Qualifications for Membership (Extract from the Constitution)

ANY MAN shall be eligible to membership in the Society who, being of the age of eighteen years or over and a citizen of good repute in the community, is the lineal descendant of an ancestor who was at all times unfailing in loyalty to, and rendered active service in, the cause of American Independence, either as an officer, soldier, seaman, marine, militiaman or minute man, in the armed forces of the Continental Congress or of any one of the several Colonies or States, or as a Signer of the Declaration of Independence, or as a member of a Committee of Safety or Correspondence, or as a member of any Continental, Provincial, or Colonial Congress or Legislature, or as a recognized patriot who performed actual service by overt acts of resistance to the authority of Great Britain.

Application for membership is made on standard blanks furnished by the State Societies. These blanks call for the place and date of birth and of death of the Revolutionary ancestor and the year of birth, of marriage, and of death of ancestors in intervening generations. Membership is based on one original claim; additional claims are filed on supplemental papers. The application and supplementals are made in duplicate.

Please address all communications for The Sons of the American Revolution Magazine to Frank B. Steele, Editor, 1227 16th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. All Genealogical inquiries should be addressed to the Registrar General. COPY FOR JANUARY ISSUE DUE DECEMBER 1, 1939.

The President General's Message

DURING RECENT WEEKS I have been inundated by requests from members, from the press and from other organizations and individuals for a statement as to how our Society stands on the Neutrality Act which is up for amendment or repeal by Congress as I write this message. I know of no better indication of how far we have allowed ourselves to be influenced by foreign issues than this extraordinary pressure emanating from a foreign crisis. I believe the great majority of our people view with horror the possibility of our becoming involved again in a European war, and it is therefore essential that nothing should be done which might lead to our becoming implicated. I strongly feel that participation in this war would certainly end the principles of freedom which we cherish.

Twenty-five years ago when war broke out in Europe it was, of course, front page news in this country. But it did not crowd all other news off the front page. Today both the most sensational tabloids and the most conservative newspapers devote their front pages to flamboyant headlines about the European war and relegate news and pictures of local affairs to subordinate positions on inside pages and our ears are constantly assailed with war news on the radio. But this means we are readily subject to propaganda of the most flagrant sort. The result is to inflame our people to active interest in a war which but for these agencies would seem remote and of no paramount concern to us; also to incline us to take hurried and ill considered actions.

It therefore becomes important to analyze the arguments put forward for the repeal or amendment of our Neutrality Act, as well as the arguments for its retention, in order that emotion or imagined self-interest do not play unduly in the result. That Act was made into law in 1937 by an overwhelming majority in Congress (3 dissenting votes in the Senate and 13 in the House, I believe) and duly signed by the President. It cannot be disputed but that the motive behind the enactment of this law was to prevent exactly such eventualities as face this nation today. There was no important war when the law was passed or prospect of one. Now that there is war, the Act, for the first time, is put to the important test of facing realities. There is a widespread demand for its repeal or amendment and it is likely that a part of the demand for amendment today comes from the same sources which demanded the enactment of the law two years ago.

Is it not advisable to carefully consider both sides of the arguments both for its retention as well as its repeal before hasty action is taken? On a momentous question as to the welfare, safety and existence of our country our representatives in Congress should become acquainted with the will of their constituents, a majority of whom I firmly believe are determined not to go to Europe and are entitled to decide the best way to keep out.

When our Neutrality law was enacted it marked a departure from the practices laid down and developed since Grotius wrote the first treaties on international law some 300 years ago. It was our law of neutrality when the war began. Before we return to the very practices which were claimed to be outworn but two years ago when the Neutrality law was placed on our statute books, let the result of repeal be carefully weighed.

The purpose of those who favor the amendment of our Neutrality law should be considered as well as the motive of those opposed. Those opposing repeal claim that the issue is practically one of peace or war. On the other hand, there are two groups seeking repeal; one is composed of those who feel that because of our Neutrality law they are deprived of opportunities for "war boom" prosperity such as was enjoyed from 1914-1917; the other group is composed of those whose sympathies are so evidently and preponderantly on one side of the existing European war that they have no hesitancy in declaring that they wish the law repealed or amended so that we may furnish material support to one group of belligerents. Are either of these motives in themselves sufficient?

The first group may consider the suggestion that they turn their eyes from the East to the South and cease seeking material advantages from furnishing war supplies to Europe. Why not avail ourselves of the rare opportunity which the war has given America to recapture the markets of South America, our natural sphere of trade, and where for twenty years past we have been gradually pushed out by British, German and even Japanese competition. This is much more humane and in the long run of more lasting benefit. The Monroe Doctrine could be applied to our export trade in the hemisphere where the Monroe Doctrine has prevailed for over a century.

To the second group I may say their own declaration of their sympathies and motives in itself should make us cautious. It is natural to suppose that those who wish very ardently to see one side in the present war win, in the course of time if amendment of our Neutrality Act alone be not sufficient to gain victory for their side, will equally ardently favor our actual participation in the war itself.

It is contended, too, that it is our duty to give such aid as we can to one side of the present European war in order to save those things which we as Americans believe should be defended and preserved. They forget that the principles and ideals in which we Americans believe have never existed or been defended or preserved to any appreciable extent outside of America. We once dedicated ourselves to making the world safe for democracy with disastrous results.

It is an old saying that "charity begins at home," but it has its present day application in the paraphrase that "defense begins at home." One of the principal reasons why American ideals have developed here so fruitfully and have attracted so many Europeans to them is that we are and have been completely free from the age-old jealousies, hates and feuds and boundary disputes which have predominated European thought since European history was first written.

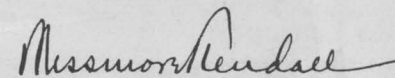

It has been contended that the industrial activity which supplying war material would put under way would make prosperity for America,—but are we to forget that similar activity twenty-five years ago brought us only momentary prosperity and itself eventually involved us in a holocaust from which we have never recovered?

I feel our Society has the grave responsibility of advocating a policy that we feel is best for the perpetuation of the principles and traditions which our Society was established to serve.

We should, therefore, turn for guidance to that genius whom we were fortunate to have as our First President. The record is clearly written and well preserved of his actions during those trying moments when opinion in this country was bitterly divided between those who felt we should become involved in France's war with Great Britain and those who felt that absolute neutrality was our best policy. President Washington's own Secretary of State, Thomas Jefferson, split with his Chief on this issue.

Citizen Genet, then Ambassador from the French Republic, arrived here on a mission to get the neutrality proclamation withdrawn. Never was such propaganda hurled on America's head except perhaps at this moment. Genet had reason to believe the emotions of the country France had succored would cause America to come to her aid against England, America's hereditary enemy. Acting upon that assumption and encouraged by sympathizers he committed most astonishing outrages by utterances and by outfitting privateers. Washington never wavered, met all criticism with firmness, had Genet recalled and maintained our neutrality.

My conclusions, therefore, based on our national principles, our national traditions and our national interest, are that we should be neutral in this present European conflict. They are the conclusions of my head if not of my heart and I recommend to my Compatriots in this Society and to my fellow citizens outside the Society, that they, too, subjugate their emotions to their reason and that they realize that the first thing and the one thing and the most important thing for us in this nation to do at the present time is to refrain from succumbing to propaganda or doing any act which will result in entangling ourselves once again in the labyrinth of European diplomacy and intrigues which out of every victory during the past thousand years has made nothing but the reasons for the next European war.

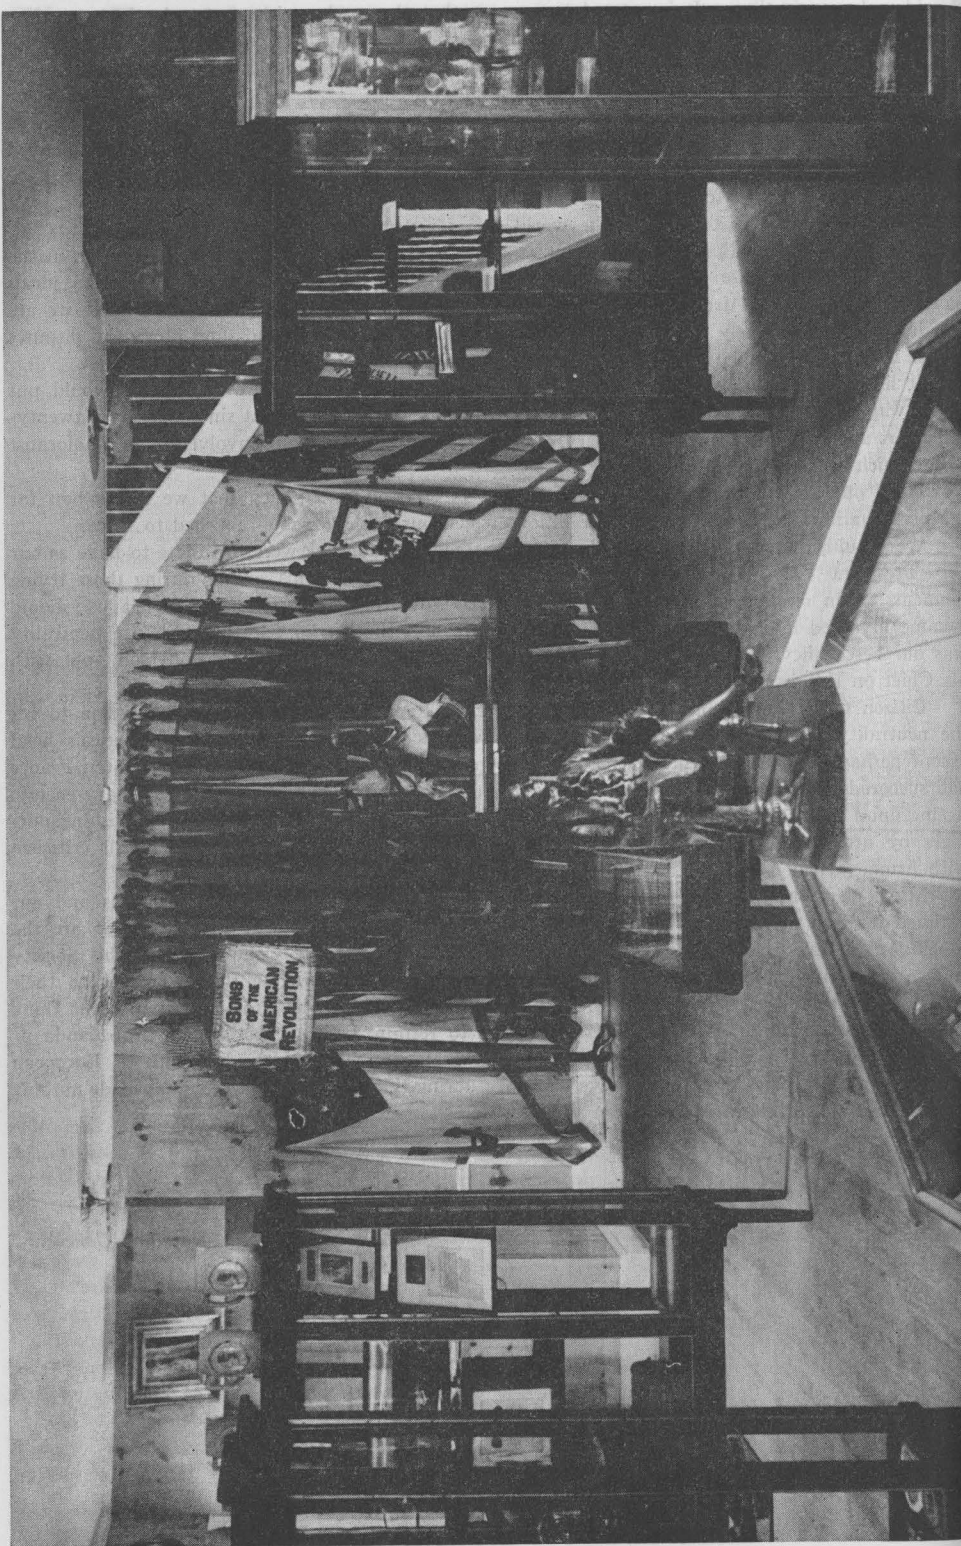

President General.

"Young Citizens' Day" Address* of Senator Rush D. Holt

New York City, June 25, 1939

AS A young man, I welcome you young men and women as citizens of our country. It was only thirteen years ago I was your age.

I am here this afternoon to participate in a great program, one that should be duplicated in every city in our country. What would be better than National Citizenship Day?

