The President General's Message

COMPATRIOTS:

It is, of course, unnecessary to say to any patriotic American that our first job and our immediate job is to win the war and that whatever is necessary to that end will be given willingly and without stint. So far as our Society is concerned, I am sure I expressed its attitude in my letter to the President which was published in the January issue of our Magazine, but I cannot help stressing the individual responsibility and duty of every American, including every member of the Sons of the American Revolution, to contribute to that part of the war effort where his contribution will be of the greatest value. Time and place and individual ability must decide that for each one.

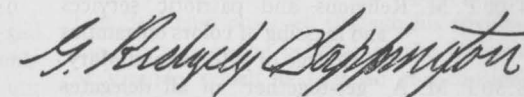

And speaking of individual responsibility, let me give you the words of a President who led this Country through the terrors of a civil war. Lincoln said: "I will only say that to the salvation of the Union there needs but one single thing—the hearts of a people like yours. When the people rise in mass in behalf of the Union and the liberties of this Country, truly may it be said, 'the gates of hell cannot prevail against them.' In all trying positions in which I shall be placed, and doubtless I shall be placed in many such, my reliance will be upon you and the people of the United States; and I wish you to remember, now and forever, that it is your business, and not mine; that if the Union of these States and the liberties of this people shall be lost, it is but little to any one man of fifty-two years of age, but a great deal to the thirty millions of people who inhabit these United States, and to their posterity in all coming time. It is your business to rise up and preserve the Union and liberty for yourselves, and not for me. I appeal to you again to constantly bear in mind that not with politicians, not with Presidents, not with office-seekers, but with you, is the question: Shall the Union and shall the liberties of this Country be preserved to the latest generation?"

Let us never forget for one moment the great responsibility we have for the millions of our young men who are going into the battle. More than ever before they need and must have the very best equipment. For lack of that many thousands of our boys were killed and maimed in the last World War, and it must not happen again. They will be fighting on the oceans of the world and on many distant shores. Let it never be said that they were not furnished with an abundant supply of the best tools in the world to do their job. Anything or anybody or any group who in any way interferes with that should have short shrift at the hands of America.

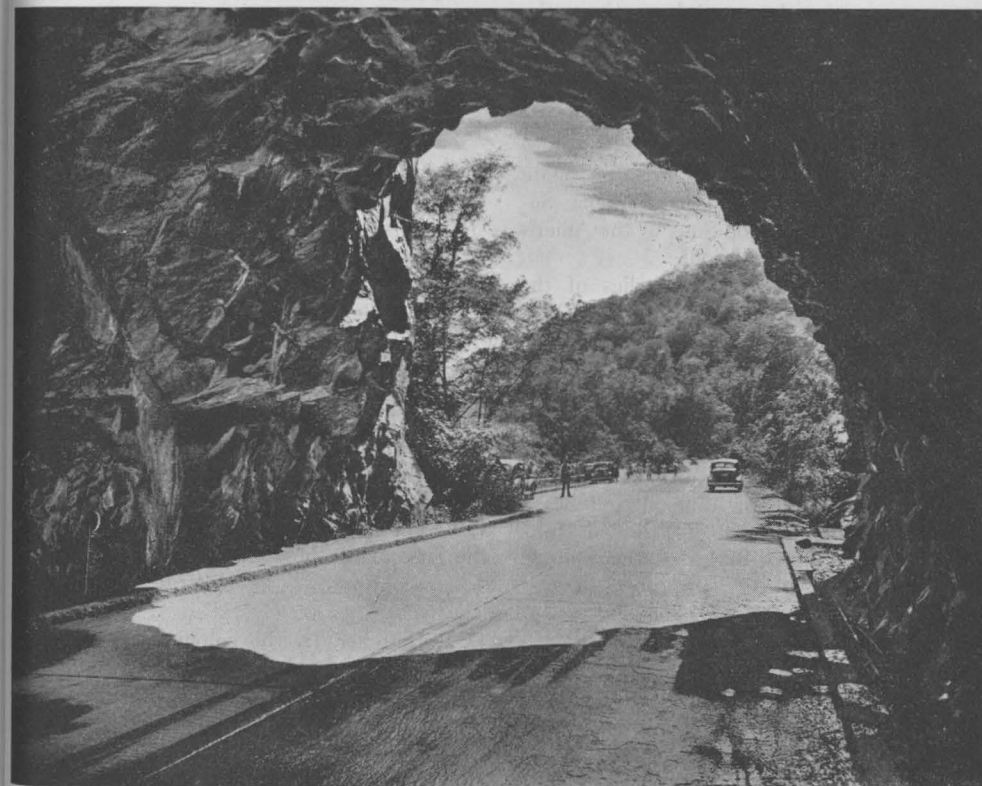

In fighting what is really a global war coordination of the fighting forces is, of course, necessary. It is equally necessary that the terms and conditions of such coordination cannot be publicly discussed. But there is apprehension in many quarters that this necessity of wartime conditions may be used as an opportunity to go beyond the military phase and bring about some kind of political union between the United States and Great Britain. You will recognize the scheme of "Union Now".

