Message of President-General:

MY DEAR COMPATRIOTS:

Our Society appears to be making progress. Committees have laid their plans and appear to be working with enthusiasm. This should be pleasing to all National, State, and Chapter officers. In the main, cooperation has been splendid. If the volume of mail coming to my desk is any criterion, I feel sure the reports at Rochester will disclose that our Compatriots are doing very constructive war work as well as increasing our membership.

With this ground-work laid we may now devote more attention to the specific objectives for which our Society was organized. Perils confront us on every hand. What can we do to meet them? The war picture is changing so rapidly that conclusions arrived at today may be obsolete before these words are in print. We are doing our part from day to day in every field of war endeavor and can be depended upon to continue to do so until a certain victory is ours. But what of peace and post-war reconstruction? Are we doing our full share here?

Whether we like it or not we will be confronted with proposals to establish some sort of World Government as soon as we have won the war. Will it be built around the Atlantic Charter? Will we be asked to yield some of our sovereignty in order to set up a superior government, modeled after the plan of the League of Nations? Or, will the future peace of the world be grounded upon a World Court with cooperating countries providing the necessary agency to enforce its mandates?

Thoughts of these proposed "entangling alliances" are enough to make us gasp. But we must be realistic and not bury our heads in the sand. We cannot turn back the clock, as we did following the First World War and expect any permanent solution of the problems which have made this war possible. But must we have a World government which will require us to submit to legislative enactments against our will? With the advent of World travel by airplane and wide distribution of ideas by radio, we may expect some obliteration of National lines, many new economic alliances and elimination of trade barriers, at least between countries having such a natural need. We cannot shut our eyes to this possibility.

With the broad principles of the Atlantic Charter we find ourselves in substantial agreement. It may be necessary to yield some of our sovereignty to establish a sort of World agency based upon that document. However, there is one part of the Atlantic Charter which is beautiful in principle but doubtful in practice—the equitable distribution of raw materials of the World. Rationing, even within the confines of one country is in its experimental stage and is necessarily a war-time measure. To extend this experiment between nations would require setting up a bureaucracy to determine quantities and needs and an administrative agency to allocate and distribute them. Rationing may be tolerated as a war-time measure but to carry this principle into the permanent structure of our government is to invite impairment of the fundamental precepts of our Democracy, and to apply it on a World-wide scale is to multiply the confusion and difficulty. Who, for example, is to decide what share of crude rubber from the Dutch East Indies shall be allocated to the Congo or to Detroit or Akron? Is the amount allocated to be based upon need or upon population? Who is to decide the equities in cases where selfishness and greed are evident? It is well enough to talk about equity and justice in the distribution of raw materials among the peoples of the World but it is quite another thing to put this principle into practice. Should we not pause and weigh the consequences of such move before embracing it as a World principle.

If we must yield some of our sovereignty to insure the future peace and security of the World, this, in my opinion, should be limited to the establishment of a World Court with jurisdiction only over juridical controversies between nations, supplemented by a policing agency to carry out its edicts. Some will advocate compulsory submission to the World Court plan while others say its use should be optional. You may take whichever course you choose, but as for me, I believe the compulsory submission of controversies between nations to a World Court will produce greater security and more assurance of World peace. A World legislature—never. And yielding our sovereignty only to the extent necessary to enforce the decisions of the World Court is quite enough until the World is better educated to assume added responsibility.

Whatever new World may emerge after this war should be based upon a juridical foundation and not upon any political arrangement and should be infused with a strong spiritual stream based upon the proposition that "we should do unto others as we should be done by." Without this the structure will fail and with it even a faulty one may succeed.

These are the problems to be decided by the members of our Society, Senators, Congressmen, Governors and other Statesmen. They are anxious to have the benefit of our constructive thought. They will not yield one iota of our sovereignty unless it is in response to a sound public opinion. Are we taking our part in this corporate responsibility? Are we vigilant to see that the opiates administered to alleviate temporary pain of war do not fasten habits of socialism upon us which will take centuries to shake off. This is our job. May our thinking and conduct as compatriots help to preserve the honor and integrity of our Country and demonstrate that the sacrifices of our soldiers in fighting for these broad principles shall not have been in vain.

STERLING F. MUTZ,
President-General.

An Invitation

Buffalo Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary on Saturday evening, May 29, 1943, with a dinner and anniversary program at the Hotel Statler. An invitation is extended to all state and national officers and to all delegates to the National Congress and their wives to stop over in Buffalo and join us on this occasion.

While exact details of the program have not been completed at this time, we expect to give a prominent place to those compatriots who have been leaders in the affairs of our Society during the past half-century.

A special feature of the program will be a musical presentation by the Buffalo Broadcasting Corporation which operates Stations WGR and WKBW, featuring CBS and MBS Network Artists. In addition to David Cheskin and his Concert Orchestra and the Commandos Male Octette, there will be some of the foremost radio personalities as entertainers. This program will be produced by Mr. Herbert C. Rice, BBC's Production Director, and is presented through the courtesy of Compatriot Hiram W. Deyo, President of the Buffalo Broadcasting Corporation.

Watch for final announcement in next issue of the Magazine.

CHARLES A. MESSNER,
President, Buffalo Chapter

On to Rochester

Aided by Past President General Harvey F. Remington, the Rochester Congress Committee is developing a program for the Fifty-Fourth Congress at Rochester, New York, May 30-June 2, 1943. The Congress Chairman, Arthur C. Parker, has as his committee the active Chapter Presidents of the up-state area, aided by New York State President William S. Bennett, and this includes Chancellor General Henry R. Dutcher, Hon. Frank E. Gannett, former District Attorney Ray F. Fowler and Rochester Chapter President, Roe T. Soule.

The Headquarters will be at the Hotel Sagamore, adjacent to the business and theatrical center of the city, and within a mile of the women's campus of the University and of the Memorial Art Gallery and of the Museum of Arts and Sciences, our Chairman being Director of the latter institution.

The program, of course, will be under the direction of President-General Mutz, but the local committee is making arrangements for meeting places, visitations and entertainment.

Rochester is the home of the Eastman School of Music, Eastman Theatre, the new Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences, of one of the great municipal park systems of America, of great department stores, fine hotels and a host of attractions. In Rochester is the home of the Eastman Kodak Company, of the great optical industries headed by the Bausch and Lomb Co., of the thermometer industries, great clothing factories and of many nationally advertised products.

ROCHESTER MUSEUM OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Rochester parks will be at peak on Memorial day, and there will be many patriotic features and entertainments. All the great fraternities have lodges and temples in Rochester. N. Y. State Grand Master William Frederick Strang is a Rochesterian and member of our Sponsoring Committee and Frank E. Gannett is publisher of a newspaper chain.

The Congress will be a brilliant and memorable occasion, worthy of the traditions of the S. A. R. We shall have the interest and assistance of the local Chapter of the D. A. R. and other patriotic and allied societies. Congressman James W. Wadsworth, member of Rochester Chapter, promises to leave his important work in Washington and speak before one of our sessions if he can get away. The radio stations have promised to cooperate and the newspapers are at our disposal.