You are now a full fledged voting stockholder in a great government. You will find it is the best in the entire world. No, it is not perfect. But that should not discourage us. That should mean to you and to me an opportunity, a great opportunity to serve our fellow men to make it more perfect. It is not an easy task. But the more you live the more you will realize that the greater the task, the greater the victory, when won. Many of you have been athletes. You know that the victory that meant the most was not a victory over a weak opponent but a victory over a strong one. We can win our victory in government by making it better.

You are entering a competitive world. You have two large problems facing you, the problem of unemployment and the problem of war. We can and we must eliminate one and prevent the other in America.

The youth want to solve the unemployment problem, not through relief, but through private jobs. That is our way out.

Because of widespread unemployment, many persons in this country are spreading discontent. They offer bright hopes that cannot be fulfilled. Their offer is to change our government. We Americans must meet that challenge. The foundation of this country is strong. Keep it. Mistakes have been made. Eliminate them but keep the foundation.

Those advocating many isms, like the will of the wisp, never reach their goal.

They say, "Look at that country. There is no unemployment there." How was unemployment solved? Partially by putting the young men in soldiers' uniforms, not in overalls; by putting men on possible battlefields, not by placing them in cultivation of fields. More than that, they paid a high price. They paid a price far too high, the price of their liberty.

No country in the world has more liberties than ours. The great constitution gave them.

* See pp. 4 and 88, in July Magazine.

Our forefathers protected them and handed them down to us. We must hand them down to our children. These rights and liberties must be zealously guarded by every good American citizen. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." When our rights are challenged, we must meet that challenge, not by pussyfooting, not by evasion, but by meeting it directly as a menace that would take from us a precious heritage.

Too many persons believe in free speech for those who advocate their cause but not for those who oppose it. Free speech means either free speech to all or free speech to none. The right of free press, the right of peaceful assemblage, the right to worship God as one's own conscience dictates, the right of trial by jury and those other guarantees must be protected.

We must say, I shall protect the rights of others as though they were my own. I shall not take privileges I refuse my fellow man. To the communists, to the fascists, I say, we have free speech, something you use here, but something you deprive your opponent in the country of your ideal. We have the right of free press, something you have here but something deprived your opponent in the country of your ideal.

We have the right of worship. Can you say as much for the land of the dictatorships, either the right or the left?

To those who advocate the overthrow of our government, I say, if you are arrested here you have a right of trial by jury. Can you say as much for your ideal country?

We have many rights here. Things we have every day do not seem so valuable. We realize their value when we lose them. Liberty can be lost gradually. Many have sacrificed their liberty in order to provide temporary security. Those who would sacrifice their liberty to acquire temporary security, deserve neither.

I do not fear any ism as long as we have pure, healthy Americanism.

We see developing the advocacy of a religion of worship of the state. In many countries, the citizen is a servant of the state. The state should be the servant of the citizen. We have in America those who would take away from the citizen rights and transfer those rights to a government. We must be awake to such a dangerous transfer.

You realize that both the forces of communism and the forces of fascism want to win their battle here through you, the youth of the country. They feel that it has been done elsewhere and that it can be done here.

Hitler says much of his rise came through youth. An order in Germany said: "All German youth within the borders of the Reich are united in the Hitler youth. All German youth, outside parents' home and schools, are to be trained bodily, mentally, spiritually and morally, in the spirit of national socialism for service to the nation and to the unified people."

Josef Stalin, the dictator of Russia, believes that the youth of that country should be trained for their service to communism.

But, the challenge is here. Earl Browder, leader of the communists, in his book says: "The winning of the working class youth is the problem not of our youth organization alone, but the problem of the entire party. . . . Every party unit, and every party committee must take as a part of their daily concrete tasks the work among the youth." And he also says that the Young Communist League should "broaden out the scope of its activities to include everything that interests, attracts and holds the masses of young workers."

I do not challenge his right to say these things. I believe in free speech. We who believe in Americanism should meet his challenge. We have a better product to sell than he has. We can meet him point by point and have many to spare to win. Let each of them bring their ism to light and sunlight will destroy it. The way to destroy communism and fascism in America is to meet it through reason.

Some are now shouting, "save the democracies." If we love democracy, let us save it here. There is our field. Democracy has worked here. No, not perfectly, but no government in the entire history of mankind has been perfect. Let's keep democracy working. Let's make our democracy better. You and I and the millions of other young men and women can help. Are you interested? I know you are. You wouldn't be here this afternoon if you weren't. I have been asked hundreds of times in many states of this union, will the young men and women of this country go communistic or fascist? My answer is neither. They are too wise to accept the false promises.

They know that thousands of young men, just their age, are carrying rifles in many countries, not because they have enemies. What sane young man wants to shoot another young man just because the other fellow is of another nationality?

Instead of preparing to die, American youth must prepare to live, live for a better country.

The youth of America will die to protect America from invasion but they do not want to be sent across the seas to die as a stake in an international game of power politics. The voice of the youth of this country says, I will die here to protect America. Let those who want to protect other countries go there and die in such protection. Why should we die in a war where we have no business? Let those who declare war be the first to fight it.

Again, I welcome you as citizens. The enthusiasm and vigor of youth are important. We have much to learn. Once Mark Twain said that when he was fourteen he wondered why his father was such an old fool but when he got to be twenty-one, he wondered how his parent gained so much information in seven years. We need the advice and counsel of age.

We have more opportunities in America than any other place, because of the sacrifices of our parents and their parents. They gave to their children more than they had received. We must not fail to carry on.

Success in the field of government is not different than success elsewhere. It is not acquired in that gotten, but in that given. If you enter the field of government service, you will have many reverses. Many times those who fight for the right are the victims of the most bitter abuse from those who would profit by the fight. If you are interested in popularity, and you will sacrifice principle to acquire that popularity, do not enter the field of government. Stay out, not for your own sake but for the sake of your fellow man. No man can be a success if in his own heart, he knows he has not been honest and has deserted his true principles. A man may have the plaudits of thousands yet fail.

The young men and women of the country have an opportunity. You have an opportunity to be a success. You have the greatest country in the world. Participate in its counsels. Make it better. We need you. America needs men—

"Men whom the lust of office does not kill,
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy,
Men who possess opinions and a will,
Men who have honor; men who will not lie."

America needs you! Be American!

An Important Discovery

TO COLONEL James D. Watson, Vice President General of the South Atlantic District, will go deserved honor for the successful culmination of his efforts to locate the grave of Colonel William Few, Georgia Signer of the Constitution, which has been in oblivion for many years.

The desire of the Georgia Society, Sons of the American Revolution, to properly mark this grave, led to the search for its location, presumably near Fishkill on the Hudson in New York State, to which locality Colonel Few was known to have removed, and where he had become a figure of importance. He served four years in the New York Assembly, was an inspector of state prisons and an alderman of the City of New York. He was a director in the Bank of Manhattan and at his death was president of the National City Bank of New York. Strange that the burial place of a man of such importance should have been allowed to fall into oblivion!

The story of how this happened and the final discovery is best told in an article by Peyre Gaillard, in the Atlanta Constitution of June 17th, from which we quote:

"Strangely enough nobody seemed aware of the fact that the exact site of Few's interment was unknown. If so, it was not revealed until the Georgia Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in carrying out its program to mark places of historical importance, planned to place a stone at the illustrious Georgian's grave. The grave couldn't be found after an intensive search, although it was generally known Few had been buried at Fishkill-on-the-Hudson.

"Yet, there was nothing actually mysterious about it. The grave became 'lost' through a series of simple events. Years ago, it is now understood, the original door to the vault bearing the family name had rusted and fallen off. It kicked around like any other loose bit of impedimenta. Nobody seemed interested in replacing it and eventually it disappeared. Later the pastor of the church, desiring to protect the contents of the vault from vandals, ordered the opening bricked up. But no name was placed on the outside.

"Thus, as years passed, the vault completely lost its identification. Nobody remembered who was buried there. It was only

from an engraving in Library of Congress

by a long process of elimination—discarding the known and improbable—that the search narrowed down to the old unmarked vault in the graveyard at Beacon, and the silver nameplate found.

"When the vault was opened in the presence of the Sons of the American Revolution, William Few Christie, great-grandson of the Colonel, stood by with a key believed to fit the lock on Few's casket. It wasn't needed. All the old wooden coffins in the vault had completely crumbled. Scarcely anything remained but dust. But a search revealed a silver coffin plate bearing the inscription 'William Few. Died the 16th of July A. D. 1828 in the 80th year of his age.'

"The finding of the coffin plate, beyond the shadow of a doubt, established the spot as the final resting place of Georgia's co-signer of the Constitution of the United States."

Other relics were found in the debris scattered about the vault, all corroborative of the identity of these remains.

The Georgia Society will place a granite slab quarried from the famous Stone Mountain near Atlanta, suitably marked, and which it is hoped may be dedicated as an observance of Constitution Day, with the cooperation of the Empire State Society and Newburgh Chapter, on October 5, at which time President General Kimball will deliver the address. Colonel Watson is personally supervising this culmination of his long search.

The entire country is indebted to Colonel Watson and the Georgia Society for this most important discovery.

The President General's Activities:

THE summer has been spent completely without vacation by the President General in activities for the Society, largely at Washington Hall at the New York World's Fair. Thousands of members of our Society have visited the building during these months. Through the courtesy of Mrs. William A. Becker, Honorary President General of the D. A. R., there have been in constant attendance various members of that Society who have voluntarily acted as hostesses. They have appeared in charming Colonial costumes and have devoted themselves to explaining to visitors the purposes of the building and the details of the exhibition of patriotic relics.

Practically all patriotic societies that have had special days at the Fair or that have visited the Fair have made Washington Hall their headquarters. Large meetings and dinners and luncheons have been held there by these societies.

The public interest in Washington as shown by the large attendance has been gratifying and many distinguished visitors have paid him homage here.

The voluntary services of Laurens M. Hamilton, President of the New York Chapter, S. A. R., and Compatriot Harold S. Hull, Secretary of the Patriot's Club located in Washington Hall, have been most helpful. Compatriots David Quinn and Howard Morris, members of the New York Chapter S. A. R. Color Guard, have contributed greatly to the picturesqueness and success of this building by their daily attendance in uniform and by their spirited conducting of the nightly ceremony of lowering of the American and our Society colors.

Among the many patriotic societies which have been entertained there are the Children of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Huguenot Society, Centennial Legion Historic Military Command, American Friends of Lafayette, General Society of Mayflower Descendants, General Society of the War of 1812, St. Nicholas Society, Society of Colonial Wars, Daughters of the Union, Colonial Dames, Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, Military Order of the World War, First Provincial Regiment, New York State; Order of Runnymede, Sons of Confederate Veterans, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy. On each occasion the President General has welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Society and frequently delivered an address in the Court of Peace as your representative. He arranged the Constitution Day program at the Court of Peace and presided at the celebration which was attended by thousands. He made the principal address at the same place for the Society of the War of 1812. On the occasion of the Friends of Lafayette day, the French Ambassador to the United States, Comte René de Saint Quentin, was the guest of honor at the luncheon at Washington Hall. On Luxemburg Day the President General had the distinguished honor of addressing the throng in the Court of Peace there assembled to do honor to H. R. H. Prince Felix of Luxemburg and his son, Prince Jean, the Crown Prince. The address was broadcast over an international hook-up and was concerned with the similarity of American and Luxemburg ideals. Later these distinguished visitors, accompanied by representatives of the nation, were entertained at dinner and reception at Washington Hall.

During the past three months the President General has broadcast on an average of two or three times a week on patriotic subjects from various stations and on national hook-ups. Every Monday over Station WHN, in connection with guests, he has maintained a so-called Washington Hall quiz which is a quiz on American history designed to acquaint listeners with the facts of history and to inspire their interest in the lessons gained thereby. Compatriots within the range of the station are invited to listen, and make comments, as the program is continuous.

On September 16th the President General participated in the ceremonies at the Subtreasury on Wall Street in New York City and later, accompanied by Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum and Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward, assisted in laying a wreath on the tomb of Alexander Hamilton in Trinity Churchyard. The actual laying was performed by Laurens M. Hamilton, President of the New York Chapter, and a great-great-grandson of Alexander Hamilton.

On September 20th the President General attended at Washington a meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Coalition to discuss the proposed repeal of the Neutrality Act.

