

President General's Message

Dear Compatriots and SAR Friends:

With great pride, humility and enthusiasm, I assumed the post of President General at the conclusion of the 105th Annual Congress in Louisville this June. What a thrill it was to wear George Washington's Seal Ring for a few moments after being installed — a powerful reminder of what he and our Patriot ancestors gave to us and our nation. This year we will demonostrate how we treasure this priceless gift.

How will we show love for our country and our Society over the months ahead? Here are a few of the ways.

First, we will aggressively tell our membership — and indeed the whole country — about our Society's significant achievements throughout its 105-year history. And we will highlight our current and future programs as well. To assist in this effort, we have engaged the services of a professional public relations counseling firm — a first for the SAR. By elevating our public profile as to who we are and what worthy projects we sponsor, we will attract eligible potential members to join us as active Compatriots. The public relations agenda will be aimed at all media, with the objective of featuring what our Society and members are doing.

Secondly, we will be working more creatively and cooperatively with other organizations that share our vision and values. Foremost here is the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which recently elected Mrs. Charles K. Kemper as President General. It was a delight that she and her SAR husband attended our Congress. Both of our Societies have established a Regional Lineage Workshop Program to aid those interested in genealogy — with the hope that they will discover their eligibility for joining our ranks. The SAR and DAR wil be working closely in this most important undertaking. To the DARs about the country who have already assisted us, we say THANK YOU!

Thirdly, we will strive to recruit new members, as well as encourage greater involvement from current members — and the return of those who have dropped their affiliation. A new Retention and Reinstatement Task Force has been developed. With the slogan "Adopt A Drop", this group is commissioned to tackle these problems in earnest.

As reported in the article beginning on page 20 of this issue of our magazine, other new Committees have been formed to help improve the workings of our Society. Also listed are the composition of Committees that have been doing a job so well for us over the years. You will note that hundreds of Compatriots are involved; we extend thanks to them for their willingness to serve. We also express gratitude to those who have served in the past. You will note that the chairmanship of some Committees has been changed — as part of a continuing effort from one administration to another to make sure that we have the leadership needed to carry out our programs well into the future.

Compatriots and SAR friends, thank you for your confidence in me and all of your national officers. We envision a stronger, growing and responsive SAR to take us into the next century. Please join us on the journey to greatness.

Sincerely

William C. Gist, Jr.

During the Annual Congress, the PG gave a tour of his historic home to Mrs. Charles K. Kemper, DAR President General. Her Compatriot husband joined her.

As reported in a news story elsewhere in this issue of the magazine, President General and Mrs. Gist were interviewed on the Fourth of July in their Louisville home by WHAS-TV newsman Todd Eklof.

William C. Gist Elected President General

Louisville, Kentucky enthusiastically welcomed the 105th Annual Congress, staged June 17-21, just as the Ohio River city did for the first such gathering in 1890. In this instance, however, 342 Compatriots and 220 guests were on hand for an array of business and pleasure activities.

And for only the fifth time a Kentucky Society Compatriot was elected to the top post of President General: William C. Gist, Jr. of Louisville. He thus joined the ranks of Rogers Clark Ballard Thruston (1913 and 1914), Marvin H. Lewis (1924), Walter A. Wentworth (1958) and Benjamin H. Morris (1985).

PG Gist assumed the gavel of office from Col. Stewart Boone McCarty, Jr. in the traditional ceremony following the concluding formal banquet on Wednesday evening. As in the past George Washington's Seal Ring was slipped onto a finger of the newly installed PG for him to wear until the Congress was adjourned that evening to signify the transfer of leadership. The artifact, which is kept in a bank vault throughout the year, is our Society's most valuable possession.

The previous position that Compatriot Gist held was that of Secretary General. Prior to that he had served the National Society as Registrar General, Historian General, Vice-

The Eagle Scout Scholarship Program for the past year officially concluded when John N. Stevenson was presented a check for $5,000 at the Monday luncheon. Participating in the ceremony were (from left): President General Stewart Boone McCarty; FPG Arthur M. King, who was instrumental in launching this program in the early 1980s; John's mother; and Lauren R. Bradley, Chairman of the Eagle Scout Committee. The lad originally was the winner selected by the Tennessee Society. Thirty-five other Societies fielded candidates.

A number of changes to the Society's Bylaws were considered and voted upon. One of particular significance establishes a Youth Life Member Program. This facilitates adding youngsters to the rolls from birth through age 17. It is anticipated that fathers, grandfathers and other close relatives will be interested in this means of furthering membership for young family members.

Among the Resolutions passed was one urging the United States Congress to approve an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the physical desecration of our country's Flag. Shortly after the Louisville meeting was adjourned, the House of Representatives did just that by a vote of 312-120 and sent the amendment to the Senate for consideration.

The PG was enrolled in the V-12 program toward the end of WWII and saw active duty in both Korea and Vietnam as an officer in the Marine Corps.

Reported on pages 14 and 15 are those Compatriots who have made significant contributions to the George Washington Endowment Funds, which help defray Committee expenses. They are identified as either "Patriots" or "Fellows."

Also reported is the composition of National Committees, a complete directory of key State Society and Chapter officers — plus accounts of every major Congress activity from business sessions, Memorial Service, run-off of the Oration Contest to the presentation of awards to State Societies, Chapters and individual SARs.

SAR Veterans Of World War II Recognized At Annual Congress

By Former President General Carl F. Bessent

During the 105th Annual Congress, President General Stewart Boone McCarty paused in the proceedings to salute Compatriot attendees who were on military duty at the end of World War II. Out of the 342 present, 142 indicated their duty status on questionnaires that were included in Registration Kits. Where indicated in the summation below, their rank and duty station on VE Day or VJ Day are included as reported on the forms.

This year marks the 50th Anniversary of the War's end. The massive conflict began for the United States on December 7, 1941 when the Japanese Imperial Navy launched a preemptive air strike against our nation's Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The conclusion came on September 2, 1945 when Japan surrendered aboard the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay. Over 16 million Americans served in the Armed Forces. There were 292,131 battle deaths: 55 SARs died.

