Compatriots should regularly review the NSSAR Handbook.

The development and publication of the NSSAR Handbook is the responsibility of the Handbook Committee, whose members are appointed by the President General pursuant to Bylaw No. 19, Section 1(e). The Handbook Committee is currently composed of the following individuals.

WILLIAM A. GREENLY, Vice Chair	Georgia Society.....	Term Expires 2021
CRAIG M. LAWSON.....	Washington Society.....	Term Expires 2022

The table of contents for each volume of the Handbook details the contents of that volume. The Handbook consists of eight volumes, titled as follows: VOLUME I: Governing Documents; VOLUME II: Organization; VOLUME III: Membership, Compliance & Other Policies; VOLUME IV: Insignia, Protocol, Ceremonies & Rituals; VOLUME V: Individual Medals & Awards; VOLUME VI: Youth Programs, State Society & Chapter Awards; VOLUME VII: Summary History of the SAR; and VOLUME VIII: Historical Roster of SAR General Officers.

The NSSAR Handbook's content is established by the: (1) Annual Congress, (2) Board of Trustees, (3) Executive Committee, (4) National Headquarters staff and (5) Standing, Special Advisory and Program Committees. Revisions to the NSSAR Handbook may be made as follows:

- The NSSAR Charter may be modified only by the United States Congress;
- The NSSAR Constitution & Bylaws may be modified only as provided in those documents;

Any such updates should be provided to the Handbook Committee for inclusion in the next edition of the NSSAR Handbook. These changes must be approved by the Executive Committee prior to publication.

- New National Society or State Society medals or awards must be processed according to the Medals & Awards Committee's procedures.

Questions on Handbook interpretation or application should be directed to the Handbook Committee Chair or the responsible Program Committee Chair.

Each volume of the NSSAR Handbook is reviewed annually, typically after the Annual Congress, to ensure the content found in that volume reflects current SAR practices. The Executive Committee annually approves publication of the NSSAR Handbook at the Fall Leadership Meeting. Volumes may be updated several times throughout the year to reflect changes provided following the Fall and Spring Leadership meetings. The NSSAR Handbook and its periodic revisions are maintained in electronic format only, available at: http://www.sar.org/SAR_Handbook. Paper copies may be purchased from SAR Merchandise, although such copies are not regularly updated. The electronic version of the NSSAR Handbook, as published on the above website, supersedes all prior electronic and paper versions. Each volume of the NSSAR Handbook identifies its effective date. Compatriots are encouraged to download the latest editions of the NSSAR Handbook. The last five years of the revision history for this volume, if available, is provided below.

The NSSAR Handbook reflects hundreds of hours of work and could not have been realized without the valuable assistance of the general officers, committees and Compatriots of the NSSAR. The Handbook Committee greatly appreciates the assistance provided.

YOUTH AWARDS

Enhanced JROTC Program

In 1997, the President General of the SAR authorized the enhancement of the JROTC program. Each SAR Chapter can now select an Outstanding JROTC Cadet and enter that cadet into their State Society's Outstanding JROTC Cadet program. The winner of the State competition will be entered into the National Outstanding JROTC Recognition program. The winner of the national program will receive a special award at the SAR National Congress.

The National SAR award is to be presented to the Outstanding Cadet in their next to last year of JROTC (a Third Year Cadet [11th grade] in a four year program). For a two year JROTC program, a Second Year Cadet may be selected. Whenever possible, presentation will be made by a member of the SAR at the unit's Spring Awards program.

The enhanced JROTC program has several objectives:

1. To identify and recognize Outstanding JROTC Cadets at the Chapter, State Society, and National Society levels. The program has been designed to allow all candidates to be evaluated equally, regardless of the Military Service they represent.
2. To encourage SAR members to make a personal presentation of the JROTC medal to Outstanding JROTC student in the nation
3. To encourage SAR chapters to work with JROTC units to determine how best to encourage and recognize these outstanding student citizens and therefore support this exceptional national youth program.