It remains for the delegates to attend, attracted by the features of one of the first five great war cities turning out huge carloads of highly technical products. Everyone will like the atmosphere of Rochester, named for one of George Washington's Colonels, and founded by real sons of the American Revolution. The old Kodak slogan was "You press the button and we will do the rest." It remains for the compatriots of our society to "press the button"—and Rochester will do the rest. There's a hearty welcome awaiting all of you at our Sagamore Hotel Headquarters on East Avenue.

ARTHUR C. PARKER,
Chairman of Arrangements.

A Tribute to J. Edgar Hoover

An incident of unique interest took place when Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was presented with the Good Citizenship Medal of the Sons of the American Revolution for his outstanding services to the people of this nation.

The presentation took place in the office of Mr. Hoover in Washington on the morning of October 14th, 1942, and was the culmination of action taken by Orange Chapter of the New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in desiring to recognize the outstanding citizenship of Mr. Hoover. It has been customary on occasions for the New Jersey Society to thus honor good citizens whose services merit such recognition.

With the full approval, therefore, of the New Jersey State Society, and by its unanimous choice and that of Orange Chapter, arrangements were made with Mr. Hoover for the presentation. Rev. Harry L. Bowlby was designated to bring the Medal, suitably engraved, to Washington, and accompanied by Mr. Frank B. Steele, Secretary-Registrar General of the National Society, they were received by Mr. Hoover at the appointed time.

In making the presentation, Mr. Bowlby said in part:

"To you, Mr. Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it is distinctly both a privilege and a pleasure to present a medal for long continued and exceptionally effective and successful service, a service which should warm with deep gratitude the heart of every true citizen of this great Republic and all others who have found asylum here where liberty and true freedom have been made the more sure because of your ceaseless efforts of investigation and the bringing of wrong doers to the bar of justice and a correspondent measure of punishment commensurate with the crime; also for the mighty influence you and your bureau are constantly exerting for the lifting to higher levels the citizenship of the land. This medal, sir, of itself has too little intrinsic value to be awarded even to one of far less merit than you so obviously possess. It is what is engraved thereon which has prompted the award. This medal of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution has standing out on one side in bold relief the Liberty Bell and a soldier expressive of the spirit of 1776 and on the reverse side these significant words:

'Our Inspiration Is From the Past
Our Duty Is In the Present
Our Hope Is In the Future'

Presentation of Good Citizenship Medal to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover by Rev. Harry L. Bowlby for Orange Chapter S. A. R., New Jersey

"Honored Sir, * * * You have wrought this nation lasting good; you have been an inspiration to all lovers of good and true and loyal service; the perfected performance of your duty has put fear into the hearts of criminals and deterred many who otherwise would have ventured on careers of crime. Our hope in the future shines brighter because of what you have done, are now doing and which we trust * * * will continue the Federal Bureau of Investigation in undiminished strength. * * * Accept, please this token of genuine appreciation and deepest gratitude by these societies representing descendants of those who gave their measure of devotion to that cause which led to the founding of this government."

In accepting the medal Mr. Hoover expressed himself as very grateful for this recognition, and in utmost sincerity stated that in his judgment the Sons of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the American Legion, were three organizations which cooperated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation most effectively, and in the manner in which such cooperation was desired and needed. He was aware of the creation of the Minute Men to aid the FBI in the war, as organized and in operation at the present time, under President General Mutz' plan, and stated that excellent results were definitely apparent to his organization.

In a letter expressing his appreciation he wrote:

"Again I wish to express my heartfelt appreciation for the honor which you conferred upon me in presenting the Good Citizenship Medal of the Sons of the American Revolution."

"I consider this medal a real tribute to the splendid performance of the men and women of the FBI whose cooperative efforts have made the Bureau what it is today."

Accompanying this account of the presentation of the medal is a photograph taken at the time the originals of which Mr. Hoover autographed for Mr. Bowlby and for the Secretary General.

Report of Department of Organization

COMPATRIOTS:

We are not as good as we hoped. The memberships are growing, week by week, but the flow is still way below the assigned quotas.

Twenty-five states failed to report any new members in October and November. Probably they have several each in process, and it is hoped they will have been sent in by the time this magazine goes to press. If not, please do your best to report them immediately.

Generally, however, the various Societies and Chapters are really working, and the fact that we are substantially gaining is very encouraging. Keep up the good work.

The Working Patriots are adding names to the President General's Honor Roll every week and this Department is confident that at the next Congress the list of members will show that each Compatriot has done his part.

The Pledge * of an hour a week did not produce many replies, so we have changed it. Read it again and see if you have any objection to signing it and sending it in. If you do not like it, give us your ideas.

We are trying to do our job better each month, your criticisms and suggestions are really helpful.

Cordially yours,
DEPARTMENT OF ORGANIZATION,
By WALLACE C. HALL,
Chairman.

Address of William S. Bennet, President of the Empire State Society

At the Installation of the Oswego Chapter, S. A. R.,
Oswego, N. Y., November 14, 1942

These are days of responsibility for each and everyone of us. Membership in the S. A. R. does not increase our individual responsibility. That exists because of our citizenship. It adds to our effectiveness in the discharge of that responsibility a new opportunity, that of organized effort through association with others endowed with a common heritage; possessing a rare opportunity of common understanding; and evidencing a fact which exists everywhere but which no one is able fully to explain—devotion to the country of one's ancestry. There is a certain something which comes only to people whose ancestry entirely or preponderantly has been in one country or one community for generations which does not exist among people whose ancestry has been migrant and who therefore have roots of memory and recollection in more than one country. God alone is responsible for this fact. It is not susceptible of human explanation. It exists in different countries under vastly different conditions. It is as strong in Russia and in China as it is here. The Russian moujik felt it as strongly in the 19th century when he was a serf as he feels today, and fought and fights under it with desperate courage although his personal situation then and now was and is far less enviable than the ideals, opportunities and possibilities attendant upon American citizenship. The same is true of the Chinese and indeed of all races and nationalities defending their soil today with courage, tenacity, valor and efficiency.

This does not at all mean that a person who was naturalized in this country even yesterday, cannot be a good and loyal citizen. Thousands of such persons are daily giving evidence of such citizenship including, when required, sacrifice of life itself, but it is the explicit statement that there is a certain something attached to a large body of citizens here endowed with a continuous American ancestry that is of the highest value to the country and for which there is no real substitute. This something we, who are eligible for membership in the S. A. R. and the D. A. R., possess. There are millions in our situation. Some, of course, whose ancestors fought on the other side in the Revolution, have today the same endowment of persistent citizenship that we have. The advantage that we possess is that our ancestors having fought for freedom, we can organize to perpetuate their memories and their achievements, while those whose ancestors fought on the other side, could not very readily obtain membership for a Society of Sons or Daughters of Those Opposed to the American Revolution. Our Republic has been so successful that such a society would have few members.

It is our duty to put at the service of our country in this time of its greatest trial, this endowment and heritage which comes to us because of our ancestry. Other men as well as ourselves can put other qualities and abilities at the service of our country; we alone can add the strength of a continuous ancestry of so many generations as to make all our memories, recollections and standards, American. We owe our full duty and our full effort to our country and to winning the conflict of which the solemn declaration of our Congress, pursuant to our Constitution has made our country a part.