Notes and Comments

The President General is conducting a quiz on American history every Monday night at 9 o'clock over Station WHN in New York City. He is assisted by Dr. Frank Monaghan, professor of history at Yale University and Historian at the World's Fair; Laurens M. Hamilton, a great-great-grandson of Alexander Hamilton and President of the New York Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution; Jackson Hines, Secretary of The Patriots Club in Washington Hall at the World's Fair and by Mrs. William A. Becker, Honorary President General, Daughters of the American Revolution.

These quizzes are gay and endeavor to interest auditors in American history. Questions submitted are answered and prizes awarded for those accepted.

All who are within range of this Station are urged to listen.

The new S. A. R. ribbon for National officers active and past (except the Presidents General active and past) is now obtainable upon application to the Secretary General. The cost is $3.00 per yard, which should be remitted with order.

The new miniature World War Service Medal is also in stock at National Headquarters. This, like the regular size medal, is available to State Societies or Chapters for presentation to their members who can show proof of active or past United States military or naval service.

Other supplies available are frequently listed in our advertising columns, and include the new supplemental stars for wear upon the Official Insignia ribbon, costing fifty cents each, claims for which must be verified by the Registrar General, the recognition button for coat lapels, twenty-five cents each, Insignia ribbon, seventy-five cents per yard, and other items. All orders should be sent to the Secretary General accompanied by remittances, checks payable to the Treasurer General.

Descendants of Samuel Craig of Ireland, 1737, who served in Westmoreland County, Pa., provincials, are requested to communicate with Compatriot Frank R. Sloane, Jr., 927 Normal Ave., Stevens Point, Wisc., who is preparing a revised edition of the genealogy of this early settler.

On September 19th at Arlington Cemetery a service was held over the grave of Lieutenant Joseph Heston Patterson, U. S. N., a victim of the Squalus disaster. Ensign Patterson, in 1932, received the Good Citizenship Medal of the National Society S. A. R. at Oklahoma City, Okla., the presentation having been made by Compatriot Edwin W. McKay, who for several years was Chairman of the Medal Committee for Oklahoma and a former State and Chapter President. Compatriot McKay, who reported this fact at National Headquarters recently, attended the services and provided the above information.

In the organizing of new chapters, State Officers are invited to submit names under consideration for these new organizations, to National Headquarters, in advance, in order that too much duplication may be avoided. We now have a number of chapters in various states with identical names. This tends to confusion and should be avoided if possible.

Additional book shelves have been installed at Headquarters for the S. A. R. Library through the added appropriation under this year's budget, and have provided considerable facilities. It is gratifying to have this enlarged space, as the former shelving was becoming greatly crowded. Compatriots are urged to contribute appropriate volumes of genealogical or historical worth that our National Library may be of increasing usefulness.

A Bill is before the U. S. Congress, introduced by the Honorable Hamilton Fish, a Compatriot of the S. A. R., to provide for a new design for the 10-cent piece which will portray the likeness of Benjamin Franklin. Endorsement of such a proposal was given in a resolution adopted at our New London Congress last May.

There are still available a number of 50th Anniversary medals. These are attractive and priced at $2.00 each. Many compatriots and each chapter and state society should avail themselves of this opportunity to secure this memento of our Fifty Years of Progress, before it is too late.

The bronze medal which appeared in the last issue of the Magazine, struck in honor of Washington Hall, may be obtained for $1.50 by applying to Washington Hall. There are a few remaining and Compatriots who desire them may thus acquire a beautiful souvenir of the Sons of the American Revolution building at the Fair.

Important Patriotic Gatherings of the Summer

MANY Compatriots have the privilege of membership in the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, which met at Plymouth, September 4th to 7th, for its triennial Congress.

The proceedings and accompanying functions were, as always, carried out with dignity and were extremely impressive, especially the "Pilgrim's Progress," the processional of descendants in Pilgrim garb, winding up the streets of Plymouth from the Rock to Burial Hill, the sacred ground where lie the sacred remains of those early pioneers.

Those who participated in this solemn procession included a number of well known S. A. R. compatriots, among whom were Mr. Addison Pierce Munro, former Governor General, Hon. Burnham Standish Colburn, retiring Governor General, and Colonel Francis R. Stoddard, incoming officer, Frank Bartlett Steele, Deputy Governor, Arthur Churchill of New Jersey, former Deputy Governor, Theodore Dexter of Rhode Island, and many others whose names would be familiar, were it possible to enumerate them.

This pilgrimage and ceremony at Burial Hill concluded with the return processional down to the Tomb on the shore, covering the remains of other deceased Mayflower pilgrims, victims of starvation and disease, where a wreath was laid and Taps sounded—the whole a solemn and impressive sight, never to be forgotten, once witnessed or participated in.

Following adjournment of the Congress, many delegates attended the New York Fair, where a reception at Washington Hall was held on September 9th, with President General Kendall assisting the New York Society of Mayflower Descendants in welcoming the delegates and their friends.

Other recent gatherings at the World's Fair in which S. A. R. compatriots were interested were the Billop Conference House ceremonies, held at the Garden of Security on September 10th, commemorating the anniversary of the Conference held at Tottenville, Staten Island, between the Americans, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Edward Rutledge, representing the Continental Congress, and Admiral Lord Richard Howe, representing the King of England. Billop Conference House was the scene of this famous but futile conference, and is preserved and maintained by the Conference House Association, of which Mrs. Newton D. Chapman is President.

Members also attended the program of the General Society of the War of 1812, of which Compatriot Colonel Frederic W. Bauer of Massachusetts is the Governor General, held on September 14th, when President General Kendall made the principal address and which was followed by a dinner and reception at Washington Hall.

Throughout the summer similar programs and ceremonies have been held, at which compatriots of the S. A. R. have been present and usually participants, evidence of the many patriotic interests maintained by the Society's members.

New Jersey Action

At the meeting of the Board of Managers of the New Jersey State Society held September 8, the following resolution was unanimously passed.

Resolved, that it is the sentiment of this Society that the following letter from the President of this Society to all Compatriots be forthwith sent to the members of this Society.

Further Ordered, that a copy of this resolution together with the President's letter be forwarded to the Secretary General of the National Society for publication in the S. A. R. MAGAZINE at its next issue.

September, 1939.

Dear Compatriot:

It is most fitting that the earnest attention of every Compatriot be called to the issuance of a proclamation by the President of the United States proclaiming the existence of a limited state of emergency in our country, and to the pronouncement by the Attorney General of the United States to the effect that it is the duty of every citizen to report immediately to the nearest office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation or other governmental law enforcement agency, any subversive influences or activities in existence in his locality. Any activities of foreign agents, societies, organizations, groups or individuals detrimental to the interest or welfare of the United States of America or to its status as a nation should be immediately reported and all such available information promptly disclosed to the proper authorities.

Our duty as Compatriots in this matter is clear and your Society counts on the earnest cooperation of every Compatriot.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

HAROLD M. BLANCHARD,
President.

The Privileges of American Citizenship

An address given by Prof. J. Duane Squires, Professor of Political Science at Colby Junior College, at the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region Fair at Canaan, N. H. on September 3, 1939

Mr. Chairman, Senator Bridges, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The program in which we participate this afternoon is a landmark in the history of the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region, of the State of New Hampshire, and of New England as a whole. Only twice before in the annals of the United States has such a ceremony as that of today taken place: once in Wisconsin* in May of this year; and again in New York City in late June of 1939. Now for the third time in American history a great gathering has assembled to welcome into active citizenship a group of young men and women who will cast their first votes in 1940. As the immortal Abraham Lincoln so well declared in his address at Gettysburg: "It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this."

At the very beginning of my remarks let me urge upon all of you the thought that this dedicatory ceremony is fully in accord with the distinguished record of New Hampshire's past participation in American citizenship. Just 152 years ago this month the Constitution of the United States was completed. The first two names among the 39 signatures on that great document, appearing directly under the name of President George Washington, are those of John Langdon and Nicholas Gilman of New Hampshire. Nor do our traditions of citizenship stop with these two founding fathers. The State of New Hampshire, yes, this very Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region, has produced many individuals whose names rank high on our national honor roll. I think of Franklin Pierce, the 14th in the line of our 32 American Presidents, a native of our town of Hillsborough; of Salmon P. Chase, 6th in the sequence of the 11 chief justices of the United States Supreme Court, a native of Claremont; and of Daniel Webster, a towering figure among the 1384 men and women who have been United States Senators, a native of Salisbury.

With these thoughts in mind, I propose very briefly to carry out the committee's request, and to speak to you on the privileges of American citizenship. It is a tremendous subject, and one, which in these critical weeks of 1939, is worthy of our most earnest attention. Learned books have been devoted to it; celebrated orations have been given upon it; and tens of thousands of Americans in past and present have sought to make these privileges realities in the everyday life of our people. Without in any sense seeking to exhaust the subject, I shall lay before you what might be termed the A-B-C of the privileges of American citizenship. You will realize, of course, that what is said only scratches the surface, and you will use your own good sense in filling out and filling in the outline which is presented.

The first, or "A," privilege of American citizenship is that of free assembly. It is today and has been for a century and a half the absolute privilege of Americans peaceably to come together for any purpose that is in itself decent and honorable. Do you realize today how great a privilege that is? If you do not, read the daily newspapers. Over more than half of the world at this very moment men and women cannot assemble freely; they may not join in such meetings as they might desire. Over them hangs a series of dread governmental proscriptions; behind them yawn the gates of concentration camps and the rifles of firing squads. You and I take the privilege of free assembly as though it were free like the air we breathe. We meet in our churches, in our lodges and fraternal groups, in our conventions, in our fairs, in places of amusement and fellowship; and we take this freedom all for granted. The law stands ready, in fact, to guarantee this great privilege of free assembly even to those whose gatherings are obnoxious to the wishes of the majority of the people. Thus, last February, in New York City the metropolitan police protected a meeting devoted to glorifying Adolf Hitler, though it is quite clear that most of the citizens in that great city did not approve of this assembly.

You who will soon attain your majority, who are quick to see the weaknesses in the American social order of today, who long with genuine earnestness to make a better life in America than any which we have hitherto known—forget not the privilege of free assembly in the order which we now have. Beware of that error unforgettably described in the Bible of exchanging your birthright of free assembly for a mess of pottage. So long as any foreign "ism" denies this right to its people, so long as any alien philosophy insists that men and women cannot gather together unless they are "yesmen" and "yeswomen," so long will those systems remain inferior to the American citizenship which we now possess. We shall not be deceived by their apparent material successes, nor by their specious claims of having solved the great social and economic problems that confront all men everywhere. Unless and until they freely grant the right of assembly, the "A" privilege of American citizenship, they are not for us.

The "B" privilege of our citizens is the free Ballot, the right to exercise which that New England poet, John G. Whittier, so fittingly described in his poem, "The Poor Voter on Election Day." I do not mean merely the right to cast a vote; even the modern dictatorships grant that. The privilege of the ballot in the United States has always meant and must continue to mean the right of every citizen to exercise his judgment in the affairs of government entirely without fear and strictly without favor. I know that the ideal thus described is often abused in practice, but that is not going to be fatal as long as the ideal itself is cherished in the hearts of our people. To illustrate how remarkable this privilege of a free ballot is, let me tell you a true story.

Only last winter I took an exchange student just out of Nazi Germany to the annual New London town meeting. There was nothing unusual about that meeting, at least not to American eyes. It was like similar meetings in every town in New Hampshire. People talked freely, expressed their views, and then trooped up to the ballot box to cast their votes. But the eyes of the visiting student widened in surprise. Where were the uniformed police to check up on how the people voted? Where were the agents of the all-powerful party to see that the voters carried out the wishes of the party leader and the national dictator? When it was pointed out that in America the right to cast a ballot was a basic privilege of every man and woman over 21, and that it was a privilege with which no outside person or agency had the slightest right to interfere, then the German youth's eyes opened still wider.

To you young men and women, therefore, I say: cherish this privilege of the free ballot; oppose any effort to weaken it. Support the principle of civil service and of such legislation as the recent Hatch law passed by Congress this summer. Do not fail to prove yourselves worthy of the "B" privilege of American citizenship, the free ballot.

And the "C" privilege of American citizens is the right of free Criticism. By this I do not mean, of course, the mere throwing of mud at others, or the habitually cranky "agin-the-government" attitude of the chronic complainer. These types of criticism are only eddies in the main current of the mighty river of which I speak. The privilege of free criticism flows out of the tributary privileges of free assembly and the free ballot. To change the figure of speech, freedom of criticism is the fly-wheel of democracy, the safety-valve of our political system, the gyroscope to keep balanced our national life. As to its profound meaning for all of us, let me call your attention to the opening words of our national Constitution: "We, the people of the United States." Think of those words for just a moment.