At the beginning of the school year each Chapter should contact the Senior or District Instructor of the local JROTC unit(s). Throughout the year the chapter should remain in contact with the administrators of the school and the JROTC unit, providing support for other programs and discussing plans for this program. The chapter should have the school administration, along with the instructors of the JROTC unit, evaluate candidates based on the criteria listed below and select one nominee for each JROTC unit (battalion, squadron, etc.). If the chapter supports several JROTC units, it should run a local contest to select the best cadet, since only one cadet per chapter may advance to the state competition. The chapter contest must have only SAR members as judges, and all contests should be administered using the guidelines listed below.

All State Society Contests must be completed and the National Contest entry packet must be forwarded to the NSSAR Executive Director to be in his office No Later than May 1 each year. As soon as the Outstanding Cadet in the Nation is selected the Chapter sponsoring that cadet will be contacted so that it can coordinate the Cadet's travel to the NSSAR Annual Congress.

The winning cadet will attend the NSSAR Congress, receive his/her award, and be recognized by the National Society Sons of the American Revolution. The award includes the National JROTC Outstanding Cadet Medallion and a cash prize in an amount determined annually by the ROTC/JROTC/Service Academies committee. Awards for second, third, and subsequent places may be made at the discretion of, and in such amounts as may be determined by, the ROTC/JROTC/Service Academies Committee; however, these recipients do not travel to the Annual Congress. All prize amounts may be taken in cash or, if affirmatively elected by the recipient, a scholarship. College plans do not have to be completed in order to receive the cash prize or elect the scholarship.

When attending the Congress, an additional amount to be fixed by the committee may be provided to the National JROTC Outstanding Cadet to pay for a portion of the combined travel, transportation, hotel, and related meals for both the Cadet and his/her chaperone. Expenses in excess of the amount provided by the SAR will be the responsibility of the Cadet. It is suggested that additional assistance might be made available from the sponsoring Chapter or Society – but it is not mandatory. The travel expenses related to the respective State Convention will be at the discretion of the said State Societies.

The Eagle Scout Recognition Program

The National Society's Eagle Scout Committee is responsible for the administration of the Eagle Scout Recognition Program. Young men who achieve the rank of Eagle Scout demonstrate their belief in the same principles of Patriotism and American Heritage as the National Society, and are deserving of special recognition for their accomplishments and dedication. An official NSSAR Certificate of Recognition is available for chapters and state societies to use in recognizing Eagle Scouts.

The costs of materials and awards for this program are underwritten by the proceeds from an Eagle Scout Fund maintained by NSSAR. Contributions to this fund by compatriots, friends, and corporations are encouraged, so that the program can be constantly improved. Many compatriots contribute to this fund for memorials and recognition of honor to their friends and relatives, since the funds are being kept in perpetuity, and can benefit young men of future years.

Questions regarding the National Eagle Scout Recognition Program may be directed to the chairman of the NSSAR Eagle Scout Committee.

The Arthur M. & Berdena King Eagle Scout Contest

The Arthur M. & Berdena King Eagle Scout Contest is an annual contest open to all Eagle Scouts who are currently registered in an active unit and have not reached their 19th birthday during the year of application. The application year is the calendar year, 01 January to 31 December. The year that the Eagle rank was awarded is not restricted; an Eagle Scout may apply more than one year provided the age requirements are satisfied.

The competition is conducted in three phases: Chapter, State Society, and National. The competition is usually entered through the Chapter level, but may be entered at the State level. There are no National at-large entrants to the competition. Each state society's winning Eagle Scout packet is due to the Chairman of the Eagle Scout Committee no later than February 15th.

Entrants must complete an application, which consists of three parts:

- 1) Eagle Scout Contest Application Form
- 2) Four Generation Ancestor Chart
- 3) 500 word Patriotic Themed Essay

The winning Eagle Scout will attend the NSSAR Congress to receive the award and be recognized by the National Society Sons of the American Revolution. The award includes a cash prize in an amount determined annually by the Eagle Scout committee. Awards for second, third, and subsequent places may be made at the discretion of, and in such amounts as may be determined by, the Eagle Scout Committee. Regardless of the number of times an individual competes in the contest, an Eagle Scout may not receive total cash awards in excess of the first place award established by the Eagle Scout Committee.

