Right to Keep and Bear Arms

A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

Quartering of Soldiers

No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Regulation of Right of Search and Seizure

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

Protection for Persons and Their Property

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness

Rights of Persons Accused of Crime

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

Right of Trial by Jury in Suits at Common Law

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

Protection Against Excessive Bail and Punishments

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Constitution Does Not List All Individual Rights

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

Powers Reserved to the States and the People

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Our Constitution and its Bill of Rights are founded on the religious conviction that every human life is sacred. They assure freedom, and release the creative powers of men. As shield and armor, they protect life, liberty and property, for you and your children. Know and guard them well!

The President General's Message

By the time you read this message approximately one-half of this Society year will have become history. Will each of us ask himself this question and answer it to himself—"Have I done all I could have done and should have done for the Sons of the American Revolution?" Most of us have not, but I am happy to report to you that some have—and we are all proud of them.

Since our school days you and I have heard it said to us that this is the day of golden opportunity. Those words were true when we heard them years ago, have been true continuously since then and are tremendously true now. Great thoughts are wrought by the human mind, great inventions created, great deeds performed when the mass of the people want them and are ready to receive and make use of them.

About ninety-seven per cent of the people constitute the mass of humanity and less than three per cent achieve greatness as measured by human standards. The great bulk of us are neither geniuses nor great leaders but we can and should create the desire, yea, the demand that will motivate our leadership to create and maintain higher standards of American loyalty and citizenry. If you want better Sabbath observance, more decent films, less trashy best sellers, less communistic books in your schools, then you and I must individually bestir ourselves in our respective communities and create the public opinion, the public demand for the improvement. When the demand is created, leadership will develop and function.

As direct descendants of those who fought for our independence and created our nation, you and I have, in my opinion, a much greater responsibility than the average citizen, to see to it, insofar as we can, that the Constitution of the United States of America is not only kept inviolate, but that it is respected at home and abroad, and that the principles for which it stands are preserved as the guiding star in all American life, both public and private.

There are now about seventeen thousand of us in this Society living in all parts of the nation and we can make our influence for American ideals effective in proportion as we want to and are willing to give the time, thought and energy to accomplish it. Hence, our sponsorship and observance of Flag Day, of Constitution Day, the anniversaries of Yorktown and Lexington, of Washington's birth, etc., etc. Hence, our desire to liquidate the little debt that remains on our headquarters and give us a chance to do constructive work. The committee having that matter in charge is very much at work. You will hear from them, and I have every hope and right to believe they will hear from you. It was with no little chagrin that your President General had to say in his letter to the Chairman of each of your National committees that there were no funds available for the work or expenses of his committee. We will see to it, will we not, that no future President General need make so apologetic recital?

As we pen these words, the solemn and prophetic dedication of the Altar of the Nation by the New Hampshire Society SAR at Rindge, New Hampshire, on September 8th, continues as it ever shall, to inspire the officers and membership of our National Society. This very week Constitution Day was observed throughout the length and breadth of our beloved land and you will be thrilled to have the report of that committee in due course. The Chairman and membership of the organization committee are not only planning and systematizing their work—they are performing it. Are you and I doing our part to help them?

Your committees are at work, your officers are working, your National Society is functioning.

The many and delightful courtesies extended to your present President General are deeply appreciated and constitute a continuing inspiration to better and more effective effort.

ALLEN L. OLIVER,
President General.

September 21, 1946.

Special Message from Governor Thomas E. Dewey*

At the Unveiling of the Original Manuscript of George Washington's Farewell Address on September 17th, by the New York Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution

At no time in the history of our country has it been more important to reexamine the fundamental principles upon which our government is built and the principles which should guide us in matters of public policy. It is most appropriate that we should, at this time, take stock of our heritage and renew our faith in age old truths which we commemorate today.

The guarantees of our Constitution bear constant repeating, particularly those freedoms from tyranny and those freedoms of thought and action which are written into the Bill of Rights. Yet these rights would not amount to much today were it not for the will of our people to preserve them, and the long line of leaders who have sought and fought to maintain them.

Washington's contribution to the establishment of our Nation was unique. Every schoolboy knows he led our armies to victory and to independence. Every schoolboy knows he was our first President. But not every schoolboy knows that in Washington's Farewell Address are to be found sane, sound, and profitable advice and concern for those principles which make our Nation strong and our people free.

This public statement of our first President has been one of the most significant of its kind in our history, not alone because of what Washington said but because it has so often been misunderstood and improperly excerpted.

Washington set down in this address some fundamental and long enduring principles of public action which are as significant today as when they were penned. Principles, he urged, should be inviolate, policies should be flexible enough to meet new needs. Washington sought to preserve the unity of the Nation to make it strong. He would have a central government strong enough to maintain the liberties of the people. Only the people could make and alter the Constitution and this should be done by orderly procedure. He urged obedience to the law, maintenance of adequate checks and balances and thrift in government. He believed that the people should be well informed if the Republic was to endure. He urged that "exalted justice and benevolence" should be the guiding principle in our international relations so that the form of government established here might become an example for other nations to follow.

The story of Washington's life and Presidency is replete with evidence that he kept abreast of the times in which he lived. His Farewell Address is the best expression we have in writing of his capacity for growth as well as his firm adherence to the principles written into the Constitution of the United States and to the cause of human freedom here and abroad.

* Compatriot of the Empire State Society.

Let us then stand by the Constitution as it is, and by our country as it is, one, united, and entire; let it be a truth engraven on our hearts, let it be borne on the flag under which we rally, in every exigency, that we have one Country, one Constitution, one Destiny.—Daniel Webster, New York Speech, March 15, 1837.

Constitution Day Address of President General Oliver

At Sub-Treasury, New York City, September 17, 1946

We have met here today as humble citizens of a great nation to pay our respect to and renew our allegiance to the Constitution of the United States of America, adopted one hundred and fifty-nine years ago today. In the family of nations of the world we are recognized as a leader of power and influence. Co-extensive with that leadership is the responsibility which ever attends the exercise of authority.

We began modestly, as most real leadership does. With practically no organization and no finance, a minimum of ordnance and supplies and no transportation or communication as we understand those terms today, our sainted forefathers evidenced a determination and a skill in the sphere of action that shall ever be one of the marvels of history.

They laid their all upon the altar of liberty and of freedom. They gave birth to a nation attended with great labor and travail. But they builded a nation upon a rock. That rock is the Constitution of the United States of America—under it a free and independent people have risen to heights undreamed of one hundred fifty-nine years ago. Independent and powerful, but neither boastful nor acquisitive, may we so live as to evidence a friendly and co-operative attitude toward all nations.

You and I with bared head have stood at the Bridge at Concord and we have thrilled with admiration in the reconstructed House of Burgesses at Williamsburg in the Old Dominion, and in Independence Hall in Philadelphia. At these American shrines we rededicated ourselves as we do here today, to the basic principles of American government.

The Governor and the Department of Education of every State in our Nation have been reminded and requested by the officers of the Sons of the American Revolution to see that Constitution Day is appropriately observed in their respective states today; and it is being done.

I call upon all within the hearing of my voice today to give heed to the admonition that each of us do all that is within his or her power to keep America a free and independent nation, subservient to no group within or beyond its borders; free and independent as our forefathers intended it. And if we would keep it a liberty-loving and a liberty-observing people, then I tell you with all the earnestness of which I am capable, we must see to it that the Constitution of the United States be kept inviolate. Of what value is the superstructure if the foundation fail?