They suggest that this nation of ours is built on the basic belief that you and I and all our fellow citizens, the people of America, are the rulers of this mighty country. In our land we do not accept the conception of society held by the Fascist or by the Nazi which says that the chief principle of human organization is implicit obedience to a dictator; nor do we accept the Communist theory that all power belongs to one economic class and to one ruthless political party. On the contrary we believe that every one of us has within us a mind and a conscience capable of being inspired by God. If these consciences and minds impel us to believe and say that there are errors in our public life, then it becomes our privilege to do so. That is what criticism really means: the privilege and right of every American to act in relation to the common life as his true conscience and inner conviction may direct. Surely that is what Lincoln was envisioning when he uttered those never-to-be-forgotten words in tribute to the American citizen: "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

In summary, then, these are the A-B-C privileges of American citizenship: the privilege of Assembly; the privilege of the Ballot; and the privilege of Criticism. Use them wisely; cherish them always. Think of them not as mere words from this speaker's platform, but as the living essence of the lives and sufferings of the American past. For the attainment of these privileges men and women braved the stormy Atlantic in centuries now long gone; for them they fought the wild beasts and the wilder natives of this continent; for them they anguished on the battlefields of many wars and perished in conflicts on the seven seas; for them they conquered the western wilderness with the ax, the plough, and the covered wagon.

Promote Greater Medal Distribution

A Message from the New Chairman

A QUESTION to be answered by a number of State Society Presidents is "Why has the distribution of Good Citizenship and R. O. T. C. Medals fallen off in my State during the past year?"

No names will be mentioned, but your Committee asks you to look up your figure for 1938 (S. A. R. MAGAZINE for October, page 97), and then at the corresponding figure for 1939 below.

Some will feel a just pride in a splendid accomplishment, while others should feel that a valuable opportunity has been slighted. Though many State Societies have increased their activity and distributed more medals, the net loss for the year is roughly eight per cent in Good Citizenship and twenty per cent in R. O. T. C. medals. Is there less "Good Citizenship" among the school children or is the falling off among our own members?

The presentation of these medals can be made one of the most important activities of the Society. Those who have been active in the work have frequently testified to this and have reaped a reward in the lively interest excited among the spectators and the impressive pride and enthusiasm of those receiving the medals. The appearance of the Sons of the American Revolution at graduation exercises of the high and grammar schools and in the colleges having R. O. T. C. units, gives one answer at least, to the question so often heard: "What does the S. A. R. do?"

We all know what results can follow an awakened competition widespread among our young people for the award of a handsome medal for "Good Citizenship" and in the naval and military units an award for "Leadership, Soldierly Bearing and Excellence."

The unceasing struggle for the privilege of free assembly, for the right of a free ballot, and for the privilege of honest individual criticism is not merely a part of American history. In veritable truth it is the very A-B-C of our history. May we of this generation remember these A-B-C's. May we teach them to our children. May we always, in the unforgettable words of Daniel Webster, see that they remain "now and forever, one and inseparable."

It would not seem to be asking too much that every State President in the Society should appoint a committee and see that the committee works to distribute one or more of these medals once or twice each year to each Junior High or upper grammar school of his state. Likewise no R. O. T. C. unit should fail to receive one medal so appropriate to that important feeder to our National Defense.

J. ARNOLD NORCROSS, Chairman,
Good Citizenship and R. O. T. C.
Medal Committee.

What One State President Advocates

THE following letter from the President of the Florida State Society to officers of chapters in his Society so fully outlines the desirable activities for any state society or local chapter within our National organization, that the Editor feels it should be presented to our compatriots generally and hopes that if the suggestions contained are not already being followed or under consideration as a practical program for immediate undertaking, that they will be just as soon as some or all of them can be put into effect.—F.B.S.

September 2nd, 1939.

Dear —

Recently I was requested by the Palm Beach Chapter to outline a program for the Florida Society. I submitted to the Palm Beach Chapter and beg leave to submit to you the following:

1. The organization and active support of student chapters in the colleges of the State.
2. Furtherance of the "Citizenship Day" movement.
3. Furtherance of the movement to organize "Councils on Americanization."
4. Increased chapter activity, to include:

(a). Regular monthly meetings at lunch or other convenient time, with short informal round-table discussions of some of the underlying principles or philosophy of our Government, outstanding patriots and their contribution to the establishment and building of our Government—all with a view to refreshing our own minds and awakening a more lively interest in the privileges which we enjoy, and the obligations of citizenship.

(b). Active interest in patriotic education in the local schools.

(c). The increase of Chapter membership and cooperation between Chapters in the increase in the number of Chapters in the State.

STUDENT CHAPTERS

The immediate purpose is that students aware, or becoming aware, of the challenge to Democracy will meet that challenge, and with the patriotic background of the S. A. R. will seriously undertake the protection and preservation among students of the ideals of true Americanism. It is believed that a student chapter can become a quiet and steady influence for Americanism, and a visible antidote to the debunking process and to any of the alien "isms" which might unknowingly be introduced into the institution.

The importance of the movement is emphasized and brought home to us by the recent call of the Dies Committee upon Dr. John Harvey Sherman, of Tampa University, to describe attempts of German propaganda agents to infiltrate Nazi teachings in the American colleges and universities. In these very troubled times it seems clear that the country stands in need of a patriotic Renaissance, and it would seem that our patriotic inheritance in S. A. R. imposes upon us the duty to take a leading part in such a movement.

To date the matter has been presented to the University of Florida, the University of Miami and to Stetson. It will be presented to Rollins College and to the University of Tampa.

Dr. Tigert of the University of Florida has expressed interest and a willingness to discuss the matter with student leaders and faculty members upon the opening of the University in September. He particularly has expressed the hope that we will find it possible to reduce the initial cost of membership to students. This matter I am now presenting to the National Society through Compatriot Frank B. Steele, Secretary-Registrar General in Washington, and I believe we shall be able to secure satisfactory results.

The matter of a student chapter at the University of Miami was presented in conference with three members of the faculty of that institution representing its president. We were assured of faculty interest and support. Following this conference a letter from four eligible student leaders was received, expressing active interest and a desire to form the nucleus of a chapter at the University of Miami. I understand that this number is now substantially increased. The Miami Chapter promises sponsorship of the projected student chapter at the University.

A student chapter at Stetson has been taken up with Dr. Charles A. Fisher, of the faculty of that institution, who is a member of our Society, and who has expressed his interest and belief that a good student chapter can be organized at Stetson.

It is obvious that if our chapters as such, and as many individual members as possibly can, will write to the heads of these several institutions, expressing active interest in the organization of these student chapters, and will follow up by interesting local eligible students, that it will materially increase both faculty and student interest, and assure the success of the movement. I urge you to do this, and I take the liberty of suggesting that the Jacksonville Chapter undertake sponsorship for a student chapter at the University of Florida, that the Miami Chapter sponsor the student chapter at the University of Miami, and that the Tampa Chapter undertake the organization of a chapter at the University of Tampa.

CITIZENSHIP DAY

This is a day to be set apart and observed with suitable ceremony as a day upon which young citizens, youths becoming twenty-one and newly naturalized citizens, take a solemn oath of good citizenship.

The day was celebrated in New York City on June 26th, 1939, with an estimated crowd of twenty thousand in attendance. Leaders of the City, State and nation participated. It is said to have been a most impressive occasion, and the forerunner of a national holiday. It is my understanding that the first celebration of the sort was in Wisconsin.*

The movement should be started in Florida. It probably is too big a project for any one organization to handle. If a movement for the observance of a "Citizenship Day" has not already been started in your City, then S. A. R. might well do so. If the movement has been started, it would seem to deserve our enthusiastic support.

PUBLIC OBSERVANCES

Our Society, acting through its several Chapters, should lose no opportunity to bring patriotism to the public mind, through suitable observance as a Society, or in cooperation with other patriotic societies, of patriotic days, such as Independence Day, Constitution Day, George Washington's Birthday, Armistice Day, National Memorial Day, etc. So far as practicable these observances should be public, but if otherwise, then advice concerning them should be given for press mention.

COUNCILS ON AMERICANIZATION

Americanization has been defined as: "Those efforts which tend to bring about in the minds and consciences of young and old, of native born and alien alike, a familiarity with the history of our land, a respect and reverence for the great characters who have made our unparalleled progress possible, a knowledge of the fundamental principles of our Government, a spirit of loyalty to the United States of America, its customs, laws and institutions, and a determination to uphold the ancient rights and privileges of our citizens against whomsoever would attempt to derogate or destroy them."

It has been proposed that our Chapters initiate the formation of local groups, to be called "Councils on Americanization." The function of the Council would be to act as a clearing house for the organization and prosecution of patriotic activities. It is proposed that such a council might maintain liaison with the American Coalition, of which Captain John B. Trevor, Sr., a S. A. R., is the President.

PATRIOTIC EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS

It has been repeatedly stressed in National Headquarters that a most important duty of each Chapter is to become conversant with the way in which the American viewpoint is being presented in secondary schools and colleges. Not only should our chapters concern themselves with the method of actually teaching American history, but student interest in patriotic subjects and characters can be aroused in the public schools through S. A. R. contests, and otherwise.

I take the liberty of expressing the thought that thrown into competition politically, socially and economically with the highly organized and efficient, but ruthless Totalitarian States, Democracy is put to as great, if not greater, test now than at any time within our experience. The weaknesses of a Democracy in times of stress are well known and recognized. It requires intelligence, understanding, devotion to democratic principles and a true love of country to maintain the delicate balance of the democratic system, and here lies a real field of patriotic activity for the S. A. R., and other similar patriotic organizations.

In concluding, the National Society is endeavoring this year to particularly commemorate Constitution Day, which comes on September 17th. I am advised that the National Society has requested the Governors of the several States to issue a proclamation in respect to Constitution Day. I have written to Governor Cone to inquire if he will do this, and if so the day which he will designate for its observance, as the 17th comes on a Sunday. It is especially desirable that each of our Chapters in the State make some arrangement for an observance of the day, and a radio or other public address is suggested.

I should very much appreciate it if I could be advised from time to time of the activities of your Chapter.

Cordially yours,

J. FIELD WARDLAW,

President, Florida Society Sons of the American Revolution.

Two Patriotic Institutions

FOUNDED in an atmosphere of patriotic devotion and love of country for the service of the people of the Southern mountains where human liberty has been zealously guarded many generations, Lincoln Memorial University of Harrogate, Tennessee, represents a unique educational program in the South. It is located one mile south of Cumberland Gap, the great historic pass through which the pioneers travelled into Kentucky and the Northwest, and in the shadow of Pinnacle Mountain, from which Daniel Boone and other frontier explorers looked across the wilderness toward the uncharted empires of the Central West.

The institution was founded over forty years ago by General O. O. Howard, Commander of the Eleventh Army Corps, U. S. A., in the Civil War. Inspired by Lincoln himself who told him in 1863 that "something be done for the mountain people of the South, who have been shut out of the world all these years," General Howard, cooperating with an educational movement already started by a mountain missionary, established this institution as a memorial to the great Civil War president, "To make education possible to the children of the humble common people of America among whom Lincoln was born."

General Howard became the first chairman of the Board, and a Confederate colonel in the neighborhood who had surrendered with Lee at Appomattox was the first vice president.

About five hundred young men and young women are trained each year, with at least 95% earning a part or all of their expenses in various industrial departments. Opportunities are provided for a liberal arts education, with special emphasis upon good citizenship courses. A Department of Lincolniana is maintained which is a great reservoir of Lincoln history and information. This Lincoln library is the only one south of the Mason and Dixon Line, and the collection ranks with the largest in America.

The institution derives its support from the contributions of men and women throughout the nation who see in the young people of the isolated rural sections, descendants of the early pioneers of pure Anglo-Saxon heritage, reservoirs of potential leadership and greatness. Scholarships are maintained by many individuals and organizations. The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution lists the institution among its approved schools, and is one of its strong financial backers. Dr. Stewart W. McClelland is president.

Another educational institution which deserves the support and encouragement of patriotically minded men and women is Colby College at Waterville, Maine, which provides scholarships for boys of American Revolutionary or Colonial descent. This unique benefit was provided by the late Charles Potter Kling, who wished to promote the welfare of young people representing that type of background. Applicants for the Kling scholarships are required to present genealogical proof that one or more ancestors resided in one of the American Colonies before 1776 or served in the Continental Armies during the Revolution. In the S. A. R. MAGAZINE for April, 1935, page 162, there was published a brief announcement of this plan.