That is something about which there should be no secrecy. It is the pet project of a small group of people and nothing could be more unfair than to take advantage of a nation plunged into war and, with every citizen willing to give all he has and do whatever he is told to do to win that war, to use that attitude to slip over any such political project while the people of the Country are not looking. There are those who believe that a political union of some sort between the British Empire and our Country would be to the best interest of our Country and of the world, and they have a perfect right to argue for it and to try to convince the citizens of America that this should be done, even though it means the relinquishment by our Country of its sovereignty, but they have no right to use present conditions to put it over. This is not the time to discuss it and this is not the time to make any such commitments; the most important thing at this time is to win the war and not use present conditions to slip over pet projects of any group. To be blunt, any attempt to use the war emergency to fasten upon our nation any pet project of political or social groups is nothing more nor less than sabotage, and sabotage of the most dangerous character, because it would create distrust and lack of confidence in our leaders when such trust and confidence is so greatly needed.

President General.

To attend a national Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution is always a privilege, but it will be a greater privilege to attend the one in Williamsburg, which is only six miles from Jamestown, the birthplace of our nation, and only twelve miles from Yorktown, where our independence was won. Reynolds, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. W. T. Old, wife of the President of the Virginia State Society; and Mrs. Archie G. Ryland, wife of the President of Thomas Nelson, Jr., Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

D. Rockefeller, Jr., this colonial capital of Virginia has been restored to its pristine glory.

The Committees, the City of Williamsburg, the College of William and Mary and the Restoration are zealously working to extend you and your wives and guests a genuine welcome.

On Monday, while a complimentary luncheon for officers, delegates and male guests is being sponsored by the Virginia State Society, the Williamsburg Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will entertain the ladies of the Congress. That afternoon the College of William and Mary will give a garden party on the lawn of President Bryan's home in honor of President General and Mrs. Sappington.

All are looking forward with interest to the tour on Tuesday afternoon of the Restoration Buildings and the commemorative services in the House of Burgesses, which has been graciously tendered to us by the Restoration. President Bryan of William and Mary College has consented to speak at this service.

Honorable Colgate Darden, the popular and brilliant Governor of our State, will not only give the address of welcome on behalf of our commonwealth but will also honor us by his presence at the annual banquet Tuesday night.

On Wednesday afternoon an historical tour of Jamestown and Yorktown will climax our activities. The undersigned will be very grateful if those who do not anticipate coming in their automobiles will notify him by mail so that transportation may be provided for those who desire to visit these sacred shrines.

A very interesting post-congress event will be the dedication of a monument in Orange, Virginia, on June 5th to Elder John Leland, eloquent preacher, beloved pastor and influential patriot. Those desiring to attend these exercises can do so on their trip home. When returning, all will be fully repaid by visiting historical Richmond, and from there the Northern Neck of Virginia. After crossing the Downing Bridge, over the Rappahannock River, stop at Mount Airy, the old Tayloe mansion, then continue to Wakefield, the birthplace of George Washington, and Stratford, the home of the Lees. Don't fail to include in your itinerary Monticello, near Charlottesville. From his home on the top of a mountain, Jefferson observed through his spyglasses the progress of the building of the University of Virginia, which he founded and considered a greater achievement than being President of the United States.

Be sure to return by the "Skyline Drive." The unfolding panorama of gorgeous mountain scenery will ever be an oasis in your memory, though you may forget some of the activities of the National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution which met in the restored colonial capital of Virginia in 1942.

Notes and Comments

A most cordial letter of appreciation of the fact of the meeting of the 53rd Congress at Williamsburg has been received by the Committee on Arrangements from Governor Darden of Virginia, in which he expresses himself as feeling it an honor that his State and this historic place has been selected.

Rosettes are now priced at 30 cents each—all officers and compatriots please take notice. In lots of one dozen or more, the price is 25 cents each, plus postage and insurance.

Compatriots planning to go to Williamsburg by automobile are requested to so advise Mr. A. H. Foreman, Chairman of Arrangements, if willing to use their cars for the historical tour. Those coming through Washington are advised to look into the idea of placing their cars on the overnight boat to Norfolk, via the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Co., for a pleasant and restful method.

It has been decided to have annual reports mimeographed for distribution to the delegates at the Williamsburg Congress. In order to do this, reports must be received in the office of the Secretary General by May 1st, if possible—no later than May 8th.

All officers and committee chairmen are hereby requested to furnish their reports in triplicate by the above date, and to select therefrom only such highlights as are of special importance or general interest for oral presentation to the Congress within the time limits.

Credential blanks for the 53rd Congress will be issued to State Secretaries from National Headquarters after April 15. State officers are reminded that a duplicate of their list of delegates is due at the office of the Secretary General, prior to the Congress, and should be sent as soon as possible.

Credentials to National Officers, including National Trustees, are sent directly to these officers from National Headquarters in Washington, and should not be supplied by State officers from the blanks issued to them.

"Drumbeats of American History" the radio program of Pittsburgh Chapter has been succeeded on Pittsburgh Stations by "Heirs Of Liberty".

One of the minor features of "Drumbeats" during its eight years on the air was the presentation of descendants of Revolutionary and Colonial War heroes.

Old Gun Sold for Scrap

"A large coast artillery piece which for years has stood at the head of the grave of Maj. Gen. Daniel Morgan, a Revolutionary War hero, has been sold by Mount Hebron Cemetery for scrap."

The above dispatch from Winchester, Va., appeared in the Washington Star of January 23, 1942 and attention is called to it by Compatriot William A. Miller of the District of Columbia Society.

Compatriot Miller writes as follows:

"Enclosed find a clipping in regard to the sale of the large German Coast Artillery piece which has, since the first World War been the only mark indicating the grave of General Daniel Morgan. This was a most inappropriate monument to the great hero of the celebrated Rifle Corps of the Revolution, and it has been a stumbling block in the way of efforts proposing the erection of a suitable monument.