The bone and sinew of our government is our Constitution, yea, the very lifeblood of our nation is the willingness of its people to abide by and respect the organic law of the nation—its Constitution—your Constitution—my Constitution!

Never in all history has there been so spontaneous and world-wide evolution or revolution in human relations as now exists. It is indeed a most interesting time to be alive. The upsurge of the people of the world for economic and political freedom is in unprecedented and titanic proportions. Fix your eye on any distant continent, or merely look about you, and you see it. It is here, and it is world-wide.

Limitations of time prevent a discussion of the causes, but two world wars and the tremendous strides in science, particularly in communication and transportation, have played their part. It may be the working of the plan of the Almighty for a more universal application of the Golden Rule.

Whatever its cause, it is a present and all-absorbing fact, a world movement never before experienced. Localized and in concentrated form, a similar problem confronted our forefathers in the thirteen colonies. They met the issue. They thought clearly and acted courageously. Leadership was developed which deserved and received the admiration of the world and the love and devotion of a freedom-loving people.

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Those were the sentiments which inspired a frontier people; those were the bases upon which a great nation—yea, a great leader among nations, was founded. It is the basic organic fundamental concept of a free and now mighty nation.

Are we worthy sons of noble sires? Are we willing to develop and assume the leadership necessary to guide this tremendous movement into proper lines so that proper ends may be accomplished? Moses was but one man, but he led, under Jehovah's guidance, a nation out of bondage—Washington was but one man, but he led a great people out of economic and political bondage.

Who are there among us today that will modestly but firmly so evidence their moral and spiritual integrity and their ability to lead, that they will rise to the heights necessary to guide this nation through the confusion that always accompanies rapid change?

It has been written that "salt is good, but if the salt have lost its saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves." I say to you that the founders of our nation had salt in them, and the time has come and is now here when we must prove whether the salt in us has lost its saltiness.

In the name of and for the sake of the signers of the Constitution of the United States of America, I call upon those strong of mind and strong of heart to become leaders of men in our nation, so that the concepts of liberty as set forth in the preamble to the Constitution shall be preserved both for us and for posterity.

National Committee Changes:

Compatriot Charles B. Shaler, Pennsylvania Society President, enthusiastically took over the Chairmanship of the Constitution Day Observance Committee, when it was learned that Compatriot Eugene C. Bonniwell could not serve in this capacity as he has done for two or three years past. The resignation of Judge Bonniwell as Chairman was not learned until after the July issue of the S. A. R. MAGAZINE went to press, so that his name appears in the list of National Committee Chairmen printed in that issue.

Compatriot Shaler has done a splendid job in promoting the usual observances throughout the country and from the accounts reaching the Editor's desk, the 1946 celebrations were equally commensurate and as outstanding or more so, as in the past years.

Compatriot Walter Foster Lipford, of Virginia, was also cordial and responsive in taking over the Chairmanship of the Bill of Rights Commemorative Committee, when it was found that Compatriot Philip St. George Cooke was unable to serve because of ill health. Plans and preparations for the suitable observance of this commemoration are proceeding and it is expected that there will be a very general and impressive observance of this anniversary on December 15th, which will be urged by President Truman in a special proclamation.

The name of Colonel James D. Watson has been added to the Advisory Committee.

The Altar of the Nation

DATE OF 1947 CONGRESS FIXED

The 57th Congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution will be held at Huntington, West Virginia on Wednesday and Thursday, May 14th and 15th, 1947, by decision of the Executive Committee.

President Will Daniel of the West Virginia Society attended the meeting of the Committee on October 5th, and as Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the Congress, outlined many special and attractive features being planned.

A more detailed story will be featured in the January issue.

The Altar of the Nation

The dedication of the Altar of the Nation in the New Hampshire Society's Cathedral in the Pines, described to some extent in the New Hampshire item under State Events, was a most impressive and memorable occasion and deserves a more extended notice.

The conception of this idea and its culmination is unique in the history of our National Society and great credit is due Mr. Douglas Sloane and Compatriot Harry E. Sherwin for the thought and the achievement. As noted elsewhere the ceremonies took place September 8th and combined this dedication and the observance of Constitution Day.

The unique feature in the erection of the Altar is that it is composed of stones contributed by our Societies in the States of the Union, each sending some special rock or stone symbolic of its home State. Among these are New Jersey's contribution of a stone from the landing shore where General Washington and his army crossed the Delaware on Christmas night in 1776. Minnesota sent one from Minnehaha Falls, site of the romantic Indian legend. Virginia's was a stone from Yorktown Battleground. Washington State sent a boulder from the bank of the Snoqualmie River, typical of the geologic formations of the swift rivers of the State; there is a stone from Concord Bridge; one of basalt from Columbia River in Oregon; Stone Mountain in Georgia; a piece of "Dayton" marble; the petrified forest of Arizona; Beaverdam quarries in Maryland and many others equally typical.

The Cathedral was dedicated as a Memorial to the late Lieutenant Sanderson Sloane, son of President Sloane of the New Hampshire Society and the site was given by Mr. and Mrs. Sloane to the Cathedral of the Pines Trust which will assure its permanency as "a place where all people may come and worship, each in his own way." The Old Rugged Cross of New Hampshire granite atop the Altar was given in memory of their brother by Douglas and John Sloane. The Altar of the Nation was consecrated as a memorial to the men and women of New Hampshire who gave their lives in World War II and as a Shrine of the Sons of the American Revolution. The Altar Rail was given by Mr. Sloane's aunt Mrs. Robert B. M. Cook of New York and his cousin William Bolton Cook of Port Chester, N. Y. The Field Stone pulpit was dedicated in gratitude to the men and women of Rindge.

The Service of Dedication was conducted by the Chaplain General of the National Society S. A. R., Archdeacon William F. Bulkeley, D.D. of the Utah Society, who came East for the purpose. During the service Douglas and John Sloane presented, on behalf of their parents, the deed of the property to the Cathedral of the Pines Trust, and following, the service of Holy Communion was held.

Many members of the S. A. R. from the States which had sent their representative stones for the Altar were present and every State President of the S. A. R. in the New England District was in attendance as mentioned in the notice on page 118. These officers were called to the Altar at the conclusion of the services when President Sloane was presented with the neck-ribbon and Official Emblem of the Society by the COL. NATHAN HALE CHAPTER of Rindge by the Chapter President, Ernest A. Hale. Guests from New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan were present.

The Chaplain General's vestment and hood and the smart and brilliant uniforms of the Color Guard with red plume, three cornered hats, blue coats with red trimmings, white vests, breeches and black leggings, and the National and S. A. R. flags carried, the Pioneer and Indian buckskins and coon caps and war bonnets made a brilliant and colorful picture of this fine occasion.

As a GOOD American citizen you will feel it an obligation to vote for your choice in November.

An Alert

To State Presidents and Vice Presidents General

Colonel Henry B. Carrington's text book, "Battles of the American Revolution," shows a total of 233,771 patriots enlisted in the six years of campaigning. There should be a posterity of ten million men in this nation, descendants of this fighting force and another two million more from the civil ancestry, eligible to this society.

As time goes along, the normal increase by birth gives the society an increased number of prospective members. It resolves into a situation that needs only the action of members to invite eligibles to join. It is an honor to be offered a membership in this patriotic society. The average eligible will deem it so.

If the prospect knows that his ancestors were in the provinces during the Revolutionary era but does not know his lineage beyond his father, mother, grandfathers and grandmothers and will fill in the work sheet with their full names and where and when born and married (taking care to give maiden names of mother and grandmothers) even an amateur genealogist can get results from the records.

