

B. RICE ASTON
Installed As President General

The President General's Message

Dear Compatriots:

I recently returned from Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, home of the preeminent World War II historian and founder of the nationally acclaimed Eisenhower Center for American Studies at the University of New Orleans and the D-Day Museum in that city: Dr. Stephen E. Ambrose. Louisiana Society President George Reech and I delivered the Resolution of the Annual Congress in Nashville thanking him for his service to the American people and gave him the Gold Good Citizenship Medal. I then said: "Dr. Ambrose, we have many WW2 veterans in our organization who admire your books on D-Day and President Eisenhower, and many members who admire your volume on Lewis and Clark, and we would like very much for you to become a member of our organization. I have an application with me and all it requires is your signature. I'll be happy to leave it with you if you wish." Dr. Ambrose signed the application and one of my proudest moments was when I swore him to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the Sons of the American Revolution – and then welcomed him as a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. Added interesting details relative to this visit are reported elsewhere in this issue of the magazine.

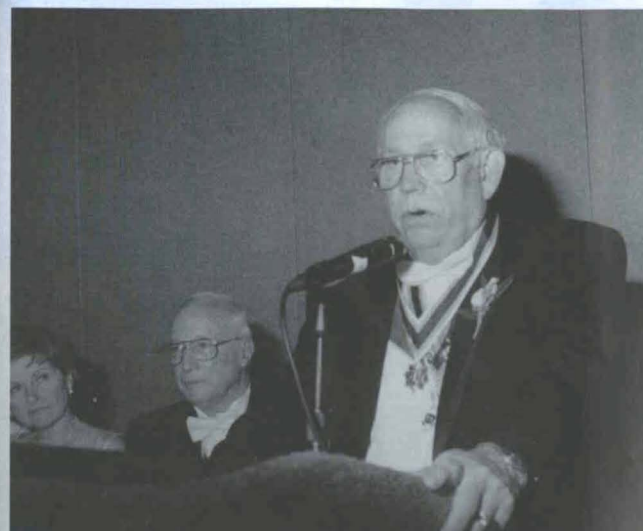

We are now engaged in a fund raising campaign which is our most important undertaking of the year. We have outgrown our Headquarters in Louisville purchased in 1978 and desperately need additional Library space and room to grow. Beginning back in the 1980s forward-thinking leaders of our Society acquired on behalf of the SAR, parcel by parcel, the land on which we will build. Patriotic and hereditary organizations much smaller and less active than ours, raise significant funds annually. I am convinced that, with the Almighty's help, we shall succeed in this endeavor, and our stronger voice will be heard regionally and nationally. We have just scratched the surface and the pledges now stand at nearly $1.2 million. I will keep you advised of our progress.

At Saratoga on October 17, 1777, British General "Gentleman" Johnny Burgoyne – so-called because he enjoyed the gentleman's life: good wine, rich food and fine clothes – surrendered his entire army of 5,700 men to General Gates. American losses were only 150. Burgoyne returned to Britain in disgrace and never received another significant command. News of the American victory soon traveled to Europe and it was celebrated in Paris as if it had been a French victory. Ben Franklin was received by the French Royal Court and on February 6, 1778 France and America signed two treaties, one of alliance and one of amity and commerce. Britain's loss was not the beginning of the end, but was the end of the beginning. Jacques de Trentinian, Executive Vice President of the France Society who is serving as Chairman of the Alliance Day Committee, advises that his Society will celebrate the 225th anniversary of these two treaties in Paris from February 4th through February 9th, 2003 – with dinners, exhibitions, speeches, commemorative services and tours. American Compatriots are urged to attend; already a National Society Color Guard is making plans to participate. In 1983 the France Society marked the 200th anniversary of the Treaty of Paris, with some 200 SARs and guests on hand for a memorable experience. Next year's celebration promises to be equally impressive. More details later.

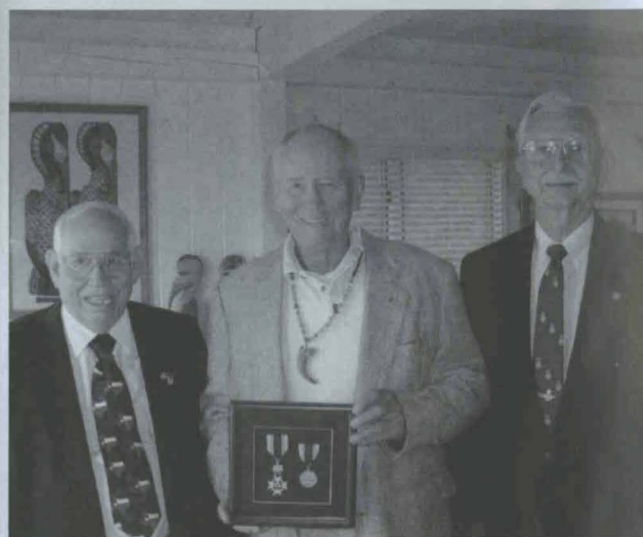

Sincerely yours,

B. Rice Aston

President General

During his remarks following installation as President General, B. Rice Aston commented on the continuing influence today of the American Revolution.

THE COVER PHOTO depicts the installation of B. Rice Aston as President General, with Chancellor General Raymond G. Musgrave administering the oath of office while Mrs. Aston holds the Bible. Participating were two members of the National Society Color Guard: California Compatriot Garrett F. Jackson (left), who retired as Guard Commander at the Congress; and Tennessee Compatriot James J. Thweatt. This photo was staged following the actual installation because of space problems presented at the site of the Wednesday banquet.

General Larry D. McClanahan (in dark suit). The view at the right depicts the magnificent interior of the edifice with some 500 Compatriots and guests in attendance.

One of the most popular activities each year is the staging of varied contests for our nation's youngsters. The culmination of these programs is at the Annual Congress when the winners are saluted during the Monday Youth Recognition Luncheon, as reported on page 13 of this issue of the magazine. ## 112th Annual Congress In Nashville Accomplishes Wide Range Of Business

When the final gavel came down to close the 112th Annual Congress held in Nashville, Tennessee June 29th through July 3rd, attendees and guests alike agreed that it had been a highly productive gathering – liberally sprinkled with an abundance of pleasant non-business activities. On hand were nearly 255 Compatriots and about 170 guests from State Societies all across the country.

Serving as Congress Headquarters was the imposing Renaissance Nashville Hotel in the heart of the city. Virtually all programs were staged there, with the traditional Memorial Service on Sunday being a major exception.

Reported in this news story are highlights of actions taken by Congress delegates, amendments to the Bylaws that were deliberated and approved, important Resolutions that were passed, and capsules of other events of broad interest. This issue of the magazine also features an up-to-date listing of key National Society, State Society and Chapter officers and a complete summation of all appointments made by the President General to National Committees.

New General Officers

Every nominee for the General Officers slate selected by the Nominating Committee earlier in the year was unanimously elected, with Texas Society Compatriot B. Rice Aston assuming the top post of President General. Serving with him are: Raymond G. Musgrave, J.D., Secretary General; Henry N. McCarl, Ph.D., Treasurer General; Donald W. Moyer, Chancellor General; Roland G. Downing, Registrar General; Bruce A.

Wilcox, Historian General; William B. Neal, Genealogist General; Dr. Jack J. Early, Chaplain General; Dexter Nettles, M. D., Surgeon General; and Richard S. Austin, Librarian General. The PG announced that he had appointed the following Compatriots to the Executive Committee (with approval of the delegates during a business session): John A. Horner, Jr., OHSSAR; Capt. J. Phillip London, USNR (Ret), DCSSAR; former President General Larry D. McClanahan, TNSSAR; Travis E. Spears, CASSAR; and Nathan E. White, Jr., TXSSAR.

In remarks he offered following his installation, PG Aston emphasized that "the American Revolution is one of the most important events in world history, and the American Revolution and the forces it unleashed are still going on, enlightening the dark corners of the world.

"The Revolution heralded the beginning of the end of the Old Order, an Old World where servility to a hereditary monarch, aristocracy, patronage and privilege were everything, and no man could acquire success without them. It ushered in a new order for the ages, and gave birth to a democracy founded upon the belief that the government is the servant of the people. The modern state began to develop, and America was the first one with a complete written constitution and the first one without a King. Property rights and contractual rights were now more important than being born a nobleman. A new society was aborning, one based upon capitalism and composed mainly of the middle class. The era of Kings, nobility and privilege was coming to an end.

"The common man, now limited only by his abilities, came from the four corners of the earth, and crossed all the world's oceans, seeking the opportunities beckoning in America's wilderness, her cities and towns, found a new life, and became an 'uncommon man.' He gladly left his Old World identity behind him and became a new man, 'an American.'"

Tennessee Society Compatriot James C. Hoffstetter served as Chairman of the Host Society Congress Planning Committee. He welcomed attendees at the opening of the meeting.