Congress has lately appropriated the money for an equestrian statue for General Muhlenberg at Woodstock, Virginia; and a similar one would have been appropriated for General Morgan, if the sea coast gun had not been in the way. Ever since his death the only thing to mark his grave is a small flat stone broken in many pieces, and most of it carried away for souvenirs. The present neglected grave is a disgrace to the Nation.

One who looks at the heroic figure in hunting costume of Daniel Morgan in Trumbull's picture of Saratoga in the United States Capitol will be inspired at the sight."

Mr. Miller points out that if the Sons of the American Revolution would urge the erection of a suitable monument to General Morgan it would put the Society in the vanguard in proposing an appropriate memorial to this great Revolutionary hero.

We suggest our Virginia Compatriots, especially, take this suggestion to heart and see what can be done, although it should be a matter of pride and interest to all patriotic Americans to further this pertinent suggestion.—Ed.

The Empire State Society Offers Practical Suggestions

At a recent meeting the Board of Managers of the Empire State Society adopted unanimously the report made by its special committee appointed to survey and recommend specific plans and objects that might be in turn recommended to the several chapters and compatriots throughout the State of New York as suitable and practical activities in which they might appropriately engage during the war period, either as units or individuals.

The report was most comprehensive and offered practical suggestions which we here submit for the interest of other groups of our National Society. We quote liberally but in part only:

"First, our country being at war, our first concern both as an organization and as individuals, is to be of the greatest possible service in winning the war. The administration's announced program must be carried out in full.

"We find that it is the desire of the Office of Civilian Defense that the objects and purposes of societies such as ours be in no way neglected during the war.

"It being the thought that the whole-hearted pursuit of such objects and purposes by those who belong to the society assists in maintaining morale and the proper spirit amongst the people.

"It is very clear where our duty lies. Ours is a hereditary, patriotic society. Our ancestors were engaged in war efforts and their descendants had been active in the wars since the Revolution. Therefore, the people at large who are vitally and anxiously interested in civilian protection look to us for that which is urgently needed, that is, leadership.

"As an end toward attaining our objects and purposes, much can be accomplished this year through the intensified celebration of important patriotic anniversaries in accordance with carefully prepared plans. This will have these beneficial effects and possibly others: It will stimulate and interest our own membership and, properly done, will be of great benefit to the people at large. The people cannot be reminded too frequently that we have the best form of government yet discovered and the level of our citizenship is necessarily higher than that of any other existing country of comparable size. Ours is the best country in the world.

"The plans for Civilian protection of the Office of Civilian Defense are not self-executing. It must be the first duty of each and every one of our chapters to make sure that there is a local volunteer council for civilian protection. If none such exists, our chapter should start one. It is better to start such an organization not under our society name but under a name indicating the special purpose for which the organization is formed. The methods of doing this will differ as the localities differ. As good a name as any is 'The Citizens Volunteer

Council,' the blank being filled in with the name of the city or town in which the chapter is located. Experience so far has demonstrated that the first committees set up should probably be a Ways and Means Committee, a Conservation Committee, a Committee for Assistance of Members of the Armed Services, an Educational Committee, a Civilian Protection Committee, a Committee on Consumers Problems, a Committee on Co-ordination, and an Executive Committee consisting of the officers and the chairmen of the committees. If there is an existing Civilian Protection Committee, our chapter ought to do what it can to strengthen it. The efforts of everyone should be welcomed and encouraged. So far as possible, however, where there are existing organizations willing to work, no new organization should be set up to do a particular work until existing organizations have been sounded out to see whether they will and can do the work. It may be possible in a particular city or village to organize the municipality as a whole. If possible this should be done.

"One of our chapters has sent in the following eight statements of what individuals can do, all of which we endorse:

1. We can serve in the armed forces of the United States.
2. We can produce munitions and war materials.
3. We can enlist and can encourage enlistment in the New York Guard organized for home defense.

4. We can lend our support to all movements intended to bolster up the morale of our people and to instill the highest type of loyalty to our American principles.
5. We can be donors of blood for the Red Cross Blood Bank.
6. We can serve as volunteer air wardens or auxiliary police or firemen.
7. We can report all instances of suspected sabotage, espionage or disloyalty of speech or action.
8. We can buy Defense Stamps and Bonds and, within our means, contribute to all accredited service organizations.

CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

"It is obvious from the foregoing that Chapters as such can best aid the course of National Defense by furnishing the leadership which is so essential and so desperately needed. But the strengthening of the existing Chapters and the formation of new ones are in themselves defense activities, because they strengthen the Society not only in the State but nationally, and thus strengthen the needed leadership in defense efforts. One of our Chapters has sent in three recommendations for chapter action as follows, which recommendations we endorse:

1. We can secure new members for the S. A. R. and thus widen the influence it can exert as an organization.
2. We can attend Chapter meetings regularly, can serve on its committees and participate actively in Chapter affairs.
3. We can enroll our children and grandchildren in the Children of the American Revolution and promote their program of patriotic education.

"Our Assistant State Registrar makes certain recommendations which our Committee has modified, and recommends in the following form:

1. That each Chapter schedule stated meetings of the Chapter during the year.
2. That each Chapter have at least one scheduled Board meeting each month.
3. That each Chapter assume leadership in its community along definite lines, such as,
 - a. cooperation with the F. B. I. and all law enforcement agencies toward the elimination of subversive activities.
 - b. presentation of Citizenship Medals to schools in their towns and the county in which they are located.