To you members who are with state societies not progressing with new memberships, it is probable that the bottleneck is due to lack of source of genealogical research. This can be quickly fixed by membership in your state historical society, state library or negotiate with the genealogist of the state D. A. R. or an independent genealogist.

It is your loyal duty to get behind this project of increased membership and start something. A group of five members can get this rolling and have the satisfaction of having done a deed for your ancestor who contributed to your choice of life and liberty.

The revised quotas for each state give each society a new figure to shoot at which enables every society to go over the top and some to double the figure.

Pennsylvania started on the gun and to September 15th had added 176 new members to their rolls. Led by President Charles B. Shaler with a group of active members, that society is on its way to lead its magnificent record of last year. West Virginia, Arkansas, Indiana, New Hampshire, Florida, Louisiana, Georgia, Illinois, Nebraska, Delaware, Ohio, Utah and Virginia show gains in the first four months over corresponding months of last year.

In the stirring days of 1775 a New Hampshire newspaper stated: "The summer soldier and sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service to their country, but he who stands it now deserves the thanks of man and woman." These words summon us to the cause of society activity and increased membership. Your state society can not remain static.

Our strength of influence to keep this nation a constitutional form of government, founded by our forefathers, depends upon the numerical strength of our membership.

Organizing and reviving chapters is the one fast method of gaining new members. This creates an impulse to meet the charter quota or to bring renewed activity to a dormant unit.

There must be activity; there must be publicity. Every opportunity to place S. A. R. news items in the papers awakens the desire of an eligible to join the society.

HARRY E. SHERWIN, Chairman,
Organization Committee.

Secretary General Steele made a radio broadcast on Constitution Day Observance, Sunday, September 23rd, from the George Mason Hotel, Alexandria, Va. This was sponsored by the Radio Committee of the Maryland State D. A. R., Mrs. Joseph Betterly, Chairman.

Of Course You Know— Or Do You?

That Major General Arthur St. Clair, the forgotten hero of the American Revolution, is buried in Greensburg, Westmoreland County, Pa. Over the grave of General St. Clair, from day to day and from year to year, continuously waves a small but appropriate thirteen star flag of the United States of America. This patriotic action has been done by Compatriot George F. McEwen of the former Major General Arthur St. Clair Chapter, Dormont, Pa., who made an arrangement, some time ago, with the Boy Scouts of Greensburg to keep a clean thirteen star Flag in perpetuity on the grave of the General.

That located on a high commanding bluff in Prince Georges County, Maryland, overlooking the Potomac, and diagonally across from Mt. Vernon, is old Fort Washington now an historic old ruin, with vine-covered medieval portcullis, sally ports, moat and all the traditional defenses. Fort Washington never fired a shot, although a battle was fought near the site in Colonial days which broke the power of the Indians in the Potomac region.

President Washington selected the site in 1794 for a fort to defend the new Capital and the defense works were started in 1808. Major L'Enfant, who planned Washington, rebuilt the fort after it was partially destroyed in 1814, and what he constructed still remains. During the Civil War it formed part of the chain of defenses around the city and again in the Spanish-American War. During World War I it was enlarged for training and some of its guns were shipped to France. In 1939 the Army turned it over to the Department of the Interior but during the late war, returned and conducted a school and kept German prisoners there. The Fort has now been turned over to the Veterans Administration as a home for disabled veterans.

That the death in Florida, on July 13th last, of John R. Kissinger, 68-year-old Spanish War veteran, removed one of the few survivors of the historic and dramatic experiment of Major Walter Reed in proving to the medical profession that the disease known as "yellow jack" or yellow fever was caused by the bite of mosquitoes, and thus paved the way for saving the lives of untold thousands.

Major Reed himself succumbed to the disease as is well known. Private Kissinger was the first to submit himself to the bite of the insects known to be infected with the disease, which was fatal in thirty to forty percent of all cases. He survived a grave attack but his health was seriously impaired and he was paralyzed from the hips down. Broken in body but strong in spirit, and assuring his friends that he considered himself "lucky to get a chance to save lives instead of taking them," he died in a hospital in Dunedin, Florida, with only a casual public notice.

Lafayette was born September 6, 1757, and it is fitting that his birthday should be recalled, although now the anniversary is past. Of him Andrew Jackson said "his memory would be second only to that of Washington in the hearts of the American people." His gallant initiative led to France's resourceful aid under Rochambeau and De Grasse, leading to the victory at Yorktown and to the cause of freedom everywhere.

The date reminds us also of the coinciding anniversary of the Battle of the Marne in 1914 which won for free countries the breathing spell needed to prepare the victory of 1918.

Very often in commemorating these anniversaries the Stars and Stripes and the French Tricolor which Lafayette designed for his native land and under which he fought as Major General of the Continental Army are fittingly flown side by side.

That the Centenary Observance of the Smithsonian Institution took place on August 10th this year, when ceremonies were held and a wreath was placed by Sergeant Wallace A. Chubb of the building guard on Mr. Smithson's tomb in the entrance of the building.

Little is known of this Englishman, who died in Genoa in 1829, leaving his entire fortune to the United States "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." Research fails to show why he left his money to the United States—he had never been in America and no correspondence with Americans has been found. The tomb containing his remains was brought from Genoa in 1904.

The Royal Society, of which he was a member, published his papers on the chemistry of minerals and crystals, and zinc carbonate was called smithsonite in his honor, although the term is now in disuse. He was of distinguished ancestry and a very wealthy man. When he died, his will was a complete surprise to both the old and the new Nations.

On this anniversary President Truman issued a statement congratulating the Institution on its first 100 years, the National Archives presented photo-facsimiles of the hand-inscribed statute signed by President James K. Polk on August 10, 1846, with its inception, and the Post Office presented the first sheet of the 3-cent Smithsonian Centennial stamps.

October Executive Committee Meeting

The fall meeting of the Executive Committee was held in Washington on October 5th, and many interesting matters were discussed.

The Minutes as usual will appear in the January issue, but as we go to press it is found possible to mention some matters of interest which held the attention of the members. Much enthusiasm was shown at the excellent reports showing healthy growth in membership and activity of the several state societies.

It was reported that this year's observance of Constitution Day was again one of the most successful ever held, the meetings and ceremonies throughout the country being nation wide and truly inspiring, and with outstanding attendance.

Final Debt Liquidation of our National

Headquarters, for the payment of the last of the outstanding Certificates of Indebtedness was very fully discussed and a detailed report of the plan of the Committee will be published in the January Magazine.

Congratulations were sent to the New Hampshire Society and to Chaplain General William F. Bulkley, for the success of the dedication of the Altar of the Nation in the Cathedral of the Pines.

It was found necessary to increase the price of application blanks to $6.00 per hundred owing to growing printing costs.

As shown on another page, the date of the next Congress of the National Society was fixed as May 14 and 15, and tentative plans discussed.

A Letter from the Committee on Constructive Citizenship

To all State and Chapter Presidents:

DEAR COMPATRIOTS:

Each State Society and every Local Chapter in each state should have a Patriotic Education and Constructive Citizenship Committee to promote the proper patriotic education of our school children and to join in teaching those of other lands whom we permit to enjoy the many blessings of liberty and our American way of life, the fundamentals of American citizenship, that they may become good citizens and not strive to sabotage our American form of government, including the Constitution and Bill of Rights, by preaching communistic and other foreign isms to the children and uneducated grown-ups who have not yet learned to appreciate the greatest of world freedoms enjoyed under the Star Spangled Banner, the symbol of all we hold dear in government.