He then gave examples of how the "American Revolution rolls on" by citing such events as Poland and France adopting a written constitution in the 1790s; the millions of people who have come to America to pursue the American dream; the Chinese students who stood up for democracy in Tiananmen Square while carrying a copy of the Declaration of Independence and a replica of the Statue of Liberty; and how the forces of the Revolution are today a "threat to tyrants everywhere and are more powerful than any cannon, sharper than any sword, and more explosive than any munition."

Actions Taken Affect Dues, Fees

Bylaw 19, which covers fees that accompany membership applications of all types and annual dues, was amended somewhat to eliminate mention of specific dollar amounts of those fees and dues. Instead, these items may now be fixed by the Annual Congress as deemed necessary to meet the Society's financial obligations.

In line with this change, delegates voted to increase dues from $20 to $25 beginning with Fiscal Year 2003, thus becoming effective on January 1. Also approved was a two-year (2003 and 2004) exemption for State Society Life Members, thus giving those affected Societies time to adjust their Life Membership funds accordingly.

The requirement that National dues accompanying any application received after October 31 shall be credited to the following year has not been changed; dues accompanying an application received by Headquarters on or before October 31, 2002 should be in the amount of $20. Such payments received after this date should be in the amount of $25 for each application.

Another amendment to Bylaw 19 mandates that a fee accompanying any type of application may be retained by the National Society if the application is not approved, as reimbursement of the cost of reviewing the application.

Membership Age Requirement Altered

Delegates voted to amend Article III of the Constitution by adding a second paragraph to read as follows:

Treasurer General Henry N. McCarl reported that the National Society's Portfolio had a value of nearly $4.5 million as of April 30, 2002. He emphasized that donations of appreciated securities may now be placed directly into the Equity Fund portion of this portfolio.

"There shall be the following classes of members:

"(1) a Regular or Regular Life Member shall be any member at the age of eighteen and over, excepting those members described in Subsections (2) through (4) of this paragraph, who meets all of the requirements for membership as defined in this Constitution and in the Bylaws of the National Society.

"(2) a Youth Registrant shall be a male under the age of eighteen years whose Youth Registrant application has been submitted and approved in accordance with the Bylaws of the National Society.

"(3) a Youth Life Member shall be a male under the age of eighteen years who has applied for and been admitted to Youth Life Membership.

"(4) a Junior Member shall be a male under the age of eighteen years who shall have met the membership requirements of the Sons of the American Revolution and shall have filed an application, which application shall have been approved, for dual membership in the Children of the American Revolution. A Junior Member shall not have the right to vote nor shall receive The SAR Magazine until he attains the age of eighteen years."

Resolutions On Varied Topics Passed

Resolutions Chairman Charles W. Britton introduced a variety of important Resolutions which were passed by the delegates. They direct that the Sons of American Revolution:

(1) Convey to Dr. Stephen E. Ambrose the affection, admiration and gratitude of the American people he has served so well. The Resolution pointed out his many accomplishments in the literary field relative to his writings on World War II and the fact that he founded the D-Day Museum in New Orleans.

(2) Voice their strong support and approval of the recommendations of the Barbara Jordan Commission relative to immigrants becoming citizens, and HR3231 which creates an Office of Citizenship and its mission to promote civic instruction for immigrants, their assimilation into American culture, and to require that citizenship tests include a section explaining the Oath of Citizenship and the rights and civic duties of those subscribing to the Oath.

(3) Emphasize and commemorate the rich history of the United States of America, the importance of the American Revolution and the epic contributions of the Founding Fathers to the greatness of our Nation at all functions and events sponsored by the Society; and that the Society formulate a program by which all

State Societies may work in a unified effort to reverse the deleterious effects of the educational system on American life and instead improve the educational system to praise the Nation which has allowed it to flourish.

(4) Urge delegates to encourage their state legislators to proclaim April 19 of each year as Patriots' Day in commemoration of the War of the American Revolution and the struggle for independence.

(5) Support passage of the Flag Amendment to the United States Constitution that would prohibit the physical desecration of the flag of the United States.

Chancellor General Raynond G. Musgrave ruled on a variety of matters relative to procedures and actions as dictated by the Society's Constitution and Bylaws.

Charles W. Britton, who has served as the Chairman of the Resolutions Committee for some time, introduced a number of important Resolutions for consideration by Congress delegates and answered queries as to their intent.

Young Members Committee Chairman Peter K. Goebel offered an insightful report. At the Congress he also served as National Trustee for the Empire State Society (New York).

During the Tuesday evening banquet Paul M. Frantz (left) was pleased to be awarded the Meritorious Service Medal by President General Larry D. McClanahan. He was recognized for his many years of superior service as Chairman of the Historic Sites and Celebrations Committee, a position he relinquished earlier.

This trio of Compatriots, all members of the George Washington Endowment Fund Board Fund Raising Committee, were busy during the Congress signing up George Washington Fellows, those who contributed $1,000 or more to the Fund (from left): John R. Wallace, W. Buchanan Meek (Committee Chairman) and J. Michael Jones. Fourteen new Fellows were formally introduced during a special breakfast.

George Thurmond (standing), a Vice Chairman of the Historic Celebrations Committee, presided over a meeting of the Committee on Tuesday afternoon. Among topics on the agenda was how the Society should commemorate the 225th anniversary of key Revolutionary War events coming up over the next few years.

(6) Support the efforts of the Pennsylvania Society SAR to prevent the construction of residential buildings on a tract within the boundary of Valley Forge National Historical Park.

(7) Convey to the France Society their condolences on the passing of Compatriot René de Chambrun, a Past President who devoted many years of dedicated service to our Society.

(8) Ratify, approve and adopt the House and Senate Joint Resolution as its own designating September 11 as Patriot Day and requesting the President to issue each year a Proclamation calling on State and local governments and the people of the United States to observe Patriot Day with appropriate programs and activities. And further call upon State Societies, church services, prayers, awards, cards, resolutions, speeches, luncheons, dinners and dedications, as may be possible.

On Sunday afternoon Robert A. Selig (right), a noted historian and author, offered slide lectures relative to the proposed Washington Rochambeau Revolutionary War Route (W3R). The Project Historian for the National Park Service study of the project, he is an authority on the role of the French troops under Rochambeau. He was introduced by Russell W. Wirtalla, who serves as Chairman of the W3R Committee.

Texas Society Compatriot Edward F. Butler (left) manned an exhibit devoted to the Mexico Society which he was instrumental in forming in the recent past. Among other visitors, Indiana Compatriot Charles F. Bragg was encouraged to visit Mexico to attend meetings as well as savor what the country has to offer vacationers.

(9) Reject the evil militant Islamic terrorists, their Jihad and their cause, and all those persons, nations, or organizations that conduct terrorist activities with them, or that aid, support or abet them, from any locations throughout the world; and that we are united and firm in our support of the President of the United States and to the nation's Armed Services and to all those departments, agencies and bureaus of our country so involved in America's "Enduring Freedom" and that we believe wholeheartedly in the righteousness of our cause.

Official NSSAR Hymn Approved

The National Society's Music Committee proposed that the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" become the official hymn of the NSSAR, with delegates voting unanimous approval. The words are by Isaac Watts (1674-1748) from the 90th Psalm, while the music is attributed to William Croft (1678-1727), harmonized by W.H. Monk (1823-1899). According to the Committee, the hymn was probably familiar to many of our Revolutionary ancestors. It is included in the hymnals of numerous Protestant denominations, and according to a rabbi consulted, is completely acceptable to Jewish Compatriots. The Chaplain General will arrange to have it included in the program of future National Memorial Services, and may be sung on other appropriate occasions. State Societies and Chapters are encouraged to include the

Author Stephen Ambrose Joins SAR, Receives Award

Known as "The People's Historian", Dr. Stephen E. Ambrose became a member of our Society in late July when President General B. Rice Aston presented the noted author his Membership Certificate -- as well as the Gold Good Citizenship Medal in recognition of his writings that have preserved for future generations the story of our nation's heroes.

The ceremony took place at Dr. Ambrose's home in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. The PG was accompanied by Louisiana Society President George K. Reech. They were met at the New Orleans airport by Andy, Dr. Ambrose's son, who then drove them to the home. When they arrived, also on hand were the gracious Mrs. Ambrose and Ronald J. Drez, a nine-

A historian, lecturer and researcher associated with the Eisenhower Center at the University of Chicago, Mr. Drez has made it his life's work to preserve the voices of the men who fought in World War II. He gave to the PG an inscribed copy for the SAR Library of his new book "Twenty Five Yards of War, The Extraordinary Courage of Ordinary Men in WWII." The volume relates ten events of the war that illustrate unusual valor, including incidents from the Battle of the Bulge, the Doolittle raid on Tokyo and Iwo Jima.