Questionnaires also gathered information on those who served in the Korean War; 62 Compatriots replied. Their service will be reported in the Fall 1995 Issue.

Seminar Pushes History Revision Fight

The National Society's program to fight the revision of our nation's heritage in textbooks was the topic of a two-hour seminar during the 105th Annual Congress in Louisville. Planned and conducted by Howard F. Horne, Jr., Ph.D., the conference spotlighted what State Societies are doing to further this vital project. Compatriot Horne had been serving as Chairman of the Task Force to Preserve United States History since last January.

Action In California

Both California Society President Ronald D. Risley and Past President Norman N. Moran gave accounts about what is being done in their state, one of the nation's largest purchasers of textbooks. Compatriot Moran heads his Society's Task Force for Factual History, which consists of a dozen other SARs plus a representative of each of 24 Chapters. Among the group's assignments is preparation of a special newsletter to keep Society members informed on the battle against the Standards.

In his remarks he submitted a proposal for our Society to commission the writing of a factual United States History book patterned after those used before the 1960s. A novel twist would be for an array of hereditary societies to participate, with each endorsing a specific section pertinent to it. For example, the Mayflower Society would endorse the colonization period, the SAR the Revolutionary Era, etc. He emphasized that the book "must take into consideration the injustices of past histories and correct them within true historical perspective."

What Texas Society Is Up To

For several months Compatriot B. Rice Aston, a Houston attorney, has headed the Texas Society's National History Standards

Committee. In his talk to seminar attendees and in a definitive program of action he and his committee have developed, he states that the NSSAR has a very special leadership role at this critical time. "We must let our members know that it is their duty to pass on to the next generation the true vision of America and a true appreciation of its past. "We can no longer rely upon others to do this for us. We must arm our members with the facts about those who would divide us — and to whom we should address our concerns — so that we can speak and write effectively and with authority, whenever required, to see that 'the center holds'."

The Action Plan for the Texas Society, as revealed by Compatriot Aston, is well worth adopting, even in part, by every Society. He stresses that the plan specifically excludes supporting or opposing any candidate for public office. Rather it delineates whom in the broad field of education should be contacted personally by SARs and what concerns should be expressed. For example, included is contacting the TEA Commissioner of Education and the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the State Board of Education — and textbook publishers — to put them on notice that the SAR is opposed to any textbook based, in whole or in part, upon the National History Standards. Attendance at meetings of the State Board of Education and local school boards where the teaching of history is to be discussed is recommended.

Colorado On The Move

The Colorado Society's program was summarized by John Peebles, President. Coordinating the effort is the History Education Committee chaired by Fredrick T. Robertson, a member of the Pikes Peak Chapter. By way of background, this Chapter initiated the effort in Colorado to accept the challenge proclaimed in the cover story that appeared in the Winter 1995 Issue of our magazine. A Chapter History Education Committee was formed in March with Compatriot Robertson appointed Chairman. He named six members — retired history professors, teachers and historians. A Position Paper and Action Plan they drafted was submitted to the general membership at a luncheon in April; it was unanimously approved. Subsequently, it was adopted by the COSSAR Board of Managers as the Society's official stance.

The Position Paper spells out specific objections to content of the UCLA Standards. For example: "The 'Standards' emphasize a politically correct version of history as seen exclusively through the eyes of particular special interest groups. America will be portrayed as a nation of racists, oppressors, and recklessly violent, xenophobic imperialists. In other words, the perceived negative aspects of the acts of the founders, framers, and revolutionaries will be given priority over the actual benefits of those acts. The COSSAR is vehemently opposed to this onerous portrayal of our nation's history."

The Committee is devoting energies to "getting the word out" about the Standards

Do You Have A Judge Or Lawyer In Your Family Tree?

To join the Sons and Daughters of the Colonial and Antebellum Bench and Bar 1565-1861, one must prove descent from a judge or lawyer who practiced between 1565 and 1861 in the United States federal courts or in the courts of the 48 states in the Continental United States or in the colonies or territories from which they are derived or in the courts of the Republic of Texas. The colonies include not only the 13 original British Colonies, but also those of Spain, France, Holland, Sweden and the Republic of Mexico.

Among other officials, the term "judge" includes justices of the peace, lords of the manor, colonial governors and members of the Governor's Council.

and the Committee's views. This encompasses setting up a data base of names and addresses of those individuals who will be targeted for personal visits, phone calls and printed correspondence. A package of printed material is being assembled for mailing to local, state and national officials in key places — including the Position Paper, a reprint of the magazine cover story, a cover letter and a reading list of a growing collection of media articles that reinforce the SAR's position.

Florida Society Weighs In

Since the State of Florida is another leading purchaser of textbooks, the Society there — with its 32 Chapters — has implemented a broad program to oppose the formal adoption or de facto utilization, of the proposed Standards. This is being carried out through a Task Force established as an adjunct of the Patriotic Activities Committee, all chaired by Col. John L. Whistler, Sr., USA (Ret). The Task Force is charged with effecting a concerted effort to further the progress that was made over the past several months in alerting a variety of individual groups about the Standards.

The Florida Society's efforts actually began shortly after the article by Mrs. Lynne V. Cheney assailing the Standards appeared in the Wall Street Journal last fall. In a few weeks a resolution condemning the Standards was approved by the Society's Board of Managers, with a modified version sent to Congressmen, State Representatives, local school superintendents and a variety of other interested parties. When The SAR Magazine article came out in February, copies were quickly mailed with covering letters to the same people. Chapters have been extremely active in disseminating the article to school boards, private schools, the media and others.