A Message from Our Vice President General in France

Chateau de Foltertre
St. Gaultier
Chitray (Indre), France

6 July 1939

MY DEAR PRESIDENT GENERAL:

I am very happy at the announcement of my re-election and that you send me your felicitations.

I also send you mine, since I see you retain your title, and I hope the confidence you manifest in our amiable colleagues will not be betrayed. If you have occasion, I wish you would give them all my remembrance and tell them of my absolute devotion to the Society.

I am tardy in writing you for I wished to tell you of our activities on July 4th. I returned yesterday evening from Paris where I had been working with my French-American Committee. Tuesday, July 4th, then, at ten o'clock a good number of us, surrounded by an important crowd, rendered homage at the Tomb of Lafayette in Picpus Cemetery. The Marquis de Chambrun said a few words and Mr. Robert Murphy, your new Consul of the Embassy, responded, for our dear Ambassador was presiding at Chalons-sur-Marne at the official ceremonies. At 11 o'clock we Sons of the American Revolution, with our flag, joined the Sons of the Cincinnati, to give homage before the American Volunteers at the Place États-Unis. Together, at 11:30 we saluted and bewreathed the statue of Washington, and at 11:45 we gathered with the Daughters of the American Revolution before the statue of Rochambeau.

At 5 o'clock M. le Sénateur Henry Haye, Mayor of Versailles, received the French-American Committee and my son presented a flag which was received in the Hall of Honor, and finally at 7 o'clock, we again marched to the Statue of General Pershing, which was the finale of our day; a blessed and happy day. We had been accompanied by a Battalion of Infantry with Colonel, banners and music and all the population of Versailles rejoiced in this demonstration of French-American friendship.

I hope this account convinces you that our French Society is very much alive.

My faithful remembrance,

(S.) ROCHAMBEAU.

Organization Committee Message

We have passed another milestone in our fifty years of existence as the Sons of the American Revolution, and here we find ourselves again organizing the campaign for membership increase. We are even determined to make this year's increase larger than last—which means we will have to work.

Our State and Chapter Committees have done good work during last year. Besides an increase of several hundred members, they have distributed several hundred invitations to prospective members and done things to acquaint the community in which they live with their society, thus building up prospective members. Let us give encouragement to the workers!

Every encouragement should be offered by us for the building of the highest ideals of citizenry and Americanism, and in this manner upbuilding the communities in which we live.

We offer annually to students a beautiful medal for the practise of citizenship. We offer medals and prizes to National Guard, C. M. T. C. and R. O. T. C. enrollees for aptitude in military service. We furnish Flags for the churches and schools, and furnish free instruction on the use of the Flag. All of these activities make for increased interest and understanding of the lofty motives of our Society.

It is especially important that we have membership for the betterment of the mental attitude and upholding of the training of our youth in their respective communities. Even grown men and grown women can be made better citizens. New members are essential for our growth.

We are continuing the program of last year under the able leadership of President General Messmore Kendall, whose inspiration and hard work have truly started us on an era of achievement for the Sons of the American Revolution. Mr. Kendall has established a fund as a Memorial to his mother, Mrs. Florence Kendall, which will provide annual prizes to be awarded individuals who in their respective S. A. R. units have secured the greatest number of new members. A lively competition should be thus launched.

It is a privilege and honor to be a member of our Society. Let us see that every eligible man is given an opportunity to be a member. This means not only securing applications; it means assisting in the organization of chapters. Compatriots, you can do this by sending names of interested prospects to your State President or State Secretary.

Lest we Forget!

Remember that handsome chapter and individual prizes are to be given for bringing in new members this year.

In addition to the above awards financed by President General Kendall, the Ohio Society is offering a Prize Cup to be awarded to the Chapter or State Society enrolling the largest number of sons of members—this to encourage the enrollment of younger members.

JAMES D. WATSON,
Organization Committee.

COPIES of the S. A. R. MAGAZINE for July, 1936, are practically exhausted at National Headquarters. Compatriots having spare copies of this issue are asked to send them to the Secretary General.

The National S. A. R. Library

IT IS but a matter of weeks before many of us will again be making plans for the Christmas season. Your gift list should most certainly include the name of your society, the S. A. R. Make that gift a book, one that will represent your contribution to a greater and more useful S. A. R. Library.

A number of fine genealogies have been added in the past few months to the collections of the library. They include the Andrus, Kemp, Snipes, Symonds and Brobst-Probst families.

Brief Book Reviews

"What the Constitution Says," published by author, 1440 Chapin St., N. W., Washington, D. C. (Price 25¢; quantities of 25 or more, 15¢.)

This work, now in its third edition, is being widely used for general reading, citizenship instruction, and school use. War Department has approved it for citizenship instruction in CCC camps. Many states have adopted it for WPA naturalization classes. Its use as public school textbook in this country and Puerto Rico indicates its value in that field. The D. A. R. have just published a special edition bearing their imprint.

(The following are recently published books which have been given to the S. A. R. Library by the publisher, The Columbia University Press, New York, N. Y.)

"Social Ferment in Vermont, 1791-1850," by David M. Ludlum. (Price: $3.50)

The social, political and religious forces which figured prominently in the general cultural life of Vermont over a period of sixty years, from 1791 to 1850, are comprehensively examined in this work. In setting the scene for his study, the author points out that Vermont was a youthful section compared with the rest of New England. It is significant, he notes, that Vermont was passing through a frontier stage of settlement at the very time a new government and a new social order were arising in America. As a result, a remarkably vigorous society came into being which showed little respect for traditional ties and institutions.

"Federal Aid for Relief," by Edward Ainsworth Williams. (Price: $3.25)

As a background, the book summarizes the relief methods prevailing before 1929, the emergency methods instituted by states and localities from 1929 to 1933, and the early federal relief activities before the coming of the F. E. R. A. The operation of the F. E. R. A. grant-in-aid method is examined. Its objectives, as revealed in the rules and policies which it imposed on state and local relief administration, are described and the devices used to implement its regulations are analyzed. There is also a very useful study of one of the most difficult tasks of the F. E. R. A.—the determination of an equitable basis for allocating federal relief funds.

LOUIS CHARLES SMITH,
Librarian General.

Events of State Societies

(Editor's Note: State and Chapter Officers are requested to furnish news items of their activities for publication in this department. Such items should be sent to National Headquarters for our next issue on or before JANUARY 1, 1940.)

California Society

Past President-General Howard C. Rowley brought it to the attention of the Society that Nevada has no Society, Sons of the American Revolution, and proposed that California Society donate R. O. T. C. medals to the University of Nevada at Reno. It was voted accordingly that this Society furnish four such medals, and that Compatriot George S. Young, Chairman of the Committee on Awards, with a delegation from AUBURN CHAPTER, the nearest to Reno, make the presentation.

Beyond holding their regular monthly meetings, most of the Chapters have had no special activity during the summer months.

SAN DIEGO CHAPTER—The monthly meetings have been well attended, and each has been characterized by a talk of timely or patriotic significance. Several new members have been added.

Vice-President A. Watson Brown is heading a committee which is actively engaged in outlining a program for Citizenship Day, early in October, to welcome new voters into citizenship. The Citizenship Day idea, which has met with general approval, originated with Dr. Brown while President of the Chapter.

During the school graduation period in June, Good Citizenship medals were presented to Joe Roger, San Diego High School; James Rende, Hoover High School; Eleanor Green, Roosevelt Junior High School; Power Sogo, Pacific Beach Junior High School; Nancy Frey, La Jolla High School; Edwin Buck, Julian High School; Anita Shall, Coronado High School; Helen Sherry and Tom Arata, Memorial High School; Ellis Barron, Sweetwater High School; and Dick Huntington, Point Loma High School. George Gross received an R. O. T. C. medal.

Connecticut Society

The annual meeting of the State Society was held at East Haddam Community House on June 24th, with about 150 in attendance. Following so closely upon the meeting of the National Congress at New London, the proceedings included a general résumé of this gathering, and the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, Elmer H. Spaulding; Vice Presidents, Harry W. Reynolds, Hon. Frederick W. Peasley, James Van A. Shields; Secretary, Howard E. Coe; Treasurer, Harry H. Pritchard; Registrar and Necrologist, Dr. Arthur Adams; Historian, Paul B. Godard; Chaplain, Rev. George L. Barnes; Auditor, Philip S. Davison.

NATHAN HALE BRANCH, New London—The annual meeting of this Chapter followed close upon the heels of the National Congress held at New London in May, and election of new officers took place with the following result: Mr. Elmer H. Spaulding who had served the Chapter for six years as President, and is now President of the State Society, was succeeded by Compatriot George H. Grout as Chapter President; Edward Prentiss was named Vice President; Percival C. Woodruff, Secretary; Herbert G. Huntley, Treasurer; Edward P. Eggleston, Historian; Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth, Chaplain. Trustees: Carey Congdon, Thomas R. Ball, Morris B. Payne, Dr. David D. Leib and E. Gorton Rogers.

Resolutions were passed in appreciation of the retiring President E. H. Spaulding and congratulating Past President General Ernest E. Rogers on his splendid work in arranging for the recent National Congress. Historian Eggleston presented a project for future consideration in the erection of a bronze memorial tablet commemorating Captain John Montresor, British officer in the Revolution, for his humane treatment of Nathan Hale prior to his execution. The Society accepted the invitation of the Massachusetts Society for its annual Field Day meeting on July 15th.

COL. JEREMIAH WADSWORTH BRANCH of Hartford has elected Compatriot Calvin C. Bolles as President, and CAPTAIN MATHEW MEAD BRANCH, Greenwich, elected Lorenzo Knapp President recently.

Delaware Society

Constitution Day was observed by the Delaware Society with a joint meeting with the Wilmington Rotary Club, September 14th, at Hotel duPont, Wilmington. About 250 heard Dr. Laurence H. Eldridge, Professor of Law, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, declare in an inspirational address that an alert understanding of what our form of government means will be the best protective measure against a dictatorship.

The Hon. Richard C. McMullin, Governor of Delaware, and a member of the Delaware Society, also made a short address. The President of the Wilmington Rotary Club, Gerrish Gassaway, a member of the Louisiana Society, presided.

The address was broadcast over station WDEL.

District of Columbia Society

An encouraging number of new members are listed on the summer "Bulletin" of the D. C. Society, but unfortunately these records are not available for publication in the current issue of the S. A. R. MAGAZINE, as they have not yet come into the hands of the Registrar General. Among eleven prospective members listed are two sons of members. There are also listed two whose applications are verified and appear in this issue. Preparatory to entertaining the National Congress next May, this Society hopes to make a substantial increase and has many more pending applications.

The Society cooperated in the observance of Constitution Day with the District Society of the D. A. R.

Florida Society

PALM BEACH CHAPTER—A luncheon meeting was held on July 10th at the George Washington Hotel, West Palm Beach, President J. Field Wardlaw presiding. Members enjoyed a report on the Citizenship Day ceremonies conducted in the Mall, New York City, on June 25th, and the Chapter voted to sponsor a Citizenship Day program in the near future. The report of the National Committee on Patriotic Education was also presented and excerpts from Chairman Reasoner's pamphlet read, and points discussed.

The usual meeting for August was changed to evening, and was attended by members and guests from Miami and Fort Myers. Compatriot V. M. Schooley of the latter place outlined some of his activities in the development of the Collegiate Chapter idea, which this group is interested in furthering. The faculty of the University of Miami is cooperating in the movement and the officers of the PALM BEACH CHAPTER hope to see a new chapter established at the University in the early future. President J. Field Wardlaw made a patriotic address, emphasizing some of the objectives for which his Chapter will strive during the coming months.

Through the efforts of President Wardlaw, Governor Cone of Florida issued a proclamation urging a state-wide observance of Constitution Day. PALM BEACH CHAPTER presented the Hon. Charles Francis Coe, its former President, in a radio address on September 17th.

Georgia Society

ATLANTA CHAPTER—New officers were elected by this Chapter on August 5th at a meeting held at the Capital City Club, as follows: President, Hon. John D. Hunphries; Vice Presidents, David Long, Edgar Gunn, C. T. Hyre; Secretary-Treasurer, John S. May; Registrar, Arthur W. Falkinburg;

Historian, Reuben Garland; Genealogist, C. J. Hendryx; Sergeant-at-Arms, T. C. Perkins. Managers: Dr. Herbert Alden, Harry A. Alexander, Dr. J. C. Haden, Slaughter Linthicum, Dr. Newdigates Owensby.