Dr. Ambrose has taught history at several institutions, including the University of New Orleans, Kansas State University, University College in Dublin and the Army War College. ## IN OUR MEMORY

HOWARD L. HAMILTON, PH.D. PRESIDENT GENERAL 1982-1983

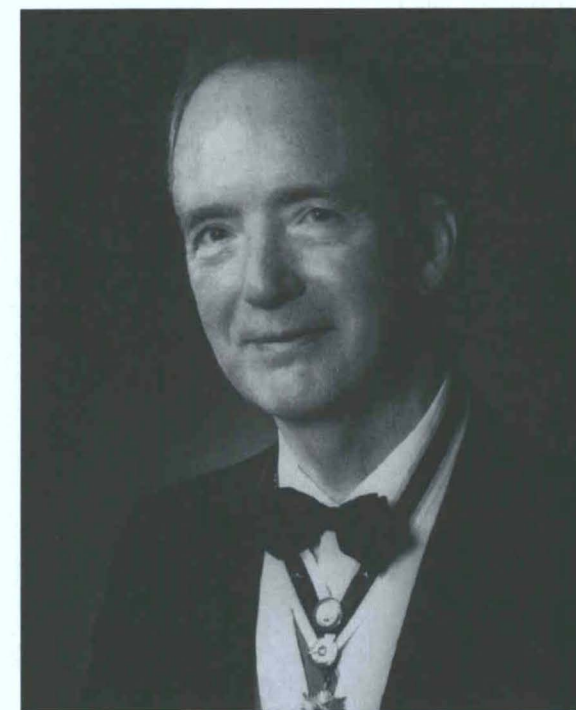

Dr. Howard Laverne Hamilton, the National Society's president General 1982-1983, was called to eternal rest on April 15, 2002 at the University of Virginia Medical Center near his home in Charlottesville, Virginia. Following a Mass of the Resurrection at St. Thomas Aquinas Church in the same city, his body was escorted by his son, Dr. Phillips Howard Hamilton, via private plane to Iowa. He was interred with full military honors in the Lone Tree Cemetery, Johnson County, where many generations of his family are buried, as is his first wife, Alison (nee Phillips).

His marriage to Alison took place in 1945; she died in 1972. In 1975 he married Miss Elizabeth Burnley Bentley. The couple had two daughters born in Charlottesville. These precocious children became well known throughout the SAR as they travelled with their parents to countless meetings -- much to the delight of the attendees.

PG Hamilton served a highly productive term of office after having been Registrar General for two years. Importantly he was instrumental in establishing the first National Society Museum and appointing Illinois Compatriot James A. Williams as Curator and Director. Mr. Williams soon gave a valuable 19th century copy in oil of a Gilbert Stuart painting of George Washington for display in the President General's Office (which was then renamed the George Washington Room). This was followed by presentation by Mrs. Hamilton of a copy by a contemporary artist of Stuart's rendering of Martha Washington to be hung in the small sitting room just off the PG's office (which became identified as the Martha Washington Room). During the Spring 1983 Meeting of the National Trustees, the Hamilton's sponsored a black tie reception at the Museum to dedicate these and other gifts.

A native of Iowa, Compatriot Hamilton attended the University of Iowa, earning a Bachelor of Arts and then a Master of Science in Zoology.

He joined the ROTC and graduated as a Second Lieutenant. Two years of doctoral work ensued at the University of Rochester and one at Johns Hopkins, where he received a Ph.D. in 1941.

He was called to active duty and served as a Medical Research Officer at Walter Reed Army Medical Center through 1945. He retired as Colonel after an added 32 years in the Army Reserve.

His professional career began in 1946 at Iowa State College teaching embryology, histology and cytology. In 1962 he became Professor of Biology at the University of Virginia and retired as Emeritus Professor in 1982.

Hamilton posed in front of this copy of a Stuart painting she gave to the Museum during his term. RIGHT: The Hamilton's daughters, Catherine and Bessie, always enjoyed attending SAR functions -- in this instance the SAR Colonial Ball held in New York City.

Census Project Now Open To All SARs; Initial Results Bring Varied Changes

By Roland G. Downing, Registrar General

After only 2.5 months of operation, the Census of Qualified SAR Prospects had 2,500 SAR prospects reported to the National Census Coordinator. As of June 1st, 1,000 of these had been sorted by geographical area and delivered to State Data Coordinators for distribution to states and chapters. Thousands more will be delivered this summer, giving State Societies and Chapters the opportunity to recruit these qualified prospects.

The Census network is functioning successfully in transferring valuable contact information to SAR recruiters who live nearer to the prospect's home. But only 10% of those polled have returned their forms so far, and, on average, the number of prospects reported per form is much less than the number expected. Consequently, the Census

Project network has ample capacity to allow all members to report their relatives this year (as many Compatriots had requested). Previously, plans had called for requesting responses from only 1/3 of the membership per year.

Starting immediately, all Compatriots are asked to report their qualified relatives. The Census form is printed on the opposite page so you may cut it out and make plenty of copies. On average you will need four or more to completely report all of your eligible relatives who share your bloodline to a Patriot Ancestor through your grandparents or great grandparents. Don't forget cousins, cousins once removed and second cousins for whom you may have to dig to get their addresses. Mail it to the address shown (not to Headquarters).

An Open Letter From PG B. Rice Aston

Dear Compatriots,

I want to personally thank the hundreds of Compatriot volunteers who successfully launched the Census Project, and the first one thousand that have reported their qualified relatives; their hard work has proved the merit of the Project - it delivers qualified prospects to the Chapters! Our initial effort was limited to seeking reports from Compatriots A-G, but success to date indicates that we should now ask all Compatriots A-Z, to join-in now. For your convenience a census form is printed on the opposing page. Please clip it out, make additional copies and report all eligible male relatives. States have been given copies of the census form with instructions and requested to reproduce and distribute to all Compatriots.

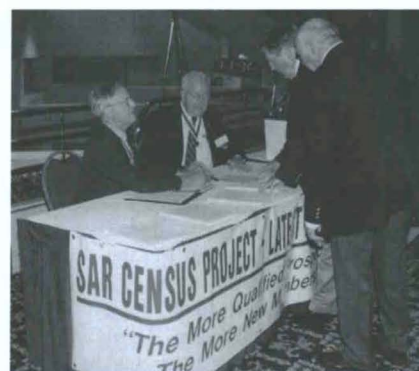

The final success of this program depends on the men in the trenches, our Compatriots. Our Chapters can play a vital leadership role by making the Census Project a central topic of a Chapter meeting, ensuring that each member has a Census form, explaining the simplicity of completing the form, and the importance of joining with the thousand Compatriots that have already reported. It would be well if this could be done quickly. Our State Societies can play a vital role by ensuring that each Chapter has Census forms for its members, and by assisting their Chapters in forming a smooth-working reporting and recruiting organization. Our Vice-Presidents General can play a vital leadership role by contacting the State Societies within their jurisdiction and making sure there is a smooth-working, reporting and recruiting program in place.

The final step, and the most rewarding, comes in turning the prospect into a new Compatriot. This recruiting effort need not wait if your Chapter has been provided a list of prospects. Remember that the list represents the hard work of Compatriots all over the country, so diligently pursue the prospects.

At this point you may be saying to yourself, "I hope the success of the Census project doesn't depend on me." The good news is that it does depend on you, and you have the power to increase our membership. With increased membership will come new ideas, a higher profile regionally and nationally, and a stronger voice for traditional American values and the Sons of the American Revolution.

Yours in patriotic service,

B. Rice Aston
President General

The Census Project received a great deal of publicity at the 112th Annual Congress held this July in Nashville, Tennessee. Manning an information table were two long time promoters of the program (seated, from left): Registrar General Roland G. Downing and Missouri Society Compatriot Robert W. Smith, who serves as National Census Coordinator.

Prospecting and recruiting is hard work, but extremely gratifying. Please do not let the thousands of participating Compatriots down - do your share too. Only you can help your relatives discover the value of the SAR by providing contact information so that a nearby Chapter can invite them to meet local Compatriots and participate in local chapter activities.

Previous issues of The SAR Magazine in 2002 have important articles about the Census Project likewise for most issues of the Headquarters Dispatch. These articles provide a wealth of information and motivation.

Instructions For Completing The Form

1. Fill in your name, NSSAR number, state and the name of your ancestor at the top of the form, then fill in the names and contact information of your qualified relatives in the spaces that follow. All names on the page should descend from the same ancestor listed at the top.

2. You must record enough prospect information so that the local recruiters can find the prospect and make the contact. Phone numbers and e-mail addresses are quite helpful, but not required. Zip codes are very important since the computer program will find the nearest Chapter based on this information.

3. If your surname starts with A-G and you did not report previously, here is your second chance to help. If you did report, please consider this a chance to make a more complete report. To achieve the goal of significantly increasing our membership and increasing our influence, all Compatriots should participate and make complete reports.

4. You may report your eligible relatives on-line. Go to the NSSAR website at <http://www.sar.org>, click on "News", then click on the topic "Census". The online form sends the information directly to the database. You may also download the census form.