The California Society, S. A. R., has found that some of the textbooks in the schools of the state, especially those under the misleading name of "Building America" instead of the more appropriate name—DESTROYING AMERICA—are reading matter which gives the children an erroneous impression or misconception of the men who so heroically fought and won the American Revolution and later drafted the Constitution and Bill of Rights and their great worth in aiding the United States to start aright and in a comparatively few generations become the leading world power. The California Society has made a demand for a legislative investigation of what is described as a conspiracy to introduce subversive text books into California schools and it is the sense of the committee that such patriotic action be highly commended.

Rep. George L. Dondero (R.) of Michigan, senior Republican member of the House committee on education, recently stated: "When Congress reconvenes my major objective will be a thorough investigation of the little Red teachers who occupy far too many of our little red school houses in America today. . . ."

Each State Society and Local Chapter should aid in this investigation in their respective localities and strive to prevent those with socialistic and communistic ideologies from teaching the children of our nation or from holding political or civic positions and aid in such unpatriotic indoctrination.

Little can be added at this time to the Constructive Citizenship Committee's letter of October 15, 1945, and mentioned on pp. 53 and 54 of the July, 1946, issue of the Sons of the American Revolution Quarterly Magazine, in which eleven suggestions were made as to how the insidious influences of the Communists and their fellow-travelers may be countered or made less effective, with the thought that each local chapter, no matter how small, could well carry out one or more of the suggestions with good results.

Suitable observance of Washington's Birthday, "I am An American Day," Lexington Day, Memorial Day, Constitution Day, Yorktown Day, Flag Day, etc., and the correct display of Old Glory on such occasions, together with the presentation of flags with due ceremony to schools, etc., where flags are lacking, will aid materially in Patriotic Education. It is important that the children especially be taught the significance of our country's flag and the great sacrifices of those patriots who made it possible for us to have a flag of our own and enabling Washington and the members of his Flag Committee to visit Betsy Ross in Philadelphia and with her aid, design and complete the most beautiful of all flags, the Star Spangled Banner. The deeds and achievements of those patriots should be correctly and glowingly inscribed in our histories and textbooks that the children may learn to revere their memory and less, much less told in direct or indirect praise of the many foreign isms and the belittling of our American institutions and ideologies.

Much will depend on the outcome of the general elections this fall and each Local Chapter should sponsor or take part in "Get Out the Vote" campaigns and to acquaint new voters with the privileges and obligations of citizenship and their responsibility to intelligently exercise the right of suffrage.

Please let this committee know of any good work done along Patriotic Education and Constructive Citizenship lines that other Societies and Chapters may profit thereby.

ALONZO NEWTON BENN, Chairman.

Notes and Comments

The first gathering of the Council of State Presidents of the New England District will take place in Boston on October 26th. Mr. Chester R. Martin, President of the Rhode Island Society, will preside.

This is the plan undertaken by Chairman Harry E. Sherwin of the National Committee on Organization, and he hopes to carry it out successively in the other Vice Presidential Districts. Mr. Sherwin will be present at this meeting to observe and advise.

Under this new plan of building membership a quota has been arranged for each of the six New England States as follows:

Maine .....	20	Massachusetts ..	99
New Hampshire..	50	Rhode Island....	25
Vermont .....	10	Connecticut .....	99

Tribute to a former Senate page, the late Lt. Col. Roy G. Fitzgerald, Jr., has been paid by the Richard Montgomery Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, of Dayton, Ohio, his native city. He was the son of former Representative Roy G. Fitzgerald, who is best remembered for his authorship of the cumulative codification system for statutory laws of the United States and the District of Columbia and his active leadership in Inter-parliamentary Union conferences at Paris, Berlin, Geneva and London for codification of international law. Representative Fitzgerald served 10 years in Congress after having been an officer in World War I. He was an all-round robust athlete and mountain climber, and still plays a vigorous game of tennis although he is 71.—The Sunday Star, Washington, D. C., August 4, 1946.

Under its weekly caption "FIFTY YEARS AGO" the Sunday Star of Washington, on September 15th, published the following item concerning an early and influential officer of the District of Columbia Society S. A. R. who had much to do with the beginnings of our National Society; we quote in part only: "The Star on September 7, 1896 chronicled the premature death of Dr. George Brown Goode, naturalist, author and museum administrator. Born at New Albany, Indiana in 1851 he had become acquainted with Prof. Spencer F. Baird at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., in 1872. This contact brought him to Washington and permanently to the Smithsonian Institution in 1877. He was named assistant secretary a decade later. The last important task of his career was the writing of a history of the first half century of the Smithsonian's progress."

Dr. Goode and our former Secretary-Registrar General, the late A. Howard Clark, were associated together in the Smithsonian, and were firm friends, and worked together in many ways in the early years of our Society to promote its interests and formulate details of administration.

The Louisiana Society issued a neat little informative folder as its special tribute to Constitution Day, giving facts about the Constitution, and quoting from the Preamble. Among other items given was the following, showing the dates of ratification by the Thirteen Original States, of which our members may like to be reminded:

Del. (Dec. 7, 1787), unanimous
Penn. (Dec. 12, 1787), 43 to 23
N. J. (Dec. 18, 1787), unanimous
Ga. (Jan. 2, 1788), unanimous
Conn. (Jan. 9, 1788), 128 to 40
Mass. (Feb. 6, 1788), 187 to 168
Md. (Apr. 28, 1788), 63 to 11
So. Car. (May 23, 1788), 149 to 73
New Hamp. (June 21, 1788), 57 to 46
Va. (June 26, 1788), 89 to 79
N. Y. (July 26, 1788), 30 to 27
No. Car. (Nov. 21, 1789), 194 to 77
R. I. (May 29, 1790), 34 to 32.

Arthur P. Sewell, blind curator of the Star Spangled Banner Flag House in Baltimore, has designs to suggest if the addition of new states to the Union requires a change in the flag.

Bills to provide statehood for Hawaii and Porto Rico have been introduced in Congress, and a plebiscite is scheduled for September in Alaska on whether residents there want similar action.

If a new state is added, Mr. Sewell suggests a square field containing seven rows of seven stars. With 50 states, he offers a design of five rows of ten stars each, making the field considerably more oblong than the present arrangement of six rows of eight.

"But when you get around to figuring the possibility of 51 stars," Mr. Sewell says, "you've got a job on your hands. You just can't go around dropping stars promiscuously."

Private individuals every now and then come up with ideas on rearrangement of the flag, but nothing can be done about it without an executive order signed by the President. The last flag change in 1912 was by executive order with the advice of the War and Navy Departments.

AP Dispatch, June 8, 1946.

"The date January 13, 1794 shown on page 113 Volume XL, October 1945 was date President George Washington signed the act which authorized The Flag of the United States to consist of 15 stars and stripes to take effect May 2, 1795." The additional stars and stripes represent admission of Vermont and Kentucky.—Correction from A. W. Deatrick.

State officers are requested to be very careful to see that the addresses to which applicants desire their Magazine sent is correctly and full and legibly given in the proper space on the application. Corrections due to lack of care in this detail, are costly and require much more time than formerly.

Your National Headquarters has had its face lifted with two coats of bright new paint! It looks fine, and so does the apartment occupied by the Secretary General and Mrs. Steele which has been thoroughly renovated.

Beginning November 1st, application blanks will be charged for at the rate of $6.00 per hundred, and larger quantities pro rata.

A Revised Table of Quotas

Partly through slight typographical errors and largely because of delayed reports from the State Societies, we find it advisable to print a revised table of quota percentages attained by our societies as of March 31st last. In most instances the societies had secured more additions than shown in the table printed on page 58 of the July Magazine which alters the percentage attained—in most instances to advantage. Transfers not considered.