Vice President General Col. James D. Watson was present and installed the new officers. Plans were formulated for entertainment of the State Society at its annual meeting in October, the date to be decided.

ATHENS CHAPTER held a summer meeting and fish-fry on August 18th at Pine Lodge, as guests of Compatriots Julius and Harry Talmadge. Colonel Watson, Vice President General of the South Atlantic District, told of his recent discovery of the remains of Colonel William Few, Georgia Signer of the Constitution, and of the progress of the State Society toward the permanent marking and memorial of this tomb located at Beacon on the Hudson, ceremonies to be carried out in the early fall.

WINDER CHAPTER joined with the American Legion in the civic observance of Constitution Day on September 15th, and promoted the distribution of the pamphlet "Our Government—How Founded," by the late David L. Pierson, in the public schools of Winder.

Illinois

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK CHAPTER, Peoria—The largest attendance at a meeting of this Chapter in two years greeted Judge John J. Fling, of Wyoming, Illinois, speaker at the dinner meeting held on September 18th, honoring Constitution Day. Chapter President Kenneth W. Black presided. Judge Fling is a noted scholar on History and Law, and his private library on Lincoln is one of the largest in the country.

The Chapter held a Flag Day outing in June, at the George Wheeler farm near Putnam, Illinois, where there is buried the Indian Chief Snatchwine, the first to make peace with the white man in this territory. Some years ago, GEORGE ROGERS CLARK CHAPTER placed a bronze plate on the tombstone of Chief Snatchwine. A very large assemblage was present including twelve Indian families from the Kansas reservation who were descendants and gave their tribal dances. Compatriot George W. Hunt of the Chapter was chairman of both affairs.

Indiana Society

Constitution Day was celebrated at a luncheon meeting held in Indianapolis on September 13th with twenty-four compatriots and guests in attendance. Judge James A. Collins who has done constructive citizenship work among naturalized citizens and foreigners seeking naturalization was an honored guest. Other distinguished judges and members of the bar were in attendance. The principal address was given by Hon. Henry M. Dowling of Indianapolis, who spoke on the subject of "The Ideals of the Constitution." His address was most instructive and inspirational.

During the current year the Indiana Society has continued its long established custom of having a luncheon meeting each month. In addition to the transaction of business affairs the program generally includes an address on some subject pertinent to the ideals and purposes of the Society.

At the meeting on April 5th, Major Robert V. Maraist, U. S. A., addressed the meeting on the subject of "Our Interests in South America from a Military and Economic Standpoint." Mr. Harry W. White, General Secretary of the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A., addressed the May meeting on the subject of "The Growth of American Democracy." At the meeting on June 7th Mr. Maurice T. Harrell, a member of the Board of Managers, spoke on the subject of "The Origin of the American Flag." Following Mr. Harrell's talk a report of the National Congress in New London, Connecticut, was given by Mr. Clarence A. Cook, Central District Vice President General. Mr. Cook, a past president of the Indiana Society, was elected to his second term as Vice President General and also was appointed to the National Executive Committee by President General Kendall. The Indiana Society appreciates this distinctive appointment which has come to one of its valued members.

An interesting talk was made at the August meeting by Mr. Newton H. Keister, Registrar and Genealogist of the Indiana Society, on his impressions of the National Congress and his trip to Boston where he visited with his son who is a student at M. I. T. Mr. Keister is also chairman of the Medals committee and has been active during the year in the presentation of Good Citizenship Medals to students in High Schools and Universities throughout the state and to selected young citizens at C. M. T. C. camps.

The Indiana Society is entering the fall season with several interesting meetings in view, including the celebration of Yorktown Day in October.

SOUTH BEND CHAPTER—President John B. Campbell and other Compatriots provided booklets of the U. S. Constitution and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, which were distributed at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting Constitution Week, with a card enclosed calling attention to them and urging a re-reading of these great documents. The card quoted from the George Rogers Clark Statue at Vincennes, Indiana, "A country that is not worth protecting, is not worth claiming."

Guests of the Kiwanis included compatriots of the SOUTH BEND CHAPTER, S. A. R., American Legion and Sojourners.

Iowa Society

The "Old Continental", Iowa Society's Bulletin to its members, reviews the proceedings of the annual meeting held in April, noted in the July issue of the S. A. R. MAGAZINE. The only meeting held since was the usual mid-summer gathering, held this year at Des Moines, instead of on the campus at Ames as heretofore. The speaker of the day was Chauncy Weaver, of the City's legal staff, who talked on "The Constitution."

The newly elected President, John S. Cutter, of the State Society, has appointed a comprehensive list of committees to cover the activities of the Society and in cooperation with those of the National Society. Prospects are good for enlarged activity and enlarged membership for the coming year.

Kansas Society

Constitution Day was well observed in Topeka, and widely throughout the State, resulting from a proclamation issued by Governor Ratner, in response to appeals of Compatriot A. W. Deatrick, former Vice President General, S. A. R., and others. A radio address by Senator Capper, in which he gave credit to the work of the late S. A. R. Compatriot David L. Pierson, Founder of Constitution Day, and a radio program sponsored by the D. A. R., with Chief Justice Dawson of the Kansas Court as speaker, and excellent press notices and editorials, brought the anniversary forcefully to public notice.

The Kansas State Society and THOMAS JEFFERSON CHAPTER of Topeka have taken a lively interest in the establishment of the Mulvane Boys' and Girls' Library, and largely through the efforts of State President William A. Biby, funds for equipment were secured and opening ceremonies included in the Constitution Week observance. The Kansas State Society presented a framed picture of the Howard Chandler Christie painting of the Signing of the Constitution, and the local Chapter presented a copy of President Roosevelt's proclamation on the 150th anniversary of Constitution Day. Compatriot Deatrick presented a number of historical volumes.

Louisiana Society

Honor will be paid to a distinguished patriot, Oliver Pollock, an Aide to General Galvez, and agent for the American Colonists in New Orleans, whose grave will be marked under the combined auspices of the Louisiana Society and of the D. A. R. and through the active efforts of Colonel

C. Robert Churchill, former President of the State Society. A government headstone has already been procured and has for some months been awaiting opportunity for proper placing in the old burial ground of the Pollock family at Pinckneyville, Mississippi, in the Episcopal churchyard of that place.

As soon as the stone is properly set and arrangements can be made, dedicatory ceremonies will be conducted.

Massachusetts Society

State Society offices were closed for several weeks during the summer, but the usual mid-summer activities of the Society went forward and were well attended. On July 2d, a special religious service was held on the U. S. Frigate "Constitution," at the Boston Navy Yard.

On July 15th, at Storowton, West Springfield, the GEORGE WASHINGTON CHAPTER of Springfield was host at a luncheon meeting at the Eastern States Fairgrounds; on Saturday, August 12th, members attended a fine meeting at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, with DUKES COUNTY CHAPTER acting as host. This was the annual Field Day Meet of the Massachusetts Society and neighboring state societies of New England were invited to participate. A goodly delegation from the Connecticut Society attended. President Arthur C. Dow of the Massachusetts Society and other State officers attended all the above meetings, which were encouraging in numbers and enthusiasm.

The Massachusetts Society made the usual presentation of R. O. T. C. Medals this year, two medals being awarded to students in the units at Harvard University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston University, and Massachusetts State College one, to a member of the Naval Unit at Harvard University; and four at Fort Devens at the end of the summer training camp. President Dow presented the medals at Harvard, B. U., Mass. State, and Fort Devens. Past President Currier represented the Society on June 22nd when the award was made at the Harvard Naval R. O. T. C. unit; and Past President Patten made the presentations at M. I. T. on May 12th.

Good Citizenship Medals were awarded to the outstanding student from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the Citizens' Military Training Camps at Fort Adams, R. I., Fort Devens, Mass., Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and Fort McKinley, Maine.

Washington and Franklin Medals were awarded in the high schools and academies of Massachusetts for excellence in the study of United States History. Approximately two hundred and fifty of these awards were made this year.

Monthly luncheon dates for the fall season to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, Boston, will be September 20, October 11, and November 8, when interesting speakers will be presented. At the September meeting, Compatriot Edward Dana of the Boston Elevated R. R. was the speaker. The Massachusetts Society has noted with deep sorrow the passing of three devoted and honored members: former President General Francis Henry Appleton, on April 5, former Vice President General Burton H. Wiggin, August 23, and State Vice President Irving S. Brooks, formerly President and Secretary of the George Washington Chapter at Springfield, who died July 4th.

Michigan Society

DETROIT CHAPTER—Constitution Day was celebrated on September 18, at a luncheon at the Hotel Statler, President Marquis E. Shattuck presiding. The guest speaker was Professor Dwight L. Dumond, Ph.D., professor of history at the University of Michigan, who discussed "Neutrality vs. War." A general discussion ensued.

President Marion F. Barker, of the State Society, was presented with the Official Insignia of the S. A. R. by Vice President Addis, and new members of the Chapter were presented by Secretary R. E. Van Syckle.

On Saturday, September 16th, the Chapter participated in the Young Citizens' Day at Belle Isle, Detroit, welcoming these new voters to full status as American citizens under the Stars and Stripes, at peace. On the opposite side of the Detroit River, under the Union Jack, the Canadian Highlanders were mobilizing for war!

DETROIT CHAPTER regretfully reports the decease on June 16th of Compatriot Albert E. Stewart, a veteran of the Civil War, credited with many civic services, and descendant of early Michigan pioneers.

Missouri Society

The Good Citizenship Medals were awarded to the trainee of each company of the C. M. T. C. stationed at Jefferson Barracks. The recipients were chosen for dependability, co-operation, leadership, patriotism and clean speech as well as personal habits. The presentation was made by J. Alonzo Matthews, Executive Vice-President, on the morning of August 8th at the closing exercises of the camp, with an enrollment of 1400 fine young men from Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois. Colonel Harry B. Crea, new Commandant of the Barracks, presided. The following student soldiers received awards from the Missouri State Society: Herbert A. Weiss, St. Louis; Ray G. Stock, St. Louis; Harold Rolf, North City, Ill.; William Swanberg, Quincy, Ill.; J. Earl Turner, Robinson, Ill.; Adolph Lauterbach, Bartonville, Ill.; Bobley D. Evans, Casey, Ill.; Clyde L. Flynn, Elizabeth-town, Ill.; John L. Daius, Mt. Olive, Ill.; Dorwin M. Barr, Beecher City, Ill.

On June 14th, Flag Day, an appeal was sent out to all patriotic organizations in the locality by the Missouri State Society to request the observance of this day set apart for celebrating the birth of our Flag, and to have a general display of the Stars and Stripes. This year marks the forty-ninth observance of this important day and was created through the efforts of the Sons of the American Revolution.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Managers, the new chairman on membership, Compatriot Reid A. Burnett, outlined an active program for bringing new members into the Society and to create a greater interest in the activities of the organization. Plans were also considered for the celebration of Constitution Day with appropriate programs in the schools with noted speakers from the community. Committees are now engaged in the preparation of our Annual Banquet commemorating the victory at Yorktown. President John Rush Powell presided. A resolution of protest was adopted with reference to the proposed change of date of Thanksgiving Day.

Nebraska Society

LINCOLN CHAPTER—A Constitution Day meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce on September 14th, at which the new President, Hibbard W. Noble, presided, and introduced the speaker, Homer C. Rose, of Omaha, recently returned from a visit to his brother, a member of the U. S. Consular Service at Berlin. Mr. Rose, whose application to the Society is pending, compared the privileges of Americans under our great Constitution to the citizens of totalitarian states. Vice President, General Sterling F. Mutz was also a guest of honor at the meeting, and the presentation of certificates of membership to the five new compatriots was a feature of the gathering.

New Jersey Society

The bequests of the late David L. Pierson, Founder of Constitution Day, given to the New Jersey Society and to a few of the Chapters in this State have been received during the summer. Exercises were held at the grave of Compatriot Pierson on September 17th, under the direction of President Blanchard.

The New Jersey Society is following the example of some of other state societies in recommending the organization of a Junior group, in an effort to foster the interest of younger eligibles, and is about to form an informal social group to include younger members of the S. A. R. and D. A. R. under the age of thirty-five, with an associate membership of wives or husbands ineligible. This plan is working out so successfully in other societies, it no doubt will be equally so with New Jersey. Plans for the fall include a social visit to West Point and to other points of historic and current interest. It is hoped in this way to draw in a large number of eligible young people eventually into the New Jersey State Society.