The guest speaker at the Saturday evening banquet of the September 29-30 meeting of the National Trustees will be John Fonte. Visiting Scholar and Executive Director of the Committee to Review National Standards at the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, DC. Representatives of the National Society met with him and Mrs. Lynne V. Cheney in January just prior to launching the program to fight the revision of United States History. He received his Ph.D. in History from the University of Chicago and his B.A. and M.A. from the University of Arizona. His distinguished career has encompassed: a variety of history teaching assignments at the higher education and secondary school levels; service as Humanities Administrator at the National Endowment for the Humanities; and as author of articles for an assortment of publications, including the National Review.

When the Spring 1995 Issue of The SAR Magazine was published in May, the Task Force ordered copies of "Let Freedom Ring:

A Basic Outline of American History" that was mentioned in an article on page 18 and advertised on page 19. This 64-page booklet, released by the Family Research Council of Washington, DC, is designed as a privately financed alternative to the National History Standards. Offered free of charge, copies were distributed to Task Force members; Chapters were encouraged to request booklets for their local use.

Do You Have The Standards?

State Societies, Chapters and Compatriots alike involved in any program aimed at opposing adoption of the Standards are urged to obtain one or more copies for $18.95 each from:

National Center for History in the Schools University of California, UCLA 10880 Wilshire Blvd., Suite 761 Los Angeles, CA 90024-4108

Add the following for UPS Ground Service: 1 book, $5; two, $6; three, $7; four, $8. Make checks payable to "Regents, University of California." Allow 2-4 weeks for delivery.

New Task Force Chairman

Following the Congress, Compatriot Horne relinquished the post of Task Force Chairman to assume new responsibilities at the national level, as well as maintaining a key position on the George Washington Endowment Funds Board. This includes becoming Vice-President General for the Mid-Atlantic District and coordinator of an affiliation of all the VPGs. President General William C. Gist has named Dr. Arthur E. Chapman of the Florida Society to be Chairman. He had been a member.

Membership Growth Goals Set For 1995-96

The Membership Committee, with Chairman James R. Westlake reappointed by President General William C. Gist for another term, reports a net increase of 277 Compatriots for 1994-95. He said that 28 State Societies showed some increase, seven Societies attained the goals published a year ago, and about 100 Chapters were certified as meeting the net increase goal of 6.2%.

The active membership roll closed out at 24,238 on March 31. To reach the 1,500 net increase for 1995-96, a total of 25,738 will have to be counted as active members as of March 31, 1996.

For two years now, Former President General Westlake reports, a small increase has been shown. While this is a positive result, the total goal of 1,500 net increase has fallen far short — with 18.5% net in 1994-95 and 13.7% net in 1993-94. The Membership Committee developed a Membership Guidelines Manual which has been distributed widely the past two years; addendums and appendices were developed in 1995 to augment information on how to do it, he points out. He encourages copying the manuals and supplements; however, the documents may be purchased for $7.50 plus $3.50 S&H by writing to FPG James R. Westlake, 2221 Shady Lane, Covington, GA 30209.

"Workshop" Format Being Planned

The Chairman states that for 1995-96 the work product to be developed by the Committee is a format for a "membership workshop" which could be held at District or State Society Annual Meetings. "Training new officers seems to be a very vital part of the process. Reports must be made on time (by about April 10 of each year), and a commitment to 'follow-up' unpaid memberships each year is also vital. Training held each year should improve overall results."

"A good membership program must fully engage in the three 'Rs' — Recruitment, Retention and Reinstatements. It's encouraging to see two years show increases, but we must do better if we are to grow and provide leadership as a Patriotic Society."

Congress Service Salutes Deceased SARs

A high point of every Annual Congress is the Memorial Service dedicated to honoring Compatriots who were called to eternal rest over the past 12 months. As in the past this year's program was held Sunday afternoon before the Congress officially got underway with business sessions the following day. The site was the dramatic Cathedral of the Assumption in downtown Louisville.

Presiding was President General Stewart Boone McCarty. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Secretary General William C. Gist, while the Invocation and Sermon were offered by The Rev. Frank MacD. Spindler, Ph.D., Chaplain General. Readings from the Holy Scriptures were delivered by Former Presidents General Clovis H. Brakebill, Nolan W. Carson and James B. Gardiner. The Litany for Departed Compatriots was given by Past Chaplain General Rev. Charles Page.

The setting for the traditional Memorial Service was the Cathedral of the Assumption in downtown Louisville.

As he has for many years, FPG Carl F. Bessent recalled the lives of several Compatriots, with emphasis on service to our Society and the communities in which they lived. He pointed out that 591 had passed "beyond the horizon." Many were prominent in government, finance, commerce, education and industry while others were active leaders in the SAR. "Others were faithful, quiet members, always taking a place in the background at State Society and Chapter functions," he said.

He singled out a number of them for special recognition: Chaplain General Monsignor John Bahan, Louisiana Society, who served in the infantry during World War II and in the 1950s became a Roman Catholic Priest; Vice-President General Earl Traster, who also served in World War II and later was active in the Pennsylvania and National Societies; Grafton Duvall, who upon retirement from the U.S. Navy became an executive with the Duquesne Light Company, with involvement in the National Society as Chairman of the Flag Committee for many years; Rev. Alexander Hamilton V, a member of the Maine Society who was to become Librarian General: G. Arthur Luther, Kansas Society, who chaired the Oration Contest Committee for seven years; Michigan Society Compatriot John Ruby, a World War II veteran who held a number of positions in the National Society; Homer Wright, Georgia Society, a holder of the Minuteman Medal; and Paul Niebell, Sr., a member of the District of Columbia Society who as a practicing attorney championed the rights of Native Americans.

Next Compatriot Bessent noted those two who had served as National Trustees and the ten members with over 65 years on the Society's rolls. He concluded with saluting several SARs making significant contributions to public service including: Frederick C. Crawford, 103-year-old member of the Ohio Society who founded TRW Corporation, later establishing the Crawford Automobile and Aircraft Museum in Cleveland; Col. E. DeTreville, 104-year-old mem-

George Washington Funds At Record High

The George Washington Endowment Funds, which are maintained to reimburse over 50 NSSAR Committees for expenses involving their activities, reached a record $1,234,950 on March 31, 1995. This figure was reported by Bert E. Sells, Chairman of the GWEF National Fund Raising Committee, an arm of the Funds Board. This "umbrella" sum consists of a wide variety of special-purpose endowment and operating funds, as well as pledges.