Our efforts must be intelligent efforts. We must think clearly; we must evaluate our situation soundly; we must disregard epigrams, catch phrases and suggestions, however well intentioned, that have not been thoroughly thought through. We must proceed on the assumption which happily is unquestionably the correct assumption, that practically without exception all of our people, regardless of their views prior to December 7, 1941, are now a united people—united as never before in our history—in the will and the wish to be successful in the war into which we have been brought first by attacks upon our territory, our possessions and our citizens in an undeclared war and then by subsequent declarations of war by the remaining Axis powers. Fortunately, we can also proceed upon the assumption, already abundantly proved, that the number among us of foreign birth, whether naturalized or still alien, which is disloyal to this country in thought, word or deed, is gratifyingly small, and that we have the helpful assistance of hundreds of thousands of the foreign born in the armed services on sea and land and in the air. We do not fail to recognize the danger of even this minute disloyal foreign-born minority. We appreciate and approve the efforts which are being made to cope with such evil persons. One of the great services of the S. A. R. is the assistance it has given to the government in the suppression of subversive activity not only since December 7, 1941, but during possibly ten years last past, dating back to a time when the suppression of subversive activities had many opponents and our efforts brought on us a certain degree of ridicule and derision. However, we have steadfastly persisted and both our views and our efforts have been justified by time and experience.

There are some safe and tried rules for guidance in a crisis as grave as this. It is well to be careful in relation to definitions; it is well to emphasize in our thinking the minimum of achievement we may expect rather than the maximum of possible attainment. It is imperative to remember that, while we are large and strong and great, we are but one of thirty-one United Nations which, before the final treaty is signed must be in substantial agreement as to its provisions. It is imperative that we remember that we have an American system of government, which system, 150 years of experience has demonstrated, is the best system of government yet formed for a free people. In connection with that we cannot ignore the fact known, but seldom discussed, that there is an element amongst us, Americans of American ancestry, who would be well satisfied to see material changes made in our form of government. Of this situation the President of the Union League Club in New York City, an organization formed in the darkest days of the Civil War to preserve the Union and the American system of government, recently said in a letter sent to the entire membership:

"We know that the general idea of a collective State is being carried along under the cover of war efforts. We must see to it that it ends with the war. The Constitution that Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln fought to preserve—the Constitution now set aside under war emergencies—will never be restored unless those who believe in it rally quickly to its defense."

These American citizens who desire these changes are within their rights if they advocate them openly. Our Federal Constitution by its own terms is open to amendment, but the only rights in that regard are open plans and open advocacy. The right, while giving lip service to the American system of government, to attempt to change it by indirect means does not exist. Let us discuss this subject briefly: For practically fifty years certain individuals among us by disparaging and discrediting our past, and particularly the lives of our public men, by comparing unfairly the results of our form of government with the results of other forms of government, and by other belittling methods, have undermined (in many, if not most cases, unthinkingly and without malice) our justified satisfaction with our glorious past, our belief in the American system of government and our confidence, as a body, in the men whom we choose and have chosen to executive, legislative and judicial office. In many cases these efforts have been made, primarily, for the financial reward and increase in fame or notoriety, which came from writing an article which would sell; interesting a college class, or making a sensational speech.

Our National Society in congress assembled has denounced these efforts and the present movement to eliminate the Rugg textbooks from the schools and relegate them to reference libraries has had our Society amongst its most successful leaders.

Let us now return to the rules for thinking and acting which I earlier indicated. Many of these rules need no discussion. Their mere statement is enough.

We shall not lose this war. Why? Primarily and fundamentally because, if necessary, we would defend our cities, our towns, our villages and our countryside as Russia is defending Stalingrad and, fortunately, we have the strength with which to do it. With even scanty strength, but will and courage, no nation of 130 millions of people can be conquered.

What about winning the war? No one can answer that. Among the reasons are that the viewpoints as to what constitutes the winning of the war are numerous and different. In addition, we shall not have, as has already been pointed out, the sole decision as to when the war is won. We cannot overlook, either, that the enemy has a good deal to say about it. It is unpopular amongst the unthinking or the over-enthusiastic or the extreme idealists to call attention to the fact that for a good many centuries it has been the custom everywhere that when an opposing army completely laid down its arms, armed conflict was at an end. It is true that both the Germans and the Japanese are indulging in mass massacres in violation of all rules of recognized warfare and indescribable barbarities, but none of the United Nations would ever think of executing en masse and without discrimination an opposing army which had surrendered. The British are not massacring those who are surrendering in Libya. So that if and when an enemy army displays the white flag it will have a great deal to do with when the war ceases. After the armies surrender we shall not systematically devastate countries and attempt to destroy peoples. We have too much intelligence, realizing as we must, that the world will go on and that a sound and lasting peace is desirable, not to know that an almost complete absence of revenge is worth that additional sacrifice (if it can be called a sacrifice) to attain it.

The day will come when hostile armies will raise white flags to some one or other of the United Nations. The Axis powers in this war, as in the last, may do this at different times and, necessarily, at different places. No one can even guess where the first white flag will be raised, but that it will be raised is the firm and confident belief of each and everyone of us. But the enemy's white flag will not be the end of our responsibilities. It will merely change them. We have high aims and should stick to them. Some will probably, eventually, be modified to meet the views of other nations. We can dismiss at once the thought, expressed by some, that we are going to change every form of government in the world so that what we deem desirable to every person everywhere, is made possible of early attainment. There are two and a half billion people in the world, or were, and over sixty governments, all with differing forms. A suggestion from us to any one of our thirty colleagues among the United Nations that it change its government so as to resemble ours, would be met, and properly met, with complete and instant resentment. These nations having been partners with us in the common effort, we have no right whatever, even to suggest that their respective forms of government might be improved. If, by example, we demonstrate to them that our form of government is preferable, as we have already demonstrated to the great majority of nations in the western hemisphere, that will be highly gratifying to every true American who believes sincerely that the American system of government is the best. To paraphrase Lincoln slightly, "It is our firm and unchanging desire that men everywhere shall be free," but what constitutes freedom and whether all nations and individuals are willing to pay the price to attain it, is for them, not us, to determine.

We shall face in Europe, in China and other parts of the globe not only ruin and devastation which it will take decades to repair, but famine and starvation which are imminent. Of necessity, the Allied nations will for a time extend at least the minimum of assistance so that the maximum number of people possible will be kept from dying, from starvation and exposure. There is nothing glamorous about this suggestion. We did it after the last war. At one time the American nation and the American people, through the Nansen Commission and that headed by Herbert Hoover, were feeding ten million people in Europe and Asia. If we had to feed that many then, what will be our task at the end of this combat?

One thing the governments of the United Nations should do at once. We are confident that some day the Axis armies will surrender. We know that when they do it will liberate peoples of many conquered countries. We know that these people and our present opponents, too, will have to have an immediate minimum of food, clothing and shelter. There are some foods that can be grown and stored and be immediately available as soon as and where the need for them arises. We should certainly be planning and, to a certain extent, growing such foods now, as food is something which cannot be improvised. This preliminary care is an essential to a sound peace. It took Herbert Hoover three months after the last war to get the blockade against German ports raised and when he did get American food to our then late and now present foes, it saved at least a dozen cities from anarchy and made possible the peace which, whatever its defects, was welcome, because it meant the cessation of hostilities. It also gave what we did not then realize, the opportunity to strengthen ourselves tremendously during the next twenty years for the recurrence of hostilities.