The National S. A. R. Library

The report of donations to the National S. A. R. Library received since the July issue shown below reflects the interest of members and friends of the Society in maintaining a constant increase in the library. These donations, while not large in number of volumes, are excellent material and worthy additions to our shelves.

State and chapter officials are now completing their programs for an active Fall and Winter season for their organizations. These officials should seriously consider their vital part in maintaining a national library equal to the growth of the society. Each state and chapter organization is respectfully urged to appoint a library committee to collect worthy books and historical material and forward such donations to National Headquarters.

Your librarian has repeatedly requested the donation of copies of family genealogies, either in manuscript or printed form. Local library committees could render valued aid by assisting in getting this type of material to the library.

A number of books donated by the publishers have been given brief reviews in this section. Members able to secure review copies of newly released books are requested to have them forwarded to the Library and reviews will be published in the next issue of the MAGAZINE.

MCDONALD MILLER,

Brief Book Reviews

(Copies of these recently published books have been donated to the National SAR Library by the publishers.)

"Alexander Hamilton" by Nathan Schachner; published by D. Appleton-Century Company, Inc., New York City. ($4.00)

This is the first full length life of Alexander Hamilton in some years. It is a product of long research and makes use of a mass of source material not touched by previous biographers and historians.

From these newly discovered manuscript sources of material, the author richly supplements with facts and accuracy the remarkably successful career of Hamilton from his birth on a remote West Indian Island, his association with Washington at the early age of twenty, and his legal and political opinions and conflicts.

Mr. Schachner's unusually excellent bibliography listing nearly 250 primary and secondary sources will be of special value to scholars as will his copious notes. These have been conveniently placed at the rear of the book. Through such a thorough study of the material and coupled with easy style, the author has produced a full balanced work which should be absorbing to any reader.

"American Engraved Powder Horns, A Study Based on the J. H. Grenville Gilbert Collection" by Stephen V. Grancsay; published by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. (Limited Edition) ($10.00)

This very interesting study of powder horns is a pleasant and easy way to learn much about early American art and history. These ornamental, etched horns were an expression of the art and culture existing at the time of their creation. Thus, to the general reader, they present an interesting picture history of that period.

To the hobbyist or collector of early American historical objects, this work should be of much value. In addition to the text, there is provided a check list with the owners' names, an index to the check list, an annotated bibliography and a splendid collection of plates and sketches. This is an outstanding work in its class.

MCDONALD MILLER,

Events of State Societies

(Editor's Note: State and Chapter Officers are requested to furnish news items of their activities for publication in this department. Such items should be sent to National Headquarters for our next issue on or before December 1, 1946.)

California

In response to the appeal of the New Hampshire Society for a native stone from each State Society for "Cathedral in the Pines Altar of the Nation," the Society sent a piece of gold quartz to represent California.

Owing to an adverse report on the textbooks "Building America" by Compatriot Aaron M. Sargent, Chairman of the Citizenship Committee, the Society went on record as strongly disapproving their use in California schools, and urging the education authorities to make a thorough investigation with public hearings, with a view to eliminating their use in the public schools of California.

SAN FRANCISCO CHAPTER, meeting on July 26th at the Hotel Stewart, presented as its speaker Chaplain Lt. Colonel Edwin L. Kirtley, of General Stilwell's Staff, whose subject was "Conditions in Japan not Generally Reported." A most interesting hour was enjoyed. On August 30th a luncheon meeting was held at the Hotel Stewart with a special program.

On September 27th at the regular luncheon meeting the speaker was Judge Daniel Shoemaker of the Municipal Court who spoke on "The Traffic Court."

A dinner meeting was held on the evening of September 26th to which the ladies were invited. The speaker was Senator William Knowland.

RIVERSIDE CHAPTER invited its members and ladies, and members of the Riverside D.A.R. to its Constitution Day dinner, in the Old South Tea Room, on the evening of September 17th. Congressman John Phillips, of Banning, was the guest speaker for this anniversary occasion.

LOS ANGELES CHAPTER held a Constitution Day luncheon meeting on September 17th at the Biltmore Hotel, jointly with the Ad Club. The address of the day was by Chapter President Harry C. Mabry who was vigorous in condemnation of those who would "scrap the Constitution," and quoted former President and Chief Justice Taft: "Disregard for law destroys Government. Unless we learn to play the game, someday we shall awake to find we have nothing left to play with." A special guest at the luncheon was Mr. Joe Crail, general chairman for the Observation of Constitution Day in Los Angeles.

Colorado

PUEBLO CHAPTER—Newly elected officers of this Chapter are as follows: President, Harvey M. Shanstrom; Vice Presidents, J. Andrew Smith, Frank W. Nelson; Secretary-Treasurer, Orion G. Pope; Registrar and Historian, Eldo B. Lane; Chaplain, Harry P. Vories; Managers: Joseph L. Peterson, Dr. H. G. Woodbridge, S. S. Packard, H. Elwyn Davis, Dr. Roy E. Davis; Dr. N. C. Cunter.

Connecticut

At the annual meeting of the State Society held in the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse at East Haddam, on June 22nd, the following officers were elected: President, Dr. Charles H. Sprague of Bridgeport; Vice Presidents, Edwin S. Pickett, Samuel A. Davis, Benjamin E. Titus; Secretary, Howard E. Coe; Treasurer, Harry H. Pritchard; Registrar-Necrologist, Dr. Arthur Adams; Chaplain, Rev. Roy M. Houghton; Historian, Harlan F. Torrey; National Trustee, Harry J. Beardsley; Auditors, Frederick W. Hall, Philip S. Davison.

Retiring Secretary Robert W. Lovell found it necessary to give up the work, and the Society was glad to welcome back into his former office, Compatriot Howard Coe who had returned to Waterbury after an absence of some years.

State President Dr. Charles H. Sprague and Treasurer Harry H. Pritchard, with Mrs. Sprague and Mrs. Pritchard, enjoyed the ceremonies at Rindge, New Hampshire, over the week end of September 8th. They were very much impressed by the Altar, and the significance of its historic materials.

CAPTAIN JOHN COUCH BRANCH of Meriden, recently elected H. Dudley Mills as President and Albert W. Savage, Secretary.

NATHAN HALE BRANCH, New London—The Constitution Day meeting of this Chapter was held at Norwich with dinner on September 17th. The speaker of the evening was Frederick W. Edgerton, of the New London Public Library, who paid inspiring tribute to heroes of the Revolution and the U. S. Constitution.

Members of the former Israel Putnam Chapter of Norwich, now inactive, were present and several of the guests made brief remarks. President Benjamin E. Titus, recently elected, presided, and introduced the speakers.

MATTATUCK BRANCH, WATERBURY—On Constitution Day the Chapter joined with the Mellicent Porter Chapter, D. A. R., in observance. A radio broadcast was given in the evening by Col. Harry J. Beardsley, immediate Past State President, S. A. R., on "Our Two Constitutions." He was introduced by Chapter President Howard E. Coe, and amplified his remarks at the joint meeting held later in the evening.

The project of a Waterbury Chapter of the Children of the American Revolution was discussed and Mrs. John W. Richardson, State President, C. A. R., explained the set-up of the various classes of the Children's Groups. It is expected that both D. A. R. and S. A. R. will assist with this organization.

Other guests at this meeting were Dr. Charles H. Sprague, State President, and Mrs. Sprague; Mrs. Kenneth Trehwella, Vice Regent; Mrs. John W. Potter, Corresponding Secretary, Connecticut D. A. R.; Harry H. Pritchard, Treasurer, and Mrs. Pritchard, of Stratford, Connecticut S. A. R.