This approach to helping Committees with their important work was begun several years ago. Tax-deductible contributions to the Funds have come from individual Compatriots, State Societies, Chapters and friends of the SAR. Only income generated from investment of the Funds is disbursed. To date four distributions have been made to Committees. The Board is chaired by Former President General James R. Calhoun.

Compatriot Sells emphasizes that all gifts are welcome. When $25 or more, they must be accompanied by the GWEF Application Form, which is available from specified State Society officers. Checks should be made payable to "Treasurer General, NSSAR"; please indicate "G. W. Fund Gift"

The lists reproduced below consist of two categories of contributors:

Fellows — Compatriots who have given $1,000 or more, or have pledged minimum annual payments of $200 over a five-year

Patriots — Compatriots who have pledged to make annual gifts of not less than $25, or have made a one-time gift of $200. These gifts are cumulative; when they reach $1,000, the donor becomes a Fellow.

Also reported here are those Compatriots who in the beginning donated $1,000. Today they are considered Fellows, too! Because of space limitations, the many smaller gifts are not shown; they will be reported in the

New Exhibits At Yorktown

In early April Treasurer General Reon G. Hillegass was the official representative of the National Society at the grand opening of the new exhibition galleries at Yorktown Visitor Center in Virginia. Former President George Bush was guest speaker at the event, which drew a diversity of specially invited dignitaries.

The opening was the culmination of a $3.8million, two-year renovation. The project is the second phase of a late 1980s master plan that emphasizes social history and expands the time period covered by the 19year-old, state-operated museum. Exhibits now encompass events that led to the Revolutionary War and the formation of a new national government afterward, and tell the story of America's struggle for independence and nationhood through the experiences of various groups of people who lived during the Revolutionary Era.

Over 500 artifacts from the period, including maps, books, documents, currency, engravings, military equipment, nautical items, personal effects and household objects, are displayed along with hundreds of graphics from the era.

An especially interesting exhibit area is entitled "Converging on Yorktown." It tells the story of the two towns on the opposite sides of the York River - Yorktown and Gloucester — that became the setting for the decisive battle of the Revolution. Described is the international nature of military forces that converged there in the fall of 1781 leading to the defeat of Cornwallis.

Funding for the renovation and construction program was provided by the Commonwealth of Virginia. An added $800,000 in private contributions was raised for the acquisition of artifacts. Included in the donor list are a number of SAR Chapters and scores of individual Compatriots.

Located on Old Route 238 in Yorktown, the Center is open 9 am to 5 pm daily yearround. There is a modest admission charge.

The Rattlesnake Flag

The Rattlesnake Flag of Colonel John Proctor's Battalion of the Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania Provincials — now sealed in plastic — is on display at The State Museum of Pennsylvania, Third and North Streets, Harrisburg. It was donated in 1914 by Jane Maria Craig, granddaughter of Patriot General Alexander Craig. The banner is crafted of crimson silk, while the canton in the upper right-hand corner consists of individual pieces of red, white and blue silk to form two crosses. (Courtesy The State Museum of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.)

Following adoption of the famed "Hanna's Town Resolves" by the Patriots of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania in 1775, this unique banner was crafted to identify the county's Battalion of Provincials that had been assembled to resist the British.

By Compatriot Charles G. Edwards

In March 1773 Governor Penn of Pennsylvania formed Westmoreland County, which was then all territory west of Laurel Hill, and appointed John Proctor sheriff. William Crawford, who afterward suffered a horrible death at the stake by the Indians, was appointed Justice of the Peace by Lord Dunmore of Virginia, and was recognized as the presiding justice. On April 13, 1773 the first Court of Quarter Sessions was held at Hannastown, held in virtue of judicial authority west of the Allegheny Mountains. Lord Dunmore claimed this as his territory and Dr. John Connolly, empowered by him, raised and armed a troop of militia and marched against the Westmorelanders, trying to compel them to obey the Governor of Virginia.

Before going further, let's mention briefly the origin of Hannastown. Robert Hanna, a settler of Scotch-Irish descent, applied in 1769 for 300 acres of land on the Forbes Road approximately halfway between Ligonier and Fort Pitt. He built a tavern which a few years later became the center of Hannastown. The act of the Pennsylvania Assembly creating Westmoreland County stated that court was to be held at the house of Robert Hanna. This was the first and last court of justice established under English law west of the Allegheny Mountains.

The boundary dispute with Virginia continued until the start of the Revolutionary War. Congress then successfully appealed to both colonies to achieve a peaceful settlement and concentrate their energies in the common cause against the British.

When the news of the armed conflict at Lexington and Concord reached Westmoreland County, a meeting was held at Hannastown on May 16, 1775. The "Hanna's Town Resolves" were agreed upon. Although the assemblage declared themselves loyal to King George III, they vowed to resist the tyrannical acts of the British Parliament and to form into military associations. One was the First Battalion of Westmoreland County, commanded by Colonel John Proctor. On a list of the 53 battalions of Associators existing in 1775, the 52nd battalion was from Westmoreland County.

The document spelled out several resolutions, as follows:

"Resolved unanimously, That the Parliament of Great Britain, by several late acts, have declared the inhabitants of Massachusetts Bay to be in Rebellion, and the ministry, by endeavoring to enforce those acts, have attempted to reduce the said inhabitants to a more wretched state of slavery than ever before existed in any state or country. Not content with violating their constitutional and chartered privileges, they would strip them of the rights of humanity, exposing lives to the wanton and unpunishable sport of licentious soldiery, and depriving them of the very means of subsistence.