It is quite generally recognized now that there ought not to be any undue haste to sit down around the council table and agree on the terms of peace. Our first duty after the white flags are shown is to save the world from death by starvation and exposure. At the time of the Thirty Years' War in Europe 350 years ago, there was no one in a position to do this and half the population of Europe died of starvation and exposure. Our next duty will be to preserve order in the territories of or dominated by the surrendering armies. We may have to do this for a term of years. It will not be as difficult as it sounds, as the peoples in those countries will all understand the necessity. Then we can come to the council table, remembering again that the world will continue. We must, when we enter the council chamber, leave hate outside. Certain European nations did not do this after the last war and their failure to do so had a bad effect on the Treaty of Versailles.

What will happen at the council table? Woodrow Wilson records that George Washington, when the Constitutional Convention was assembling slowly in Philadelphia in May, 1787, and proposals were discussed as to doing this or that, not on the basis that the proposals were right, but that they were expedient, ended all such advice by the commonsense statement that it was the duty of the Convention to prepare a Constitution in which the delegates themselves believed and had confidence, that they had no right to present to the people a Constitution in which they did not themselves believe, but which had been framed so that the people might vote for it, and that, having drafted a proper constitution, the event was in the hands of God. Men who have suffered and achieved as Washington had, between 1775 and 1787, have learned to realize the place of God in the universe. At times we seem to be forgetting it, but basically people do not forget God. They remember that the great documents of history trace back to God. 4,000 years ago God, through Moses, presented to the world two rules for action which are recorded in the Scriptures. 2,000 years later Jesus, interrogated by another observer of the laws of Moses, as to which was the first and greatest Commandment, combined these two passages of Scripture into one statement. The colloquy is familiar to us all:

"Master, which is the great Commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great Commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two Commandments hang all the laws and the prophets."

Most of us are not familiar with the fact that the Jewish people divide their Scripture into three parts—the law, the prophets and the writings; therefore, both Jesus and His interlocutor recognized that Jesus was saying in effect that everything was based on these two Commandments. That was true 4,000 years ago, 2,000 years ago and is true today. If the world lived up to these Commandments we would not need any treaties or agreements and there would be no wars.

Leaders among us have repeatedly reminded us that God rules. At the Constitutional Convention Benjamin Franklin then in his 82d year, in a plea that the daily proceedings should be opened with prayer said: "I have lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth—that God governs in the affairs of men."

He also said: "If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid?"

If an empire could not rise without His aid in 1787, a world cannot be put on firm foundations without it now.

When Lincoln was assassinated, General James A. Garfield reminded a vast assemblage in New York City, "God reigns, and the government at Washington still lives." God still reigns, the government at Washington still lives. It is the American system of government for the American people. For 150 years it has been of benefit not only to the American people, but to the whole world.

There is no nation in existence which has done more for other peoples in more ways during those years than has the American nation and its people. This course we shall continue. We shall keep ourselves strong. We shall maintain our system of Government. Primarily, we shall do this for ourselves because "He that careth not for his own is worse than an infidel and has denied the faith." In addition, it is the way we can best benefit others because all history and all experience and the dictates of commonsense and sound judgment teach us convincingly that no person, no community, no state, no nation, can be of outstanding benefit to others unless the plain duty of utilizing every legitimate opportunity to preserve and enhance the strength of such individual, such community, such state and such nation is recognized and fully lived up to.

A Message from the Department of War and Defense

December 17, 1942.

Most gratifying reports have been coming in to your Chairman of the Department of War and Defense of activities of our Chapters and State Societies throughout the country. The majority of these reports have to do with the U.S.O. Based on information given and inquiries made, the following additional suggestions are presented, hoping they may be helpful.

It is found that it is better for a Chapter to contact an U.S.O. Club or Unit in its immediate vicinity if possible and learn their particular needs rather than to get in touch with the State Organization. As an U.S.O. Club cannot function except by the volunteer efforts of hundreds of women and men in the same or nearby communities, the work of an S. A. R. Chapter in aiding the U.S.O. Club becomes known to those women and men and thus helps secure for our Society their goodwill and support. This is something to be taken into consideration; for anything that adds to the growth and strength of our Society adds just so much to the strength of our country.

Each Chapter should have its Committee on War and Defense and provide some place where books, phonograph records, etc., can be brought and then bundled up for their U.S.O. destination. It is found that a rubber stamp with the legend, for example, "Compliments of — Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution" is better than stickers. Such a stamp can be procured by a Chapter at a cost of about $1.50. Otherwise hundreds of stickers will have to be printed.

Scientific books are especially welcomed by the boys, even textbooks on algebra and geometry. "The Reader's Digest" is a favorite, no matter if the issue be old. They are interesting and most conveniently fit into a coat pocket. Then, too, classical music records are in demand. Also our good wives can make up "Kits" for the boys and in that way help us out. The "Kits" sometimes contain razor blades, shaving cream, chewing gum, cigarettes, etc., costing 75¢ to $1.00 and are much appreciated by the boys going on a long journey. These are a few additional suggestions to those contained in the October Magazine, which have come to us by the "voice of experience."

It is to be hoped that each Chapter and State Society will, in a general way keep a record of its activities in order that at the end of the year it may be known approximately what has been accomplished. This is of importance; for ours is the only great patriotic Society nation wide in its scope, so far as I know, that is dedicating its efforts along these lines, making for our boys "a home away from home."

As to the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, some State Societies are thinking of acting as an agency in selling War Bonds and Stamps to their members.

The assistance now and heretofore rendered by our Society to the F.B.I. was recently recognized by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover when he said that the three great patriotic Societies of this nation that are outstanding in their help to him and his work are the Sons of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the American Legion.

We have reason to feel proud of this work that is being done. The far reaching benefits of the War and Defense program as to the future growth of our Society cannot be overestimated. We are going to be asked, "What is your Society doing to win this war?" and, later on, "What did you do?" In reply we will point out the number of members in the armed services; that we purchased and assisted in the sale of War Bonds and Stamps; that many of our members were on Draft Boards, Ration Boards, engaged in Civilian Defense, Air Wardens, etc. The observation will no doubt be made: "So were others who were not members of your Society."

But if we can point out in addition, as we can, that there were some things that made us stand out and apart; that on the war front at home our aid was such in putting down subversive activities, as to cause us to be recognized as one of the three great patriotic organizations of this nation in that work; that we were the only great patriotic Society whose efforts were dedicated solely to the U.S.O.; and that we made good those efforts with deeds; then, indeed, have we met the challenging questions that may be levelled at us now and in the days to come.

Very sincerely yours,
Department of War and Defense,
By SMITH L. MULTER,
Chairman.

The National S. A. R. Library

We are entering a new year, a year of increased activity within the National Society and each State Society and Chapter. One result of this activity will be a substantial increase in new members brought into our society. To assist in the preparation and the necessary verification of the applications submitted by these prospective new members will require books and other genealogical data, such as manuscript family genealogies, not in the S. A. R. Library at this time. Many of us cannot be genealogists and assist prospective new members with their applications but all of us can aid the membership campaign by sending to the National S. A. R. Library the material needed in this work.

During the year now ended many valuable books, manuscripts and prints were donated to the library. It is not the purpose of this space to enumerate the individual donors and their valued aid to the society through its library but the number and value of the contributions received have kept 1942 in step with past years.

We must not rest upon that accomplished during 1942 and prior years, we must see that your library increases in tempo with other activities of the society during 1943.