5. Many of you will have already contacted your relatives about joining the SAR in the past. Just because they refused you then, may not mean they won't respond differently today to an approach by other SAR members. Give them a chance!

President General McClanahan Leads Tour To France, Ireland

By Ralph D. Nelson, Chairman, NSSAR International Development Council

On April 22 – under the leadership of President General Larry D. McClanahan – ten Compatriots and eight spouses began a 12-day visit overseas to consult with members in France and the United Kingdom. Their primary purpose was to delve into new programs being developed there for recruiting prospective SARs in other European nations, especially Germany and Ireland. Travel arrangements had been made by Richard S. Austin, SAR Ambassador to the UK, while Historian General Roland G. Downing served as official photographer. Ralph D. Nelson, Jr., Chairman of the NSSAR International Development Council, was scribe for the trip. The color bearer at formal dinners was Raymond N. Zimmerman, Jr.; he was dressed in a Continental uniform.

France Is Trip's First Stop

One of the first events in Paris was a meeting between PG McClanahan, France Society President H lie de Noailles and the Hon. Howard H. Leach, Ambassador to France. Highlighting their discussions was the France Society's proposal to host a five-day symposium commemorating the 225th anniversary of the US-France Alliance signed on February 6, 1778.

On the following day the group visited the magnificent 17th-century Chateau de Vaux, which was built by Vicomte Nicolas Fouquet and used for decades as a royal residence; it was sold to the Mar chal de Villars in 1701.

Following a luncheon, PG McClanahan, HG Downing, Vice-President General P. Rod Hildreth, Executive Committeeman O. Lee Swart, Ray Zimmerman and Ohio Society Compatriot John A. Horner, Jr. trekked to La Grange – the home of the Marquis de Lafayette – for a guided tour of its extensive collection of Revolutionary Era memorabilia. At that time, former President General Howard F. Horne and the rest of the group visited a fine country home through arrangements made by Veronique Kneppert, Executive Secretary of the France Society. The national officers visited the room, currently under renovation, in which the 1778 Alliance was signed; they then attended an executive meeting of the France Society to discuss Membership Application review procedures and the extension of recruiting efforts to Spain, Germany, Sweden and Italy.

Formal Dinner In Paris

Society. President de Noailles and PG McClanahan noted several joint US-France initiatives to extend the SAR in Europe and to strengthen public understanding of the French contribution to American liberty. During the course of the evening, a number of awards were presented: International Medal to Comte Rene de Chambrun, Honorary Society President, in recognition of his long time leadership role in the Society and allowing the SAR Library in Louisville to obtain microfilm and the complete papers of Lafayette; Meritorious Service Medal to Compatriot de Noailles; Silver Good Citizenship Medal to Jean de Tinguy du Ponet, VPG for Europe, and to Bernard Otto, long time Society Secretary; Martha Washington Medal to Colette Oddo; Meritorious Service Medal to Jacques de Trentinian, Society Executive VP, and to Martin Boyer, Society National Trustee; Bronze Good Citizenship Medal to

Some of those on the tour were treated to a visit to La Grange, the home of the Marquis de Lafayette. His extensive collection of personal papers are on file there.

Lucien de Lardemelle; and a Medal of Appreciation to Christine Malphettes, former Regent of the DAR Rochambeau Chapter.

It's Off To England

The next major undertaking was a train trip through the Channel Tunnel to London, where the national officers attended an executive meeting of the United Kingdom Society. There they discussed plans for developing and training officers and recruiting through United States embassy newsletters. When the UK Society hosted a formal dinner at the Royal Thames Yacht Club, PG McClanahan presented a State Society President's medallion to Donald Stearns and a Certificate of Appreciation to Marshall Fields for his many years of service as Secretary.

While in London, President General Larry D. McClanahan (left) offered the State Society President's medallion to United Kingdom President Donald Stearns.

As reported in the accompanying news story, Compatriot Ralph D. Nelson (left) and other SARs from Delaware consulted with Michael Higgins relative to help in forming a Society in Ireland.

Next Stop – Ireland

After a flight to Belfast, Northern Ireland, PG McClanahan and those who are members of the Delaware Society (Compatriots Horne, Downing and Nelson) met with Michael Higgins, a collateral descendant of Col. John Haslet, the first Colonel of the Delaware Continentals. He is familiar with many Irish and Scots-Irish families who are doing genealogical research; he offered to help the SAR identify and recruit prospects for a Society in Ireland.

Adrian Beattie (left), Curator of the museum at Gray's Print Shop, was presented a Certificate of Appreciation by President General Larry D. McClanahan.

In Maydown, Ireland Professor Seamus Dunn (center) gave a talk to the tour group. Posing with him were Richard S. Austin (left) and Historian General Roland G. Downing.

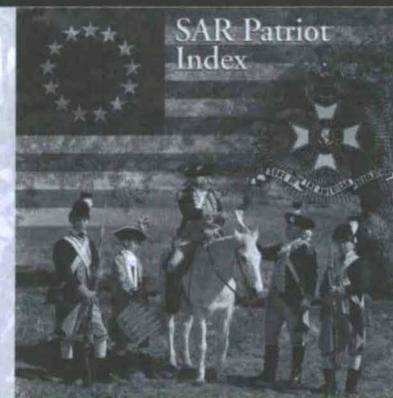

A bus tour along the northeast coast brought the contingent to Derry (the original name but identified for a long time as Londonderry). Having known former PG Horne when he served as Manager of Human Relations at the DuPont plant in Maydown some 30 years ago, the senior staff hosted a dinner and a talk by Prof. Seamus Dunn, former head of the Center of Conflict Resolution at Ulster University.

The following morning BBC announcer Roy Hamilton provided a tour of Derry, with the group then going to Strabane, birthplace of several American Patriots, including John Dunlap, who printed the first copies of the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution; and Thomas Nelson, who signed the Declaration. The tour also featured a visit to the museum at Gray's Print Shop, where Dunlap's uncle learned the printing trade. PG McClanahan presented a Certificate of Appreciation to the Curator, Adrian Beattie.

The tour was topped off with a visit to Dublin for several days, which offered a number of opportunities to learn about the long and turbulent history of Ireland.

The Dutch / By Peter K. Goebel Empire State Society

This overview will cover both the contributions of Dutch-Americans and the contributions of the Netherlands to the cause of American Independence.

At the end of the American Revolution, Commander-in-Chief General George Washington at Fraunces Tavern made 13 toasts – the fourth of which was to the King of Sweden and was only preceded by two foreign countries, namely France and the Netherlands.<sup>1</sup> Why did Washington see clearly enough to impart such an honor upon the Netherlands? Why does only France seem to deserve more foreign credit than the Netherlands for the American victory in the Revolution? Many countries in Europe deserve credit for aiding the American Colonies in their quest for independence from Great Britain. The Netherlands is certainly deserving of recognition for their efforts.

Dutch Support Of The American Colonies

American commercial relations with the Dutch Republic were very Compatriot Peter K. Goebel, currently National Trustee for the Empire State Society (NY) and a Lieutenant Colonel, was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1981 with a Bachelor of Science Degree. He is now serving as the Operations Officer in the Department of Military Science at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He is a Past President of the Saratoga Battle Chapter, ESSAR, and Alternate National Trustee. He is a Past Chairman of the Participation Forum Committee and is serving as Chairman of the Young Members Committee and Vice Chairman of the Medals and Awards Committee. great in 1775. The governing board of the Dutch West India Company asked the States General of the Dutch Republic whether England could not be "induced" to lift the blockade of American ports, at least for the products of the Dutch colonies in the Caribbean (especially molasses) as the position of the Dutch possessions would become very trying without trade with New England, and even famine was possible.<sup>2</sup> Trade with the American colonies was vital to the Dutch Republic. Commercial relations with the Dutch Republic were also vital to the United States. The best reasons for an alliance were economic interests as the Netherlands was rich in trade and funds and the American colonies in products and raw materials so that both were harmed by the English Navigation Act.<sup>3</sup> The commercial relations so vital to each nation can be as vital to the success of the American colonies in their desire to gain independence from Great Britain.

Britain objected to the Americans supplying themselves at the Dutch West Indian island of St. Eustatius and, after France entered the war in 1778, to Dutch insistence on furnishing her with naval stores, as the Anglo-Dutch treaty of 1674 gave her the right to do.<sup>4</sup> The English were quite angry with the Dutch supplying the Americans and their allies, the French. Admiral George Rodney emphasized the importance of the Dutch commercial trade to the United States from their Caribbean island of St. Eustatius after he took that Dutch colony. Admiral Rodney stated that "I hope this island will never be returned to the Dutch" it has been more detrimental to England than all the forces of her enemies, and alone had contributed to the continuance of the American war.<sup>5</sup>

John Adams also showed the importance of the fall of St. Eustatius when he wrote to American Minister of Foreign Affairs Livingston, "You can have no idea, Sir, no man, who was not upon the spot, can have any idea, of the gloom and terror that was spread by this event."<sup>6</sup> Even though the Dutch were in shock over this event, it may have helped militarily. The presence of Admiral Rodney's fleet at St. Eustatius probably enabled the French fleet under de Grasse to sail into Virginia, where it helped bring about the capitulation of General Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown.<sup>7</sup> In these ways the Dutch contributed immensely to the cause of American Independence.