All prize amounts may be taken in cash or, if affirmatively elected by the recipient, a scholarship. College plans do not have to be completed in order to receive the cash prize or elect the scholarship. Prizes and recognitions may also be awarded at the Chapter and State level.

Questions regarding the National Eagle Scout Contest Program may be directed to the chairman of the NSSAR Eagle Scout Committee.

George & Stella Knight Essay Contest

This award, established in 1988, was named in honor of SAR Compatriot Calvin Coolidge who won an SAR essay contest while a student at Amherst. Its name was changed to the George S. and Stella Knight Essay Contest in 1995. The award is to encourage patriotism in young people and to ascertain their ideas and ideals of the present. The contest is open to all high school juniors and seniors.

The essay must be original, in English, typewritten, double-spaced and between 800-1200 words. References used should be listed at the end of the essay. Topics may be designated each year, as determined by the national essay committee. Chapters and state societies are encouraged to sponsor essay contests in their areas. State society winners are to be forwarded to the National Knight Essay Contest Committee. State society winners are to be forwarded to the National Knight Essay Contest Committee prior to the deadline established by the Knight Essay Chairman annually, usually March 15.

Each participant should be given a certificate of participation and winners will receive cash awards that may vary from year to year. The winner will attend the NSSAR Congress, receive his/her award, and be recognized by the National Society Sons of the American Revolution. The award includes the National Knight Essay Winner Medallion and a cash prize in an amount determined annually by the Knight Essay Committee. Awards for second, third, and subsequent places may be made at the discretion of, and in such amounts as may be determined by, the Knight Essay Committee; however, these recipients do not travel to the Annual Congress. All prize amounts may be taken in cash or, if affirmatively elected by the recipient, a scholarship. College plans do not have to be completed in order to receive the cash prize or elect the scholarship.

Joseph S. Rumbaugh Historical Patriotic Oration Contest

Compatriot Douglas G. High of Cincinnati, Ohio established this event in a Cincinnati Senior High School in 1945. The following year it became a state project of the Ohio Society. In 1947 the National Society decided to sponsor the event on a national level, calling the project the Historical Patriotic Oration Contest and having the first national event in 1949. Compatriot High was the original national chairman serving five terms until his death in June of 1952. The 1953 National Congress memorialized Compatriot High by naming the event for him.

In 1993 the oration contest became known as the Joseph S. Rumbaugh Historical Patriotic Oration Contest. Compatriot Joseph Simeon Rumbaugh (1911-1998), former President of the Florida Society, was well known for his interest in youth and was very generous in behalf of their welfare. In appreciation of his interest in the NSSAR oratorical event, the contest was renamed for him.

Chapters, through their state oration contest chairmen, may obtain annually the latest guidance pertaining to the oration contest. This detailed guidance is formulated and published by the national committee. However some general guidelines may be helpful.

Contestants in the national event are sponsored by their state societies, except in districts where no state society individually acts as a sponsor. Then a district entry is permitted. Each state society or district where authorized, shall make available information through the chapters to senior high history and/or speech teachers, and also to principals early in the school year. If there are more than ten entries on the national level, elimination contests are held at that level.

On the national level, all orators are recognized with certificates. Olympic size medals suspended on neck ribbons are awarded to the top three national winners (similar medals are available from the NSSAR merchandise department for state or chapter first-place winners). Nationally, cash prizes for first, second, and third places, are determined annually by the Rumbaugh Orations Committee. Awards for subsequent places may be made at the discretion of, and in such amounts as may be determined by, the Rumbaugh Orations Committee. All prize amounts may be taken in cash or, if affirmatively elected by the recipient, a scholarship. College plans do not have to be completed in order to receive the cash prize or elect the scholarship.

The national committee for the oration contest determines the rules and policy of the oration contest with the approval of the Executive Committee. The committee meets three times a year: Fall and Spring Leadership Meetings and a working breakfast meeting during the National Congress.