On August 22d, National Trustee, H. Prescott Beach, delivered an interesting historical address on "The Coming of the Settlers and their Goods in August, 1639," at the Tercentenary celebration, Milford, Connecticut. Compatriot Beach also contributed an article on "Present Day Defense of the Constitution," to the Montclair Times, which appeared during Constitution Day Week.

ORANGE CHAPTER—On July 4th, the Chapter dedicated a plaque and boulder in memory of Capt. Thomas Williams, a patriot of Revolutionary note, on the property of Compatriot Charles A. Lindsley. President Edgar Williamson, Jr., presented the tablet and it was accepted by Mayor Charles H. Martens for the City. Credit is due the Committee, headed by Compatriot Ross K. Cook, for their work in this regard.

MONTCLAIR CHAPTER—President Clarence V. Price was appointed by Montclair's mayor for the third year to act as Chairman of Montclair's Independence Day Committee. The principal address was delivered by Chancellor-General Smith L. Multer. National Trustee H. Prescott Beach, representing the National Society on this program, also spoke.

During the week preceding the dedication of Ringwood Manor, Ringwood, New Jersey, the officers of the Chapter arranged for a window display of the book entitled "The Forgotten General" in a prominent store, along with a large map showing the automobile route to Ringwood. General Robert Erskine, who was the Forgotten General, lived at Ringwood, and it was there that he made the maps for all of Washington's campaigns during the Revolution. The Manor House and about 225 acres of land have been presented to the State of New Jersey, and it is now open as a State Park. Many of the Chapter's members attended the dedication services on June 17, 1939. Past State President D. Stanton Hammond was active in the arrangements for this dedication.

Compatriot Frank J. Hutchinson has been appointed to a permanent Flag Committee for Montclair. A concert is planned to raise funds for the purchase of new flags and brackets to be placed on the trolley poles along Bloomfield Avenue. These brackets will hold two American Flags, one State of New Jersey and one Town of Montclair Banner.

NEWARK CHAPTER—During the summer, members have been actively engaged in recruiting prospects for membership, and good results are expected to follow. Compatriot Dr. Earl L. Wood, whose interesting address on "The Practice of Medicine During Revolutionary Times," mentioned in a previous issue, has been called upon to deliver this talk before a number of the Chapters of the State.

MONMOUTH CHAPTER, Asbury Park—The annual meeting of the Chapter was held on June 22nd. Members elected to office were as follows: President, Charles P. Hidden; Vice President, Theodore W. Brewer; Secretary and Treasurer, Henry D. Brinley; Historian, John D. Alden; and Chaplain, Joseph Holmes. The Chapter was honored by the attendance of Compatriots Harold M. Blanchard, President of the State Society, and Willard S. Muchmore, a former President of the NEWARK CHAPTER. President Blanchard's address was a rallying call against the forces of radicalism, entitled "Practical Patriotism Against Isms" and Compatriot Muchmore spoke on "Racial Origins."

On June 25th a celebration sponsored by the American Legion was held at the Old Tennent Church, at which a number of members were present with the Chapter colors.

Compatriot John D. Alden gave an interesting talk before the Kiwanis Club at Toms River, at the Bound Brook Revolutionary Camp for the West Fields D. A. R. and S. A. R. Chapters, and at a group meeting of four Monmouth County Chapters of the D. A. R.

PASSAIC VALLEY CHAPTER, Summit—Members participated in Memorial Day services held at the War Memorial in Summit by a group of patriotic societies under the leadership of the American Legion. At a meeting held on June 23rd, the Chapter heard from two of its representatives at the recent Congress of the National Society, Compatriots John D. Hood and Harry F. Brewer, who described the proceedings. Particular interest was centered on the work of the National Americanization Committee, of which Compatriot Brewer is the Chairman, and on local activities along similar lines which are conducted under his leadership.

In conformity with custom, the 159th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield was celebrated by a public church service conducted under the auspices of the Chapter at the Presbyterian Church at Springfield, on June 25th. The parading of the flags of this and other patriotic societies recalled the dramatic place taken by this church in that memorable engagement. President Ruford Franklin presided and an address was given by Rev. Dr. Lester A. Clee of Newark.

On July 4th the Chapter made a public appearance with its colors, and the National Flag was raised with appropriate ceremonies on the flagpole in Bonnel Park, which had previously been presented to the City by the Chapter.

WEST FIELDS CHAPTER—On July 4th the annual Independence Sunrise Service of Westfield, inaugurated by the Chapter in 1922, was held at Mindowaskin Park. The reading of the Declaration of Independence, Community Singing, a patriotic address and Band Concert were the outstanding features of the celebration.

On September 22nd the annual Constitution Day exercises under the auspices of the West Fields Chapter, D. A. R., were held in which members of the WEST FIELDS CHAPTER, S. A. R. participated. Mr. H. W. Elson, President of the Plainfield Historical Society delivered an address on the "Constitution", and Compatriot Albert R. Sampson exhibited a collection of early books and documents.

ABRAHAM CLARK CHAPTER, Roselle—In cooperation with the Abraham Clark Chapter, D. A. R. plans for an Abraham Clark Week, beginning October 16th, during which a series of entertainments will be given, are now being made. These affairs will raise funds for building a Replica of the Abraham Clark Home, as a memorial and a civic attraction to Roselle. A museum and historical shrine will be maintained for the public.

CAPTAIN ABRAHAM GODWIN CHAPTER, Paterson—The Cadmus Ford Bridge bill has passed the Assembly of New Jersey. This will honor the site where Washington and his soldiers crossed a ford near the Cadmus home in (old) Bergen County. Tentative plans for an elaborate celebration at an appropriate date are being made.

President Edward L. Watson is arranging for a patriotic gathering at Paterson wherein celebrated speakers will give addresses and the appeal made to the youth of this section, the idea of "Americanizing" such and all who may enjoy the affair.

Empire State Society

NEWBURGH CHAPTER—Under the auspices of this Chapter, impressive ceremonies were held at Newburgh and adjacent Hudson Valley points in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Clinton, first Governor of the State of New York and Vice President of the United States under Jefferson and Madison.

Governor Clinton Statue at Newburgh Ceremonies, July 26 1939

President William E. DeWitt, of NEWBURGH CHAPTER, was Chairman of the observances at Newburgh, beginning in the morning of July 26th, and this program was followed by one at Little Britain, N. Y. conducted under the auspices of the National Temple Hill Association, with its President, Rev. A. Elwood Corning, as Chairman, who is the former President of NEWBURGH CHAPTER. Here a wreath was placed at the monument which marks the site of the old Clinton Homestead. The speakers on these two programs were the Hon. Jacob A. Decker, and the Hon. Elmer H. Lemon, respectively.

At Fort Clinton, near Bear Mountain, further ceremonies were held with William H. Carr, Assistant Curator of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, in charge and final ceremonies were conducted at Gen. Knox's Headquarters at New Windsor, under the auspices of the Historical Society of Newburgh Bay and the Highlands. At Ft. Clinton a flag pole was dedicated on the west redoubt, and an award in an essay contest was made at New Windsor.

These various ceremonies were participated in jointly by the several Historical Societies, and the patriotic and hereditary societies of the vicinity, our own S. A. R. and the D. A. R. leading prominently, the entire celebration constituting an important observance and one fully justified by the distinguished services rendered by the subject of the commemoration, the Honorable George Clinton.

BUFFALO CHAPTER—Fall activities were inaugurated by an out-door meeting at the Meadowbrook Country Club on September 13th, when members from the newly organized Chapter at Niagara Falls and other neighborhoods were cordially invited, with their ladies, and a general "get-acquainted" program was enjoyed. Golf, bridge, soft ball and other games were enjoyed in the afternoon, followed by dinner, a "Song Fest" and dancing which filled the evening. A most successful and enjoyable day resulted.

SYRACUSE CHAPTER—Regular monthly meetings have continued throughout the summer, the September gathering being held on the 6th, when plans for the observance of Constitution Day were completed, and an informal tour of Historical Markers in the vicinity was outlined and arranged by Compatriot Dr. Edward J. Wynkoop.

Letters were addressed to all clergymen of the City urging special cognizance of Constitution Day in their sermons, as it fell upon a Sunday.

Ohio Society

WILLIAM CRAWFORD CHAPTER, Portsmouth—This newest Chapter of the Ohio Society was instituted and Charter finally approved and presented at the meeting of the Ohio State Conference held at Athens, April 28th and 29th, mention of which appeared in the July issue of the S. A. R. Magazine. At this meeting Compatriot Samuel P. Adams was presented with a silver cup recognizing his individual achievement in procuring sixteen new applications for the nucleus of this Chapter. Russell K. McCurdy is the President, and Dr. S. P. Adams, Secretary of the group.

WESTERN RESERVE SOCIETY, Cleveland—Flag Day was observed by this Chapter jointly with the Al Koran Temple, Mystic Shrine, of which Compatriot Charles H. Fisher is an active member and he presided over the joint program.

The Colonial Guard of Western Reserve Society acted as escort to the guests of honor and a number of members of the Chapter were in uniform, including several Past Presidents. It was unanimously voted to make this joint celebration an annual event for Flag Day observance.

President Fisher presented a Good Citizenship Medal to Donald Kraushaar at the graduation exercises of Chagrin Falls High School in June.

On July 22nd, President Fisher entertained the WESTERN RESERVE SOCIETY and ladies at his country home near Cleveland, when about seventy guests enjoyed his hospitality.

CONSTITUTION CHAPTER, Mansfield—Two early pioneers in Richland County were honored by this Chapter and the local D. A. R. Chapter on May 28th, when the graves of William Oldfield and Samuel Phipps, Sr., were marked and dedicated in recognition of their Revolutionary military service and patriotism. Both were early settlers and played important parts in founding the Ohio settlement. Many descendants of these pioneers participated in the ceremonies.

A picnic outing was held on September 9th at Erie Beach.

ANTHONY WAYNE CHAPTER, Toledo—Officers of this Chapter were recently elected as follows: President, L. Wallace Hoffman; Vice Presidents, Russell J. Schunk, Harold J. Pettit; Secretary, Austin Smith; Registrar, William E. Crabbs; Treasurer, Carl M. Eyster; Historian, Cecil Stickney; Genealogist, Charles R. Barefoot; Chaplain, John E. McFadden; Flag Custodian, George K. Apple.

CINCINNATI CHAPTER—Flag Day was celebrated on June 10th at the Country Club, when Dean Raymond Walters, President of the University of Cincinnati, was the speaker of the day. On July 8th, the Chapter made a pilgrimage to North Bend, where a wreath was placed on the tomb of William Henry Harrison, and Compatriot Anthony J. Dunlap made an address.

Constitution Day was celebrated on September 18th and plans for observance of Yorktown Day on October 19th, and Young America Day on November 17th, also "Bill of Rights Day" on December 18th, are being perfected, in accordance with the Chapter's announced program of "Re-Dedication," for this 50th anniversary year.

The Constitution Day program included a dinner meeting at which Compatriot Dr. Milton W. Brown was the speaker on "The Malady of War and Its Constitutional Cure."

CINCINNATI CHAPTER deeply regrets the passing, in June, of Reverend Edward P. Whallon, a devoted compatriot who was in his 90th year. Dr. Whallon had for years been Chairman and attended to the distribution of the large number of Good Citizenship Medals which the Chapter has sponsored, as well as having served in several offices. Another devoted compatriot, Lawrence J. Bradford, whose death occurred August 21st, is felt to be a great loss to the Society.

RICHARD MONTGOMERY CHAPTER, Dayton—A Marker at the grave of John Mast, Jr., was dedicated on September 17th, in cooperation with the D. A. R. Chapter at Troy, Ohio. The grave is located in the West Branch Friends cemetery where also lies the grandsire of former President Herbert Hoover. The Honorable Mason Douglass delivered the memorial address, which also was a tribute to Constitution Day observance.

JOHN STARK CHAPTER, Canton—Constitution Day was observed with an hour's radio program which included a dramatization of the signing of the Constitution. The Chapter distributed 200 copies of the pamphlet "Our Government—How Founded" to the public schools.

The radio program proved to be a very outstanding contribution and the sketch was written by President Harter of the John Stark Chapter, and brought to life James Madison, Rufus King, and others who signed the Constitution of the United States. The characters were enacted by members of the Canton Players Guild, which has an enviable reputation for ability. President Harter also contributed an address on "Our Constitution."