- c. have able Chapter members address different school assemblies along patriotic lines; this has been proved a most worthwhile effort.
- d. have at least one Chapter Church Night during the year and make a special effort to have each Chapter member and his family attend.
- e. have the Chapters plan at least a semi-monthly radio program for a fifteen-minute period (broadcasting stations will gladly donate time for this) built around the idea of the values of Americanism. Members of D. A. R. Chapters will gladly co-operate in this effort.
- f. Urge display of American flag in all homes in one's community.

STATE SOCIETY ACTIVITIES

"We reaffirm the definite objectives stated in the year 1940:

1. Keep in constant touch with proposed legislation in the State Capitol, as well as nationally, so that we may inform our members and the public generally in connection with laws or proposed laws that we feel are not to the best interests of patriotic endeavor.
2. To vigorously oppose all subversive movements.
3. To provide speakers for patriotic occasions.
4. To sponsor and cooperate with other organizations for patriotic demonstrations.
5. Plan patriotic education for the young in schools, colleges and various organizations and to particularly cooperate with the C. A. R. and similar organizations.
6. Assist and cooperate in preserving historical material relating to the American Revolution. Assist in marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers.
7. Encourage members and citizens not members to accept their full responsibility as citizens at the polls, in public office and jury duty, and all other civic responsibilities. To try to place our members, and those thinking as we do, in key positions in these activities so that we may be able to act as a stabilizing force for patriotism.
8. Stand vigorously for, and advocate as the best means for peace, an adequate defense program, and, in this connection, assist R. O. T. C. Units, the National Guard and similar organizations.
9. In all other ways to carry on patriotic activities as outlined in the general purposes of the Society.

WASHINGTON GUARD

"The Washington Guard was organized a year ago by the Long Island Chapter as Long Island Post No. 1.

"They have assisted materially in forwarding the objectives of the society.

"We recommend the institution of like posts in other chapters.

"The organization is open to those between 14 and 18 and Long Island Chapter welcomes and will answer all inquiries.

"Duplication of organizations need not be particularly guarded against. One hundred thirty-two million people have to be educated and trained in connection with something entirely new, that is, civilian protection. Our people are patriotic and loyal but they have many activities and interests and there simply cannot be too many organizations working among them to educate them correctly in the various branches of civilian protection. Indeed, organizations which help to keep up interest should be encouraged. Local chapters, however, should clear through and consult with recognized and permanent organizations such as the Red Cross, the United Service Organization and others.

"It is neither fair nor entirely correct to say that chaos exists in matters under the direction of the Office of Civilian Defense. The most accurate statement is that civilian protection is an enormous job of a character which has never been before attempted in this country and that necessarily, and for some time, just causes for complaint will exist everywhere, and that it is the duty of everyone to assist in eliminating them."

The report is signed by William S. Bennet, Chairman, Brig. General Louis W. Stotesbury, Chairman of the Civilian Defense Committee, and Gardner Osborn, Chairman of the Patriotic Education Committee of the New York Chapter.

Freeman and Dr. Frank Vinsonhaler, in addition to the Executive officers. Dr. Vinsonhaler was nominated for National Trustee.

Secretary Mitchell is active in organizing a Society of the Children of the American Revolution at Conway, which he hopes will soon be completed.

California Society

On the alert as usual, California Society has adopted forceful resolutions demanding anti-strike legislation, re-introduction and passage of the so-called Smith Bill, Economy in Federal non-defense expenditures, and vigilance in uncovering acts of espionage and sabotage, and these resolutions have been forwarded to the proper committees and legislators in Congress.

The Society has accepted with regret the resignation of its efficient Secretary for several years, Compatriot Charles E. Hancock, who has moved to Portland, Oregon. Mr. Hancock will continue as the Society's Registrar for the present, and Treasurer Harry E. Marshall has assumed the duties of State Secretary for the balance of Mr. Hancock's term.

LOS ANGELES CHAPTER—A dinner meeting was held on the evening of February 20th at which Dr. Stewart W. McClelland, President of Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tennessee, was the guest speaker. Dr. McClelland is a Compatriot of the Kentucky Society and will be recalled by those who attended the Columbus Congress as a speaker at one of the sessions. Members of the local D. A. R. Chapter were invited to hear Dr. McClelland, as both organizations are interested in the support of this fine Southern school.

SAN FRANCISCO CHAPTER—Members of this Chapter have been the featured speakers at a number of the monthly meetings. In November, Compatriot George L. Gary spoke on the subject "Strategic Minerals Needed for National Defense." At the January meeting Compatriot Calvin W. Battle's subject was "Kentucky and her Colonels." At this meeting Mr. Clyde Edmondson of the Redwood Empire Association was a guest and presented the Chapter with a gavel made from redwood, on behalf of his organization.

The Chapter has appealed to its members for gifts or loans of radios, pianos, furnishings and books for the Navy Radio Training School at Yerba Buena Island, all much needed and received with appreciation.

LONG BEACH CHAPTER—Regular monthly meetings of this newest Chapter of the California Society are held on first Thursdays, with early dinner and members are encouraged to bring prospective members as guests. On February 22nd a memorial service was sponsored in the municipal auditorium, commemorating Pearl Harbor, in which all patriotic organizations participated.

The Chapter has gone on record in adopting resolutions urging the Government to remove all alien Japanese from western lands within 300 miles of the Pacific Ocean.

