

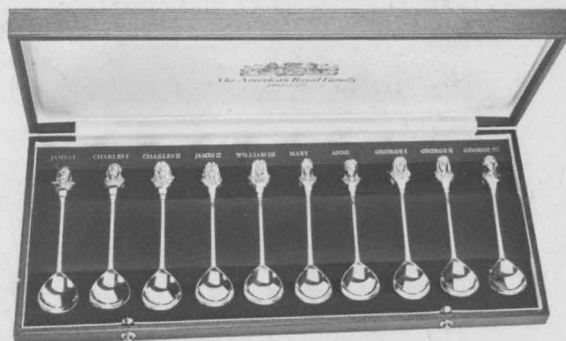

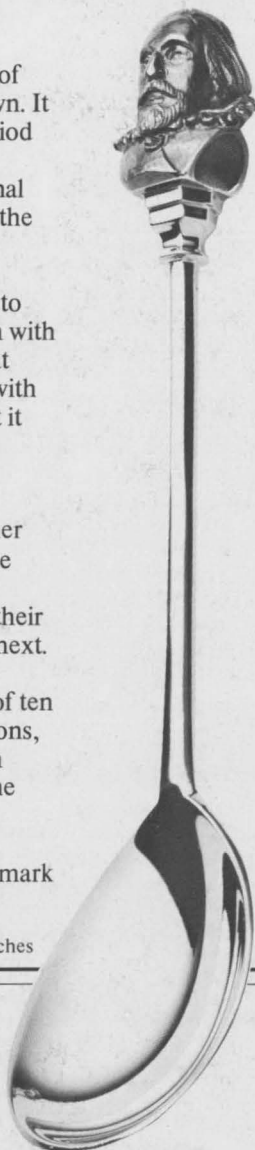

Each Royal spoon bears the Leopard's Head mark of the London Assay Office independently stamped into the bowl in the fashion of early English silver, together with the private hallmark of the Library of Imperial History and the personal cypher of each sovereign.

Only 2,000 of these beautiful museum-quality sets will be available in the United States. In consequence this rare and historic limited edition must be considered to have especial appeal, whether intended as an investment or as an heirloom.

Numbered certificates of authenticity are issued separately from London to successful subscribers. Each set is contained within its own presentation case, embossed with the Arms of the last American king, George III.

The price, inclusive of all taxes and delivery charges, is $756. No spoon may be purchased singly, and the edition will never be repeated again.

Spoon of King James I Actual size 4-1/2 inches