First Salute Of The Stars And Stripes

The Netherlands was also the first foreign power to recognize the Stars and Stripes. On 16 November 1776 Johannes de Graaff, governor of St. Eustatius salutes the Massachusetts ship Andrew Doria.<sup>8</sup> This was the first salute to the Stars and Stripes during the revolt against England.<sup>9</sup> For this reason alone the Dutch could clearly be seen as having immensely contributed to the cause of American Independence by recognition of her flag.

Dutch-American Contributions To The American Revolution

Many illustrious Dutch-Americans made invaluable contributions to the cause of American independence. Two Dutchmen served as members of the staff of the Commander-in-Chief. Richard Varick served as General Washington's confidential secretary beginning in 1781, and Simeon DeWitt began as army surveyor, rising to become Chief Geographer for the army.<sup>10</sup> The Dutch near Albany, who were strongly committed to the Dutch heritage, leaned towards the patriot cause. Preaching by Reverend Eilardus Westerlo of the Reformed Church, encouraged support for the revolution.<sup>11</sup>

Support for the American Revolution by the Dutch-Americans was not limited to the members of General Washington's staff or limited to the Reformed Church clergy. A great many Dutch families helped to finance the revolution.<sup>12</sup> This would include the many ancestors of many present members of the Sons of the American Revolution as well as, quite importantly, a large number of potential members of our great society.

Prominent Generals

Several prominent Generals in the Continental Army were of Dutch descent. Gosen Van Schaick from Albany commanded the 1st Regiment of the New York line. He later was promoted to Brigadier General, fought at the Battle of Monmouth Court House, and in 1779 led a suc-

One of the most prominent Revolutionary War generals of Dutch descent was Philip Schuyler, as shown in this engraving after Trumbull's portrait. The American Commander of the Northern Department of the Continental Army in upper New York State, he had been instrumental in impeding Burgoyne's progress toward Saratoga in 1777.

cessful expedition against the Onondaga Indians.<sup>13</sup> Another prominent General of Dutch descent from Albany was Peter Gansevoort. He became a Lieutenant Colonel in March of 1776 and in November of that same year he became Colonel of the 3rd Regiment of the Continental Army, winning official praise from Congress for his heroic defense of Fort Stanwix against General Barry St. Leger in 1777.<sup>14</sup>

In the Continental Congress, the news snapped John Adams out of his depression over the loss of Ticonderoga, so that he wrote to his wife, "Gansevoort has proven that it is possible to hold a fort."<sup>15</sup> Perhaps the most prominent of the Dutch Generals from Albany was Philip Schuyler, who was a New York delegate to the 2nd Continental Congress, served as Commander of the Northern Department of the Continental Army. General Schuyler also served as military counsel to Congress, was the confidant and close trusted friend of George Washington, was a member of the Board of Indian Commissioners, and was an advisor on the Sullivan-Clinton campaign against the Indians in 1779.<sup>16</sup> General Schuyler of Albany played a key role in the securing of American Independence.

Important Role Played By Dutch Women

Dutch men were not alone in their role in obtaining American Independence. Catherine Van Rensselaer Schuyler, wife of General Philip Schuyler, was active in the patriot cause. While her husband and his men were delaying General Burgoyne and the British Army, Catherine went to the edge of a wide field of ripening grain at their country estate at Schuylerville, near Saratoga, much of which she and her husband had planned to give to the American army, and tossed into it a lighted torch, to keep it from falling into British hands.<sup>17</sup> Even their daughter was able to help protect General Schuyler and also her own younger sister. When an enemy band invaded the Schuyler house in Albany to abduct the General, the family rushed upstairs leaving behind the youngest daughter asleep in her cradle. Margaret rushed downstairs and snatched up the sleeping infant, an Indian tomahawk brushing past her and burying itself in the stair rail as she regained the safety of the second floor.<sup>18</sup> The deep cut can still be seen in the stair rail at Schuyler Mansion today. Margaret's warning kept her father from capture, and aided the cause of the American Revolution, as did other Dutch women.

As a Colonel commanding Fort Stanwix in 1777, Peter Gansevoort won the distinction of successfully resisting a British siege in a period when every other continental post in New York was either evacuated or surrendered. He had previously served in Canada. In 1779 he marched with Sullivan against the Iroquois; in 1781 he became a Brigadier General, which grade he later held in the Regular Army.

Cornelia Beekman entertained American patriots of high rank in the Hudson River Valley, including General Washington, and also assisted any American soldier in need of help. She showed such courage when a British marauder presented a bayonet at her heart swearing to kill her on the spot that he backed down and went away.<sup>19</sup> The American women of Dutch descent showed as much courage as many of the men in the colonies during the American Revolution.

The Campaign of 1777

During the battles of Saratoga, many of the commanders were of Dutch descent. A list of them reads as a literal Who's Who of the oldest Dutch families in New York. The regiments in the Brigade of Brigadier General Abraham Ten Broeck of Albany were commanded by Colonels Robert Killian Van Rensselaer, Gerrit G. Van Den Bergh, Stephen John Schuyler, Abraham Van Alstine, Robert Van Rensselaer, Peter Van

Philip Van Rensselaer, the second child of Kilian, was born in 1747. Family tradition states that he obtained the farm called Cherry Hill about the time of his marriage in 1768. As a merchant he traded in imported goods. During the Revolutionary War, Philip was a member of the Albany County Committee of Correspondence, the Patriots' governing council. He was also commissioned a colonel and appointed in 1776 as Commissary of Military Stores for the Northern Department by General Philip Schuyler. Ness, Anthony Van Bergen, Jacob Van Schoonhoven, John Knickerbacker, Lewis Van Woert, and Abraham Wemple.<sup>20</sup> Colonel Philip Van Cortlandt commanded the 2nd New York Regiment and Colonel Henry Beekman commanded the 4th New York Regiment. All these Americans of Dutch descent contributed greatly to the American colonies in their quest for independence from Great Britain by their service.

The Netherlands as well as Dutch-Americans contributed immensely to the cause of American Independence. Independence for the American colonies may have been possible without the assistance of the Netherlands, but it would have been more difficult. The first U.S. President to be born in the area of the United States which had once been the British colonies was the son of a Revolutionary War patriot.<sup>21</sup> This president, Martin Van Buren, of Dutch descent, thus rose to the highest elected office in the land. SAR Compatriot President Theodore Roosevelt summed up the contributions of Dutch-Americans in 1890 in an address before the Holland Society of New York when he stated:

"We of the Holland blood of New York have just cause to be proud of the men of note in American history who have come from among us... [but] the point on which I wish to insist is, that the Hollanders could never have played such a part, could never have won honorable renown by doing their full share in shaping the destiny of the republic, had they remained Hollanders instead of becoming Americans... Had they remained aliens in speech and habit of thought Schuyler would have been a mere boorish provincial squire instead of a major general in the Revolutionary army, Van Buren would have been a country tavern-keeper instead of the President of the mightiest republic the world has ever seen, and Vanderbilt would have remained an unknown boatman instead of becoming one of the most potent architects of the marvelous American industrial fabric."<sup>22</sup>

We must emulate them. This is to what we should all aspire. For ourselves. For our country. Our strength

Notes by the Contributing Editor

On November 16, 2001, the 225th Anniversary of "The First Salute" of an American Warship by a foreign power, was commemorated. As stated in the article, this was a significant honoring of a U.S. Brig-of-war, "The Andrew Doria", by the Dutch Fort at St. Eustatius. DAR President General Linda Tinker Watkins led a delegation to the island (called Statia by local citizens) to dedicate a plaque honoring that event. SAR President General William Gist had led a tour of the Netherlands in May, 1996 at which several good citizenship medals were awarded to present day Dutch leaders in commemoration of the support of that nation in the cause of the American Revolution.

It was in 1939 that Compatriot U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt (one of three Presidents of Dutch descent) ordered a Bronze Plaque placed on the Island, "in commemoration of the salute of the Flag of the United States of America.

United States fired in this Fort November 16, 1776..." This plaque was carried to St. Eustatius by Capt. Grover S. Higgenbotham USN, Ret. (then a LtJG on the USS Wyoming) who was a member of the FLSSAR Naples Chapter. It was Captain Robertson commanding the USS Wyoming who made the presentation.

This "First Salute" infuriated the British and led to the occupation of Statia by the British Navy led by Admiral Rodney. The occupation continued until the Treaty of Paris ending the American Revolution provided for the return of St. Eustatius to the Netherlands, which continues to this day.