Colorado Society

The annual meeting was held in Denver in the afternoon of February 23rd at which the following officers were elected for 1942: President, Frazier Arnold; Vice-President, Benjamin C. Hilliard, Jr.; Secretary, R. Ewing Stiffler; Treasurer, Dwight C. Meigs; Historian and Registrar, Edward W. Milligan; and Chaplain, Rev. Jesse Penney Martin. Board of Managers: Frank R. Jamieson, George E. Tarbox, Jr., Fred W. George, Cecil M. Draper, Tolbert R. Ingram, Winfield S. Tarbell, Dr. Leo L. Davis, Allen S. Peck.

More than 150 members and guests were in attendance at the 45th Anniversary banquet and celebration of Washington's birthday held in the evening. Among honored guests were members and husbands and wives of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Children of the American Revolution, Sons of the Revolution, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, Daughters of Colorado, Territorial Daughters of Colorado, Pioneer Women of Colorado, Society of Colorado Pioneers, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion.

Compatriot Frank Merriam Keezer, Vice-President General of the Rocky Mountains District, presided. An opportunity was extended the Society's guests who attended in large number, the Sons of the Revolution, to present their medal awarded annually for the best patriotic essay contested for by students in high schools.

The speaker of the evening was the President General, G. Ridgely Sappington, who with Mrs. Sappington accepted the invitation of the Colorado Society to come west for the occasion. Mr. Sappington's address was forceful and brought to the critical attention of his hearers the need for thoughtful observance of the precepts of Washington and Lincoln, and regard for the serious tests to which our government is put in time of war, and particularly the reconstruction to follow its conclusion.

The Society feels deeply the loss by death of its former president, Laurence C. Blunt, on December 15, 1941. He was the son of a pioneer Colorado newspaper man, and was a loyal and devoted member of the Society and its local Board of Managers. Outstanding was his deep interest in the John Bount Chapter of the Children of the American Revolution, which he sponsored.

Connecticut Society

News of the sudden death of the State Secretary, Compatriot Harold M. Hine, on December 21st, came as a shock both to his Connecticut friends and to compatriots of the National Society. The unexpired term will be filled by Compatriot Robert W. Lovell, of Waterbury, who has taken over the duties of the office.

COL. JEREMIAH WADSWORTH BRANCH, Hartford—On February 5th the members of this Chapter again enjoyed an address by Dr. Andre Schenker, who had been a guest speaker on a previous occasion, and who was welcomed enthusiastically.

District of Columbia Society

The December meeting of the Society was held at the Mayflower Hotel on the 17th, when members enjoyed a most interesting talk by Brig. General Harry F. G. Letson, M.C., military attaché of the Canadian Legation, on "Canada at War." General Letson served with distinction in the first World War and was decorated with the Military Cross and Efficiency Decoration.

The December 17th meeting was designated "Library Donation Night" and compatriots were requested to bring appropriate volumes to be added to its library, now a component part of the National Society's Library.

The annual Ladies' Night was held on January 21st at the Mayflower and took the form of a reception, followed by an address by the Hon. Robert Lincoln O'Brien, who spoke in inimitable manner on the present status and influence of the country's newspapers. Dancing and refreshments followed the program.

On February 22nd, the Society participated in the annual Joint Celebration of Washington's Birthday, in cooperation with the Daughters and Children of the American Revolution and the Sons of the Revolution in the District of Columbia. Mrs. Harry C. Oberholser, State Regent, D. A. R. presided, and greetings were received from Mrs. Frank R. Heller of the C. A. R., Hon. Wade H. Ellis, President of the S. A. R. in the District, Col. F. Granville Munson, President of the Sons of the Revolution, and Mr. Frank B. Steele, Secretary-Registrar General of the S. A. R. Music was by the U. S. Marine Band Orchestra, and the speaker of the day was Dr. Harold Major, Special Representative of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce on "George Washington, Fighter for Freedom." A feature of the ceremonies was the departure of a committee of representatives of each Society with a handsome wreath which they deposited at the Washington Monument.

On the following day the District of Columbia Society S. A. R. held its February meeting at the Mayflower Hotel with luncheon, and business session at which nominations were presented for officers to be elected at the March meeting. The speaker was Mr. Richard Eaton, of the Mutual Broadcasting Corporation, who commented on world events. Mr. Stanley Suydam of the American Red Cross was also a guest and spoke on the needs of that organization.

Illinois Society

The annual meeting was held December 3rd, 1941, at La Salle Hotel, Chicago.

Mr. Vandercook served the Illinois Society for eighteen years as Secretary, and later as Vice President and President, and was well known and honored throughout the National Society.

In cooperation with the Fort Dearborn Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Illinois Society participated in an enjoyable dinner meeting on the evening of February 16th, at the Orrington Hotel, Evanston. A reception preceded the dinner which was followed by community singing of patriotic songs, and a play with musical accompaniment, "The American Way."

This gathering out of Chicago was an innovation in the regular winter's program but gave an opportunity for compatriots of Evanston and the North Shore to attend at greater convenience, and the scheduled program for the evening was sufficiently attractive to lure the members from the metropolis and more distant points. Dean Lake Traxler, newly elected President of the Illinois Society, presided and announced the features of the program.

of Compatriot Hunt, elected at the December meeting. The address of the evening was by Frederick W. Oakly, editor of the Peoria Star, who spoke on "How Lincoln and Washington Met Grave Situations." The newly elected Chapter President, Dr. A. A. Knapp, presided.

Kentucky Society

The annual meeting took place on October 17th at Louisville with a reception and dinner, and officers were elected and installed. Mr. Ralph R. Morgan was elected President.