Mrs. William Vining, Regent of Mellicent Porter Chapter, and Mr. Coe, acted as co-chairmen of this meeting. About 100 people attended and agreed that this was an excellent start in the improved relations between the two local Revolutionary groups.

District of Columbia

At an early spring meeting the Society contributed $100, to the Committee for American Relief for France, for food boxes for French children. $100.00 has also been appropriated for two scholarships at the Crossnore School supported by the D.A.R.

President McDonald Miller has announced his lists of committees for the coming year, covering many of the activities recommended by the National Society.

The Society's colors were carried in a huge Massing of the Colors ceremony in the first peace time "Cavalcade of Freedom" since 1941, celebrated on the Monument Grounds at the foot of the Washington Monument. It is estimated that nearly 350,000 persons were in attendance. The Society's colors were carried by Compatriots P. Harry Byerly, Chairman of the Color Guard Committee, and Tom C. King.

The Society was represented on the Constitution Day program sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution in Memorial Continental Hall on the evening of September 17th by the State President, and Librarian General McDonald Miller, who brought the greetings of his Society. Other National S. A. R. officers on this program were Dr. Clifton P. Clark, Vice President General, and Frank B. Steele, Secretary-Registrar General. The meeting was addressed by Hon. Theodore R. McKeldin, Mayor of Baltimore, whose address on "Foundation Stones of the Republic" was most inspiring and thought-provoking.

Florida

JACKSONVILLE CHAPTER—Meeting on May 23, at the George Washington Hotel, following routine business President George Owens presented the guest speaker, Hon. George C. Gibbs addressed the Chapter on "Present Conditions in Relation to Conditions Following the Revolution," in which he compared the situation in the two periods, and warned of dangers facing the world today.

On June 27, the Chapter met in regular session and enjoyed an address by Dr. R. F. Sondag on "Future Health in Florida."

The Secretary's mid-year report at this meeting credited the Chapter with ten new members since January, a total of fifty-seven members, and no delinquents.

At the meeting held July 25th, the speaker was M. G. Boswell who discussed the development of Scouting and its value. Mr. Boswell is the chief executive of the North Florida Council, Boy Scouts of America. He made a strong appeal for adult leadership.

Idaho

The Society complied with the request of the New Hampshire Society for a native stone of Idaho for the Altar of the Cathedral in the Pines to be dedicated on Constitution Day. The Society anticipates a visit during the summer from President Sloane of New Hampshire.

Indiana Society

At a luncheon meeting of the Society on July 3, Dr. Harry H. Nagle of Indianapolis, long active in the Americanism work of the American Legion, spoke on "Communism and Its Influence in America Today." Compatriots met in the Columbia Club, Indianapolis.

On September 11 the Society observed Constitution Month at a luncheon in the Columbia Club and with an address by Henry M. Dowling, prominent attorney, on "The Preamble of the Federal Constitution." The Society is again cooperating with the Constitution Day Committee of Indiana in the annual civic observance. State president Jesse C. Moore is co-chairman of the state-wide committee on observance by patriotic societies.

State Secretary Franklin E. Burdette, is leaving Indiana for Maryland, where he has accepted a Professorship on the faculty of the University of Maryland and has moved to the Eastern Seaboard, and has already assumed his duties with this splendid institution. The Indiana Society will greatly miss his efficient and valuable services. Until the vacancy has been filled, Compatriot Clarence A. Cook will assume the duties of the office along with that of the Treasurership which he holds.

Mr. Burdette will continue his relationship with the National Foundation for Education in American Citizenship as editor of publications.

SOUTH BEND CHAPTER. On the evening of Constitution Day, September 17, the Chapter met to hear a stimulating address by Col. Harry Bolt, who spoke on his experiences during the World War. Roland Obenchain, Sr., was elected President of the Chapter and Robert M. Snyder, Secretary-Treasurer.

Iowa

The Society has cooperated in every way possible with the plans and preparations for commemorating the Centennial of Iowa Statehood, and a special committee of the S.A.R. was appointed for this purpose. The committee reported that it had been consulted with reference to programs planned in all parts of the State and the general State observance was held in Des Moines from June 27th through July 6th, featuring many interesting events.

Maryland

Marylanders had re-enacted for them by radio broadcast on the afternoon of September 17th the story of the framing of the Constitution in a dramatization under the title of "A Nation Is Born." This was under the sponsorship of the Maryland Society and special arrangements were made to have all school children hear it, by having loud speakers in every school-room.

Former Mayor and Past President of the Maryland Society, Hon. Howard W. Jackson, addressed the Rotary Club luncheon at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on "The Constitution and the Responsibility of the Individual", and his talk was also broadcast. Also on the evening of Saturday, September 14th, the "Mayor of the Town" program of Lionel Barrymore closed with remarks by Mr. Barrymore on Constitution Day, by request of the Maryland Society.

Massachusetts

A Conference of the Presidents of the New England State Societies has been called by State President Russell Leigh Jackson, tentatively set for October 26th.

Washington and Franklin Certificate Awards were presented to 248 students throughout the State for excellence in U. S. History during 1945-6.

The Massachusetts Color Guard, commanded by Raymond F. Bowley, brought credit to the Society and won hearty applause as they marched on the following occasions: May 26th, Memorial Day Exercises in Boston Cemeteries; May 30th, Andover Tercentenary Celebration; June 14, Flag Day exercises on Boston Common; June 17, Bunker Hill Day Parade in Charlestown; July 3, Exercises on Cambridge Common, Washington Elm Celebration; July 4, early morning parade in Boston, and afternoon Civic and Military Parade, celebrating the Tercentenary of Cambridge.

Rand; Registrar, Russell L. Jackson. The speaker of the evening was Alston H. Chase of Phillips Academy, Andover, who spoke on the "Youth of Today."

Organ and vocal selections added to the program.

OLD ESSEX CHAPTER, Lynn—The annual meeting was held on the evening of May 7, following dinner, when the following officers were elected: Alfred Comstock and Homer Ricker, re-elected President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. BRIG. GEN'L JOSEPH FRYE CHAPTER, Andover—A supper meeting was held in observance of Constitution Day at Houghton Hall, Lawrence YWCA, to which the ladies were invited.

On August 11th, Chapter members made a pilgrimage to Lexington and Concord when several auto-loads made up a caravan which was met at Lexington Green by former State Secretary, Walker L. Chamberlin who constituted himself the guide for the day. Hancock House and Bucknam and Munroe Taverns and other historic houses were visited, and the old burying ground, followed by a visit to Concord Bridge. The day was felt to be full of inspiration and historical reminders.

The Chapter is planning to place markers in three old burying grounds in North Andover, where about fifty Revolutionary soldiers lie. This will be a splendid activity in which the members of the Chapter are urged to each undertake the personal work of making the necessary cement foundations for securing the markers. Former President of the Chapter Paul A. L'Antigua, Chairman of the National Society's Committee on Revolutionary Graves Registry is promoting this work and calling for volunteers.

Michigan

DETROIT CHAPTER—A special luncheon was held in Hotel Statler on Constitution Day, September 17th, when Hon. Robert M. Toms led a brief discussion of the "Dangers Facing Our Constitution" in which all were invited to participate in the Round Table following.

The meeting was also largely concerned with plans for the forthcoming programs for the season, and members were urged to express their wishes in this regard.