"Resolved unanimously, That there is no reason to doubt that the same system of tyranny and oppression will (should it meet with success in Massachusetts Bay) be extended to every other part of America: It is therefore become the indispensable duty of every American, of every man who has any public virtue or love for his country, or any bowels for posterity, by every means which God has put in his power, to resist and oppose it with our lives and fortunes. And the better to enable us to accomplish it, we will immediately form ourselves into a military body, to consist of companies to be made up out of the several townships under the following associations, which is declared to be the Association of Westmoreland County.

"Possessed with the most unshaken loyalty and fidelity to His Majesty, King George the Third, whom we acknowledge to be our lawful and rightful King, and who we wish may long be the beloved sovereign of a free and happy people throughout the whole British Empire; we declare to the world, that we do not mean by this Association to deviate from that loyalty which we hold in our bounded duty to observe, but, animated with the love of liberty, it is no less our duty to maintain and defend our just rights (which, with sorrow, we have seen of late wantonly violated in many instances by a wicked Ministry and a corrupted Parliament) and transmit them to our posterity, for purpose which we do agree and associate together.

"1st. To arm and form ourselves into a regiment or regiments, and choose officers to command us in such proportions as shall be thought necessary.

"2nd. We will, with alacrity, endeavor to make ourselves masters of the manual exercise, and such evolutions as may

A Past President and now Historian of the Cincinnati Chapter, Compatriot Edwards is serving as the Ohio Society's Publicity Chairman. At the national level, he was Chairman of the Historic Sites and Building Committee which he reactivated in 1985 after it had been dormant for over two decades. He holds the Silver and Bronze Good Citizenship, Meritorious Service and War Service (Korea) Medals. Compatriot Edwards is a direct descendant of Patriot Samuel Craig, whose exploits are described in this article.

The use of a rattlesnake as a symbol of American unity dates from the origins of the French and Indian War (1756-1763). It was popular in this respect through the

After the outbreak of fighting between the British and the colonists, the rattlesnake symbol was employed extensively. It appeared on newspapers, paper money and naval flags with or without "Don't Tread Upon Me".

In 1775 a study was made of the symbolic use of the rattlesnake, as follows: "The rattlesnake's eye is brighter than that of any other animal and has no eyelids; therefore, ever vigilant, and never begins an attack but when once attacked, never surrenders. The weapons with which nature has furnished her she conceals in the roof of her mouth so that, to those who are not familiar with her, she appears to be a most defenceless animal, and even when those weapons are shown and extended for her defence, they appear weak but their wounds, although small, are fatal. She never attacks until she has given notice and cautions against treading on her." This was a strong picture of the temper and conduct of America — vigilant, courageous and ready to defend herself when provoked.

The rattlesnake has 13 rattles, the exact number of colonies united in America. This was the only part of the rattlesnake which increased in numbers, just as new states were added to the union. The rattles are distinct and independent of each other and yet united together so as never to be separated except by breaking them to pieces, just like the colonies in America.

The rattlesnake is solitary, and associates with her kind only when it is necessary for her preservation. Therefore, those who consider the liberty and blessings which America affords and once come over to her, never leave her but spend their lives with her. The rattlesnake strongly resembles America in this — beautiful in youth and her beauty increases with age.

These were the qualities of the hardy pioneers of America who engaged in a mighty struggle for independence. And so it was with the colonies: distinct and independent of each other and yet firmly united. Singly and alone no one of them could withstand an assault of the mother country but joined together and in unison, they could and did strike terror to those who would take away their liberties. The American colonies did indeed give notice: "DON"TTREAD UPON ME".

be necessary to enable us to act in a body with concert; and to that end we will meet at such times and places as shall be appointed either for the companies or the regiment, by the officers commanding each when chosen.

3rd. That should our country be invaded by a foreign enemy, or should troops be sent from Great Britain to enforce the late arbitrary acts of its Parliament, we will cheerfully submit to military discipline, and to the utmost of our power resist and oppose them, or either of them, and will coincide with any plan that may be formed for the defence of America in general, or Pennsylvania in particular.

"4th. That we do not wish or desire any innovations, but only that things may be restored to, and go on in the same way as before the era of the Stamp Act, when Boston grew great, and America was happy. As a proof of this disposition, we will quietly submit to the laws by which we have been accustomed to be governed before that period, and will, in our general or associate capacities, be ready when called on to assist the civil magistrate in carrying the same in

"5th. That when the British Parliament shall have repealed their late obnoxious statutes, and shall recede from their claim to tax us, and make laws for us in every instance; or when some general plan of union and reconciliation has been formed and accepted by America, this our Association shall be dissolved; but till then it shall remain in full force; and to the observation of it, we bind ourselves by everything dear and sacred amongst men.

"No licensed murder: no famine introduced by law!

"Resolved that on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth instant." the township meets to accede to the said Association and choose their officer."

The resolutions are recorded without the names of the signers attached and there is no positive knowledge who drew them up. It is strongly presumed that Arthur St. Clair was one of the main drafters, as was no doubt John Proctor, Westmoreland County's first sheriff, and the Craigs.

embroidered by a sister of Samuel Craig, Senior, although there is no documentary evidence of this. Samuel Craig, Senior (a direct ancestor of mine) was the color-bearer. The flag has been preserved and is one of the most noted and highly valued mementos of the Revolutionary War.

According to tradition, the flag was made in 1775 from a pre-existing British standard and measures 76" by 70". It is made of crimson silk and the canton in the upper right-hand corner consists of individual pieces of red, white and blue silk and forms two crosses. The red-on-white represents the English cross of St. George; the white-on-blue the Scottish cross of St. Andrew. This was the coat of arms of Great Britain, for it will be remembered that we had not yet thrown off the yoke of England but were professedly loyal subjects to His Majesty, George the Third.

Portrayed here is America's victory at Princeton, New Jersey, one of the Revolutionary War battles in which the Westmoreland County battalion participated. This engraving is after the noted painting by

BATTALION FLAG BORE RATTLESNAKE

During this period of meetings, John Proctor must have been already designing in his mind a proper flag to be carried by the Westmoreland County battalion.

In those days, the various Associators had silk flags which bore mottoes (usually in Latin) and strange, sometimes beautiful devices. Many of these flags were prepared by the women of the various communities.

Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania adopted a flag for its own use before the colonies had conceived the idea of a general flag for all of the American troops. This flag, the "RATTLESNAKE FLAG" OF COLONEL JOHN PROCTOR'S INDEPENDENT (or FIRST) BATTALION, WESTMORELAND COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA" was, it is said, sewed and

In the center of the field is a rattlesnake with 13 rattles, indicative of the 13 colonies of America; the rattlesnake is coiled to strike. Below the snake are the words, "Don't Tread Upon Me". The first two letters of the word "upon" have flaked away over the years. Unlike the rattlesnake on other early flags, the one on the Proctor flag faces right toward the symbol of the British empire. Above the snake is the monogram of John Proctor and the letters, "I. B. W. C. P.", Independent (or 1st) Battalion, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania (or Provincials). The staff was inserted through the sleeve on the canton side of the flag and carried by the color-bearer of the battalion. BATTALION FIGHTS IN NEW JERSEY In the First Battalion, Westmoreland County Provincials, were Samuel, Junior. Samuel Craig, Senior was commissioned lieutenant and color-bearer in July 1776 in Colonel John Proctor's Battalion of Westmoreland County Militia. Late in 1776 the First Battalion was ordered east and participated in a number of hard-fought battles under General George Washington, including the Battles of Princeton and Trenton, New Jersey and crossed the Delaware River with General Washington. As Lieutenant Samuel Craig, Senior was the color-bearer of the Rattlesnake Flag for Colonel John Proctor's First Battalion, Westmoreland County Provincials, he carried the flag throughout these several eastern battles. The soldiers suffered great hardships in those terrible marches through almost trackless wilderness.

In the latter part of 1777, having been ordered back to protect the frontier, Lieutenant Samuel Craig, Senior acted for a time in the capacity of commissary. In the performance of his duties he rode alone to Fort Ligonier for salt, having refused a guard because "they would think the old man was cowardly". He was taken prisoner by the Indians on Chestnut Ridge on November 1, 1777 and his horse was found dead November 2, 1777 with eight bullet holes in him and fragments of paper strewn along the path which the Indians had taken.

LOCATION UNKNOWN FOR YEARS

For several years no word or trace of him was found. Ultimately, his granddaughter learned that a grandson of Samuel Craig, Sr. in the state of Indiana met an exchanged prisoner who told him that he was Samuel Craig, Sr.; they were exchanged at the same time at Montreal, Canada. Samuel Craig, Sr. died in Philadelphia on his way home. On April 25, 1783 letters of administration were granted on the estate of Samuel Craig, Sr. to Jane Craig, his widow, and John Craig, his son.

Samuel Craig, Sr. married Elizabeth McDonald, who was born in Scotland. They became the parents of nine children. The name of Craig's second wife was Jane Boyd, of Irish birth, and they had six children. It is said that Samuel Craig and family started from New Jersey to Western Pennsylvania in 1766, but when they were on the mountains the Indians stole their horses and cows and they were compelled to return to a settlement.

In December 1769 Samuel Craig bought a tract of land on the eastern side of the Loyalhanna in what was then called the "Derry Settlement".

In 1774 there was great alarm in the region of the Loyalhanna and petitions were sent to Governor Penn from different places in Westmoreland County, asking for protection. Among these petitions was one from the home of John Shields. It states that the petitioners had built a small fort for the defence of their wives and families and had taken up arms for the common defence. Among the signers of this petition were Samuel Craig, John Craig and Alexander Craig. A similar petition from Hannastown, of about the same date, was also signed by the three.

FLAG PASSES THROUGH SURVIVORS

On Colonel Proctor's death, the "RATTLESNAKE FLAG" passed to the next senior officer, and so on to the last survivor, General Alexander Craig, son of Samuel Craig, Sr., with whose family it remained during succeeding generations. In 1914 it was bequeathed by his great granddaughter, Jane Maria Craig of New Alexandria, Pennsylvania to the State Library at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania (now Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission).

The Latrobe Advance newspaper of December 17, 1879 described Margaret C. Craig, General Alexander Craig's daughter, as "... well preserved at the age of 73 in 1879, medium size, full round face, clear olive complexion, dark round eyes and remarkably bright for one of her age. In speech and gesture, form and fire showed she came from [a] gentle race." When showing the famed and cherished "Rattlesnake Flag" to a visitor, she related in her beautiful Scotch accent with what joy her father had come from the post office of Dennistown (as New Alexander was called in 1809) with the valued banner thrown proudly over his feeble arm. He had been the youngest officer in the brigade and had marched his handful of loyal-hearted soldiers under it.

WAR EXPERIENCES RECALLED

General Alexander Craig had related the hardships endured by him, his two brothers and his father during the eastern campaign under General George Washington at Trenton and Princeton, New Jersey with the "Rattlesnake Flag" being carried by his father, Samuel Craig, Sr. Rivers were waded when the water would be breast high and ice floating. With no tents, their only covering at night would be a blanket — if a few inches of snow would fall it would help to protect them from the winter blasts. Sometimes when they would attempt to rise in the morning, their hair was frozen to the ground.

He related some incidents of the engagement at Ash Swamp which have been preserved among the writings of his daughter, Margaret C. Craig. "Our soldiers were so few in number in comparison with the enemy that we were compelled to fight them 'Indian Fashion' and me and my comrade had a large oak tree for protection while loading our rifles, and then rested our rifle on the shoulder of the other while firing; while engaged in this fashion, a bullet from the enemy struck the tree and threw a piece of bark into my comrade's face, causing the blood to flow freely, and another bullet cut a lock of hair from the side of my head. A superior officer came galloping up and commanded us to run as we were being surrounded by the British. I was so certain that I would be killed, that I determined that the enemy should not have the satisfaction of seeing me run, so I retreated deliberately at first, but finding that I was still unhurt, decided to run. While running, a soldier fell by my side — a bullet having broken a leg — and he begged us not to leave him. A Captain and I placed the wounded man on his horse, and we all escaped through the swamp, which was a considerable distance."