The Society has sponsored and participated in the following activities: On November 20th, an appropriate Thanksgiving Broadcast was given over WGRC. On December 15th, another appropriate program was broadcast in commemoration of the Sesquicentennial of the adoption of the Bill of Rights; on New Year's Day, 1942, the Society joined the American Legion in an impressive Flag Presentation program at the Bourbon Stockyards, Louisville; on January 23rd, the Society participated in its seventh Naturalization Ceremony in the U. R.; on February 22nd and on February 23rd, two more broadcasting programs of fifteen minutes each were sponsored over two radio stations at Louisville.

These interesting programs and activities are arranged and promoted by the Kentucky Society's Americanism Committee of which Compatriot Harry V. Davis, Jr., is Chairman.

Local officers elected include: President, John B. Rodes; Vice President, Vernon Hardcastle; Secretary-Treasurer, Wayne A. Patterson; Historian, Dr. James W. Blackburn. Directors: Preston C. Haynes, Dr. W. P. Drake, DeWitt Settle. A committee on Membership was appointed, with Ward B. Duncan, Chairman, Vernon Hardcastle and Harold Sublett.

Since this organization meeting, one was held on December 5th, when the ladies were invited. Mrs. Frank P. Moore gave an interesting and informative talk on the history of Charles Duncan for whom the Chapter is named. A number of his descendants are members and reside in Bowling Green and vicinity. In early fall this Society appointed a Committee, under Chairmanship of its Past President, John F. Robinson, to investigate the possibilities of service to compatriots in U. S. Services. This Committee was temporarily designated the "S. A. R. Minute Man Committee" and has accumulated funds and other contributions from several chapters in the State enabling them to equip ten rooms in the Guest House at Fort Devens. It is hoped sufficient funds will be received from other Chapters to complete this worth while work of furnishing comfortable accommodations for relatives of men in camp who may be in hospital. As other opportunities for service are brought to the attention of the Committee, it is hoped to make it an active and useful feature of the Society's war program.

At its regular December luncheon meeting, the Society was privileged to hear from the Hon. Sybil Holmes, former State Senator, on "Women in Defense," and the Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay, D.D., who addressed the members on "The Russian Situation."

As recounted briefly in the last Bulletin, this Society's activities toward the latter part of 1941 were affected by the passing of State President H. Wibert Spence of Grand Rapids, who was also President of KENT CHAPTER, and State Secretary Raymond E. Van Syckle of Detroit, who was also Secretary of DETROIT CHAPTER. In the meantime Vice President Marquis E. Shattuck of Detroit has been Acting President, meetings of the Board of Managers were held in October, and in January 1942, and arrangements are underway for the annual Convocation of the Michigan Society in Detroit, April 4th, to which President General G. DETROIT CHAPTER—Professor Raymond C. Miller, Ph.D., head of the Department of History of Wayne University, gave an excellent address at the Chapter's Constitution Day meeting, talking on "America and The New World Order," September 19, 1941. President James B. Bogner presided. On November 28, 1941, at a noon day luncheon in the Hotel Statler with the largest attendance in years, the Chapter honored its late Compatriot and Secretary, Raymond E. Van Syckle. His keen interest and guiding hand in S. A. R. affairs for so many years have meant a deep loss to the Society with his passing. The high esteem and affection with which he was regarded were well attested. Dr. Frank Ward Holt, Past President of the Michigan Society, read a touching memorial. S. L. A. Marshall of the Detroit News editorial staff, author, and radio war commentator, was the guest speaker upon the subject, "What Comes Next?"

On January 10th a noon luncheon was held in the Michigan Room of the Hotel Statler. President Bogner introduced Professor Earl H. Pritchard, Ph.D., of the History Department of Wayne University, who talked convincingly on the subject "The Far Eastern Situation." The afternoon was given over to a meeting of the Board of Governors, and to a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Michigan Society. The earlier temporary appointment of Compatriot William C. Krichbaum to carry on the functions of secretary for the Michigan Society and for the Detroit Chapter was ratified by action of the respective boards, designating him as Acting Secretary pending the next elections. He is also Vice President General of the National Society.

The traditional observance of Washington's Birthday was continued with its customary formal banquet, held in the English Room at the Hotel Statler, February 21st. The Committee consisted of the Hon. William S. Bennet, Chairman, Brig. General Louis W. NEW YORK CHAPTER—Washington's Birthday was celebrated in New York City by an especially distinguished half hour ceremony on the steps of the Sub-Treasury Building (Federal Hall Memorial) which was broadcast from coast to coast over the Blue Network. This was sponsored by the NEW YORK CHAPTER, which was represented by its President, Alexander Hamilton, great-great-grandson of the first Secretary of the Treasury.

A dramatic touch was given to the observance by the imaginary return of President Washington, portrayed in costume by Denys Wortman, artist who impersonated Washington at the opening of the World's Fair, after a trip from Mount Vernon in costume, which attracted wide attention at the time. Denys Wortman stood on the very spot where Washington was inaugurated on April 30th, 1789 . . . the balcony of old Federal Hall, first Capitol of our country.

Alexander Hamilton was the first to welcome the spirit of President Washington, who inquired what the people of America are doing to preserve the country he led to freedom. Speaking for the S. A. R., Alexander Hamilton reported that every member of the S. A. R. is rededicating himself to winning the war and to preserving the principles for which the first War of Independence was fought.