Brief Book Reviews

(A copy of this recently published book has been donated to the National S. A. R. Library by the author.)

"Hodges Council of Virginia and Descendants," by Judson Council; privately printed by J. H. Furst Co., Baltimore, Maryland. ($5.00).

This book is a well prepared genealogical record of the Council family and other early families associated with it through the first and succeeding generations.

Beginning with the year 1677/8 when Hodges Council became a resident of Southeastern Virginia, the author carefully outlines the growth of this family through ten or more generations. Numerous wills, Bible, military, land grant and gravestone records, many heretofore unpublished, are quoted by the author in his portrayal of the family life and the military and civil activities of these descendants. In addition to these sources, Mr. Council has made use of some of the outstanding published early history of Virginia, and the Carolinas.

Descendants are easily identified and followed through the system of identification used and this work is supplemented by a chart showing each name in order of descent.

Those interested in the Council name should find this a worth-while genealogical contribution.

Again, "As You Like It"

The little item "As You Like It" which appeared in our October issue as a message from the Chairman, Mr. Oliver, brought forth some very interesting comments, although not nearly enough nor as many as had been expected.

It was gratifying to find that most of those received were very pleasantly complimentary to the present set-up and content of the Magazine and among these were a few with some very constructive critical suggestions which it is hoped to profit from.

It is a fact that one compatriot frankly wrote your editor that he found nothing of interest in the Magazine. We thank him for his candid comments and feel that in some particulars they may be deserved, but as much physical and mental effort goes into the production of each issue of the S. A. R. Magazine, we hope we can alter his judgment.

It should be remembered that it is the chapters and the state societies that create whatever activity pertains in their respective localities and if the "State Events" pages seem very localized, they nevertheless give a picture of what is being done in the several chapters and thus offer suggestions for like undertakings by other groups which may be looking for guidance. This is especially true of newly organized chapters.

It has been noticeable that over a period of years, more and more local groups have undertaken specialized activities because of the suggestions coming through this department.

Remember, our paging is strictly limited, leaving little space for articles of any great length or of general interest; also remember that the S. A. R. Magazine is the only contact between your National Office and you, a compatriot! It is essential that much routine information be contained in each issue as it is not only a Magazine, but a Bulletin, and as such, notices appearing are in lieu of circular letters to officers and members. If this information were to appear but once a year, as was suggested by one compatriot, complaints would be multiplied many times.

It has never been considered wise to try to make our Magazine a publication of interest to the general public—surely there is enough of such on our newstands! Ours is, and is intended to be, a strictly S. A. R. Magazine.

So, write us again, even if you wrote before, and write us now if you didn't—it will be good to have your views and have you say just what you think can be done to improve the Magazine. It may not be possible to make a definitely perceptible change or improvement at once, but possibly the imperceptible may gradually produce a desirable improvement, and you'll like it better for having written. Your editor will appreciate hearing from you!—F. B. S.

Compatriots in the Service! If your home address will serve for the duration it will be very helpful, as changes come so rapidly it is difficult to keep correct stencils. Please advise.

Notes and Comments

No rosettes available!

Ribbon Bars for service men are also exhausted.

Every effort is being made to replace these most desired supplies, and it is hoped to be able to announce a substitute for either or both soon, but at present neither is available.

Don't overlook the invitation from Buffalo Chapter appearing on another page. Try to take in this celebration which will follow the 53rd Annual Congress, at Rochester in May, 1943.

Correction: On page 121 of our October issue, the late Hon. Seymour Lowman was inadvertently designated as a former Congressman from New York State. Mr. Lowman was Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Presidents Coolidge and Hoover, and formerly a member of the New York State Legislature and Lieutenant Governor of New York.

Many lists of Compatriots now in the country's armed services are being received at National Headquarters from their respective State Societies or Chapters. It is hoped that these names may be published in a later issue of our Magazine if space permits, and to this end chapters and state societies are invited to submit the names of their members and so far as known their rank and assignments.

State officers are reminded that reinstatements for which the current year's per capita dues are sent to National Headquarters, carry these members only to next April 1, 1943, at which time the dues for 1943-44 are payable.

Mr. Secretary-Treasurer-Registrar: Don't let your new members entered since the first of the year be dropped for non-payment of dues April 1st. Members coming in during February and March should be asked to pay the advance dues for 1943-44 in order that your Society may not have to pay the National Society per capita for them if it is not in your treasury. Remember, the fiscal year of the National Society begins on April 1st. It is deplorable to find the names of newly accepted members on the space on your annual report reserved for dropped members.

State Secretaries are requested to report to National Headquarters the status of any inactive or defunct local chapters. Some such have been continued in the lists of officers for some time without change. If no meetings are held and chapters are not functioning, these should be removed.

Chapter Officers are reminded that items of information regarding their activities, change of officers, deaths, changes of address, etc., sent to National Headquarters, should be duplicated and sent to your State Society Secretary, some of whom complain that they are unaware of the news items sent to the Secretary General. All matters regarding your Chapter should go through your state office.

The Graves Registry Committee, Compatriot John W. Bartholomew, Chairman, sends the following message:

"Our general letter of August 7th, 1942 relative to locating and marking Revolutionary soldiers graves has created widespread enthusiasm for this very important work. It is quite evident that there are yet many unmarked soldiers graves scattered throughout the territory east of the Mississippi River.

New committees have been organized in some chapters to speed up the locating and marking of graves, tablets mounted on native boulders carrying as many as fifty names have been placed in some Eastern cemeteries. Chapters are realizing that now is the time to complete this job.

If your chapter has not already replied to our letter of August 7th please do so at once."

JOHN W. BARTHOLOMEW, Chairman,

Events of State Societies

(Editor's Note: State and Chapter Officers are requested to furnish news items of their activities for publication in this department. Such items should be sent to National Headquarters for our next issue on or before March 1, 1943.)

California Society

Officers of the State Society and the San Francisco Chapter enjoyed a very brief visit from President General Sterling F. Mutz on September 1, as he stopped off for a few hours in San Francisco en route from Portland, Oregon, to Los Angeles on a business trip. A luncheon was hurriedly arranged at the Commercial Club and Society matters were talked over with him. As many officers and members as could be brought together for the purpose from the surrounding local organizations were present and the conference was felt to be most worth while.

The California Society made its usual commemoration of Constitution Day by a broadcast by Vice President John M. Hoffman.

The Society passed a resolution approving the report of Past President Aaron M. Sargent supporting the attempt of the Superintendent of Schools to remove from the San Francisco schools certain subversive textbooks.

The names of twenty-six compatriots of the California Society are listed in the current issue of the California Compatriot, in the armed services of the country as known to date.

ALAMEDA COUNTY CHAPTER—A Navy Day banquet was held in Berkeley on the evening of October 27th. Guests of the Chapter were twelve sailors and two Marines, all wounded, from the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital. The address of the evening was by Captain Cecil S. Baker, U. S. N. Soldiers from Camp Ashby contributed several musical numbers to the program.

LOS ANGELES CHAPTER—In October the Chapter welcomed back its President, Captain Raymond A. Nelson, who had been absent on war duty. At the November meeting, Compatriot Rev. Lyman P. Peet, more than forty years a missionary in China, related some of his experiences while head of a school in Canton.