The national chairman has several specific responsibilities. One is obtain approval for the contest to be listed in the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) list of National Contests and Activities. This is essential to obtain the cooperation of the schools in promoting the contest. Second, the chairman should contact state presidents or district vice presidents general where appropriate to obtain the name, address and telephone number of their appointed contest chairmen. In addition, early in the school year, the national chairman should provide state or district chairmen with detailed brochures and instructions pertaining to the contest. Throughout the year the chairman has the responsibility to forward to the state or district, student inquiries which are received directly by the National Headquarters of the SAR. A national committeeman will respond to the student acknowledging the inquiry and passing along the appropriate name and address of the local contest chairman. Finally, the national chairman has overall responsibility to coordinate all aspects of the national contest.

State or district chairmen should maintain close contact with the national chairman. In addition, they should secure from chapter presidents the names and pertinent information regarding chapter contest chairmen. It is particularly important that a constant flow of information from the national level reaches the chapters and that chapter queries are promptly answered. The state or district chairmen are responsible also to coordinate all aspects of their state or district contests.

Finally, chapter chairman make the contacts with the appropriate school authorities within their areas. This authority may vary from area to area to include the principal, history or speech teacher. This contact is important to explain the purpose of the award and inform the educator of the criteria and information available on the NSSAR website. He should feel free to contact his state or district chairman for specific guidance if in doubt of procedures and proceed to plan for the chapter contest. If the chapter chairman cannot reach his state or district chairman, the national chairman is always available.

An endowment fund was created to underwrite the financial needs of the oration contest. The appropriate financial committee of the NSSAR handles the investment of the fund. The oration committee uses the income from the endowment for its operation and promotion.

The Americanism Elementary School Poster Contest

The National Society Elementary School Poster Contest was developed to help stimulate interest in American History in support of the Fourth or Fifth Grade Curriculum. This competition was begun to aid studies at that grade level. If American History is taught in lower grades at selected schools, an entry may be accepted for the competition. Home-schooled children also are eligible to participate, based on age equivalency to grade level. All entries will be judged on an equal basis, using criteria developed by the Americanism Committee. See the NSSAR website for contest details, rules, and entry forms.

The Sergeant Moses Adams Middle School Brochure Contest

The National Society Middle School Brochure Contest was developed to help stimulate interest in American History in support of the Sixth through the Nine Grade Curriculum. This competition was begun to aid studies at the school grades following elementary school and before the sophomore grade in high school. If the American Revolution period of American History is technically not specifically covered during these middle school grades, an entry will still be accepted for the competition by the state society. All entries will be judged on an equal basis, using criteria approved by the Americanism Committee. See the NSSAR website for contest details, rules, and entry forms.

This National Brochure Contest will be formally named: “The Sgt. Moses Adams Memorial Middle School Brochure Contest.” Sgt. Adams was with the 13th Massachusetts Regiment. He died at Valley Forge. He did not do anything historically significant other than to give his life for our freedom, along with 25,000 other men. This contest is so named in their honor, and the families who suffered their loss for generations. It is hoped that when a young contestant asks “Who was Moses Adams?” it will become a teaching moment for the men of our society and classroom teachers to expound upon the ultimate sacrifice so many men have made in the service of our country.

EDUCATION AWARDS

Dr. Tom and Betty Lawrence American History Teacher Award

The Dr. Tom and Betty Lawrence American History Teacher Award, approved in 2006, recognizes an outstanding history teacher whose instruction on the Revolutionary War Era from 1750-1800 demonstrates educational efforts in the classroom that exceed and excel above current accepted curriculum requirements. The award winner will receive his or her choice of one of the following educational seminars: a trip to the Freedoms Foundation Summer Teacher Graduate Workshop at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania; a trip to the Colonial Williamsburg Summer Teacher Workshop in Williamsburg, Virginia; the Jefferson Symposium at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia; or the SAR Annual Conference on the American Revolution. This award is valued annually by the American History Teacher Award Committee and may be used to reimburse the winner for expenses including tuition, room and board and transportation. The National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution will provide this professional educational opportunity to an educator who will bring back to the classroom a heightened level of creativity and enthusiasm to their students of the American Revolutionary War Era.