Another distinguished member of the S. A. R. followed; Brig. Gen. Louis W. Stotesbury, who reported the all-out efforts of the Army. Then in turn followed high ranking officers of the Navy and the Air force; the Red Cross, the U. S. O., and the A. W. V. S.—all reporting briefly upon the contributions of their organizations to the cause. Leaders in business, labor and farming pledged President Washington the full support of their groups.

The featured address was delivered by Leroy A. Lincoln, President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and senior Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York. A stirring appeal was also made by the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the New York State Defense Savings Staff, Bayard F. Pope, who is also chairman of the Marine Midland Trust Company.

One of the most colorful parts of the program was the attendance of hundreds of Boy Scouts in uniform with a sixty piece band. They were welcomed by Compatriot William H. Pouch, President of the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York. During the Scout Oath, a large wreath was laid upon the Statue of Washington.

At Rest

Alexander H. Lord

1868-1942

National Trustee

Word comes as we go to press of the passing on March 13, at his home in Seaford, Delaware, of Colonel Alexander H. Lord, National Trustee for Delaware, and former Vice President General for the Mid-Atlantic District, and former State President of Delaware.

Colonel Lord had been in failing health in recent months, prior to which he was a regular attendant at the Congresses of the National Society for several years and was well known to the Compatriots of many State Societies.

Colonel Lord has been a member of the Sons of the American Revolution since 1901, by descent from Dr. Nathaniel Luff, Surgeon of the First Battalion of Philadelphia under Colonel Morgan. He served his State and the National Society in many capacities, having been President of the Delaware Society for three terms, Vice President General in 1937 and 1938, and since that time National Trustee for Delaware, which office he held at time of his death.

He established his own business in 1920, and was an ardent and conscientious member and worker in the Episcopal Church of his City and State. He was commissioned a Lieutenant Colonel on the staff of Governor Richard C. McMullen.

The National Society Officers were unformed of Colonel Lord's decease in time to send a floral tribute for the services, but were able to extend sympathy to Mrs. Lord by wire.

The National S. A. R. Library

Your Librarian has repeatedly urged compatriots to make some form of a contribution to the National S. A. R. Library so that it may continue to grow until it becomes a truly great collection of genealogical and historical volumes and manuscripts. Such a library can be attained if each compatriot takes this appeal as a personal message and acts upon it promptly. A number of compatriots have responded generously as may be noted by a review of the preceding published lists of donations. Let us all remember the S. A. R. and make the next list of donations much longer than any of the past.

Manuscript genealogies are especially desired from the members and a substantial number of excellent manuscripts have been donated during the past year. This is one type of donation which the individual member alone can make since it is not published and usually it is the result of his own efforts. By placing your manuscripts in the S. A. R. Library you are aiding your Society and interested members by making your collected material available to them.

McDONALD MILLER,
Librarian General.

"The Delaware Continentals 1776-1783," by Christopher L. Ward; published by the Historical Society of Delaware, Wilmington, Delaware. ($3.75)

This should indeed prove to be one of those books which the reader does not willingly lay aside. It appears to be based on painstaking investigation. Much of the ground which it covers has of course already been surveyed more than once, and the author has made use of earlier works, giving due credit. But he also has gone to the sources himself, and has exercised care in sifting the statements of his predecessors. The text is buttressed from time to time by appendices of source material which strengthen it both in authenticity and in local color. The scope of this study is broader than the title would indicate. Its rallying point is indeed the Delaware regiment in the Continental Line, but it comes close to being a general military history of the Revolution.

"Maryland Main and the Eastern Shore," by Hulbert Footner, illustrated by Louis Ruyll; published by the D. Appleton-Century Company, New York City. ($5.00)

"Footner Looks at Maryland" might be the title of this book. That's the kind of a book it is; not a history, not exclusively a delving into the antique, but a personal glimpse of Maryland as is, with its antiquities and its modernities. The author's aim has been to seize and fix as much Maryland local color as he could.

As a whole Mr. Footner's book deals in an eminently readable and sprightly, yet penetrating way with all the factors that make up the Free State of Maryland. The striking full-page drawings by the noted artist, Louis Ruyll, are a perfect complement to the high excellence of the writing.

"War as a Social Institution," edited for the American Historical Association by Jesse D. Clarkson and Thomas C. Cochran; published by the Columbia University Press, New York City. ($3.50)

In this volume twenty-six scholars approach the subject of war from five distinctly different positions. These positions are (1) the causes of war, (2) its strategy and tactics, (3) its effect upon the concept of neutrality, (4) its larger influence on social institutions, and (5) the implications of the present war to the United States of America. In the course of these pages the subject of war is treated in terms of psychology, geography, economics, public finance, politics, foreign policies, and history. The largest single section is devoted to war and society, and in this section special emphasis is laid on the effect of the last war upon the institution of American democracy, its relation to modern dictatorship, and its effect upon economic institutions. These diverse and radial approaches to war as a social institution present a fresh approach to the subject and an unsurpassed blueprint for further examination.

"An American Democrat, The Recollections of Perry Belmont," published by the Columbia University Press, New York City. ($3.75)

This is the second, revised, and enlarged edition of Perry Belmont's "An American Democrat," originally published in May, 1940, as a unique contribution to American political history. The author's political associations began in the fifties, when his father was American minister to The Hague, and had taken deep root by the end of the sixties. The author's political acquaintance ranges from Stephen Douglas, whom he met in 1860, to Sumner Welles, Secretary Hull, and President Franklin Roosevelt.

He played an important part in American foreign policy, and it is his belief that the events of the moment are inextricably linked to the past.