SAN DIEGO CHAPTER—The Chapter sent a protest to Warner Brothers referring to an unpleasant feature in a current film, objected to on patriotic grounds and succeeded in having this deleted.

On September 17th, the Chapter joined with two D. A. R. Chapters in its observance of Constitution Day, when the address was by Compatriot the Rev. Willis Brown, on "What the Signers Would Say to Us." In October Mr. Chester Smith spoke on "One Man's Hobby." At this meeting the Chapter entertained the State President, Harley A. Vannoy. At the November meeting the speaker was William Evans, Commercial Manager of Radio Station KGB, on "War Benefits."

SAN FRANCISCO CHAPTER—On September 25th the regular luncheon meeting of the Chapter was held at the Hotel Stewart, when the speaker was Dr. Frederic Loomis, physician and author. His subject was "The Third Component." The Executive Committee authorized a special attendance prize for this occasion in the form of War Savings Stamps. #### District of Columbia Society

Bastille Day, commemorating the great victory over tyranny once won by the French people, this year assumed a new significance in Washington, where the District of Columbia Society led an observance which spread from the White House to Mt. Vernon and thence through short wave radio to cheer the hearts of Frenchmen throughout the world.

The Sons of the American Revolution were invited to preside and arrange the program in cooperation with Government officials of the State Department. The observance began with the broadcasting by President Roosevelt of a message urging all Frenchmen who could or who would dare to listen to an appeal "to stand by until all French people may again unite and strike with us a telling blow for freedom." The Congress of the United States adopted a joint resolution sponsored by Compatriot Senator Connally and Representative Bloom, Chairmen of the Foreign Affairs Committees of the respective Houses, rededicating our Nation to the ideals of Bastille Day. A simple dignified program took place on the American University campus, participated in by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Sons of the American Revolution, representing those who had fought on the fields of France and those whose forbears had fought with Lafayette. Senior Past President of the District Society S. A. R., Selden M. Ely, presided. Addresses by Dr. Paul Monroe, President of the World Federation of Education Associations, who introduced Mr. Ely, Professor Frederick Hoffer, past commander of the French Veterans Association, corresponding to our American Legion, and Robert H. McNeill, of the S. A. R., were inspiring and were supplemented by vocal selections and impressive opening and closing ceremonies.

Prior to this program a ceremony was held at Mt. Vernon, where a delegation of past and present officers of the District S. A. R. and representatives from the other participating groups sponsored a dialogue in French by Past President C. Seymour

Ohio Society

CINCINNATI CHAPTER—The opening gathering for the fall season took place on September 7th, and was in lieu of a Constitution Day meeting on the proper date. An address by Mr. R. E. Howe on the subject "Keeping our American Ideals" was enjoyed.

Yorktown Anniversary was next observed on October 16th with Mr. Martin V. Coffey as speaker. His subject was "Fifth Column Activities in the United States." Mr. Coffey is Commander, Department of Ohio of the American Legion.

An outstanding meeting was held on November 13th, when the Chapter was host to the Good Citizenship Medal winners, who had won the awards presented at the end of the school term. Interesting addresses were enjoyed from two members of the R.A.F. on leave in the U. S., Corporal Leonard Such and Corporal Ernest A. Wheatcraft. These fliers were at Dunkirk and had much to say of absorbing interest. An address by Colonel G. deForest Larner, member of the famous Lafayette Escadrille in the first World War and now with the Army Air Forces Concentration Command at Cincinnati, completed the program, which was also featured by the presentation to each of the medal winners present of a small patriotic token.

On December 3rd, the Chapter heard Dr. Reginald G. McGrane, Professor of American History in the University of Cincinnati, renowned as historian and author.

This meeting featured the anniversary of the Bill of Rights and was held jointly with the Optimists Club at Hotel Gibson. Professor McGrane's topic was "Problems Facing America After the World Conflict."

Oklahoma Society

TULSA CHAPTER—Constitution Day was observed with a dinner and smoker on the Roof Garden of the Tulsa Club, when the speaker was Compatriot Robert D. Hudson, who pointed out that in the early days of the country, the maintenance of our fundamental principles was relatively simple, and that in contrast, today's problem is to find means of continuing them in the face of modern conditions, a task peculiarly one for members of the S. A. R. Chapter President Wash E. Hudson presided, and the State President, J. Garfield Buell was also an honor guest.

OKLAHOMA CITY CHAPTER—Through the interest of former President of this Chapter, Edward F. McKay, now residing in Washington, a Good Citizenship Medal was presented to Alan Morledge of the sixth grade. This is the sixteenth consecutive year that Compatriot McKay has sponsored this award. In making the presentation Mr. McKay told the pupils of his contact with the late William Tyler Page, author of The American's Creed, who had given him a holograph copy of the Creed for this Edgemere School, and had previously contributed to Mr. McKay's collection of autographs of distinguished Americans, which is extensive and valuable. In view of the recent death of Mr. Page and the forthcoming 25th anniversary of the adoption of The American's Creed, the incident was of special interest.

Oregon Society

The observance of Constitution Day is always an important event for the Oregon Society. This year, in response to the President General's appeal, special emphasis was made to make it an outstanding celebration.

"The Constitution in a Changing World" was the subject of an able address by Honorable Charles H. Paul of Seattle, former Justice of Supreme Court of State of Washington. In keeping with the subject and speaker, all the Justices of the Oregon Supreme Court were invited as guests, also the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer. Considering that quite a number of our members are serving in the armed forces, a large attendance was in evidence.

Action at a recent meeting of the Board of Managers put the Society on record as opposed to adoption, for use in the Oregon elementary or high schools, any text-books advocating un-American philosophies, making special reference to those written by Prof. Harold O. Rugg of Columbia Teachers College. Copies of the action were mailed to each member of the State Textbook Commission previous to its meeting November 16th at which President Sherwood Kretsinger and Vice-President Karl C. Pease were present.

Pennsylvania Society

The annual meeting of the Society was held on October 26th at noon at Hotel Henry, Pittsburgh, when the following officers were elected: President, Hon. Thomas H. Eugene C. Bonniwell.

New Chapters of the State Society are being projected at several important points, namely Pottsville, Williamsport and in Lancaster and Chester Counties. Progress is reported and it is hoped soon to be able to announce completed organizations.

VALLEY FORGE CHAPTER, Bethlehem—The annual meeting of this Chapter was held at the Hotel Bethlehem on the evening of October 28th. The following officers were elected: President, Jacob Erdman Cope; Vice Presidents, Hon. Fred B. Gerner, A. George Shoffner, Henry S. Landes; Secretary-Treasurer, Wilbur L. An interesting program was presented, new members to the number of thirty-two were inducted into the Chapter, and $750.00 was pledged in War Bonds. President Cope presented a Service Flag bearing twenty stars, representing the members of the Chapter in service to be added to as other members are taken. A report on the Good Citizenship and ROTC Medal awards stated that fourteen of the former and ten of the latter had been awarded by the Chapter.