ACTIVE FOLLOWING THE REVOLUTION

After the Revolutionary War, Alexander Craig served in the State Militia. Three of his commissions have been preserved one given by Governor Mifflin in 1793 for the office of Lieutenant Colonel, one given by Governor McKean in 1807 for the office of Brigadier General, and one given by Governor Snyder in 1811 for the same office.

In 1812 a letter came to General Craig from Dr. Postlewaite of Greensburg, Pennsylvania with the news that war had been declared with England. General Craig rose, paced the floor in silence for a few minutes, then said, "I have but one son and he is too delicate to perform the duties of a soldier; I am growing old, but if my country requires my services, they shall not be withheld." He, with two other men of the same military rank, met in Pittsburgh, to decide which should go. It was decided that another should go and he returned home. He outlived all the officers of Colonel John Proctor's Battalion of Associators, and the "Rattlesnake Flag" of that Battalion was presented to him some years before his death.

Many antiquarians and collectors of Revolutionary relics have been wisely refused its possession, although large sums of money have been offered for it. It is properly one of the most valuable heritages of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania's past — we trust it will continue to be preserved for the admiration and patriotic inspiration of generations yet unborn.

Jane Maria Craig said that as a child, when guests came from the city, "... we always showed them the flag. This was practically the only form of entertainment the town had, outside of prayer meetings." She wrote her family history in her last years.

Mrs. Margaret C. Craig, the daughter of General Alexander Craig, said that when the rebels invaded Pennsylvania during the Civil War, from the front yard of her house she heard distinctly the cannonading at Gettysburg and resolved, should the rebels raid through her neighborhood, that she would secure her prized "Rattlesnake Flag" from them.

President General Appoints Committees

This year, as shown in the listings that follow, the National Society's Committee structure has been noticeably changed by President General William C. Gist. Some Committees have been added; others have been deleted, since they have completed their charge.

"The most exciting one to me," declares PG Gist, "is the new Regional Lineage Workshop Committee chaired by John Newell of Arizona. During the Annual Congress in Louisville, I spent one afternoon talking in detail with the new President General of the DAR, Mrs. Charles K. Kemper. She and I agreed to establish such a Committee for each organization to work together for the membership benefits of both. Compatriots, it took over 105 years for this to happen! For the first time, SAR is going to have a Committee working in complete cooperation with the DAR! Through these workshops we hope to attract new members for SAR and DAR.'

Another exciting project is the new Task Force for Retention and Reinstatement. "Chaired by the dynamic Kes Kesler of Kansas, a member of the Executive Committee," reports the PG, "this Committee has already developed a slogan of 'Adopt a Drop'. They will aggressively tackle the problem of why our members drop their membership and what can be done about this drain on our rolls."

A Hospitality Committee, chaired by Richard Friberg of Florida, will answer the charge of increasing the hospitality at our meetings from Chapter to National events. For example, they will key in on first-time attendees at Trustees Meetings to make sure that they are properly introduced and in general enjoy their stay.

A Young Members Committee, chaired by Charles T. Galbraith of New York, will address the needs of the SARs who are the future of our Society. "As you may be aware." the PG states, "the young contingencies of the medical, dental and legal societies have been very successful and popular."

The ladies of our Compatriots, one of the Society's most valuable assets, will finally have a Committee devoted to their service. Former Chaplain General Rev. Charles Page of North Carolina and his new Committee will insure, for example, that the widow of a deceased SAR who had been active will be instructed on how to continue to receive The SAR Magazine; will continue to be invited to national events; and in general will not be cut off from the friends that she and her husband had in SAR. This Committee will also provide help to the ladies in the planning and execution of meetings for them.

And a new History Committee, chaired by Historian General Bruce B. Butler of Louisiana will, among other functions, oversee the giving of "Outstanding Teachers of American History Awards" to deserving teachers at the local, state and national levels. According to PG Gist, this group will start planning for Volume III of the NSSAR History to be published by the year 2,000.

Also new is a Book Estate Committee conceived and chaired by Larry Blackett of the Michigan Society. Its innovative charge is to acquire nonfiction books from all periods through the process of donation from either SARs or friends. The Committee will review the collection for possible NSSAR Library use; all others will be sold at Trustees Meetings, with all income deposited in the Li-

Gists, Famed Home Showcased On TV

Barely had the sun creeped over the Louisville skyline on the Fourth of July than President General and Mrs. William C. Gist arose to greet a TV camera/newsman crew at their home well before six. A series of short, live interviews had been scheduled to be interspersed during a local-interest morning show.

The program was scripted to introduce the National Society's top officer to viewers in his home town — as well as to take a tour of the Gist's historic residence, "Springfield", the boyhood home of President Zachary Taylor.

Five Societies Funding Clark Memorial

An SAR memorial to George Rogers Clark and his men will be crafted and installed at Kaskaskia Historical Site near Ellis. Illinois, thanks to the State Societies making up the Old Northwest Territory. Overlooking the Mississippi River, this is where Fort Kaskaskia was captured from the British on July 4, 1778.

When the Great Lakes District met during the 105th Annual Congress in Louisville this June, representatives of Societies making up the District - Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin - plus Ohio and Indiana, pledged sufficient funds to more than finance the project. It was agreed that excess monies, as well as any that could come in later, would be used to erect a similar memorial at Vincennes, Indiana to commemorate Clark's capture of Fort Sackville. Pledges came from both State Societies and individual Compatriots.

The project first received backing when the District met last November near Chicago. It was presented by Vice-President General Russell D. Page, Past Illinois Society President Charles B. Schweizer and Compatriot R. Garey Hodge, who since has served as Chairman of the George Rogers Clark Memorial Committee.