His memoirs bear this out to a remarkable degree in connection with such questions as the extension of the Good Neighbor policy, monetary policy, personal government, and the danger likely to befall democratic governments. As much as any other American, Perry Belmont has made a career of citizenship, and his memoirs have unusual interest, as every reader of them will discover.

"Democratic-Republican Societies, 1790-1800," by Eugene Perry Link; published by the Columbia University Press, New York City. ($2.75)

If the easy diffusion and free exchange of ideas and criticism of things political constitute one of the essentials of democracy, then the late eighteenth-century popular societies constitute an important chapter in the history of this country and of our political philosophy. Between 1793 and 1800 there sprang up all over the Eastern seaboard Republican societies, Constitutional societies, Democratic societies, Patriotic societies, and societies of Freemen. They were all formed for the same purpose, and the habits which they established have been important to us.

From these societies came much dissension and plenty of resentment, nevertheless, everything was in terms of better government. This was one of the earliest and most important processes in democracy. This book shows how vigorous these societies were.

"The Wild Seventies," by Denis Tilden Lynch; published by the D. Appleton-Century Company, New York City. ($5.00)

The decade from 1870 to 1880 was the most turbulent and flamboyant in the history of this country. Hunger stalked the streets in one of our worst depressions. This decade saw the rise of Communism and the development of class hatred which resulted in country-wide strikes and almost another civil war. This period which witnessed stirring crusades of reformers against official neglect and incredible poverty in the big cities, produced some of the most striking personalities in our history. Boss Tweed, Jay Gould, James Fisk, Jr., Horace Greeley, Honest John Kelly, and Roscoe Conklin, these are only a few of the memorable figures whose stories are told in this book.

The author has gone to original sources and the result is an enthralling book which captures in detail the colorful, dramatic, chaotic spirit of this tempestuous decade.

Minutes of the Meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Society, S. A. R.

Held at National Headquarters, Washington, D. C., Saturday, March 14, 1942.

Present: President General G. Ridgely Sappington, presiding. Clifton P. Clark, District of Columbia; Smith L. Multer, New Jersey; Allen L. Oliver, Missouri. Also Secretary and Registrar General Frank B. Steele and Treasurer General George S. Robertson.

Inasmuch as there was no quorum the meeting informally discussed all matters on the agenda, and the President General ordered a mail vote on those questions which required immediate action.

The resolutions submitted to mail vote, and adopted by the Executive Committee on such vote, were as follows:

Resolved:

1. That the Treasurer General be directed to invest $2,000 of the Permanent Fund in Defense Bonds, Series G.

2. That there be appropriated from the General Fund such amount of money as added to the amount in the redemption fund as of March 31, 1942, will equal $2,000, for retirement of the Certificates of Indebtedness.

3. That the Executive Committee propose, without recommendation, the following amendment to the By-laws:

Amend Article II, Section 7(4) of the By-laws by striking out the words "one dollar" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "one dollar and a quarter," so that the phrase will read "the annual dues for such Society, computed at the rate of one dollar and a quarter for each member," etc.

4. That the Executive Committee propose the following amendment to the By-laws:

Amend Article II, Section 7(4) of the By-laws by inserting after the words "for disability received in the Military or Naval services," the words "or who is serving in the armed forces of the nation," so that the phrase will read "if the State Society shall remit the dues of any member who is an invalid pensioner of the United States on the ground of military or naval service rendered, or who is in receipt of compensation from the Veterans' Bureau of the United States for disability received in the Military or Naval services, or who is serving in the armed forces of the nation, such State Society shall not be liable for the foregoing assessment upon members whose dues are so remitted."

5. That so much of the resolution adopted at the October meeting of the Committee, accepting the invitation to hold the next Congress at Williamsburg, as directed the officers to hold a formal meeting at the regular time and adjourn the Congress to meet at Williamsburg, be rescinded.

6. That the annual Congress of the Society for the year 1942 be held at Williamsburg, Virginia, June 1.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK B. STEELE,
Secretary General.

The suggestion has been made that the delegates and ladies of the Congress bring their Colonial costumes to be worn at the President General's Reception Monday night. It is hoped that many will do this.

Attention, State and Chapter Officers:

Applications received in the Registrar General's office, passed in the state societies on or before March 31st, even though received in Washington after April 1st, are credited to the respective state societies as of the fiscal year ending March 31st. Should any such application be found unacceptable by the Registrar General, adjustment can be made later.

This notice is given because in several instances state officers have failed to count such late applications in their annual reports for the year ending March 31st. Even though approval notice may not be returned promptly owing to their late arrival, such applications are registered and counted in the total applications for the fiscal year. Please be governed accordingly!

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I BELIEVE IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AS A GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE; WHOSE JUST POWERS ARE DERIVED FROM THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED; A DEMOCRACY IN A REPUBLIC; A SOVEREIGN NATION OF MANY SOVEREIGN STATES; A PERFECT UNION, ONE AND INSEPARABLE; ESTABLISHED UPON THOSE PRINCIPLES OF FREEDOM, EQUALITY, JUSTICE, AND HUMANITY FOR WHICH AMERICAN PATRIOTS SACRIFICED THEIR LIVES AND FORTUNES.

I THEREFORE BELIEVE IT IS MY DUTY TO MY COUNTRY TO LOVE IT; TO SUPPORT ITS CONSTITUTION; TO OBEY ITS LAWS; TO RESPECT ITS FLAG; AND TO DEFEND IT AGAINST ALL ENEMIES.