On November 11th the Chapter will sponsor the 171st Anniversary Banquet of the U. S. Marine Corps in the Crystal Ballroom of the Masonic Temple. Secretary Ralph D. Johnson is Chairman of a committee appointed to make the arrangements. It is expected there will be an attendance of approximately 1200. All Veterans Organizations and Patriotic Societies will be invited and outstanding speakers will be secured for this fine occasion.

The Society mourns the passing of its valued member, James Thayer McMillan, on September 4th, Captain, USA, in World War I and pioneer of early days in this vicinity.

Minnesota

The death of former State President and former National Trustee for Minnesota, Compatriot Herbert T. Park occurred very unexpectedly and suddenly on July 25th, and this means a severe loss to the Society. He had only the day before attended a meeting of the Managers of the MINNEAPOLIS CHAPTER to make plans for inviting the National Society to hold a Congress in Minneapolis at an early date. He was interested in many civic matters and has attended many of the recent Congresses of the National Society where he made warm friends among the delegates.

Missouri

On Yorktown Day, October 19th, the Society will hold its annual observance at which time President General Oliver will be the honor guest and speaker.

New Hampshire

Independence Day was one of great inspiration for members and friends of this Society and its observance was a most successful one held in the Cathedral of the Pines, New Hampshire's beautiful and impressive Shrine, in the beautiful grove overlooking three lakes and facing majestic Monadnock Mountain. Vesper services have been held here each Sunday throughout the summer and early autumn, alternating under the auspices of different religious faiths.

Speakers on this occasion were Congressman Sherman Adams, State Senator Charles M. Mills and Colonel Albert S. Baker, whose regiment landed in the first task force assault in the Pacific and fought through to the Philippines. All are members of the S.A.R. and all made fine addresses. Senator Stiles Bridges was also scheduled on the program but was called back to Washington.

On September 8th, the Society dedicated the "Altar of the Nation" which is the central feature of the Cathedral of the Pines, and which has the gift stones from the several state societies of the National Society embedded in its face. Most of the societies have responded cordially to the appeal for a stone of some significance representing the state from which it is sent, and this is a most interesting and unique part of this lovely Cathedral.

On this occasion Past President General Smith L. Multer was the guest speaker in the afternoon of the dedication, which program was devoted to the observance of Constitution Day, in advance of the actual anniversary.

Mr. Multer's address, was as impressive and profound as usual and pronounced the "best" by his hearers. The program was augmented by patriotic music and chorus by the Monadnock Choral Society in Indian and pioneer costumes; a detail of Continental Color Guard in Revolutionary uniform attended.

The morning dedicatory exercises were conducted by the Venerable William F. Bulkley, D.D., Archdeacon of Utah and Chaplain General of the National Society, who came especially from Salt

The State Presidents of each New England State, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire were all present—a gathering unique in New England at least, and probably not duplicated except at a National Congress—and the exercises were most impressive and inspiring.

A more detailed notice will be found elsewhere.

New Jersey

The Society, which was host to the National Congress in May, has learned that such an event with the attendant publicity, which naturally goes along with it, has a very decided effect in stimulating the interest of many people in our Society who otherwise might not have become interested. As a result a considerable number of new applications for membership have been received during the summer. We therefore recommend to any State Society which is host to a National Congress in the future that it take advantage of all the publicity possible in connection with such an event which acquaints many people of the fact that our Society is a live organization and which will stimulate their interest in joining.

Aside from the National Congress held in Trenton in May, the other outstanding event on the program of the New Jersey Society was the organization on October 4, 1946 of the GENERAL WILLIAM ALEXANDER CHAPTER (Lord Sterling) in the Bernardsville-Basking Ridge area of Morris County, a county which is rich in Revolutionary history. It was in that county that the colonial troops spent one winter in Jockey Hollow, near Morristown, where General Washington occupied the Ford Mansion as his Headquarters, all of which is now included in a National Historical Park. The organization meeting was held in Bernardsville Inn, at which a goodly number was present. Past President General Multer delivered an eloquent address and the Charter was presented to the Chapter by State President Carver.

Constitution Day was observed by several of the Chapters including MONTCLAIR, JERSEY CITY and PASSAIC VALLEY with appropriate exercises. In addition the State Society joined with ORANGE CHAPTER in memorial services at the grave of our late Compatriot, David L. Pierson, the Founder of Constitution Day, at Rosedale Cemetery in Orange.

On October 25th the State Society will hold its usual Fall Meeting at the New Jersey Historical Society in Newark. As usual reports of activities of the Society by the officers and important Committee Chairmen will be made. The meeting will be addressed by a prominent speaker and a social hour with refreshments will follow.

ORANGE CHAPTER—A meeting of the Chapter was held on July 18th in the East Orange Public Library. The map showing all battles and engagements of the Revolutionary War in New Jersey made by State Historian John D. Alden was presented to the Chapter by Compatriot Ross K. Cook. A report on the Trenton Congress was given by Compatriot Edgar Williamson, Jr. Chapter President Harry L. Bowlby reported on the progress of the David L. Pierson Historical Library Memorial Association.

Memorial Services were held by the Chapter at the grave of the late Compatriot David L. Pierson, Founder of Constitution Day on September 15th at the Rosedale Cemetery, Orange, N. J. State President Glenn K. Carver delivered the address of the day. Greetings from the National Society were given by Past President General Smith L. Multer. The Committee in charge consisted of Glenn K. Carver, Smith L. Multer, Past President General, Rev. Dr. Harry L. Bowlby, President ORANGE CHAPTER, Ross K. Cook, former Genealogist General and Edgar Williamson, Jr., 1st Vice President of the New Jersey Society as Chairman.

MONTCLAIR CHAPTER—During the early summer the Chapter continued its annual custom of awarding good citizenship medals to carefully selected students of five of the local Junior High Schools. The medals were presented by various Compatriots at appropriate ceremonies. The Chapter received a most valuable gift of early chapter pamphlets and records covering the years 1908 through 1918 from Compatriot A. H. Loomis of New York. The works and plans committee met the early part of August at the residence of Compatriot William H. Sutton, Jr., and announced plans for four regular meetings and at least one special meeting for next season. Constitution Day was celebrated. The suggested special meeting will be in the nature of a pilgrimage to either Morristown Historical Park, Ringwood Manor State Park or the area surrounding the Battle of Monmouth.

PASSAIC VALLEY CHAPTER—Several of the members attended the exhibit on July 4th of early American household and other objects on view at the Trailside Museum, Watchung Reservation, loaned by Beacon Fire Chapter, D. A. R., and Passaic Valley Chapter, S. A. R.

A meeting of the Chapter was held on July 16th at the home of Compatriot Channing R. Dooley. After the business session, Compatriot Dooley talked to the members on his activities in "Training within Industry" as a member of the War Manpower Commission in Washington, D. C., during the War.

On September 16th President F. Monroe de Selding participated in a service in the Summit High School auditorium in commemoration of the 159th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution. The principal speaker was Mr. Charles H. Hall of Summit, Captain of Infantry in World War I, and a member of the New York Bar, whose subject was "World Constitution."

WEST FIELDS CHAPTER—The annual pilgrimage was held on June 15th to Washington's Headquarters in Morristown and from there to Jockey Hollow Park for a picnic supper.

The Chapter took a leading part in the Fourth of July celebration and had charge of the Sunrise Service in the morning and entered a beautiful float in the parade which depicted the New Jersey signers of the Declaration of Independence. The float was decorated by the ladies of the D. A. R. and men from the Chapter were dressed in costume representing the signers from the State. The float was enthusiastically received and awarded the second prize of a fifty dollar bond.