The Clark Memorial will consist of an 18" × 24" bronze tablet with a suitable inscription relating what happened in the area in 1778 and giving credit to the State Societies involved in the Old Northwest Territory. The stone fence will be part of the project. (Drawing by R. Garey Hodge, Chairman of the George Rogers Clark Memorial

Thoughts From Chaplain General Rev. Grandstaff

What a blessing it was to have been at the 105th Annual Congress in Louisville. Thank you for the office. I am honored.

I pledge prayers; I covet yours. It is an awesome task to follow my friend and mentor, General Henry Darlington; Gene Patterson (fellow Baptist); Dr. Charles Page; this year, the mourned Msgr. Bahan; and pinchhitter Dr. Frank Spindler, in whose debt I am in so many ways.

Many of you have written or phoned. Thanks. There have been some surprises, too: a law school classmate, now retired Judge, in the District; an Air Force officer (NY) at whose wedding I had officiated; a not-yet-met cousin (VA), retired CIA; a seminary classmate (CA), now a Bishop.

We will have an active committee; I will be responsive to advice and counsel. The Memorial Service at next year's Congress, under the leadership of the Texas Society President, Professor Ross Shipman, is well past the planning stage. Names will be needed for the necrology report, to be intoned again by FPG Carl F. Bessent — himself no stranger to Chaplaincy, for he is a lay reader in his church. There may be some added features, such as bagpipes and robed Past Chaplains General

Other pending projects: a collection of prayers for SAR meetings and private devotions, begun a decade ago; after two decades, a medal for ordained clergy elected at the Chapter, State Society and National levels; and there is a need to update the publication, "Chaplains of the Revolution."

Selected to accompany this message is a prayer from the pen of George Wash-

Almighty God, who hast given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee, that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogancy, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be peace and justice at home, and through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness. and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

H. Grady Collier, Secretary of the Council of State Presidents, announced the results of the election of members to the Nominating Committee (*).

Robert Von Pagenhardt, Chairman of the Resolutions Committee, offered several Resolutions for consideration:

"1995 Declaration of the Sons of the American Revolution to prepare for the United States entering the 21st Century: (1) Patriotism, (2) Honoring the Flag of the United States, (3) Education for a Competitive World.

A Potpourri Of SAR News

The National Society Color Guard is seeking a used rope-tension drum of the Colonial Period — either as a gift or for purchase at a modest cost. Contact Guard member Larry L. Blackett, 714 Hawthorn Street, Royal Oak, MI 48064. Phone: 810/399-9610.

Compatriot Blackett has been appointed by President General William C. Gist to chair the new Book Estate Committee, whose responsibility it is to oversee the donation and sale of non-fiction books at meetings of the National Trustees in Louisville. Monies raised will be used to acquire microfilm Census Records for the Library. Attendees are encouraged to bring along books on any subject that the Library cannot use; just give them to Mike Scroggins, who manages the Merchandise Department. A sales table will be set up and manned by Committee members. Book prices will be pegged on the inexpensive side.

In March Utah Compatriot Gordon B. Hinckley was ordained the 15th President of the Church of Latter-Day Saints, with a worldwide membership of millions. He has worked at the church's headquarters for over 60 years.

Orrin G. Hatch, a member of the Utah Society and the U.S. Senate, and G. V. "Sonny" Montgomery, a member of the Mississippi Society and the U.S. House of Representatives, introduced proposals on March 21 to amend the Constitution to protect the American Flag from acts of desecration. Since then the House passed the measure and sent it on to the Senate for consideration. In June delegates to the SAR Annual Congress approved a Resolution urging the U.S. Congress to approve the amendment so that it can be transmitted to the states for ratification (38 states need to ratify). Compatriots are urged to contact their Senators concerning the action in Louisville.

Our Society's two oldest Compatriots marked their birthdays on July 1: Luther Goding, Nebraska, turned 111, while Caleb Winslow, Maryland, reached 106. Alabama Society Compatriot Frank G. Hall joined the elite 100-year-old category. Our best wishes to all three!

"The Revolutionary War" is the title of an original six-part miniseries set to air on TLC (The Learning Channel) beginning Sunday, November 26. Narrated by former CBS news correspondent, Charles Kuralt, the series relates the struggle through authentic battle reenactments on various locations, period art, maps and original music played on period instruments.

PG McCarty Recognizes Community For Replicating Daniel Boone Fort

Rebuilding a part of its frontier history became an important school and community project for a Scott County, Virginia school district during the past year. The object of interest was a crude stockaded fort common to the 18th Century frontier.

During a frontier war in 1774 between the settlers of southwestern Virginia, a chain of forts was constructed along the Clinch and Holston Rivers. Two of the forts and the garrisoned militiamen in them were commanded by Daniel Boone whose period of service during Lord Dunmore's War earned him the rank of militia captain. One of Boone's forts, Fort Blackmore, the southernmost of the chain on the Clinch, guarded the entrance to the valley and provided a place of refuge for nearby settlers during attacks by roving bands of Cherokee or Shawnee braves.

Construction of a full-scale replica of the fort quickly became a vital part of the school year for the students of the Fort Blackmore Elementary School located near the original site of the 18th century fort. With the enthusiasm and guidance of teacher Vicki Lane and her husband, Phillip, funding was found in grants, while materials and labor were provided by the teachers and volunteers in the community. The over 110 students from K through 7th Grade used their knowledge from school classes to contribute to the layout of the fort and helped in the construction by holding boards and driving nails. The students also had a contest in the building of table-top models of the fort.

The official christening of the fort was held on April 20 as a part of Appalachia Heritage Days. Announcement of the project in an educational magazine drew the attention of Mrs. Janet McCarty, wife of President General Stewart Boone McCarty, who is a descendant of Daniel Boone. In appreciation of his own heritage and because of the determination of the Fort Blackmore community to preserve its history, PG McCarty had NSSAR certificates prepared for the school and community leaders of the project, and a framed certificate for the Fort Blackmore trophy case.

Compatriot Paul M. Frantz, Chairman, Historic Sites and Celebrations Committee, presented the certificates and was accorded the honor of cutting the ribbon on the fort gate to open the facility officially.