Compatriot U. S. President George W. Bush provided a letter to the commemoration of November 16, 2001 and had the USS Doyle proceed to the island to reenact the "First Salute" on the 225th Anniversary of that event. Compatriot U.S. President George H. W. Bush also honored the "First Salute" during this term of office.

Among those participating in the post office dedication ceremony were the Hon. Mitch McConnell (left), United States Senator from Kentucky, and Chaplain General Dr. Jack J. Early. Senator McConnell sponsored the bill designating the name of the post office.

Kentucky Post Office, New SAR Chapter Named For Chaplain Gen Kin

Chaplain General Dr. Jack J. Early, a member of the Kentucky Society, was among the descendants of Dr. James Harvey Early participating in the April dedication ceremony naming the post office at Williamsburg, Kentucky the Dr. James Harvey Early Post Office building. He was the first postmaster at Whitley Courthouse, now known as Williamsburg. As a Whig, he served in the Kentucky State Legislature and during the Civil War, distinguished himself as a civilian doctor and surgeon for the Union.

Following the program, Compatriot Early organized the James Early Chapter in honor of the grandfather of Dr. James Harvey Early, who served in the North Carolina Militia during the Revolutionary War. Several cousins brought their SAR Worksheets and supporting documents, including a Family Bible. During coming months, applications will be completed for SAR membership and the new Chapter will be formally chartered.

Chaplain General and Mrs. Jack J. Early are shown before a plaque naming the post office at Williamsburg, the Dr. James Harvey Early Post Office Building.

SAR Inducted Into Ohio Hall of Fame

General Roeliff Brinkerhoff – an 1889 Charter Member of the Ohio Society – was inducted into the Ohio Veterans Hall of Fame last November in a ceremony at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Columbus. His great great grandson, Louis Gilbert of Mansfield, accepted the honor.

The Hall of Fame was created in 1992 to recognize the service and sacrifice of Ohio veterans. It is not a military organization. Veterans who are selected have continued to serve and inspire their fellow man with their deeds and accomplishments throughout their lifetimes. Members include Ohio veterans who were elected President of the United States and Medal of Honor recipients from the state. Each year over 100 veterans are nominated, with no more than 20 inducted. The Hall of Fame is located in the I.F. Mack Building at the Ohio Veterans Home in Sandusky.

Born in 1828 on a farm at Owasco Lake, Compatriot Brinkerhoff became an attorney and practiced law in Ashland, later in Mansfield. In 1861 he became involved in recruiting at the beginning of the Civil War and was named a regimental quartermaster. By the end of the year he was promoted to Captain in the Quartermaster Corps. In 1866 he was breveted a Brigadier General for faithful and meritorious service in the Quartermaster's Department, returning to Mansfield in 1867 to again set up his law practice.

Four Color Guards Star In Ceremony

In December four California Society Chapters, in full Color Guard uniforms, participated in a ceremony at Dana Point that saw christening of the Spirit of Dana Point, an accurate replica of a schooner as it appeared first during our country's Colonial days: Riverside Chapter (4th Connecticut Regiment); South Coast Chapter (Continental Marines); Orange County Chapter (Lee's Legion); and the Redlands Chapter (Commander-in-Chief's Guard).

Before boarding the Spirit of Dana Point, Chapter Color Guards formed up on the dock. Over 15 Compatriots participated from four Chapters.

The vessel was originally built in Costa Mesa beginning back in 1970 by master shipwright Dennis Holland and his family utilizing plans purchased from the Smithsonian Institution. After 13 years of hard work, she was launched. At first she sailed as the Pilgrim of Newport, the largest sailing ship on the West Coast. She was later acquired by the Ocean Institute, with the name being changed to its current one – after the famous author, Richard Henry Dana, who penned "Two Years Before the Mast." A half-million-dollar renovation followed, making her seaworthy enough to travel along the California coast for educational purposes.

The Spirit of Dana Point is a chappelle designed topsail schooner with a clipper bow, round bilge, raised stern deck and carved stem head and bowsprit. She is 83 feet long on deck and 114 feet overall, with a U.S. Coast Guard Certification for 82 passengers and sleeping accommodations for 28.

1781 Battle of Guilford Courthouse Commemorated by Compatriots, Others

By North Carolina National Trustee Thomas N. Clark

At the Battle of Guilford Courthouse on March 15, 1781, Nathanael Greene, commanding general of the 4,143 Patriot forces, faced the most powerful army in the world under the command of Charles Lord Cornwallis, commanding general of the British forces. The battle ended with a tactical retreat from the field by Greene with his forces intact – but the victorious Redcoats were cut to ribbons with the loss of one-fourth of the ranks of their well-disciplined troops.

The battle was one of the most significant ones of the Southern Campaign of the Revolutionary War, along with Kings Mountain and Cowpens. The "wretched beyond description" army of Rhode Island's General Greene made a stubborn stand for four hours of intense fighting against the well-trained units of General Cornwallis's legions and Lt. Col. Banastre Tarleton's dreaded dragoons. Greene's whole strategy here and in the preceding months, with the aid of Daniel Morgan, had been employed successfully by pulling Cornwallis farther from his supply base and crippling his Loyalist forces at Kings Mountain and his Regulars at Cowpens.

Anniversary Marked on March 16th

To commemorate the 221st anniversary of this historic event, the North Carolina Society and its Nathaniel Greene Chapter hosted an impressive program on March 16th with a wreath laying ceremony at the equestrian statue of Greene located on the grounds of Guilford National Military Park in Greensboro, North Carolina. To stirring tunes the Revolutionary soldiers knew, the Guilford Fifes and Drums led a procession of uniformed SAR Color Guards from Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia and of the New Jersey Light Infantry; and wreaths and flag bearers from units of the SAR, DAR, C.A.R., SR, Colonial Dames and Daughters of the American Colonists.

The opening ceremony, conducted by Park Superintendent Robert A. Vogel, included remarks by North Carolina Society President Dr. Randy D. Steele and other leaders of state historical and patriotic organizations. A concert of 18th century music was performed by the Guilford Fifes and Drums, while the Brooks Global School and Murphey Traditional Academy presented a program of patriotic music.

Among the many wreaths presented at the Nathanael Greene Monument were those of 15 SAR and four DAR Chapters. Each unit, escorted by uniformed flag bearers, marched through a corridor of color guards and military re-enactors to make their presentations.

Another important phase of the program was a dedication and ribbon cutting ceremony for two parcels of land which were part of the original battlefield and recently deeded to the Park.

Compatriot George Thurmond, Vice Chairman of the NSSAR Historic Celebrations Committee – Southern Region, presented the National Society's wreath at the March commemoration of the famed 1781 Battle of Guilford Courthouse.

Chapter Sponsors Patriots' Day To Commemorate Revolution Battles

By Thomas N. Clark, North Carolina Society National Trustee

To commemorate the 221st anniversary of three Revolutionary War battles which raged in what is now Alamance County, North Carolina in 1781, the Alamance Battleground Chapter sponsored the 6th Annual Patriots' Day Celebration in early March. Held at the Battle of Clapp's Mill Memorial Park in Burlington, the ceremony marked these battles: Pyle's Defeat on February 23rd, Clapp's Mill on March 2nd and Lindley's Mill on September 13th.

The program opened with a cannon salute by Cannoneer Bryan Dalton, Site Manager of the Battle of Alamance State Park, with his crew dressed as North Carolina Regulators, and a concert by the Guilford Fifes and Drums. The North Carolina Society Combined Color Guard, attired in uniforms which were replicas of the Revolutionary period, led a procession including the Fifes and Drums, SARs, DARs, Boy Scout troops, the First Virginia Regiment, community leaders and local government officials to the ceremony site at the Clapp's Hill Memorial.

Wreath Laying Ceremony

A wreath laying ceremony to remember those who fought and died in the three encounters was presented by North Carolina Society President Dr. Randy D. Steele; Alamance Battleground Chapter President J. David Thompson; Nathanael Greene Chapter Vice President Bryan McBane; Salisbury Chapter President Grady Hall III; and DAR Battle of Alamance Chapter Regent Mrs. Sara Koontz.

Patriotic Recipe Book Big Hit!

"Have You Got Yours" and "Take Ten to Sell" were phrases imprinted on stickers affixed to name tags of attendees at the 112th Annual Congress held this July in Nashville. The stickers came from the table set up by the Ladies for the SAR Library to facilitate pickup and sale of the long-awaited "From Patriotic Kitchens" recipe book. Delegates and wives were anxious to look for their recipes among the 700 included in the book created to raise funds for the SAR Library. Those who served as State Coordinators for the project handed over volumes to those who had pre-ordered, sold them to others and offered boxes of ten to be resold at home.

The Ladies for the SAR Library, which was formed in June of last year, met at the 111th Annual Congress in Louisville to determine how they might raise monies for the proposed new Library facility. A core group of Coordinators started immediately to collect the recipes from SARs, wives, daughters and mothers. About 1,300 recipes were received, from which 700 were selected. Co-chairs Kay Nelson (Delaware) and Karin Guzy (Georgia) edited and typed the recipes, while some 30 Coordinators turned their attention to pre-selling the book.