The award program will be conducted in three (3) phases: Chapter, State Society and National Society. The applicant must begin the entry process by obtaining an application form and submitting the completed application through a local chapter. To locate chapters, applicants can go to www.sar.org and click on their state website.

Those teacher candidates interested in entering the chapter awards contest must complete the required application and submit a written essay, not to exceed 500 words, discussing any extraordinary teaching techniques or innovative projects utilized by the teacher in the past to teach the history of the Revolutionary War. The essay should also discuss why the teacher wants to attend an educational seminar and how the teacher would take advantage of what is learned at the seminar in the future. In addition to the application and written essay, NSSAR requests from the applicant a one-page autobiography highlighting his or her educational background and achievements. The essay and autobiography may be submitted electronically or through the mail. No handwritten or copied material will be accepted. All original award materials will remain the property of NSSAR.

The SAR website should be consulted for further details on entering the competition. Forms are available on the website.

AWARDS FOR MEMBERSHIP ACTIVITIES

The National Society presents awards at the Annual Congress. National Headquarters compiles the information submitted by the state societies for the previous year and determines the winner of each of the awards.

President General's State Society and Chapter Activities Streamer Award

The President General's State Society and Chapter Activities Streamer Award was initiated in 1978. State Societies and chapters competed for the award by accumulating points awarded for various program activities during the previous calendar year (January 1 to December 31).

In 2008, the Americanism Committee began the process of revising the criteria for this contest at the suggestion of the Medals and Awards Committee. Beginning with the 2009 contest, the President General's State Society and Chapter Activities Streamer Award is awarded to the State Societies and Chapters that demonstrate the best program of administrative support of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The deadline for submission is March 1. Participating chapters and state societies report accumulated points to the Americanism Committee Chairman in accordance with the contest guidelines set forth by the Americanism Committee and published as part of the Americanism Award / President General's Streamer Combined Score Sheet. This Score Sheet may be downloaded from the Americanism Committee Web Page on the NSSAR Web Site. The Score Sheet must be submitted in its entirety to qualify as a valid entry for this competition.

Awards recognize the most active state societies and chapters. Four first place awards for state societies and chapters will be offered based on membership size:

State Societies: 10 to 199, 200 to 499, 500 to 999, and 1,000 or more members;

Chapters: 10 to 49, 50 to 99, 100 to 199, and 200 or more members.

Determination of which category an entrant competes in will be determined by membership on January 1 of the contest year.

The Americanism Committee judges the contest at the Spring Leadership meeting and the awards are presented at the following Annual Congress.

A President General's Streamer is awarded to the winner of each category. The streamer is made of cloth, carries the National Society's colors with lettering in gold stating "President General's Activities Award" and the years involved. It is approximately 1 1/2" wide and 3' in length, with a grommet in the end so that the award may be affixed to the top of the society's or chapter's flagstaff. A certificate signed by the President General accompanies the streamer.

Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award

This award, named for Allene Wilson Groves (1896 – 1986) of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, who was President General of the Daughters of the American Revolution (1956 – 1959), is presented to the State Society which conducted the most complete programs or activities during the previous calendar year (January 1 to December 1) that created, supported or promoted a better understanding in its own community of such SAR resolutions and of the fundamental American traditions which governed their formulation and adoption.

In 2008, the Americanism Committee began the process of revising the criteria for this contest at the suggestion of the Medals and Awards Committee. Beginning with the 2009 contest year, the Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award is awarded to the State Societies that demonstrated the best program of outreach to their local community in support of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The award is divided into four categories based on membership size: 10 to 199, 200 to 499, 500 to 999, and 1,000 or more members. Determination of which category an entrant competes in will be determined by membership on January 1 of the contest year.