The speaker of the evening was the Hon. Smith L. Multer, President of the New Jersey State Society, and member of the National Executive Committee, and former Vice President General of the National Society, whose topic was "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER—The annual meeting was held on the evening of December 7th, at which time the following officers were elected: President, Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell; Vice President, Richard Pollard South; Secretary, Jesse A. MacIntire; Treasurer, J. Harvey Fahnestock; Registrar, James K. Helms; Historian, Robert Budd Bonniwell; Chaplain, Rev. ## South Carolina Society

The "Pilgrimage of Patriotism" of the American Flag reached Charleston, South Carolina on November 24th, 1942 and the ceremonies of placing South Carolina's star thereon took place at the State House. Clarence Richards, Secretary of the S. C. Society S. A. R. presided. Mayor Fred D. Marshall of Columbia, General James C. Dozier, Adjutant General of S. C., and the Hon. Richard M. Jefferies, Governor of the State were the speakers, and the South Carolina Star was sewn on the Flag by Mrs. Marshall P. Orr, State Regent, D. A. R. The Children of the American Revolution also participated in the program.

CITADEL, CHARLESTON CHAPTER—Entering in fourth year, this chapter holds meetings every alternate month, and will elect its next group of officers in February. The Secretary, Lieutenant Samuel Wilcox, is now stationed in Washington, and his duties are being carried on by the acting Secretary, Lieutenant John P. Moore. The President of the Chapter is General Charles P. Sumnerall, and other officers include James M. Hagood, Calhoun Thomas, and Homer M. Pace, Vice Presidents; W. Priestly Conyers, Treasurer; Lieutenant J. P. Moore, Historian; and Rev. Sumner Guerry, Chaplain. On the Board of Directors are Dr. R. S. Cathcart, D. H. Marchant, William J. Thomas, Col. P. M. ## Tennessee Society

Holding its annual meeting on October 27th the Society elected the following officers: President, Frank W. Ziegler; Vice Presidents, A. B. Clarke, Wirt W. Jared, Samuel F. Cole; Secretary-Registrar, Dr. J. E. Windrow; Treasurer, Samuel E. Linton; Historian, Noah H. Grady; Chancellor, Walter Whitson; Chaplain, Rev. Hiram K. Douglass. Dean E. C. Arnold of Vanderbilt University was nominated for National Trustee, to be confirmed at the next annual Congress of the National Society.

The Society went on record in adopting resolutions in tribute to the late Frederick W. Millsap, Past President General of the National Society and Past State President of the Tennessee Society as well as of the ANDREW JACKSON CHAPTER of Nashville, and also in tribute to the late Joseph L. Hill of Nashville, who shortly prior to his death last summer, had been elected President of the ANDREW JACKSON CHAPTER.

The loss of these beloved compatriots is deeply felt throughout the Tennessee Society.

The newly elected State President, Frank W. Ziegler, Vice President General for the Southern District, who was the retiring State Society Secretary, has been appointed State Facility Security Officer for Tennessee. He had formerly been director of public relations for the Nashville Chamber of Commerce. His new duties will take him about the State and give opportunity for closer contact with the local chapter officers and compatriots.

ANDREW JACKSON CHAPTER, Nashville—The annual meeting and election of officers was held on October 1st, when the following officers were elected: President, Harry H. Corson; Vice Presidents, Dorian E. Clark, Hugh Stallworth; Secretary, Frank W. Ziegler; Treasurer, Henry D. Jamison, Jr. Since the death of its President last Summer, Vice President, Dr. Alfred L. Crabb, served the Chapter as acting President.

The Chapter will again award Good Citizenship Medals to the number of thirty.

Texas Society

The most recent edition of the Texas Compatriot, as of November 1942, reports the names of nineteen new applicants and ten reinstated members of the Texas Society since the beginning of the fiscal year. This is a good record, and we hope will be continued in like ratio through the balance of the year.

Through the loyal and generous interest of Judge Ben H. Powell, Vice President General for the South Mississippi District, an informative little booklet of information as to S. A. R. purposes, distinguished members past and present, and opportunities for service has been prepared and printed. This is especially designed for presentation to prospective members and may be obtained from State or National officers.

PATRICK HENRY CHAPTER, Austin—On September 17th this Chapter held its Constitution Day observance with dinner at the Driskill Hotel. Compatriot E. F. Smith was the speaker and gave a fine address on the Constitution. Dr. R. A. Law, retiring president, presided and was toastmaster. Following the dinner program the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. C. Perry Patterson; Vice President, Lloyd W. Taylor; Secretary-Treasurer, E. R. Dabney; Genealogist-Historian, Dr. Robert A. Law; Chaplain, Rev. W. C. Tenney. E. F. Smith was elected to the State Board and Olin L. Culberson and Judge Ben H. Powell, to the local Board of Directors.

DALLAS CHAPTER—Constitution Day was celebrated by meeting jointly with the Dallas County Bar Association, Salesmanship Club, Real Estate Club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, and other patriotic groups. Hon. Gerald Mann, Attorney General of Texas, addressed the assembly on the Constitution.

DALLAS CHAPTER held its annual election and placed Frank W. Lynn in the President's office. Other officers were elected as follows: Vice Presidents, Chauncey A. Egbert, Robert L. W. Thompson; Secretary, Paul Teagarden; Treasurer, Earle D. Behrends; Registrar, Frank F. Boll; Chaplain, Dr. J. H. Connell; Managers, Horace P. Eller, Earl E. Hutt, Alvin H. Lane, A. Frank Hamm. Armistice Day was observed with a luncheon at which interesting matters pertaining to the war effort were discussed.

GALVESTON CHAPTER officers include, Robert W. Humphreys, President; Thomas D. Affleck, Vice President; Walter S. Mayer, Secretary; Rev. Edward H. Gibson, Chaplain.

Utah Society

A number of the Compatriots of the Utah Society are in active war work. Former President, Col. Franklin Riter, is somewhere overseas; he has one of the most responsible positions in connection with the Judge Advocate Branch of the Service. Compatriot Dr. Ralph C. Pendleton, Lieut. Commander U. S. Navy, received a big writeup in a recent number of Time. Dr. Pendleton is the originator of the Wax Coating System for the treatment of burns which has been so successfully used on the injured men of the Army and Navy.

It is interesting to note that a total travel of about one thousand miles is necessary for the various out-of-town officers and managers of Utah Society in order to attend meetings of the Board of Managers.

The Society is doing well and is giving a good account of itself.

Virginia Society

RICHMOND CHAPTER—The usual monthly meetings have been held, beginning September 10th, when the speaker was Dr. Frederick W. Burnham, on "The American Constitution and World Freedom." Mrs. Margaret N. Burke gave the musical program, and refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary. On October 8th, the Guest Speaker was Lieutenant Commander Langhorne Gibson, U.S.N., and music was by the Orpheus Trio. In November, members enjoyed an address by H. I. Bobbitt, Special Agent of the F. B. I. in charge of the Richmond Office.

A Christmas Party was held on December 10th, at Mayo Memorial, when officers of the Army, Navy and Marines, stationed in or near Richmond were special guests. Christmas Carols, brief informal addresses and "token" gifts, featured the evening.

Washington State Society

This Society is continuing most successfully its efforts to re-build and increase its membership and Secretary G. Ward Kemp reports the addition of thirteen new members and twenty reinstatements since the beginning of the fiscal year. The Society will resume its annual awards of medals for oratorical contests in Seattle High Schools and prospects are encouraging for continued progress along all efforts in cooperation with the National Society. An effort is being made to revive the inactive local Chapters of the State Society.