"The best thing has been participation of so many people in the project," Mrs. Guzy says. "It is something we can all accomplish together." The Ladies made an initial donation of $3,500 at the Congress, with an expectation of donating more than $22,000 when all the books have been sold.

The books can be ordered by sending a check - payable to "Ladies for the SAR Library" - to Mrs. Karin Guzy, 4531 Paper Mill Road, Marietta, GA 30067-4025. The cost is $17 each, including shipping. Cartons of 10 and 27 books are available for resale by Compatriots and Chapters.

The Guilford Fifes and Drums presented a concert of Revolutionary music at the Patriots' Day program.

American Village was the setting for the Alabama Society Spring Meeting, where President John Wallace presided over the event that attracted nearly 40 Compatriots. The Society continues to grow, with the formation of a new Chapter in Anniston and action underway to start Chapters in Shelby County and Monroeville.

A highlight of the meeting included a report by Compatriot Hoyt Smith, Chairman of the Grave Registration Committee, who shared that data on over 1,150 Revolutionary War Veterans buried in the state have been compiled. Information for over 950 of these Patriots can now be accessed through a web site (www.RevolutionaryWarSoldiers.com). Developed by Compatriot Gene Gravlee, the site uses Global Positioning System (GPS) coordinates to give grave locations.

Dressed in period clothing as they portrayed their ancestors, Huntsville, Alabama citizens held their annual Stroll through the Maple Hill Cemetery in early May. Members of the Tennessee Valley Chapter took part in the event, which was sponsored by the Huntsville Pilgrimage Association. Several Compatriots represented Patriots significant to the Huntsville area, including Ken Carpenter, shown here as he demonstrated the musket manual of arms. Several thousand area residents attended the popular event.

For two years the Black Warrior River Chapter, which serves the Tuscaloosa area, has presented medals to JROTC and ROTC cadets at seven local high schools and three universities. Awards programs are held at one of the schools so that all cadets are recognized at the same time. This year Holt High School at Holt was the ceremony site. Shown entering the school are Compatriots and dignitaries, including Chapter President Thornton L. Neatherly (left front) and General Robert Foley at the right. A winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the General served both as a presenter and guest speaker.

Using a slide show presentation, Ms. Keiser showcased the many ships owned by the museum, which documents and preserves the history of vessels on the West Coast from the Gold Rush to World War II. The crown jewel of the museum is the Balclutha, which represents the Great Age of Sail. Launched in 1887 from Cardiff, Wales, she arrived in San Francisco in 190 days. Ms. Keiser also highlighted a scow schooner named Alma, built in 1891, as well as the C.A. Thayer, the second largest ship in the museum's collection. The Sheraton Tyler Hotel was the elegant setting for the 107th Annual Conference of the Texas Society during March. Among the honored guests were President General Larry D. McClanahan and his wife, Treasurer General Henry N. McCarl, and Vice President for the South Central District William Cox.

Three Fort Worth Fire Department firefighters were the recipients of the Medal of Heroism by the Major K.M. Van Zandt Chapter at a spring meeting of the Fort Worth City Council. These off-duty firemen witnessed a car lose control and flip over a city overpass, and proceeded to rescue the dazed victim from the burning vehicle. They suffered minor injuries but were successful in saving a life.

This striking Color Guard from the Patrick Henry and William Hightower Chapters participated in Memorial Day observances when Compatriots and several DAR chapters in Austin conducted services at the Texas State Cemetery in Austin. The celebration was in honor of all veterans, and wreaths were laid on the graves of Patriots Lt. Robert Rankin and Sgt. Stevens Williams. The keynote speaker for the event was Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas Phillips.

VIRGINIA SOCIETY

The elegant Sheraton Park South in Richmond was the setting for the Society's Annual Meeting on the anniversary of George Washington's 270th birthday. Presiding was President Richard S. Austin, who relinquished the gavel of office to newly elected President E. Trice Taylor, DDS. Among the guests of honor was Librarian General Bruce A. Wilcox, who provided an update on the status of the proposed new Library across from Headquarters in Louisville.

An afternoon of intrigue was in store for the George Washington Chapter, when it held its April luncheon meeting at the Belle Haven Country Club, Alexandria. S. Eugene (Gene) Poteat, President of the Association of Former Intelligence Officers (AFIO) presented "George Washington, Spymaster Extraordinaire". He explored how many scholars today attribute Washington's resounding victory in the War of Independence as much to his skills as a spymaster as to his military leadership of

The Athens Chapter honored two law enforcers at its March meeting held at the Athens Best Western Inn. Officer Bryan Nutt, Henderson County Drug Enforcement Officer, received the Law Enforcement Commendation Medal. He spoke briefly on some of his experiences involving the arrest and detainment of persons involved in drug manufacturing and distribution. In addition, the Honorable Jim Parsons, 3rd District Judge of Henderson, Anderson and Houston Counties, was the featured speaker. He received the Bronze Good Citizenship Medal for his work in implementing reforms to improve juror response and participation.

President General Larry D. McClanahan (left) is shown here with two members of the Culpeper Minute Men Chapter in which he holds dual membership. Displaying the flag representing the original Culpeper Minute Men, was Compatriot Jim Bayne, and Chapter President Mike Lyman. The battalion was formed by men from Orange, Fauquier and Culpeper Counties "to march at a minute's notice." The flag bears a rattlesnake with 13 rattles, coiled in the center, ready to strike. The Minute Men took part in the Battle of Great Bridge, the first Revolutionary battle on Virginia soil.

means of engaging people in a better understanding of American history. He also teaches U.S. History, the History of Medicine and the American Presidency at St. John's College High School in Washington D.C.

Major Churchill Jones and his contributions during the Revolutionary War were honored at a grave marking ceremony on Memorial Day, led by the Colonial Fielding Lewis Chapter. President Walter Sheffield presided during the ceremony, and Harriet

Some 60 Compatriots and their guests enjoyed the annual black tie Tri-Chapter Dinner, when the Fairfax Resolves, George Mason and George Washington Chapters gathered in May. Among the honored guests were Society President R. Trice Taylor, Immediate Past Society President Richard S. Austin, Fairfax Resolves Chapter President and host, Pat Bray, George Mason Chapter President Allen Beatty, and George Washington Chapter President Dan McGuire. Exchanging some lively banter were Compatriot General Michael Greene (left) and Society Past President Richard S. Austin. After dinner, guest speaker Brian K. Hilton delighted his audience with remarks on "The Ethics of George Washington."

Condon spoke on the Patriot's life. When he died in 1822, he was buried in an unmarked grave in a family cemetery called Ellwood. Interestingly, this area was the site of one of the most fierce battles of the Civil War, where General "Stonewall" Jackson was wounded and had his arm amputated. The arm is buried next to the grave of Major Jones at Ellwood.

When the Fincastle Resolutions Chapter met for a March luncheon meeting, Compatriots were delighted to hear Professor Brian C. Murchison, from the Washington and Lee University School of Law, discuss James Madison, the U.S. Constitution and the Federalist Papers. Mr. Murchison teaches Administrative Law, Communications Law, Jurisprudence and Torts. He has published a number of articles over the years on administrative law and libel matters.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

A truly memorable speaker was featured at the May meeting of the Alexander Hamilton Chapter. Retired Army First Sergeant Helmut "Brownie" Braunsteiner shared highlights of a remarkable life that observed first hand the harshness of Nazi Austria. Reminiscing about his distinguished Army career, Brownie recalled his experiences as an interpreter at the Nuremberg trials and his travels as an interpreter with President John F. Kennedy during his travels in Germany. Brownie is an exceptional man who has continued to affect the lives of many through a life filled with volunteerism.

WISCONSIN SOCIETY

The Wyndham Hotel, located in the Milwaukee suburb of Brookfield, was the site of the Society's Annual Meeting in mid-April. Among the dignitaries attending were Historian General and Mrs. Roland G. Downing. During his remarks, Compatriot

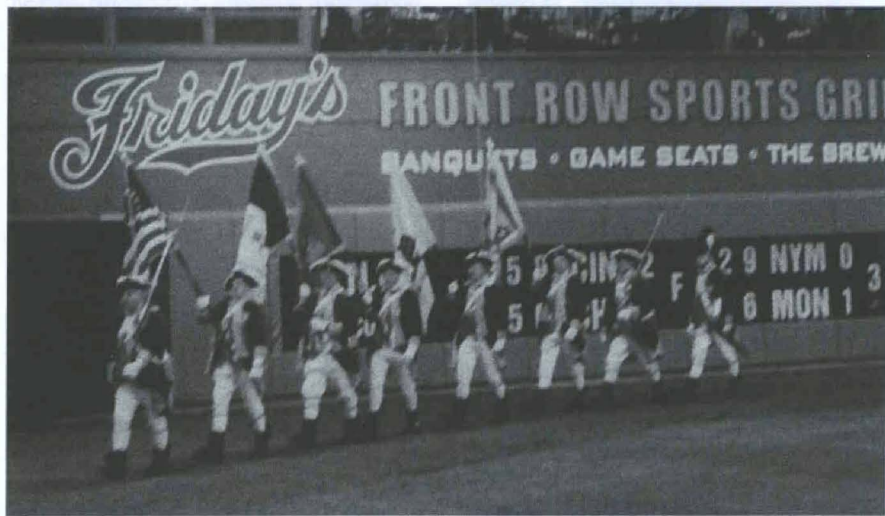

Upon being elected to a second term as Society President, C.E. Thorp (right) was handed the gavel of office by Historian General Roland G. Downing after he installed all of the new officers.