The Americanism Committee judges the contest at the Spring Leadership meeting and the award is presented at the following Annual Congress. An Americanism Streamer will be presented to the winner of each membership category. The streamer is made of cloth, carries the National Society's colors with lettering in gold to state "Allene Wilson Groves Americanism Award" and the years involved. It is approximately 1 1/2" wide and 3' in length, with a grommet in the end so that the award may be affixed to the top of the society's or chapter's flagstaff. A certificate signed by the President General accompanies the streamer.

The deadline for submission is March 1. Participating state societies and chapters report accumulated points to the Americanism Committee Chairman in accordance with the contest guidelines set forth by the Americanism Committee and published as part of the Americanism Award / President General's Streamer Combined Score Sheet. This Score Sheet may be downloaded from the Americanism Committee Web Page on the NSSAR Web Site. The Score Sheet must be submitted in its entirety to qualify as a valid entry for this competition.

Liberty Bell Americanism Award

This award is presented to the Chapter that conducted the most complete programs or activities during the previous calendar year (January 1 to December 1) that created, supported or promoted a better understanding in its own community of such SAR resolutions and of the fundamental American traditions that governed their formulation and adoption.

In 2008, the Americanism Committee began the process of revising the criteria for this contest at the suggestion of the Medals and Awards Committee. Beginning with the 2009 contest year, the Liberty Bell Americanism Award is awarded to the Chapter that demonstrated the best program of outreach to their local community in support of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The award is divided into four categories based on membership size: 10 to 49, 50 to 99, 100 to 199, and 200 or more members. Determination of which category an entrant competes in will be determined by membership on January 1 of the contest year.

President General's Cup

Former President General Edgar Williamson, Jr. originated the President General's Cup in February 1956. It was essentially a scrapbook contest but the rules were changed in 2008 to omit the scrapbook entry since the documentation collected on the Score Sheets used for the Americanism and President General's Streamer contests document the activities of the Chapter in a manner similar to and, in some cases, in a more complete manner than a traditional scrapbook. It is the opinion of the Americanism Committee that the President General's Cup remains a type of scrapbook contest without the requirement of a physical book being produced.

This award is presented to the Chapter (or State Society having no chapters) that conducted the best overall programs and activities during the previous calendar year (January 1 to December 1) that created, supported or promoted a better understanding in its own community of such SAR resolutions and of the fundamental American traditions that governed their formulation and adoption.

The deadline for submission is March 1. Participating state societies and chapters report accumulated points to the Americanism Committee Chairman in accordance with the contest guidelines set forth by the Americanism Committee and published as part of the Americanism Award / President General's Streamer Combined Score Sheet. This Score Sheet may be downloaded from the Americanism Committee Web Page on the NSSAR Web Site. The Score Sheet must be submitted in its entirety to qualify as a valid entry for this competition. No separate entry form is necessary as the already submitted President General's Chapter Activities Competition Award and the Allene Wilson Groves and Liberty Bell Americanism Awards score sheets will be used.

The award is divided into four categories based on membership size: 10 to 49, 50 to 99, 100 to 199, and 200 or more members. Determination of which category an entrant competes in will be determined by membership on January 1 of the contest year.

The Americanism Committee judges the contest at the Spring Leadership meeting and the award is presented at the following Annual Congress. To qualify for consideration for this award, the entrant must have reported points in at least 75% of the categories listed on the Score Sheet. The winner will be determined through a formula that includes consideration of a cap of points allowed in any single activity as well as a points-per-member ratio based on membership of the chapter at December 31. The chapter with the highest points per member based on this calculation will be the winner. The same chapter may not win two years in a row.

Genealogist General's Award

The purpose of this award is to incentivize state societies to submit to the National Society only such membership applications that comply with SAR genealogy standards, and are fully documented by primary sources. Such applications may be reviewed and approved by the Genealogy Staff quickly.

This award is presented to the three state societies with the lowest percentages of pended applications for the year. These three state societies shall each be awarded a streamer.