GENERAL WILLIAM ALEXANDER CHAPTER, Basking Ridge, Bernardsville—On May 2, 1946, an organization meeting of Compatriots and prospective members of the Society was held to discuss the forming of a local chapter and prepare a constitution and arrange for future meetings.

Another meeting was held on June 6th at the Pine Room in the Bernards Inn at which time the Constitution was adopted and plans for the Charter Day meeting on October 4, were approved. The following officers were elected: President David Layton; 1st Vice President Stewart Sutton; 2nd Vice President James J. Bancker, Secretary Clarence L. Smalley; Treasurer Dr. Frank M. Lance; Chaplain Insley C. Looker; Registrar-Genealogist Victor M. Huyler; and Historian George P. Quigley.

North Carolina

RALEIGH CHAPTER—In a news letter to members, Secretary L. P. Denmark reviews the activities of the Chapter, since the beginning of the fiscal year, naming the speakers which have been heard with interest, including Dr. C. C. Crittenden on "George Washington's Attitude Toward Public Service;" Dr. Archibald Henderson's historical address in April describing newly discovered manuscripts bearing on the authenticity of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence; and on June 6, Associate Justice Emory B. Denny of the State Supreme Court, who traced the historical background of the present labor situation in America, showing the swing of the pendulum since 1920.

As a result of Dr. Henderson's address, the Chapter sponsored a resolution before the State Convention requesting an investigation of his subject matter, with a view to unifying the teaching in the public schools of the State.

Additional Vice Presidents were recommended and the following were appointed to serve until the next annual meeting: Frank Parker, in charge of program; D. I. Fort, Chairman of Membership; J. H. Slaughter, Jr., for Publicity; other officers

Ohio

An experimental plan, involving the institution of a special committee to stimulate membership recruiting was adopted by the annual state convention at its April meeting in Columbus, the members to be assigned special work as to population centers and consult as to organizing chapters. It is hoped this plan will be successful.

A mid-year meeting of the state society is planned to be held in Cleveland in October.

Through the generosity of Compatriot Douglass G. High of Cincinnati, the Society is authorized to give an award of $100.00 to a student in Ohio who can qualify as the best informed as to U. Simmons is Chairman of the Committee which has compiled a list of officers and enlisted men buried in Dauphin and other counties in the vicinity where more than 200 graves have already been located. These names will be added to the card file of Revolutionary Graves at National Headquarters. HARRIS FERRY CHAPTER and the Pennsylvania Society, as well as the Society at large, will feel deeply the loss of its highly honored member, Vance C. McCormick, nationally known publisher and former Mayor of Harrisburg, whose death occurred August 8th last. Mr. McCormick was an outstanding citizen of his City and State, was Chairman of the Democratic National Committee in the 1916 campaign, and a personal friend of President Woodrow Wilson. #### Texas

In an effort to promote a constructive program to its component Chapters as an objective toward which all might work, President Charles E. Gilbert, Jr., secured the cooperation of his Board of managers at a meeting held July 4th when resolutions were adopted advocating the following line of endeavor: "That during 1946, the Society will endeavor to have as many of the school children of Texas as possible, know more American History and become interested in the sacred traditions of this country."

To this end officers and members were directed to assemble a display of historical articles—flags, photographs, and other objects which would form an interesting historical exhibit, and with the aid of well planned addresses, arrange to appear before as many school assemblies, parent-teacher organizations and other gatherings, as possible.

The members enthusiastically endorsed this program, and authorized a fund for necessary expenses in connection with its accomplishment. It was proposed that S. A. R. societies especially in the original Thirteen Colony States be invited to contribute gifts of historical significance to be used in the proposed exhibit. Some interesting contributions were immediately offered.

The invitation of the Chapter at Corpus Christi to hold the annual meeting there in February was accepted.

Following the business, members adjourned to the Club of the 1st National Bank, twenty-five miles out of Houston, for a delightful summer outing and social gathering. They were joined by members of PAUL CARRINGTON CHAPTER, of Houston, and later a drive to Galveston where members of that Chapter joined the party for dinner. A most enjoyable day was concluded with the annual 4th of July celebration of El Mira Temple, where President Gilbert presented his lecture on the "Evolution of the Flag," beautifully illustrated by drawings of the twenty-three or more flags described in his talk.

Through favorable publicity, regarding the election of the Society's Secretary, G. Ward Kemp to the office of Vice President General of the National Society, credit has been given the Society, this office not having been held in Washington for a long period.

The Society acquired four members above the quota assigned to it for the preceding fiscal year.

West Virginia

Plans are being formulated for organizing chapters at Logan, Beckley, Point Pleasant, Buckhannon and Morgantown, and the re-organization of the former chapters at Bluefield and Clarksburg and it is expected that most of these will be completed and functioning by the time the next National Congress meets at Huntington in May 1947.

A special State meeting has been called for October 12th for revision of the State Society's Constitution and Bylaws.

In the meantime, the officers of the West Virginia Society are inaugurating tentative plans for the Annual Congress of the Society and more detailed announcement of these will appear in our next issue.

The Society has been pleased to enroll the Governor of West Virginia, Hon. Clarence Meadows among its more recently acquired members, and his record is included among those in the current Magazine.

Other recent enrollments of distinguished citizens include the Hon. Frederick M. Vinson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and his brother.

The new World War II Medal is in process of manufacture and will be ready about December 1st. These are to be sold at $1.00 each to State Societies for their members who offer satisfactory proof of active service in the forces of the United States—Army, Navy or Air. The National Society expects the State Officers to secure the proper proof of such service before ordering or presenting the medals. The medals will be of bronze and similar in size and design to those given for service in World War I.

Orders with pre-payment may be sent and will be held for delivery when shipment is received.

ATTENTION!

There is a constant request coming to the office of the Secretary General for suggestions for activities for S. A. R. Chapters.

Here are a few concrete suggestions:

1. Have regular meetings, no matter how small, and try to get some publicity therefore in the local press.

2. Observe all State and National holidays with some special reference to the anniversary commemorated (Washington's Birthday; Independence Day; Flag Day; Constitution Day; Bill of Rights Day; I Am An American Day; Patriot's Day, etc., etc.)

3. Endeavor to interest some outstanding citizen in the patriotic work of the S. A. R.

4. Appoint committees on the following: Membership; Un-American Activities, to investigate subversive publications, contact the F.B.I. and offer services, etc.; Study of American History and the Constitution in the public schools; etc.

5. Distribute Good Citizenship and ROTC Medals—one of our most far-reaching and worth-while projects.

6. Identification and marking of Revolutionary Graves and erection of other markers or tablets.

7. Endeavor to form new chapters.

GIVE— and wear your Red Feather Proudly

Under Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan recently told a Washington audience, gathered in the name of the Community Chest Federation and the United Service Organizations:

"I am sure that no real American will ever begrudge any amount he gives to further this fine work . . ."

Give generously when your solicitor calls, and wear your Red Feather—symbol of your giving—as proudly as though it were also an award for your contribution toward a better community—a better America—a better world.

U. S. Signal Corps Photograph

China-bound Marine replacements jam the American Red Cross canteen at Balboa, where volunteers provide refreshments and a homelike atmosphere.

In its continuing service to American troops scattered throughout the world, the American Red Cross now has 3,500 paid workers overseas. Volunteers in Red Cross chapters at home, in the Caribbean, Alaska, Hawaii, and in Europe, still serve the armed forces, as well as their own communities.

This year the American Red Cross has allocated $25,900,000 for overseas recreational programs in leave areas, camps and hospitals, and for its field offices which handle welfare and communications work.