Downing offered details about the new National Society Library to be constructed in Louisville and urged members and guests to contribute financial support; he pointed out that one simple means is to purchase a walkway brick emblazoned with the name of a Patriot ancestor. Among those receiving awards were: Compatriot Dr. Kenneth Griffiths, Patriot Medal; Harold Klubertanz, Silver Good Citizenship Medal; C.A.R. State President Daniel B. Wankel, Silver Good Citizenship Medal; Laura Grant, C.A.R. Senior State President, Medal of Appreciation; and DAR Jan VanLysel, Martha Washington Medal. Singled out for special recognition was Mrs. Beverly West, DAR State Regent; she was presented the Flag Certificate in recognition of her ardent efforts to promote flying the American Flag.

In mid-May the Morgan-Kosciuszko Chapter held its Annual Meeting at Milwaukee and installed Clayton Tollefson as the new President, with Society President C.E. Thorp performing the ceremony for all of the newly elected officers. Dressed in a Revolutionary War uniform, Compatriot Tollefson offered an interesting talk about Revolutionary re-enactment groups in Wisconsin.

In mid-April descendants of Patriot Nathaniel Ames participated in a ceremony that saw dedication of an historical marker near his grave site within the Prairie Mound Cemetery at Oregon. Organizing the program and fielding a Color Guard were members of the local Nathaniel Ames Chapter. Standing just to the left of the marker was descendant Robert Nathaniel Ames. Chapter President Jim Lampman served as Master of Ceremonies for the event.

On April 19, which is officially recognized by the State of Wisconsin as Patriots' Day, the Society's Color Guard was invited to post the colors before the opening pitch of a Brewers vs Cardinals baseball game in Milwaukee. Members on hand were Guard Commander Harold Klubertanz, Bruce Walters, David Dean, Richard Eager, John Andrews, Charles O'Neil, Michael Nelson and Travis Kuhlka.

During a recent meeting of the DAR Milwaukee Chapter, held at the Women's Club in Milwaukee, Catherine Raney (center) offered an interesting insight into her experiences in this year's Winter Olympic Games. She skated in the 3,000-meter race (finishing 13th) and the 5,000-meter event (finishing 9th to set a new American record). She is the daughter of Chapter Regent Peggy Raney (right), twin sister of Richard W. Raney III, a member of the Florida Society's DeLand Chapter, and the granddaughter of Albert C. Little of the same Chapter. Congratulating her were Past State President Winston C. Williams (left); Mrs. Barbara West, DAR State Regent; and President C.E. Thorp.

Huge Collection Of Carpenter Family

Documents Presented To NSSAR Library

The Carpenter Collection, a wide-ranging assortment of thousands of documents relative to the Carpenter Family in America, has been presented to the National Society Library in Louisville by Florida Compatriot Raymond George Carpenter and his cousin, Fay Charpentier-Ford. A member of the DAR John Marshall Chapter in Louisville, she prefers to use the original French spelling of Carpenter and hyphenated with her married name of Ford.

The gift represents copies of original manuscripts plus booklets, newspapers, journals, research data and CDs – an over-50-year collecting endeavor of Compatriot Carpenter. It is especially important to point out that the colonial patriot line of people named Carpenter had more men in Revolutionary War Service than any other.

Compatriot Carpenter is celebrating 40 years as an active member of our Society. He was initially a member of the Empire State Society, having been sponsored by James B. Gardiner who went on to become President General in 1969. Since 1977, he has been affiliated with the Clearwater Chapter. He is considered the most informed source for family information.

National Society Librarian Michael Christian accepted The Carpenter Collection from Fay Charpentier-Ford. It is contained in 56 books, but is designed to permit adding materials in the future.

THE RELIGIOUS FAITH OF OUR FOUNDING FATHERS

A Series By Jack J. Early, Ed.D., D.D., Chaplain General

Roger Sherman has a distinct place among America's founding fathers – he is the only one who signed the three major documents which formed the American government, the 1776 Declaration of Independence, the 1777 Articles of Confederation, and the 1787 U.S. Constitution.

Roger Sherman was born in Newtown, Massachusetts on April 19, 1721 to William and Mehetable Sherman, the third of seven children. He died on July 23, 1793 in New Haven, Connecticut. Two of his brothers became ministers of the gospel. The family attended the Congregational Church, and the Sabbath was faithfully observed in the Sherman home.

At an early age, he learned to read using the Bible, studying Cotton Mather's works, and the Westminster Catechism. He attended a community schoolhouse, which used the Christian-oriented textbook, the New England Primer.

John Adams, second President of the United States, described Sherman as "...an old Puritan, as honest as an angel and as firm in the cause of American independence as Mount Atlas." During his long public life (forty-eight years), he served as surveyor, self-taught lawyer, state legislator, superior court judge, a Congressman and a U.S. Senator.

It is said that Sherman was an active member in his church. He served as clerk, deacon and member of the school committee for the New Milford Church. The Rev. Jonathan Edwards, Jr., son of the famous theologian Jonathan Edwards, referred to Sherman as a "great and good friend," and said concerning Sherman's theology, "He could will reputation to himself and improvement to others converse on the most important subjects of theology..."

Sherman was closely associated with Yale College. He contributed generously to the college and served as college treasurer. During his service at Yale College, he fought to maintain the Christian character of the institution. Sherman's daughter, Martha, married Rev. Jeremiah Day, who served as President of Yale from 1817 to 1846.

One historian said, "Roger Sherman was...in many ways respects the most remarkable man at the Constitutional Convention." Through his public service, he, along with Oliver Ellsworth and William Samuel Johnson, acted as peacemakers in the bitter conflict between the large state party and the small state party. He provided leadership that led to the concept for equal representation in one house and proportional representation in the other.

Throughout his writings and speeches, Sherman shows great familiarity with the Bible, of which he was a constant student. It was his custom to purchase a Bible at the beginning of every session of Congress, to peruse it daily, and to present it to one of his children on his return home.

The concept of self-love found its way into much of Roger Sherman's thinking. He said that self-love is not bad in itself. God planted it in the head of man for man's preservation. However, the fall of man perverted self-love into an instrument of greed and exploitation.

Oftentimes Roger Sherman shared his religious faith with his family. On May 30, 1770, he wrote to his wife, Rebecca:

"This is your birthday. Mine was the 30th of last month. May we so number our days to apply our Hearts to wisdom: that is true Religion. Psalm 90:12 (So teach us to number our days, that we may get a heart of wisdom.)"

*I remain affectionately yours,
Roger Sherman"*

Sherman believed the Scripture should be applied to current situations.

He is remembered for his opposition to what became our first amendment, which originally was to have read:

No religion shall be established by law, nor shall the equal rights of conscience be infringed.

Roger Sherman thought the amendment altogether unnecessary, inasmuch as Congress had no authority whatever delegated to them by the Constitution to make religious establishment.

For us today we are the inheritors of the faith and practice of those who shaped this Republic – may we as a "Nation under God" lift high the torch of religious freedom in our day!

Ben Franklin To Star This November On PBS

Benjamin Franklin, a production of TPI/Twin Cities Public Television, is set to premier Tuesday, November 19 from 9-11 pm and conclude the following night from 9-10:30 pm. The Minneapolis-St. Paul station is preparing the program in cooperation with Middlemarch Films, the Peabody Award-winning collaboration that produced Liberty! The American Revolution. The result is an innovative biography.

The three-part series recreates Franklin's mind and his world, with Tony Award-winning actor Richard Easton portraying the Patriot through speaking intimately to the viewer with Franklin's own words. The series follows his career from humble beginnings through his influence as a Founding Father.

Betsy Ross Painting Has New Home

“The Birth of Our Nation’s Flag”, a huge painting measuring 9’ x 12’ as rendered by Charles H. Weisgerber in the 1890s, is now on permanent display in The State Museum of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg.

The work is a depiction of Betsy Ross showing the original flag she made to George Washington and the Flag Committee consisting of Col. George Ross and the Hon. Robert Morris. First exhibited at the 1893 Columbian Exposition in Chicago, this image was the stimulus that elevated Betsy to her position of national prominence as an historic figure. Despite its initial popularity, the painting