The Genealogist General's award is based on the number of applications still pended at the end of a calendar year, as a percentage of the total number of applications submitted from a state society during the same calendar year. For example, given Calendar Year X and the total number of applications submitted from a state society during Calendar Year X, what percentage of these applications are pended by the Genealogy Staff, and remain pended after the Genealogy Staff completes its review of all applications received during Calendar Year X?

Applications received within the year that are pended, but are subsequently approved within the same calendar year, shall not be included in the calculation of pended applications as a percentage of the total applications received within that year. But once the Staff's review of all applications received through December is complete, the opportunity to correct pended applications shall have passed with regard to the calculation of pended applications as a percentage of the total applications received within that year. This means that applications that are received early in the year and are pended stand a better chance to be corrected and approved by the end of the year, than applications that are received in the latter part of the year and are pended. With regard to this award, for those applications that are received in the latter part of the year and pended, there may not be an opportunity to correct them and have them approved before the Staff finishes its review of all applications received through December.

The total number of applications shall include applications for new members, new junior members, memorial applications, supplemental applications and junior supplemental applications.

The calculation of the percentage of pended applications for the year shall be to two places to the right of the decimal point (e.g., 2.59, not 2.593).

In the event of a tie, that state society with the greater number of applications received during the calendar year shall be the winner.

Only those state societies shall be eligible to compete that submit a total number of applications equal to, or greater than, the greater of 25 or 7% of the respective state society's membership as of December 31 of the preceding year, as reported on the state society's annual report.

The Genealogist General shall be the final arbiter of the winners.

Registrar General's Award for Retention

The purpose of this award is to incentivize state societies for the "retention" of membership as well as to complete their Annual Reconciliation Reports. The award consists of a certificate signed by the President General, a check for $100, and a flag streamer. It is presented to the three state societies with the highest ranking within their size category for retention over the past five year period as described below. In the event of a tie in ranking of any of the top three places, all state societies involved (e.g., four state societies) would receive the award. The Registrar General is the final arbiter of all winners.

The Registrar General's Award for Retention is based on ranking of the average of the percentages of the starting (post-annual reconciliations) and ending (pre-annual reconciliations) membership figures of the five most recent years, as maintained by the Staff Registrar. For example, calendar years 2013-2017 would be used for the awards to be given at the 2018 Congress. The percent Retention is first computed for each of the five years; those percentages are then averaged and the resulting average is ranked. Three state societies with the highest percentage of retention are selected within the categories of less than 100 members, 101-499 members, and 500+ members.

Using five years provides a broader basis and a longer term view of retention upon which the awards are made. An Excel spreadsheet has been created in which all calculations are done by formulas, so that no manual calculations are necessary. Calculations are made four places to the right of the decimal point. The spreadsheet is compiled by the Staff Registrar and Operations Director to determine the awards for presentation at Congress.

Annual Reconciliation Reports are due from the state societies to NSSAR by January 31. Those states for which the Reconciliation process is incomplete by March 31 would be ineligible for this award. All State Societies regardless of size are eligible. State societies may be repeat winners within their size category from year to year as a reflection of attaining the goal of the highest percentage of retention.

There are two separate calculations to this award:

- (1) By Percentage: To the D.A.R. State Society recruiting new SAR Compatriots calculated as a percentage of the respective SAR State Society's membership as of December 31st of the contest year; or
- (2) By Raw Number: To the D.A.R. State Society recruiting new SAR Compatriots calculated based on the total number of DAR Finder Forms submitted by the SAR State Society.

For each award, the award consists of a certificate to the SAR State Society and a cash prize to the respective D.A.R. State Society as follows: 1st place, $300.00; 2nd place, $200.00; 3rd place, $100.00. A total of six (6) awards are presented annually.

The competition runs from January 1 to December 31 of each year. In order to be counted, a DAR Finder Report Form, available on the SAR website, must be attached to the application packet; the forms must be completely filled out and submitted with the new member application. The NSSAR Staff Registrar uses these forms to determine the winner. Applications without the form cannot be counted toward the competition. A separate form must be included with each application received and will be counted toward the contest after the application is approved. Multiple applications cannot be applied to one form.