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK CHAPTER, Springfield—A Constitution Day meeting was held September 21st at Hotel Shawnee with Judge Mason Douglass of Dayton as the guest speaker. President Forrest Runyan presided at the dinner and program. On September 18th a program was conducted at the Roosevelt Junior High School with Dean B. H. Pershing as speaker, and on September 22nd, Dr. Paul H. Heisey of the Chapter spoke at the examination of fifteen newly inducted U. S. citizens and presented each with a copy of the U. S. Constitution.

Oregon Society

Constitution Day was observed at Portland with a dinner meeting on the evening of September 17th, at the University Club, to which the ladies were invited, when the speaker was Professor R. F. Thompson of the faculty of Willamette University.

SOUTHERN OREGON CHAPTER, Medford—A dinner meeting was held at Grants Pass, when the compatriots of this Chapter which includes this City as well as Medford, its headquarters, and neighboring communities. A splendid attendance greeted the speaker, Rev. H. H. Mitchell, whose address was inspiring. State President Quincy Scott of Portland was present with other State and Chapter officers.

Pennsylvania Society

A "Speakers' Committee" has been appointed by State President Fisher, the members of which are to be available for addresses at patriotic, civic, educational and other groups on Revolutionary historical anniversaries. Captain J. Clark Mansfield is Chairman of the groups for Western Pennsylvania, and Compatriot Samuel W. Fernberger, for the Eastern section of the State.

World War Medals have recently been awarded to Compatriots Major Robert W. Ewing, J. B. Carlock, Fred C. Houston, Lt. Commander Herman W. Johnson, Cyrus McMichael and Bryant Wiest.

The State Board of Management has appointed Compatriot David W. Rial of Pittsburgh as Editor of the Pennsylvania S. A. R. News, the Bulletin of the State Society, who assumed his duties with the July 20th issue. The appointment fills the vacancy caused by the recent death of Compatriot Lewis W. Walkinshaw, former State Society Historian who had so ably edited the Bulletin. Compatriot Rial's abilities in historical research and education made him the unanimous choice of the Committee, and his first issue of the S. A. R. News testifies to their good judgment.

The two newest Chapters of the Pennsylvania Society, JUNIATA at Lewistown, and GEN. ANTHONY WAYNE at Beaver Falls, were inaugurated on May 25th and June 15th, respectively, with impressive programs and fine speakers. Charters were presented by the installing State officers in each case, and much activity is expected from these new groups.

PITTSBURGH CHAPTER—Good Citizenship Medals were presented to Eighth Grade pupils of each school of the Pittsburgh district by this Chapter at the commencement program. Dr. William A. Yeager, Professor of Education of the University of Pittsburgh and a member of PHILADELPHIA

CHAPTER, made a fine address to the 500 pupils assembled for the occasion, and the medals were presented by Chapter President, Dr. H. Ryerson Decker.

GENERAL ARTHUR ST. CLAIR CHAPTER, Dormont—A pleasant mid-summer meeting was held by this Chapter with the Bower Hill Chapter D. A. R. at which Compatriot John R. Haudenshield presided. President George F. McEwen visited the grave of General St. Clair on Memorial Day and placed a wreath. The Chapter also placed wreaths and flags on the Revolutionary graves in the vicinity. Good Citizenship Medals were awarded to pupils of Greentree School in May.

VALLEY FORGE CHAPTER, Bethlehem—A bronze Marker was dedicated by this Chapter near Kulpsville, on September 16th, commemorating the 9-day encampment of General Washington and his army following the battle of Germantown, October, 1777. The Marker was the gift of the Chapter President, J. Erdman Cope.

Following the ceremonies, a Constitution Day dinner meeting was held at Spring Mountain House nearby, a wreath having first been placed at the grave of General Nash and three other patriots near the camp site.

A brief business meeting was held when a report of the New London Congress was given by President Cope and Compatriot Henry S. Landes, new members were greeted, and delegates to the forthcoming State Society meeting in October appointed. The guest speaker at the dinner was the Rev. Charles Du Bell of St. Simeon's Church, Philadelphia.

South Carolina Society

The State Society held its annual meeting at Columbia on September 15th, and made this its observance of Constitution Day. General Charles P. Summerall was the speaker and Colonel James D. Watson, Vice President General for the South Atlantic District, was in attendance and spoke of the work of the National Society, and especially his efforts in reviving the weaker societies of the southern tier.

CITADEL CHAPTER, Charleston—This newest Chapter of the South Carolina Society, inaugurated with much enthusiasm under the leadership of General Summerall and others of the faculty of The Citadel, had an unfortunate set-back during the recent epidemic of infantile paralysis when the school was under quarantine. Activities are now being resumed, and an active campaign for increased membership is under way.

WILLIAM BRATTON CHAPTER, York—This Chapter is being actively revived under the leadership of President Walter B. Moore, and members and former members were the guests of the President at a meeting held last May. Compatriots Albert M. Grist and Arthur T. Hart were elected to the offices of President and Secretary respectively, and will take the lead with former President Moore in building up the membership and restoring former members and have pledged a resuming of regular meetings and activity.

Tennessee Society

JOHN SEVIER CHAPTER, Chattanooga—A mid-summer dinner meeting was held at the Fairyland Club on August 12, 1939, at which President Lee Read presided, and at which he was unanimously re-elected to serve for the ensuing year. Mr. Lee made a report of the Golden Anniversary Congress of the National Society which he had attended. State President, Arthur Crownover, Jr., was guest of honor, as was Mrs. William Franklin Stone, President of the National Society, Daughters of American Colonists, who brought the greetings of her Society.

President Crownover extended an invitation to all to attend the meeting of the Tennessee State Society to be held in Nashville in December, which will celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Tennessee S. A. R.

Texas Society

Constitution Day was observed at Fort Worth with the local Chapter, MAJOR K. M. VAN ZANDT, taking the lead, with a fine mass meeting and civic and military parade on. The cooperation of the D.A.R. and other patriotic and hereditary organizations was featured, and the speaker of the occasion was Vice President General Paul P. Pinkerton, of Oklahoma, of the South Mississippi District.

Special honor was given to the new citizens, both native born and naturalized. Community singing and vocal solos featured the program of a most enthusiastic gathering.

Utah Society

The Utah Society has been progressively active during the summer months under the able leadership of President Howard C. Means.

Medals have been presented at the Colleges and High Schools of the State, also at the various Training Camps. This is constructive work and has proven to have definite value in the inculcation of patriotic principles in the youth of Utah.

A number of the compatriots of the Society have visited either New York's World's Fair or the Golden Gate, San Francisco Exposition, Hon.

Chauncey P. Overfield being a member of the New York World's Fair Commission and Hon. George J. Gibson being a member of the Golden Gate Exposition Commission from the State of Utah. Our compatriots speak highly of the patriotic ideals which these expositions seek to enunciate and great praise is due President General Messmore Kendall for his practical generosity in erecting Washington Hall at the New York World's Fair.

Compatriot William L. Bulkley was unanimously elected Associate Host at the Utah Building at the New York Fair by the Utah World's Fair Commission and in such capacity has had pleasant contact with many compatriots from various states who have visited the Fair. The Utah Society enters into the fall and winter season with thoroughly stimulated activity.

Virginia Society

The semi-annual meeting of the State Society was held in historic Williamsburg in observance of Constitution Day, on September 16th, with THOMAS NELSON, JR., CHAPTER acting as host. Members from all points and chapters in the state accompanied by ladies and guests including the state and local chapter officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution assembled to enjoy the attractive program.

A business session was held in the morning at Williamsburg Inn when reports of chapter activities were received with an address of welcome by Compatriot William T. Stauffer. State President William I. Gilkeson presided at this meeting and the luncheon which followed, after which members and guests enjoyed a patriotic program. Distinguished guests were introduced, and the speaker of the day, Mr. G. Ridgely Sappington, of Baltimore, former Chancellor General of the National Society, made the special address for the occasion. Solos by Dr. Luther A. Richmond, Supervisor of Music of the State Educational Department, were features of the program.

The passing on September 8th of Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin brought sorrow to Virginia Compatriots and to all other friends. The work of Dr. Goodwin in the restoration of historic Williamsburg is widely known and acclaimed. In failing health for some months past, Dr. Goodwin until recently had been continuously active in the work he had so much at heart. He was a devoted member of the Virginia Society and always active in its interest.

NORFOLK CHAPTER—Fifteen Good Citizenship Medals were presented to students of the High Schools of Norfolk and vicinity at the end of the June term. The Chapter has gained fifteen new members since January and has a roster of 109. The presentation of a United States Flag to the new Granby Street High School has been one of the special activities of the Chapter and was in readiness for the opening of the new building September 1st. President Frank D. Beckham and Secretary Bellamy with other officers and members attended the presentation. Contributions covering the cost of the Flag were voluntary from the members of the Chapter.

Washington State Society

An Independence Day observance was sponsored by this Society jointly with the D. A. R. when the "Spirit of '76" was portrayed in the civic parade of July 4th, Seattle. Holding place of honor as advance escort to the Governor, the portrayal was impressive and brought much favorable publicity. Compatriot Gerity was the Flag bearer, and the musicians were furnished by the Seattle unit.

Officers of the Washington State Society were recently elected as follows: President, Clarence Gere; Vice Presidents, John W. Bell, Leavenworth Kershaw, H. F. Willey; Secretary, Kenneth Chaney; Registrar, Judge Walter B. Beals; Assistant Secretary, W. E. Cass; Assistant Treasurer, J. L. Clift; Chaplain, Rev. Mortimer D. Stocker; His-

There is hardly a week passes that the Secretary General does not receive letters from many parts of the country asking for information as to how to join the Sons of the American Revolution. In many instances these letters come from places where we have an active chapter or even the headquarters of the State Society. Of course these letters are answered at once and a copy is sent to the State or Chapter Secretary. Many new members are obtained this way, but it is felt that if more publicity were given to the activities of the local societies and a constant effort made to give the name of the local officers and their addresses, prospective members would communicate with them and our membership would increase accordingly.

West Virginia Society

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK CHAPTER, Clarksburg—At the annual meeting of the State Society, held April 15th, and briefly noted in the July S. A. R. MAGAZINE, for which this Chapter was host, plans were developed for the active promotion of the George Washington Highway movement, efforts toward which were launched in the bi-centennial year of 1932. The recent session of the West Virginia legislature passed a resolution directing the state highway commission to mark and designate U. S. Route 50 as The George Washington Highway. This will be a link in the continuous highway from Washington to San Francisco.

The local Chapter under the leadership of President Robert R. Wilson has been active in furthering this movement, and will take action in securing suitable historical markers along the route.

Good Citizenship Medals contributed by the State President, Compatriot E. G. Smith, were presented by GEORGE ROGERS CLARK CHAPTER to the high schools of several West Virginia counties. The Chapter has also sponsored the foundation of a section for patriotic and historical works in the Clarksburg Public Library.

On October 15th, the Secretary General will attend dedication ceremonies of a Memorial Tablet to Edward Jackson, Revolutionary patriot of South Carolina, from whom many of our members are descended. The tablet is being placed jointly by the S.A.R. and D.A.R. at Tryon, Georgia.

On the afternoon of October 14th, the Secretary General will be present and assist in the organization of a new S.A.R. Chapter at LaFayette, Georgia, many of the organizing members of which will be the descendants of Edward Jackson. Compatriot David D. J. Myers of the Georgia Society will accompany Mr. Steele for these events.

Col. Watson, Vice President General for the South Atlantic District will also attend.

Burton Howe Wiggin 1866-1939 Vice President General, 1925-7

Word of the passing of former Vice President General Burton Howe Wiggin on August 23rd will bring deep regret to the many compatriots of the Society to whom he was well known.

Mr. Wiggin, a lifelong resident of Lowell, Massachusetts, served the local Chapter as its President, and was a Charter Member. He was active in the affairs of the Massachusetts State Society, having been Vice President for three terms before becoming State President, which office he held for two terms. He was elected Vice President General for the New England District in 1925 at the Congress held at Swampscott, for which he had been the Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

The Massachusetts and National Societies will suffer a distinct loss in the passing of this honored Compatriot and extend warm sympathy to the bereaved members of his family, who were often seen with him at our National Congresses.

Leland Hume 1864-1939 Vice President General 1931-32

We regret to record the passing on August 29th of an honored Compatriot, Leland Hume, who served the National Society as Vice President General in 1931 and 32, and who was President of the Tennessee State Society and served it in many other capacities.

Mr. Hume entered the Society on the record of John Bradford, in Massachusetts service. He was a high official of the Bell Telephone Company in Tennessee.