West Virginia Society

PARKERSBURG CHAPTER—Renewed activities are evident in this Chapter, and regular monthly meetings will be in order for this season. President Harry J. Smith reports a number of new applications and reinstatements.

Members of the Chapter enjoyed the hospitality of Compatriot and Mrs. Richard C. Hohlitzel at Williamstown on the evening of November 20th, when following a brief business session they were addressed by Rev. Joseph W. Waterman, State Secretary, J. G. Williams, and Thayer W. MacIntire with brief talks and reviews of the work of the Society. A delightful social hour followed the program.

The December 11th meeting was held at the Chancellor Hotel with Compatriot J. G. Williams as host. Compatriot George W. Tavenner is Secretary of the Chapter, and Ralph Evans is Registrar.

There have been sent to President General Mutz a number of names of Chapter members as Minute Men for cooperation with the F. B. I.

How Many in the Half Century Class?

Fifty Years or more a member of the Sons of the American Revolution!

Long years of devotion to the ideals and principles of the Sons of the American Revolution it would seem deserve special mention. George Creghton Webb of the Empire State Society, Number 1, of that State, is still hale and hearty and living in New York. Mr. Webb joined the Society in February 1890 and has continued his membership with deep interest ever since that time, now nearly fifty-three years.

Mr. William E. Otto of Buffalo became a member with his father and brother in June, 1891 and was a Charter Member of the Buffalo Chapter that was formed in that year. He was recently guest of honor of the Buffalo Chapter at a special dinner in testimonial to him. Mr. Otto never misses a meeting of the Chapter.

These two are known to the Editor and are in mind as we go to press—there must be a number of others.

It has been suggested that a list of those early members who are still active in their respective state societies and have had fifty years of continued membership would be of interest and such compatriots are invited to send in their names to the Secretary General who will be glad to publish a list of these honored members.

In fact it would be of equal interest to compile a list of those that have been members for forty years or more, as this too would be an honor roll of devotion to this Society.

Please include your state and National numbers.

To Grandfathers who are members of the S.A.R.

Because of certain proofs that are required by the officers of the Children of the American Revolution, it is suggested by the Chairman of that Committee of the C. A. R. that in future all grandfathers who are contemplating the affiliation of their grandchildren in the C. A. R. write directly to the National Headquarters of that organization, at Memorial Continental Hall, Washington, D. C. and effective and immediate results will be obtained with all necessary information. Please send a copy of your letter to the Chairman of the Grandfathers Committee and for his information.

FRANK B. STEELE,
Chairman Grandfathers Committee.

Tennessee's Tribute to Past President Millspaugh

Resolution

At this annual meeting of the Tennessee Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, it is resolved that the following statement of the life of Compatriot Frederick W. Millspaugh be spread upon the records of the organization, and that a copy be sent by the Secretary to Mrs. Millspaugh, the newspapers of Nashville, and the national publications:

During the many years Compatriot Millspaugh lived in Nashville and was the head of the Pullman Company, much of his energy and time was devoted to the promotion of S. A. R. and its Tennessee State Society, the last of which he served as President during eight years. In 1932-1933 he was President of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, and presided over the Convention held at Cincinnati in 1933. His interest in the Society did not end when his successor was elected, but he attended most of the conventions of the National Society thereafter, and was active with his counsel in succeeding administrations. Mr. Millspaugh was an ardent student of American history, and frequently spoke before groups of citizens concerning George Washington, and those of us who sat with him in the meetings of the Tennessee Society recall his interesting contributions of details of Washington's life, as well as the activities of other Americans who piloted the Government through great crises.

If Emerson's observation that an "institution is the lengthened shadow of one man," be correct, Frederick W. Millspaugh's "lengthened shadow" is the Tennessee Society of the Sons of the American Revolution. Rarely did he miss a meeting, and the interests of this group was always uppermost in his mind. When interest lagged, he attempted to revive it. When the local chapters flourished no one was happier than Fred Millspaugh. His "lengthened shadow" made the State Society a force in Tennessee for a quarter of a century. Without making invidious comparisons, Fred Millspaugh was the commanding figure in the Tennessee Society during at least the twenty-five years prior to his death.

His sudden death on June 8, 1942, has left us without our friend to whom we can turn. Bereft of the counsel of Fred Millspaugh we are prone to feel that "without rudder or needle we steer"; but he would not have us give up to such philosophy of despair or surrender to defeatism, if he could send us a message today. New leadership must be provided to guide the Society in these times when the principles of our organization are needed as never before.

As a tribute to the memory of Frederick W. Millspaugh, the Tennessee Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, pledges that there shall be a renewed activity in the State. We will see that the "lengthened shadow" of this man shall continue to influence our work, and this Society honors his memory by pledging that the principles which made him such a power in the Sons of the American Revolution shall not end with the passing of Compatriot Millspaugh.

"When a great man dies,
For years beyond our ken,
The light he leaves behind him lies
Upon the paths of men."

Adopted, October 27, 1942, Tennessee Society, Sons of the American Revolution.

ALFRED L. CRABB,
President (Acting).

Attest:
FRANK W. ZIEGLER,
Secretary.

The Official Flag Code of the United States of America

As enacted by the 77th Congress

June 22, 1942

[H. J. Res. 303]

As amended by H. J. 359, approved Dec. 22, 1942

JOINT RESOLUTION

To codify and emphasize existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following codification of existing rules and customs pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America be, and it is hereby, established for the use of such civilians or civilian groups or organizations as may not be required to conform with regulations promulgated by one or more executive departments of the Government of the United States.

SEC. 2. (a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days when the weather permits, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, February 22; Army Day, April 6; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Memorial Day (half staff until noon), May 30; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, October 12; Navy Day, October 27; Armistice Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, last Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (dates of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

SEC. 3. That the flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right; that is, the flag's own right, or if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motorcar, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same half-yard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the right of the flag of the United States.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

Buy War Bonds and Stamps—Are you doing all you can?

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle the window sill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When the flag is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out or so suspended that its folds fall free as though the flag were staffed.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of a church, or on the speaker's platform in a public auditorium, the flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform should be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he faces the congregation or audience. But when the flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. By "half staff" is meant lowering the flag to one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. Crepe streamers may be affixed to spear heads or flagstaves in a parade only by order of the President of the United States.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

SEC. 4. That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America; the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down save as a signal of dire distress.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water, or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as drapery of any sort whatsoever, never festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white, and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of a platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used, or stored in such a manner as will permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture, or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying, or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard; or used as any portion of a costume or athletic uniform. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

SEC. 5. That during the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with the right hand holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute in the same manner. Aliens should stand at attention. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

SEC. 6. That when the national anthem is played and the flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note. All others should stand at attention, men removing the headdress. When the flag is displayed, all present should face the flag and salute.

SEC. 7. That the pledge of allegiance to the flag, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all", be rendered by standing with the right hand over the heart. However, civilians will always show full respect to the flag when the pledge is given by merely standing at attention, men removing the headdress. Persons in uniform shall render the military salute.

SEC. 8. Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified, or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

Approved, June 22, 1942.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: The above Official Flag Code has been published in our Magazine for the information of our members. If there is sufficient demand, it may be possible to have reprints made for distribution at a small cost.

The Sons of the American Revolution has for years advocated this legislation and feels that it is most timely and appropriate that it has finally been enacted at this time.]
